Hurrah for the Flag!

And a Good Old Fashioned Fourth!

Next Wednesday will be the Fourth of July, the Nation's one hundred and thirtieth birthday. Hammonton will be all alive with noisy boys and visitors by the thousand. Buildings will be decorated as never before.

Parade will form at Bellevue and the County Road at 9.30 a.m., starting at ten o'clock. The route will be as follows: Up Bellevue to Main Road; countermarch to Third Street; thence to Pleasant; to Second; to Orchard; to Railroad Ave.; to Bellevue; to Central; to Third; to Maple; to the County Road; to the Park.

Among the floats promised are: M.
L. Jackson & Son; Red Men; P. O. S. of A.; Robert Steel, Watkins & Nicholson; W. C. Jones, Childs, Grange, J. H. Marshall, Red Cross Pharmacy, John A. Hoyle, Sam'l Anderson, A.
H. Whitmore. There will probably be several others.

One hour allowed for dinner. Meals will be served at the Park by S. B.
Cramer. Lunch can be secured at the stands.

After dinner will be raising of the flag and music by the band and choir.
Oration by Rev. L. G. Fourier, of Virginia, now of Elwood, an intensely patriotic speaker.

At two o'clock, various races, as per official programme. Entries will close to-day.

Following will be a broadsword exhibition, and a ladder drill by the Fire Companies.

At six o'clock, supper.
There will be plenty of amusements, baby and cane racks, etc., etc., with boating on the Lake.

A moving picture show will hold forth in a tent, giving San Francisco disaster, etc.

Not the least enjoyable feature will be the fireworks, at 8.30 p.m., set off by professional men, from a raft anchored on the Lake.

Dancing will be the last item on the day's programme.
Take a day off with your family, and enjoy it as never before.

A Distinguished Visitor.

The ranks of Hammonton Herall will shortly receive an accession, in the person of a scientist and author whose works have achieved more than national fame.

Edward A. Samuels, the author of "Ornithology and Oology of New England," "With Fly-Rod and Camera," "Among the Birds," "With Rod and Gun in New England and the Maritime Provinces," etc., has for several years been an invalid, and is coming to Ham-monton to test its value as a health resort, of which he has heard most glowing accounts, and will probably decide to remain here permanently.

Before selecting a residence he will be a guest of his brother-in-law, Mr.
Orville Bassett, whose wife, nee Adelaide F. Samuels, has written a number of successful books.

From the "Massachusetts Ploughman," "Harper's Monthly," "Christian Union," and other eminent periodicals, we read high commendations of Mr.
Samuels' works. He will be welcomed among us.

The Fourth of July arch, a fine permanent structure, will be completed in time by Hershon's men, at Park entrance.

SATURDAY, JUNE 30, 1906

Pleasant Reading for a Hot Day.

The new artificial ice factory which the REPUBLICAN noted some weeks ago as about to be established in town, is now well under way. Chas. P. Myers has the building nearly enclosed—35x50 feet in size—located on Washington Street, near the Union.

The members of the firm, Messrs. Philip Jacobs and C. H. Roller, trading as the "Hammonton Ice Manufacturing Company," are themselves putting in the five thousand feet of pipes. Water for the ice will be obtained from their own three-inch artesian well, which is being drilled. They will also put in town water, to provide for a possible emergency.

Machinery for the plant is already in town. The system is the ammonia compression system, the best known, and the ice will be frozen in rectangular cans, yielding three hundred pound cakes. The capacity of the plant will be fifteen tons per day.

The members of the firm, who seem to be hustlers, though already delayed nearly two weeks, expect to have their factory in operation by the middle of July. This new industry will be a fine thing for Hammonton, and should certainly prosper in these days of the Ice Trust. While the company expect to market much of their product in Philadelphia and vicinity, they will cater largely to local trade. No wagons will be run about town, as they will supply the wholesale trade principally, so that ice can be retailed at twenty to twenty-five cents per hundred pounds.

The Fourth Committee

The Committee met on Wednesday evening, and resumed the work which had been done (and some had worked hard and digged up what must yet be done, and the amount of money still required. At that time they looked about one hundred dollars, several responses having been turned in during the week.

Hammonton Band will give concert at the Park, besides during the parade, with between twenty and twenty-five pieces. As the race track has not sufficient slope at the turn, for fast riding, a sum was appropriated for repairs, which will encourage more entries. Capt. Reed reported on the order of march. In it he suggested that all business floats assemble on Vine Street, and follow in rear of the organizations. Lodge floats will follow directly back of the order which they represent. The meeting adjourned until next Monday evening, at 8:30, in Town Council Room, at which time all plans will be perfected. Also, it is decided that all bills incurred shall be passed in.

G. F. Lenz, the barber, is now at home in his new shop, the old postoffice building. The place has been entirely remodeled, inside and out, and when the painters get through, it will be one of the pleasantest (and coolest) business houses in town. The fittings are of the finest, and Mr. Lenz will doubtless be a busy man.

posed to extend a courtesy rarely shown in-Council met in Committee of the Whole, Thursday evening. Among other matters was the transfer of license from Frank Bevan to Otto C. Damsinger (who took possession of Hotel Columbia yesterday), and referring the application of Giuseppe Giacomini, to keep an inn and tavern in Foghtello's building.

According to law, our assessors cannot increase the tax-rate above that of last year. They have about one-fourth more money to raise in 1906, making it necessary to increase all property valuations from twenty-five to thirty per cent. By this action they also comply with the new law, which requires them to assess property at its "full" value.

A very pleasant wedding took place on Thursday morning, June 28th, at the residence of Mrs. Wm. L. Black.
The contracting parties were Mr. Alfred R. Endicott, of Belleplain, N. J., and Miss Elizabeth J. Helzer, of Richland.
Rev. Dr. J. B. Payson officiated. Music and flowers, a delightful morning, and quite a large company of witnesses, aided in making the occasion a very pleasing one.

Mrs. John Botball died last week Friday evening, June 22d, aged 88 years. She, with her deceased husband came to Hammonton many years ago, resided on Oak Road until Mr. B's death. They were always highly esteemed for their sterling Christian character. Mrs. B. has been a terrible sufferer from cancer, and her departure was long expected. Private funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon at the Oakdale Cemetery.

Will Carlsson, one of the best known authors on the American platform, drew but a small audience, last Friday evening. From our own judgment, and the score of expressions we have heard since, he should have had a crowded house. It was the sort of high class entertainments which intellectual people appreciate, but would have resulted greater, financially, had it been a mediocre show, instead. The Baptist Y. P. S. C. E. are out of pocket the expense, but they gave the people a rare treat, and will probably have him again in the Fall, on a Sunday evening, in the church, free to all, and on Monday evening, in a hall, with an admission fee.

Committee Meeting.
The License Committee of Town Council will meet in Council Room next Thursday evening, July 5th, to consider the application of Giuseppe Giacomini for a license to sell liquor in B. Foghtello's Hotel. All parties interested will take notice.

OAK HALL Prices Are Down

The reductions take in Men's, Young Men's and Boys' Clothing—the sale begins today.

These suits were great money's worth at the original prices—at the new prices every buyer will make a substantial saving.

Every man, young man or boy in Philadelphia and vicinity who needs a suit should respond quickly to this offer.

There are enough suits to last in all probability until the end of the month, but first pick is important—come as early as you can.

Some of the lots in the sale are small in quantity—you won't find sizes complete, especially in the boys' suits, but in these lots you will notice the price reductions are unusually sharp. Other lots are large and carry all sizes.

The reason for the sale is that all small lots must go—and some big lots as well—we have had a great business—that's worth saying over again, because a sale that is inaugurated because business has been very good, and not on account of poor business, is surely the kind of a sale that will appeal to you.

Men's $20.00 suits reduced to $15.00.

Men's $18.00 suits reduced to $13.50.

Men's $16.00 suits reduced to $12.00.

Men's $13.50 suits reduced to $10.00.

Men's $12.00 suits reduced to $8.50.

Men's $10.00 suits reduced to $7.75.

Young Men's suits, single and double-breasted styles, reduced from $18.50 and $15.00 to $10.00.

Boys' suits (knee trousers, 7 to 17 years), in double-breasted sack and single-breasted Norfolk styles, reduced from $7.50 and $6.50 to $4.50.

One lot of odd suits (one and two of a kind), reduced from $9.00 and $4.50 to $3.50 and $2.50. All sizes are included in the lot.

Upon the purchase of a certain amount we pay excursion carfare to Philadelphia and return.
