

South-Jersey Republican

Orville E. Hoyt, Publisher.

Terms--$1.25 Per Year.

VOL. 25.

HAMMONTON, N. J., JULY 16, 1887.

NO. 29

THE WALMER HOUSE,

Central Avenue, Hammonton, N. J.

Open at all seasons, for permanent and transient boarders. Large airy rooms. First-class table. Verandas and balconies to every room. Plenty of Shade. Pure Water. Stabling for horses. Special Rates for Families for the Season. For terms, address—
WALMER HOUSE,
(Lock-Box 75) Hammonton, Atlantic County, New Jersey.

Watches!

American and Swiss Movements.

THE VERY BEST.

Gold, silver, silverine, nickel cases

Your Choice, at Fair Prices.

CARL. M. COOK.

Repairing of all kinds done, and Guaranteed.

It is a Fact

That nine-tenths of the buildings painted in Hammonton, the last four years, (and they number two hundred, were painted with

Hammonton Paint,

Manufactured by

JOHN T. FRENCH,

Hammonton Paint Works, Hammonton, N. J.

GEORGE ELVINS

DEALER IN

Groceries, Dry Goods, Boots and Shoes

Flour, Feed, Fertilizers, Agricultural Implements, etc..etc.

N. B.—Superior Family Flour a Specialty.

M. L. Jackson Sells

All Vegetables in their Season

His Wagons run through the town and vicinity

Stylish Millinery, Dry Goods,

Notions, etc.. CHEAP!

Wholesale & Retail.

J. H. Lay

405-407 North Second Street, Philadelphia.

Letters from the Old World.

NO. I.

Temperance Hotel, Glasford St., GLASGOW, Scotland.

Editor of the Republican:

In fulfilling the promise I made you, I cannot do better, perhaps, than to give a brief sketch of our steamer—the "State of Georgia," a ship of 3000 tons burden, a kind of floating kingdom, with plenty of good food, flowers, music, entertainments, lectures by the passengers, a circus every few days, and two sermons every Sunday. By the circus I mean seasickness. The officers, the sailors, and a very few passengers, including myself, had the pleasure of witnessing this, while the others did the acting.

Just imagine a beautiful morning, the passengers all on deck, some promenading, some singing, some reading, and some half dreaming, when suddenly there comes up a gale, causing the steamer to heave and roll in terrible commotion. Soon the deck presented the appearance of a hospital; some are vomiting into the sea to feed the fish and the happy sea gulls; others empty their stomachs upon the deck or by the side of their berths, filling the steward's and the surgeon's ears with heavy groans.

Some ladies did not leave their berths during the whole voyage. Several were sure they would die before they ever saw Scotland. They officers say it was a very rough passage for June. Dr. Peebles was deathly seasick for three days and a little so at several times. Elder F. W. Evans was also seasick some, and I had my hands full taking care of both. There is not so much fun in crossing the ocean as I thought there would be.

The steamer was full of passengers and among them nearly a dozen doctors, five ministers, and one theatrical troupe. On a fair day there would be an entertainment in the evening, or a lecture. Dr. Peebles, Rev. Mr. Chase, Rev. Dr. Hall, and others were invited to occupy evenings and entertain the passengers. The captain and officers were Scotchmen and I could hardly understand some of their words when talking. They gave us five meals a day though we ate but three.

We anchored at Greenock on Monday, June 13th, about noon, and were taken in charge by a small government steamer and the Custom House officers, who examined and overhauled our baggage. When ashore, we went by railway along the Clyde, about twenty miles to Glasgow, a city built almost entirely of brick and stone, and having a very sooty and dingy appearance. We are all stopping at a temperance hotel, where the people are very obliging. The doctor has already received invitations to, and is visiting the hospitals and medical dispensaries.

Yesterday was the Queen's Jubilee, and the city was all in a blaze of flags. The Stars and Stripes graced many of the buildings. The city was alive with people, and in the evening there was a great deal of drunkenness.

While Glasgow (a city of 700,000 inhabitants) looks solid and substantial I see no buildings like the Record, the Post-Office, and the City Hall, Philadelphia. To-morrow we go to the old town of "Peebles," on the river Tweed, to see the ancient castle and the city generally. I will write you again, from London. J. A. BENOUEUX.

Poor old Jeff Davis has had another nightmare—at least that is the only way we can account for his absurd charge that Governor Curtin tried to have him assassinated during the war. Mr. Curtin denies it, though it was not necessary, for no one believed him to be that sort of man.

If the Delaware peach crop is a failure as the public were asked to believe, not long ago, it is a mystery what the growers propose to do with the 1,500,000 baskets they have ordered.

The barbers of Beverly have been notified to hereafter close their shops on Sundays.

Seven thousand teachers attended the Educational Convention at Chicago.

In a Rhode Island factory town, a certain employer recently paid out to his employees, on Saturday night, $700 in new bills that had been secretly marked. On the following Monday, $400 of these marked bills were deposited in the bank by the saloon-keepers of the town.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS

WILL CURE

HEADACHE
INDIGESTION
BILIOUSNESS
DYSPEPSIA
NERVOUS PROSTRATION
MALARIA
CHILLS AND FEVERS
TIRED FEELING
GENERAL DEBILITY
PAIN IN THE BACK & SIDES
IMPURE BLOOD
CONSTIPATION
FEMALE INFIRMITIES
RHEUMATISM
NEURALGIA
KIDNEY AND LIVER TROUBLES

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS
The Genuine has Trade Mark and crossed Red Lines on wrapper.

TAKE NO OTHER.

Zimmerman

FRUIT

Evaporator!

Every fruit-grower should own one of them

Call at my residence and see it, or send for catalogue giving full particulars.

B. H. STOEPPELWERTH,
Sole Agent for Atlantic Co.,
Box 33, Hammonton, N. J.

THOS. HARTSHORN, Hammonton, N. J.

Paper Hanger, House Painter.

Orders left with S. E. Brown & Co., or in Post-office box 206 will receive prompt attention

Allen Brown Endicott, Counselor-at-Law,

1030 Atlantic Avenue,
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.

HERMANN FIEDLER,
MANUFACTURER

AND
WHOLESALE DEALER IN CIGARS,
Hammonton, N. J.

S. D. HOFFMAN,

Attorney-at-Law,

Master in Chancery, Notary Public, Commissioner of Deeds, Supreme Court Commissioner.

City Hall, Atlantic City, N. J.

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10c for 100-Page Pamphlet.

Elam Stockwell, dealer in Dry Goods, Trimmings, Notions,
Groceries, Flour, Feed, etc.

THE ATTENTION of the citizens of Hammonton is called to the fact that

GERRY VALENTINE
Is the only RESIDENT

FURNISHING

Undertaker.

Having recently purchased a New and Modern Hearse!
And all necessary paraphernalia,
I am prepared to satisfy ALL who may call.

Mr. Wm. A. Hood

Will attend, personally, to all calls, whether day or night. A competent woman ready to assist, also, when desired.
Mr. Hood's residence, on Second St., opposite A. J. Smith's.
Orders may be left at Chas. Simon's Livery!

Read the Republican.

HAMMONTON

Steam Laundry.

I have leased the Laundry, have moved to Hammonton, and Intend to Stay.

I ask your patronage as I propose to

Do Good Work

At Fair Prices.

Family Washing a Specialty

Will deliver near the Station

Benj. E. Hickman

Mrs. Florence Hooper Baker

Of New York City,

PIANIST and COMPOSER

Of the famous "Raguet Waltz" will give instruction in music. Teacher of Harmony and Thorough Bass. Terms reasonable.

Residence with Mrs. Fish, Hammonton

Babbitt's Soap Powder

"1776."

Through an advertising arrangement, we will,
for 60 days,
sell the above powder

Two Boxes
FOR Five Cents.

P.S. Tilton & Son.

E. E. CARPENTER,
FIRE

Life and Accident Insurance AGENT
Office, Residences, Central Av. & Third St.
Hammononton, N. J.

HARNESS.
A full assortment of hand and machine made, for work or driving.

Trunks, Valises, Whips,
Riding Saddles, Nets, etc.

L. W. GOGLEY,
Hammononton, N. J.

For Sale & To Rent.

I have a number of properties for sale ($900 to $3000 each), and having some twenty-five tenements I am able to give better satisfaction in location and price than any other parties in town.
I am also agent for what is known as the Clark property, now owned by J. B. Small.

T. J. SMITH,
Hammononton, N. J.

J. S. Thayer,
contractor & Builder
Hammononton, N. J.

LUMBER
For sale, in small or large quantities.

HEATERS
Furnished and Repaired.

Plans, Specifications,
And Estimates Furnished

JOBING
Of all kinds promptly attended to.

Shop on Bellevue Avenue, next door to Elm Stockwell's store.

Orders left at the shop, or at Stockwell's store, will receive prompt attention.
Charges reasonable. P. O. box 63.

The People's Bank

Of Hammononton, N. J.

Capital, $50,000.

R. J. BYRNES, President.
M. L. JACKSON, Vice-Pres't
W. R. TILTON, Cashier.

DIRECTORS:
R. J. Byrnes,
M. L. Jackson,
George Elvina,
Elam Stockwell,
Daniel Colwell,
George Cochran,
D. L. Potter,
G. F. Saxton,
Edw. Whiffen,
J. C. Browning,
Z. U. Matthews,
P. S. Tilton.

Miss HATTIE L. BOWDOIN
TEACHER OF
Piano and Organ,
HAMMONONTON, N. J.

Apply at the residence of C. E. HALL.

Wagons
AND Buggies.

On and after Jan. 1, 1886, I will sell
One-horse wagons, with fine body and Columbia spring complete, 14 inch tire, 14 axle, for CASH,
One-horse wagon, complete, 12 tire
14 axle, for..... 62 50
The same, with 2 inch tire..... 65 00
One-horse Light Express..... 60 00
Phatons Light Express..... 60 00
Side-spring Buggies with fine finish 70 00
Two-horse Farm Wagons..... 80 to 75 00
No-top Buggies..... 50 00

These wagons are all made of the best White Oak and Hickory, and are thoroughly seasoned, and fitted in a workmanlike manner. Please call, and be convinced. Factory at the C. & A.
Depot, Hammononton.

ALEX. AITKEN, Proprietor.

Dr. J. A. Waas,
RESIDENT
DENTIST,
HAMMONONTON, N. J.

Office Days, Tuesday, Wednesday,
Thursday, Friday and Saturday.
GAS ADMINISTERED.

No charge for extracting with gas, when teeth are ordered.

JOHN ATKINSON,
Tailor,

Has opened a shop in Rutherford's Block Hammononton.

Garments made in the best manner.
Scouring and Repairing promptly done.
Rates reasonable. Satisfaction guaranteed in every case.

SPRING

In coming, and will bring all his wants along, not caring for hard times and the small amount of cash to be had.

GEO. A. ROGERS,
ELLM,

Has anticipated this, and has been busy getting together such things as are needed, and must be had, by every farmer, such as

Hoes, Forks,
Spaces, Shovels,
Plows, Points,
Landslides,
Moldboards, etc.

And so cheap! Who would think of borrowing a plow, when Rogers will sell a new one for $3? Who will go without his garden when he will sell you six papers of Landreth & Son's pure, fresh, and genuine Garden Seeds for 25 cents? Our

Seed Potatoes
Are so nice, you feel hungry to look at them (when cooked), and you can raise such nice ones with

Wilkinson's Phosphate.
Ask any one who has used it?

Tinware
In variety to astonish you, and in price to fill with wonder and a desire to buy.
Flour, Tea, Coffee and Spices, Pork
Hams, Shoulders, Bacon, Lard, Corned
Beef, Dry Goods, Notions, Candles, Tobacco and Cigars, etc., as ever, and are trying as hard to please.

The Republican.

[Entered as second class matter.]

HAMMONONTON, ATLANTIC CO., N. J.
SATURDAY, JULY 16, 1887.

Our Terms.—Our subscription price to all within the county is One Dollar per year if paid in advance. If not paid within the first two months, $1.25 per year, invariably. To subscribers outside of this county always $1.25 in advance—as we are compelled to wrap papers and prepay postage.

Newspaper Decisions.
Any person who takes a paper regularly from the office—whether directed to his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not—is responsible for the payment.
If a person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and notices from the postoffice for removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of fraud.

The residents of Mount Holly are boiling water for drinking and cooking purposes, to avoid typhoid fever.

Even Indianapolis is tucking her ballot corruptors carefully away behind the bars. The manufacturers of Democratic majorities are catching it all over the country this year, except in Camden
County, where they let them off easy.

In Washington last week a prisoner passed off a counterfeit dollar on a police magistrate in payment of the fine imposed.

Silana, Kansas, is all broke up because it gave the Missouri Pacific $40,000 for a depot, and the company is putting up about a $7,000 building.

Petrified lobsters, clams, turtles and the like are found in great abundance in the Santa Catalina Mountains, Arizona, at a height of nearly 10,000 feet above the level of the sea.

The National Bureau of Statistics shows that on the $700,000,000 which annually passes into the tills of the retailers of intoxicating liquors in this country there is a profit of 13 1/2 per cent.

Jacob Sharp has discovered to his cost that nothing puts life into a dead pig like a live crime. He goes to state prison for four years, and pays a fine of five thousand dollars.

Dr. Henry D. Cogswell, the San Francisco millionaire, has given $1,000, 000 for the endowment of a school in San Francisco, where trades will be taught to any girl or boy who is qualified to be admitted as a student.

There is an exhibition in Atlanta the shingle of Georgia pine that had been on a smoke-house near Washington,
Ga., since 1735. It is perfectly sound.

In the platform adopted by the Union
Labor party of Ohio are these words:
"We believe that a Protective tariff for American manufacturers and manufactures is the corner-stone of the prosperity of the nation." It is worth remarking, by the way, that, with the exception of Henry George's undertaking, every recent effort to organize a new political party has laid down the principle of Protection as one of its articles of faith.

—Press.
The foot-killer takes no summer vacation. The ice-water foot, the unripe fruit, and the beer-and-whiskey fool give him plenty to do all through the hot weather.

The effort to convert the Grand Army of the Republic into a body-guard for the administration has at last been abandoned.

John Wannamaker carries a heavier life insurance than any other man in the United States.

A little one once asked: If cows are cattle, why are not calves kitties?

AGENTS WANTED
For the sale of the
New Jersey Edition of the N. Y. World.

Fourteen columns daily of special New Jersey news, with full reports of the Legislature, and all the general news of the day.

Two papers—twelve pages—for two cents.

The brightest paper in America.

New Jersey office,
JERSEY CITY.

DON'T GO HUNGRY

But go to

Packer's Bakery,

Where you can get

The Best

Wheat, Bran, and Rye

BREAD

At the old price of ten years' standing.

FIVE CENTS per LOAF

Breakfast and Tea Rolls,
Cinnamon Buns,
Pies, Crullers

A great variety of Cakes.
Baker's Yeast

constantly on hand.
Foreign and Domestic Fruits, Nuts and Confections, as usual.

Meals and Lunches furnished to order, and a limited number of lodgers accommodated.

Wm. Bernhouse,
CONTRACTOR & BUILDER

(Of 32 years' Experience.)

Steam Saw and Planing Mill

Lumber Yard.

Doors, Sash, Moldings, and Scroll-work.

Window-Glass,
Odd sizes cut to order.

Lime, Cement, and Calcined Plaster.

Manufacturer of

FRUIT PACKAGES

Berry Chests

Cranberry and Peach

CRATES.

Odd Sizes of Fruit Crates made to order.

CEDAR SHINGLES

A Specialty,—odd sizes cut to order.
Oak and Pine Wood for Sale.
Cut and Split if desired.

A large quantity of Pine and Cedar Cuttings, for Summer and Kindling, $2.50 per cord. CEDAR PICKETS, five and a half feet long, for chicken yard fence.

J. MURDOCH,

MANUFACTURER OF

SHOES.

Ladies' Men's and Children's Shoes made to order.

Boys' Shoes a Specialty.

Repairing Neatly Done.

A good stock of shoes of all kinds always on hand.

First floor—Small's Block,
Hammononton. : : N. J.

Jones & Lawson

CONTRACTORS AND

BUILDERS

Hammononton, N. J.

Plans, Specifications, and Estimates furnished

JOBING promptly attended to.

COAL.

Best Lehigh Coal for sale from yard, at lowest prices, in any quantity.

Orders for coal may be left at John
A. Saxton's store. Coal should be ordered one day before it is needed.

GEO. F. SAXTON.

S. E. BROWN & Co.

We think we are now very well prepared to talk business to you, on

FURNITURE,

as well as

Carpets & Wall Paper

To come right to the point which, perhaps, interests buyers more than any other,
we will quote prices:

Chamber suits, painted or stained, $18 to 22
ash, beveled plate glass, $20.50 to 30

antique oak, $27.
Bedsteads, solid walnut, $10.
various styles, $3.00, 3.75, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 6.50

Lounges, plain, 4.50
walnut back, in rep, 6.75
raw silk or plush, 8.75

Extension Tables, ash, 4.75 to 6.75
cherry, 7.50

Chairs, common, per set, 3.00 to 3.50 best back, oil finish, 4.00

best back, perforated, 4.75 child's rocker, 50 cts. each.
large easy chairs, 2.50 to 3.00

dining room, each 75 cts.
Bed Springs, 1.75 to 7.50
Mattresses, 2.50 to 5.00

Marble-top Tables, 3.75 to 7.00
Kitchen, Breakfast, and Dining Tables, 3.00 to 4.00

Carpets & Matting.

The first lot of carpets gave such good satisfaction that we have greatly increased our stock. We quote:

Rag, 30, 45, 48, and 55 cts.
All cotton, fine, 50 cts.
Part cotton, 60 to 65 cts.
All wool, 75 to 78 cts.
Matting, 22 to 35 cts.

WALL PAPERS.

16 cts. to 50 cts. per double roll in stock. Fine gills, 60 cts. to $1 per double roll. We have an extra nice lot of Borders, and several patterns specially adapted to ceilings.

Our papers give satisfaction
every time.

Among the many useful things we have, that are needed at this season of the year, are

LIME

For white-washing, sealed up in cans. Purchase when you come to town, and use when you are ready. A great variety of Wall Brushes, Paint
Brushes, Scrubbing Brushes,
Dusting Brushes, Stove Brushes
Shoe Brushes, etc.

Don't forget that we give special attention to

DRIVEN WELLS.

If we make a new well, we make a good one, or no pay.
If we repair an old one, we make it a good well,—or no charges.

§. E. BROWN & Co.,

Hammononton, N. J.

The Republican.

SATURDAY, JULY 16, 1887.

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

More hot weather.
Locals scarce; job-work brisk.
Fire-works to-night, at the Park.
The Italians have their day; and this is the day.

Wanted,—an occasional shower,
to revive drooping vegetation.
Mr. and Mrs. Stockwell and son returned from New York on Tuesday.

Mr. Thayer's men (part of them) are building a house at Merchantville,
N. J.

Mr. Strickland raised the first corner-post of his house on Wednesday morning.

Robert E. Thomas is preparing to move into his new house on or about the 23rd inst.

Jones & Lawson are building a barn for Gen. Biggs, on the lot with his tenant house.

There are three berry crates at Union Hall, left there since the Firemen's festival.

Born, on Sunday, July 3rd, 1887, to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Seely, a son, and a fine lad he is.

Will Burgess has been gradually improving during the week, but Friday morning he was not so well.

Mr. Bernhouse has a force of men at Rosemont, Montgomery County,
Penn., building a fine residence.

Arthur P. Smith is successful as an amateur photographer. He has made some views of the Lake which are beautiful.

Miss Hattie Bowdoin, the music teacher is to spend a couple of months visiting, expecting to return early in September.

Now is the time, ladies, to put on your best new white dress, and get a picture of it. Page make them that they all say are "perfectly lovely."

Mr. Sturtevant is moving Mr.
Packard's residence, chicken houses, etc., making room for a new street, and thereby opening several eligible building sites.

George A. Rogers, of the Elm store, sent us a change for his advertisement, which will appear next week. In the meantime, he will serve customers well; try him, and see.

Many piazzas in town are entirely endowed with netting, enabling the dwellers within to enjoy the refreshing evening breezes, free from the pestiferous fly and the musical mosquito.

All members of the Fire Company are requested to meet at their new building this (Saturday) evening, 16th, at 7 o'clock, sharp. T. B. DROWN, Fire Marshal.

St. Mark's Church, Sixth Sunday
after Trinity, July 17th. Holy Communion at 7:30 A. M. Morning Prayer, Liturgy, and Sermon, at 10:30. Short Evening Prayer and Sermon, 4:30 P. M.
Sunday School, 5:30.

An intelligent boy wanted, at the REPUBLICAN office, to learn the printing business. He must have a fair education, good habits, and willing to be taught. Wages, very small, the first year; after that, according to his ability.

There will be a crowd at the Italian celebration, to-night, at the Park, if the weather is fine. An Italian stated that three thousand of his countrymen would be here from the cities.
There will be refreshments, music, fun and fireworks.

A grand festival will be held at New Columbia, Saturday, July 23rd, in the beautiful grove adjoining the M. E.
Church. There will be ice cream, oysters, and refreshments in abundance, with swings, etc. A match game of ball will be played at half-past three; also a sack race in the evening. Proceeds for the benefit of the Church. Come all, and have a good time.

The following officers of Atlantic Division, Sons of Temperance, were installed last Monday evening:
W. P., D. L. Potter
W. M., Marion Jacobs
F. S., Horace Black
Treas., Russell Moore
E. S., Mamie Wood
A. E. S., Mary Conkey
Con. Frank Hines
Asst. Con. Martha Moore
Chap., Edw. Roberts
L. S., Jessie Rutherford
O. S., Ralph Jones

The Fruit Growers' Union shipment of berries to New York, Monday, was 789 crates. About 500 crates went to Boston on that day, besides a large number to Philadelphia.

The Order of the Iron Hall have had five members on the sick list, to whom they have paid from five to twenty-five dollars per week. Surely, a sick man's mind must be relieved from care by the receipt of so neat a sum, and his recovery hastened thereby.

The Red Men have made themselves popular by their care of Wm. H.
Burgess during his sickness. Several times each day a number of them call and move the patient, and do what can be done to relieve him; and every night three members are detailed to stay with him, thus relieving his family and giving him the best of care.

A private letter, received this week by a friend, announced the sudden death, near Washington, D. C., of Ex-Sheriff S. V. Adams. He had been out of health for several years, but was able to attend to business until Sunday, 3rd inst, when he was taken sick, and died on the following day. He was buried at Arlington Cemetery, with G. A. R. honors.

Members of the Law and Order League, and those in sympathy with its purpose, are respectfully requested to contribute funds to enable the League to prosecute its work. Subscriptions may be handed to the Treasurer, Theo.
B. Brown, or to the Secretary, A. J.
Smith. All members and friends are urged to be present at the next meeting of the League, on Tuesday evening, July 19th, in the lower room of the Presbyterian Church, commencing at eight o'clock. Ex. Com.

The Law and Order League held a special meeting on Monday evening, in the basement of the Presbyterian Church, about forty members present.
The Executive Committee reported the secured evidence for violation of the Sunday laws, and asked for instructions.
The subject was discussed at considerable length, and the committee authorized to consult a competent attorney, and to proceed in accordance with his advice. A goodly sum was subscribed to pay preliminary expenses.

Many good citizens claim that the League is making a grand mistake, in attempting to prevent the shipment of berries on Sunday; but a majority of the members feel so well satisfied that they are right, that they propose to push the matter so far as is necessary to secure a legal decision.

Editor of South Jersey Republican:
As there seems to be a misunderstanding of the object of the Law and Order League, a word of explanation may be necessary.

The objects are clearly stated in the Constitution, as published in your issue of July 2nd, and may be repeated in a single sentence,—the enforcement of the laws necessary to preserve public order in our community. The opposition to the League has come from those who believe that the enforcement of law violates personal rights. This does not, in all cases, result from a desire to perpetuate lawlessness, but from neglect to carefully consider the question in its true light.

While our laws grant to us many privileges, they also forbid our doing certain things which are not for the public good. We find that murder, theft, arson, drunkenness, profanity, immoral work on Sunday, etc., are prohibited. If it is just and right for a man to be prosecuted for violating one of these laws, it is equally just and right to prosecute him for violating any other, for the crimes specified are all prohibited. The fact that a law is not agreeable to us, does not justify us in refusing to obey it. The Constitution of the United States grants to its citizens the right of peaceable protest; but open defiance to law is rebellion. I do not see how men of intelligence can view the subject in any other light.

The League intends to enforce not the Sunday laws alone, but all that are required for the preservation of peace and order.

The Toledo Blade, having invited preferences for the presidency, receives 21,000 votes, of

THE SILENT MAN.

Bearing No Signs of Life but Filled With Straggled Liquor.

One pleasant morning a lumbering diligence from the provinces, covered with the dust of a long journey, a weezing creaking, automatic vehicle, drawn by four horses, pulled up at one of the barriers of Paris, under the huge canopy of the Bois de Vincennes. A custom house officer on the station, might make the usual examination to see that no contraband goods were being smuggled through, for there is an article, or local duty, on certain articles, such particularly as wine and spirits brought from the country for the supply of the great metropolis.

Pierre Dubois, the custom house officer, was a character worth sketching. He had a sharp nose, as the cognac he was so apt at sniffing out, little black eyes, full of intelligence, and a little pursed up mouth, full of arrogance and official importance. His hat was pulled over one eye with a very severe sartorial effect, and he carried a pigtail in defiance of existing regulations. He had inherited a uniform from a predecessor much larger than himself, so that he was an indolent, completely covered his thighs he was immersed in a coat, the tails of which dragged the ground, as did the metallic sheath of his sword, which he carried in his right hand.

"Nothing in my line," he muttered, as he ransacked the vehicle, and scrutinized the passengers. "Hein! hein! no job for me this morning."

A snuffy old gentleman in a bob wig, and a pretty girl in a Brussels cap, with the air of a soubrette, were the only occupants of the diligence.

The driver jiggled down to stretch his legs and to tip his rotten treads, handing the reins to a portly, well-dressed man, who sat on the box with his hands on his knees and his eyes on the road.

"A fine morning, monsieur," said Pierre to the portly gentleman, while the driver was busy with his harness.

"No reply was made," he said. "I'm an Englishman, perhaps," thought the custom house officer. "Me try him again. Ver goot mornin', meastah!"

"Well, no," not exactly horse-hunting, you know. I wouldn't do that after Charles's shameful behavior. But saw the hill and I went in. Double pants and frocked dining-room in the rear; hot and cold water, gas, range, bath—everything, in short, and the hall floor laid in those delightful patterns of tessellated marble. The neighborhood delighted the mountain park handy."

"And the rent?" eagerly demanded Miss Robertson, with her eyes like blue moons.

"Only four hundred a year," said "Oh," said Julia, "but isn't that a great deal?"

"Not when you consider the price of houses in general. I'll go back to-morrow and secure it; but mind, it's a secret. I don't want Charles to know. I have taken any trouble after his hateful words."

"I don't quite believe in secrets between husbands and wives," said Julia Robertson. "But of course I'll keep your secret."

Mrs. Thomson had retired to bed when her husband came home. Miss Robertson, however, was up to pour his long tale into the scabbard.

"What are you going to do?" screamed the little Frenchwoman. "Oh, monsieur," she added to her travelling companion, "Monsieur has drawn his sword. Quel horreur!"

"Gendarme," said the snuffy old Frenchman, protruding his head and joining in the exclamation. "You are troubling your duty. Put up your sword and don't keep us here as if you were a highwayman. Driver, proceed."

"No till I have recovered from this fellow," cried the official. "Do you see this monsieur?" he exclaimed, brandishing his long sabre in the very eyes of the silent stranger.

The silent man neither winked nor stirred.

The Advantages of Secrecy.

Mrs. Charles Thompson had got tired of living in the country and about the time that Montreal houses break out into a harmless epidemic of bills for the day, she decided to let her house for sale. "For sale," she said to her husband: "Don't you think, dear, it would be well enough for us to return to the city?"

"Yes, I do," said Mr. Thompson. Miss Julia Robertson, Mrs. Thompson's pretty 18-year-old sister, clasped her hands.

"Good! good!" cried she. "Now I shall have some sort of chance at actresses and the opera again."

Housing hunting commenced in good earnest; but it lagged after the first glow of enthusiastic enterprise was worn off. None of the houses suited exactly. Mrs. Thompson declared that it was of no use venturing out one's shoe leather and temper looking for what couldn't be found.

Mr. Thompson said that it was a pity they hadn't found a house before. Mrs. Thompson said that, as far as she was concerned, she would just as soon stay where they were. Mr. Thompson retorted that anything better than an indolent, completely covered his thighs he was immersed in a coat, the tails of which dragged the ground, as did the metallic sheath of his sword, which he carried in his right hand.

"Nothing in my line," he muttered, as he ransacked the vehicle, and scrutinized the passengers. "Hein! hein! no job for me this morning."

A snuffy old gentleman in a bob wig, and a pretty girl in a Brussels cap, with the air of a soubrette, were the only occupants of the diligence.

The driver jiggled down to stretch his legs and to tip his rotten treads, handing the reins to a portly, well-dressed man, who sat on the box with his hands on his knees and his eyes on the road.

"A fine morning, monsieur," said Pierre to the portly gentleman, while the driver was busy with his harness.

"No reply was made," he said. "I'm an Englishman, perhaps," thought the custom house officer. "Me try him again. Ver goot mornin', meastah!"

"Well, no," not exactly horse-hunting, you know. I wouldn't do that after Charles's shameful behavior. But saw the hill and I went in. Double pants and frocked dining-room in the rear; hot and cold water, gas, range, bath—everything, in short, and the hall floor laid in those delightful patterns of tessellated marble. The neighborhood delighted the mountain park handy."

"And the rent?" eagerly demanded Miss Robertson, with her eyes like blue moons.

"Only four hundred a year," said "Oh," said Julia, "but isn't that a great deal?"

"Not when you consider the price of houses in general. I'll go back to-morrow and secure it; but mind, it's a secret. I don't want Charles to know. I have taken any trouble after his hateful words."

"I don't quite believe in secrets between husbands and wives," said Julia Robertson. "But of course I'll keep your secret."

Mrs. Thomson had retired to bed when her husband came home. Miss Robertson, however, was up to pour his long tale into the scabbard.

"What are you going to do?" screamed the little Frenchwoman. "Oh, monsieur," she added to her travelling companion, "Monsieur has drawn his sword. Quel horreur!"

"Gendarme," said the snuffy old Frenchman, protruding his head and joining in the exclamation. "You are troubling your duty. Put up your sword and don't keep us here as if you were a highwayman. Driver, proceed."

LOUISIANA FIE.

It Will Surprise Many Folks to Learn That the Sunny South Loves New England's Pet.

There are a great many different kinds of pie, from the currant and plum variety of the north to the mince and apple of the south. The mince pie, which is so common in the north, is not unfrequently made in the south, and is often sold in the streets of New Orleans, gathered in a few interesting facts in regard to the trade.

The first colonial pastryman called on was a tall, powerful man, whose unusual development of muscle showed the effect of his labor in this line. He makes a tour of the town twice every week, but while the law costs him his sales to a few local and strictly private customers.

Pies vary with the season, all except fruit pies, known as the craft, as the vendor continues, "I have all kinds of peach, potato, cocconut, apple, raisin, and cranberry."

The turquoises mines are famed. They are less productive than formerly, while the iron mines are excellent. The iron mines in Europe have tended somewhat to lower the demand for the genuine article. The difficulty of getting the stone is very excessive, as the mines are being deeper all the time and the shafts are very dangerous.

Mrs. Thomson began to cry; the elderly female looked as if she thought herself neglected. She was a matrimonial misanthrope, and she was twined roundly.

"Never mind, dear," said Mr. Thompson, soothingly. "I'm a man of the world, and I'll be as happy as the day is long in it. I only wish I had confided in you about it."

"And I wish I hadn't," said the elderly female, "but I'm sure you'll be as happy as the day is long in it. I only wish I had confided in you about it."

"Come," said Miss Robertson, "let's make haste, or we shall lose the last train."

Wild Electric Projects.

When will scientific education be sufficiently diffused to enable inventors to understand that electricity is but one of the forces of nature, like heat and light and gravitation, and no more capable of working miracles than these?

Double pants and frocked dining-room in the rear; hot and cold water, gas, range, bath—everything, in short, and the hall floor laid in those delightful patterns of tessellated marble. The neighborhood delighted the mountain park handy."

"And the rent?" eagerly demanded Miss Robertson, with her eyes like blue moons.

"Only four hundred a year," said "Oh," said Julia, "but isn't that a great deal?"

"Not when you consider the price of houses in general. I'll go back to-morrow and secure it; but mind, it's a secret. I don't want Charles to know. I have taken any trouble after his hateful words."

"I don't quite believe in secrets between husbands and wives," said Julia Robertson. "But of course I'll keep your secret."

Mrs. Thomson had retired to bed when her husband came home. Miss Robertson, however, was up to pour his long tale into the scabbard.

"What are you going to do?" screamed the little Frenchwoman. "Oh, monsieur," she added to her travelling companion, "Monsieur has drawn his sword. Quel horreur!"

THE SHAH'S REVENUE.

How the Funds for the Support of Persia's Government are Obtained.

Persia is relatively rich, for she owes nothing to bankers or bondholders either at home or abroad. She has no debt, and she has no foreign loans. She has no foreign loans, and she has no foreign loans.

The Shah is relatively rich, for she owes nothing to bankers or bondholders either at home or abroad. She has no debt, and she has no foreign loans. She has no foreign loans, and she has no foreign loans.

The Shah is relatively rich, for she owes nothing to bankers or bondholders either at home or abroad. She has no debt, and she has no foreign loans. She has no foreign loans, and she has no foreign loans.

The Shah is relatively rich, for she owes nothing to bankers or bondholders either at home or abroad. She has no debt, and she has no foreign loans. She has no foreign loans, and she has no foreign loans.

The Shah is relatively rich, for she owes nothing to bankers or bondholders either at home or abroad. She has no debt, and she has no foreign loans. She has no foreign loans, and she has no foreign loans.

The Shah is relatively rich, for she owes nothing to bankers or bondholders either at home or abroad. She has no debt, and she has no foreign loans. She has no foreign loans, and she has no foreign loans.

The Shah is relatively rich, for she owes nothing to bankers or bondholders either at home or abroad. She has no debt, and she has no foreign loans. She has no foreign loans, and she has no foreign loans.

The Shah is relatively rich, for she owes nothing to bankers or bondholders either at home or abroad. She has no debt, and she has no foreign loans. She has no foreign loans, and she has no foreign loans.

The Shah is relatively rich, for she owes nothing to bankers or bondholders either at home or abroad. She has no debt, and she has no foreign loans. She has no foreign loans, and she has no foreign loans.

The Shah is relatively rich, for she owes nothing to bankers or bondholders either at home or abroad. She has no debt, and she has no foreign loans. She has no foreign loans, and she has no foreign loans.

The Shah is relatively rich, for she owes nothing to bankers or bondholders either at home or abroad. She has no debt, and she has no foreign loans. She has no foreign loans, and she has no foreign loans.

The Shah is relatively rich, for she owes nothing to bankers or bondholders either at home or abroad. She has no debt, and she has no foreign loans. She has no foreign loans, and she has no foreign loans.

The Shah is relatively rich, for she owes nothing to bankers or bondholders either at home or abroad. She has no debt, and she has no foreign loans. She has no foreign loans, and she has no foreign loans.

The Shah is relatively rich, for she owes nothing to bankers or bondholders either at home or abroad. She has no debt, and she has no foreign loans. She has no foreign loans, and she has no foreign loans.

The Shah is relatively rich, for she owes nothing to bankers or bondholders either at home or abroad. She has no debt, and she has no foreign loans. She has no foreign loans, and she has no foreign loans.

The Shah is relatively rich, for she owes nothing to bankers or bondholders either at home or abroad. She has no debt, and she has no foreign loans. She has no foreign loans, and she has no foreign loans.

The Shah is relatively rich, for she owes nothing to bankers or bondholders either at home or abroad. She has no debt, and she has no foreign loans. She has no foreign loans, and she has no foreign loans.

QUAKER NOTIONS IN SCOTLAND.

A Traveler in the north of Scotland has much to say about the superstitions prevalent among the inhabitants. The quaker wife, for instance, busy at her needle, will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat.

A Traveler in the north of Scotland has much to say about the superstitions prevalent among the inhabitants. The quaker wife, for instance, busy at her needle, will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat.

A Traveler in the north of Scotland has much to say about the superstitions prevalent among the inhabitants. The quaker wife, for instance, busy at her needle, will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat.

A Traveler in the north of Scotland has much to say about the superstitions prevalent among the inhabitants. The quaker wife, for instance, busy at her needle, will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat.

A Traveler in the north of Scotland has much to say about the superstitions prevalent among the inhabitants. The quaker wife, for instance, busy at her needle, will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat.

A Traveler in the north of Scotland has much to say about the superstitions prevalent among the inhabitants. The quaker wife, for instance, busy at her needle, will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat.

A Traveler in the north of Scotland has much to say about the superstitions prevalent among the inhabitants. The quaker wife, for instance, busy at her needle, will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat.

A Traveler in the north of Scotland has much to say about the superstitions prevalent among the inhabitants. The quaker wife, for instance, busy at her needle, will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat.

A Traveler in the north of Scotland has much to say about the superstitions prevalent among the inhabitants. The quaker wife, for instance, busy at her needle, will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat.

A Traveler in the north of Scotland has much to say about the superstitions prevalent among the inhabitants. The quaker wife, for instance, busy at her needle, will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat.

A Traveler in the north of Scotland has much to say about the superstitions prevalent among the inhabitants. The quaker wife, for instance, busy at her needle, will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat.

A Traveler in the north of Scotland has much to say about the superstitions prevalent among the inhabitants. The quaker wife, for instance, busy at her needle, will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat.

A Traveler in the north of Scotland has much to say about the superstitions prevalent among the inhabitants. The quaker wife, for instance, busy at her needle, will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat.

A Traveler in the north of Scotland has much to say about the superstitions prevalent among the inhabitants. The quaker wife, for instance, busy at her needle, will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat.

A Traveler in the north of Scotland has much to say about the superstitions prevalent among the inhabitants. The quaker wife, for instance, busy at her needle, will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat.

A Traveler in the north of Scotland has much to say about the superstitions prevalent among the inhabitants. The quaker wife, for instance, busy at her needle, will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat.

A Traveler in the north of Scotland has much to say about the superstitions prevalent among the inhabitants. The quaker wife, for instance, busy at her needle, will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat.

A Traveler in the north of Scotland has much to say about the superstitions prevalent among the inhabitants. The quaker wife, for instance, busy at her needle, will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat, and she will be startled by the sight of a man in a top hat.

A Positive Engagement.

You needn't ask Nan to marry. A dinner or five o'clock tea. Three weeks from to-day—which is Thursday. For "engaged" and "at home" she will be.

She set her white drama this morning in a box with sweet hair for a bed. On the table of the room, she lay with a white muslin softly outspread.

She looks so proud and important, with her treasures hid under her breast; Every feature of her face is so sweet, As if warning you off from her breast.

And the capacious will sit there, come sunshine, come storm, or what may, With her wings and her warmth and her wisdom, Till exactly three weeks from to-day.

And then, oh, the downy soft treasures, Of the hair left by round things, That will break from the shells and come peeping And stretching their lamplike wings!

Oh, you needn't ask Nan to marry. A dinner or five o'clock tea. Three weeks from to-day—which is Thursday. For "engaged" and "at home" she will be.

She set her white drama this morning in a box with sweet hair for a bed. On the table of the room, she lay with a white muslin softly outspread.

She looks so proud and important, with her treasures hid under her breast; Every feature of her face is so sweet, As if warning you off from her breast.

And the capacious will sit there, come sunshine, come storm, or what may, With her wings and her warmth and her wisdom, Till exactly three weeks from to-day.

And then, oh, the downy soft treasures, Of the hair left by round things, That will break from the shells and come peeping And stretching their lamplike wings!

Oh, you needn't ask Nan to marry. A dinner or five o'clock tea. Three weeks from to-day—which is Thursday. For "engaged" and "at home" she will be.

She set her white drama this morning in a box with sweet hair for a bed. On the table of the room, she lay with a white muslin softly outspread.

She looks so proud and important, with her treasures hid under her breast; Every feature of her face is so sweet, As if warning you off from her breast.

And the capacious will sit there, come sunshine, come storm, or what may, With her wings and her warmth and her wisdom, Till exactly three weeks from to-day.

And then, oh, the downy soft treasures, Of the hair left by round things, That will break from the shells and come peeping And stretching their lamplike wings!

Oh, you needn't ask Nan to marry. A dinner or five o'clock tea. Three weeks from to-day—which is Thursday. For "engaged" and "at home" she will be.

She set her white drama this morning in a box with sweet hair for a bed. On the table of the room, she lay with a white muslin softly outspread.

She looks so proud and important, with her treasures hid under her breast; Every feature of her face is so sweet, As if warning you off from her breast.

JACOB GRAVES' SUNSTROKE.

The supper dishes had been removed and carefully washed in the kitchen sink, and restored to their respective places on the pantry shelves; the red cloth had been spread over the table, the large kersey lamp set in the center, and Farmer Graves had drawn from his capacious pocket a weedy agricultural journal, and seated himself to enjoy it as he ate his meal.

The supper dishes had been removed and carefully washed in the kitchen sink, and restored to their respective places on the pantry shelves; the red cloth had been spread over the table, the large kersey lamp set in the center, and Farmer Graves had drawn from his capacious pocket a weedy agricultural journal, and seated himself to enjoy it as he ate his meal.

The supper dishes had been removed and carefully washed in the kitchen sink, and restored to their respective places on the pantry shelves; the red cloth had been spread over the table, the large kersey lamp set in the center, and Farmer Graves had drawn from his capacious pocket a weedy agricultural journal, and seated himself to enjoy it as he ate his meal.

The supper dishes had been removed and carefully washed in the kitchen sink, and restored to their respective places on the pantry shelves; the red cloth had been spread over the table, the large kersey lamp set in the center, and Farmer Graves had drawn from his capacious pocket a weedy agricultural journal, and seated himself to enjoy it as he ate his meal.

The supper dishes had been removed and carefully washed in the kitchen sink, and restored to their respective places on the pantry shelves; the red cloth had been spread over the table, the large kersey lamp set in the center, and Farmer Graves had drawn from his capacious pocket a weedy agricultural journal, and seated himself to enjoy it as he ate his meal.

The supper dishes had been removed and carefully washed in the kitchen sink, and restored to their respective places on the pantry shelves; the red cloth had been spread over the table, the large kersey lamp set in the center, and Farmer Graves had drawn from his capacious pocket a weedy agricultural journal, and seated himself to enjoy it as he ate his meal.

The supper dishes had been removed and carefully washed in the kitchen sink, and restored to their respective places on the pantry shelves; the red cloth had been spread over the table, the large kersey lamp set in the center, and Farmer Graves had drawn from his capacious pocket a weedy agricultural journal, and seated himself to enjoy it as he ate his meal.

The supper dishes had been removed and carefully washed in the kitchen sink, and restored to their respective places on the pantry shelves; the red cloth had been spread over the table, the large kersey lamp set in the center, and Farmer Graves had drawn from his capacious pocket a weedy agricultural journal, and seated himself to enjoy it as he ate his meal.

The supper dishes had been removed and carefully washed in the kitchen sink, and restored to their respective places on the pantry shelves; the red cloth had been spread over the table, the large kersey lamp set in the center, and Farmer Graves had drawn from his capacious pocket a weedy agricultural journal, and seated himself to enjoy it as he ate his meal.

The supper dishes had been removed and carefully washed in the kitchen sink, and restored to their respective places on the pantry shelves; the red cloth had been spread over the table, the large kersey lamp set in the center, and Farmer Graves had drawn from his capacious pocket a weedy agricultural journal, and seated himself to enjoy it as he ate his meal.

The supper dishes had been removed and carefully washed in the kitchen sink, and restored to their respective places on the pantry shelves; the red cloth had been spread over the table, the large kersey lamp set in the center, and Farmer Graves had drawn from his capacious pocket a weedy agricultural journal, and seated himself to enjoy it as he ate his meal.

The supper dishes had been removed and carefully washed in the kitchen sink, and restored to their respective places on the pantry shelves; the red cloth had been spread over the table, the large kersey lamp set in the center, and Farmer Graves had drawn from his capacious pocket a weedy agricultural journal, and seated himself to enjoy it as he ate his meal.

The supper dishes had been removed and carefully washed in the kitchen sink, and restored to their respective places on the pantry shelves; the red cloth had been spread over the table, the large kersey lamp set in the center, and Farmer Graves had drawn from his capacious pocket a weedy agricultural journal, and seated himself to enjoy it as he ate his meal.

The supper dishes had been removed and carefully washed in the kitchen sink, and restored to their respective places on the pantry shelves; the red cloth had been spread over the table, the large kersey lamp set in the center, and Farmer Graves had drawn from his capacious pocket a weedy agricultural journal, and seated himself to enjoy it as he ate his meal.

The supper dishes had been removed and carefully washed in the kitchen sink, and restored to their respective places on the pantry shelves; the red cloth had been spread over the table, the large kersey lamp set in the center, and Farmer Graves had drawn from his capacious pocket a weedy agricultural journal, and seated himself to enjoy it as he ate his meal.

The supper dishes had been removed and carefully washed in the kitchen sink, and restored to their respective places on the pantry shelves; the red cloth had been spread over the table, the large kersey lamp set in the center, and Farmer Graves had drawn from his capacious pocket a weedy agricultural journal, and seated himself to enjoy it as he ate his meal.

The supper dishes had been removed and carefully washed in the kitchen sink, and restored to their respective places on the pantry shelves; the red cloth had been spread over the table, the large kersey lamp set in the center, and Farmer Graves had drawn from his capacious pocket a weedy agricultural journal, and seated himself to enjoy it as he ate his meal.

The supper dishes had been removed and carefully washed in the kitchen sink, and restored to their respective places on the pantry shelves; the red cloth had been spread over the table, the large kersey lamp set in the center, and Farmer Graves had drawn from his capacious pocket a weedy agricultural journal, and seated himself to enjoy it as he ate his meal.

VARIEITIES OF HANDSHAKING.

How the Custom First Originated— Peculiarities of Different People.

"Did you ever consider how people first began to shake hands? No? Well, then, sit down here, and I'll tell you what I think about it, for I have given this subject some study."

"I have given this subject some study," said the speaker, "and I have given this subject some study."

"I have given this subject some study," said the speaker, "and I have given this subject some study."

"I have given this subject some study," said the speaker, "and I have given this subject some study."

"I have given this subject some study," said the speaker, "and I have given this subject some study."

"I have given this subject some study," said the speaker, "and I have given this subject some study."

"I have given this subject some study," said the speaker, "and I have given this subject some study."

"I have given this subject some study," said the speaker, "and I have given this subject some study."

"I have given this subject some study," said the speaker, "and I have given this subject some study."

"I have given this subject some study," said the speaker, "and I have given this subject some study."

"I have given this subject some study," said the speaker, "and I have given this subject some study."

"I have given this subject some study," said the speaker, "and I have given this subject some study."

"I have given this subject some study," said the speaker, "and I have given this subject some study."

"I have given this subject some study," said the speaker, "and I have given this subject some study."

"I have given this subject some study," said the speaker, "and I have given this subject some study."

"I have given this subject some study," said the speaker, "and I have given this subject some study."

"I have given this subject some study," said the speaker, "and I have given this subject some study."

Can or white. SAVING means money and flows: at 8, 10, 11, 12, and 7 to 10 evenings.