Manhood: how Lost, how Restored.

JUST published, a new edition of Dr. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhoea, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits, induced by self indulgence or sexual extravagance.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

16. And be it enacted, That all taxes and assessments made and due before this act takes effect in the townships of Mullica and Hamilton, and the town of Hammonton as hereby constituted, shall be collected in the name of such of the three corporations as may be entitled to collect the same, and the property liable to be sold therefor shall be sold as if this act had not been passed, and any duty in such collection and sale imposed upon any officer in such present corporation shall be performed by the corresponding officers of the town of Hammonton under this act, and such officers shall be so liable to the debts, claims and rights in action which the like officers in townships are liable to, and all ordinances and resolutions heretofore passed by the township committee of Mullica and Hamilton that may be in force when this act goes into effect, so far as the same are not inconsistent with this act, shall remain in force until altered or repealed by the councilmen of the town of Hammonton hereby provided for.

17. And be it enacted, That all taxes for the purposes of the town shall be assessed by the assessors, who shall be elected in pursuance of this act, upon all the property, both personal and real, situated in the corporate limits of said town, in the manner and within the time directed by the laws of this state for assessing township, county and state taxes; and all taxes so assessed for town purposes shall be collected by the collector in the same manner as he is by law directed to collect township, county and state taxes, and shall be paid over by him to the town treasurer as hereinbefore directed, and before the thirtieth day of December in each year, and no property whatever situated within the bounds of said town shall be exempt from taxation, excepting only such property as may be held or owned by the said town of Hammonton in its corporate capacity, and such property as may belong to any fire department of said town, and all churches and school houses, and church and school house property in said town.

18. And be it enacted, That the collector of the said town, in case of the non-payment of taxes on or before the twentieth day of December in each year, shall make out a list of the names of the delinquents, with the sums due from them respectively thereunto annexed, and deliver the same to the clerk of the town on or before the thirtieth day of December in each year, except when that day shall be Sunday, and then the next day following, and it shall be the duty of said clerk to lay the same before the councilmen at their meeting held next after the same shall be delivered to him, and thereupon the said councilmen shall deliver the same to the justice of the peace residing in said town, who shall proceed and issue a tax warrant thereon, as provided by law in cases of taxes in townships, which shall be directed and delivered to the collector of taxes, who shall have power to collect the same in like manner in all things as the constables in the townships are directed by law; provided, that such collector shall, before he delivers such lists to the clerk, take and subscribe an oath or affirmation before the justice of the peace in said town, that the moneys in said list mentioned have been duly demanded, or due notice given thereof at the usual place of residence of each delinquent who could be found or may then reside in the said town.

19. And be it enacted, That whenever, within the town, any tax shall remain unpaid after the twentieth day of December, in every year, it shall be lawful for the collector of taxes to charge, receive and collect, in addition to the amount of said tax, interest thereon, to be computed at the rate of twelve per centum per annum, from the said twentieth day of December until the same is paid, and such interest shall be paid over by the said collector, to the treasurer of said town, in like manner and at the same time he may be required to pay over to said treasurer all the taxes by him collected.

20. And be it enacted, That all taxes and all assessments which shall hereafter be levied, assessed, or made upon any lands, tenements, or real estate situate in the said town of Hammonton, shall be and remain a lien thereon until paid, notwithstanding any devise, descent, alienation, mortgage or other incumbrance thereof; and that if the full amount of any such tax or assessment shall not be paid and satisfied within the time limited and appointed by the councilmen for the payment thereof, it shall and may be lawful for the councilmen to cause such lands, tenements, or real estate to be sold at public auction for the shortest time for which any person will agree to take the same and pay such tax or assessment, or the balance thereof remaining unpaid, with the interest thereon and all costs, charges and expenses, and to execute under the common seal of said town a declaration of such sale to be signed by the chairman of the councilmen and the town clerk, and to deliver the same to the purchaser; and such purchaser, his executors, administrators or assigns, shall, by virtue thereof, lawfully hold and enjoy the said lands, tenements or real estate for his and their own proper use, against the owner or owners thereof, and all persons claiming, under him or them, until said term shall be completed and ended; provided, the said councilmen shall first have caused said sale to be advertised for at least sixty days in at least one public newspaper generally circulated in said town, and also by advertisement put up in at least five public places in said town, which advertisement shall describe the said lands, tenements or real estate, and specify the amount of assessment or tax, and the recitals in such declaration of sale shall be evidence of the assessment, advertising and sale; and provided also, that the lands, tenements, or real estate so sold, may be redeemed by the owner, mortgagee, occupant, or persons interested therein, or by any other person for or in behalf of the owner, mortgagee or claimant of such lands, tenements or real estate, at any time within two years after the sale for either taxes or assessments, or both, by paying to the treasurer of the town for the use of said purchaser the purchase money, together with any other sums paid for tax or assessment, which the said purchaser may have paid, chargeable on such lands, tenements or real estate, and which he is hereby authorized to do, with interest thereon at the rate of fifteen per centum per annum in addition thereto; and the certificate of the treasurer of the town, stating the payments and showing what lands, tenements or real estate such payment is intended to redeem, shall be evidence of such redemption; any mortgagee shall have power to redeem at any time until the expiration of the six months' notice herein specified; no mortgagee whose mortgage shall have been duly recorded before sale for any tax or assessment shall be effected by such sale, unless six months' notice in writing shall have been given to him by the purchaser, or those claiming under him either personally, or if not to be found in the said town of Hammonton, then such notice shall be deposited in the post office nearest to said town, directed to him at his last known place of residence (or at the post office nearest thereto), but nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to impair the lien created by such tax, assessment or sale; and provided, the said term of time for which any lands, tenements, or real estate so sold as aforesaid shall not commence, nor shall said purchaser or those claiming under him have a right of possession to said lands, tenements or real estate until the two years limited for the redemption of the same shall have expired; and the said purchaser, or those claiming under him, shall, at the expiration of the time limited in such declaration of the sale, quit and surrender the said lands, tenements or real estate in as good state and condition as when he entered thereon, natural wears and accidents excepted; provided also, that the said sale may be adjourned or postponed from time to time, or suspended as the councilmen may direct; and provided, that if at any sale of lands, tenements or real estate for assessments or taxes, the whole or any part thereof shall remain unsold for want of purchasers, then it shall be lawful for the said councilmen to adjourn the said sale not less than thirty days, nor more than sixty days; twenty days' notice at least shall be given as aforesaid of the said adjourned sale, and if at said adjourned sale there shall be no purchasers for said lands, tenements or real estate, or for any part thereof, then it shall be lawful for the treasurer of said town to purchase the said lands, tenements or real estate for the benefit of the town, subject to the same redemption as hereinbefore provided for; provided also that all moneys paid for the redemption of said lands, tenements [illegible] with such taxes and assessments paid by any mortgagee or judgment creditor, shall be a lien upon said lands, tenements or real [illegible] and such lien shall have the precedence over all other liens on said lands, tenements or real estate [illegible] directed to be made out of the said lands [illegible] and on sale of said lands under any such foreclosure, judgment shall be paid out of the proceeds of the sale; provided further, that a complete record of all taxes and assessments shall be kept in the town clerk's office, which record shall contain the time when such assessments and taxes were laid, the time when they were paid (and if the property has been sold therefor), the time of said sale, and to whom sold, and if redeemed, when, and by whom; it shall be the duty of the town clerk to record in a book to be called "record of sales," all declarations of sales, and to give certificates of search in relation to liens, to any person or persons applying for the same, and to cancel such declarations when the property for which they were given shall be redeemed, on certificate of the town treasurer of such redemption, and to file such certificate in the said clerk's office; it shall be the duty of the treasurer to make out two certificates for all property redeemed, one for the person redeeming, and one to file in the said clerk's office.

21. And be it enacted, That all state and county taxes shall be assessed and collected by the assessors and collector of said town, in like manner as the township taxes are assessed and collected, and the same shall be paid over by the town collector to the county collector in like manner and under like penalties as township collectors are directed by law.

And be it enacted, That the assessors authorized to be elected by this act shall have the like vote which the assessors of townships may have by the laws of this State in the county board of assessors, to wit, one vote which shall be cast by the chairman of the board of assessment of said town.

27. THE PATRIOT.
SATURDAY, APRIL 14, 1866.

PARTISAN ABUSE.

The bitterness of political feeling was perhaps never more fully evinced than since the break of the radicals now in power and the President of the United States. One might think that five years of vilification and abuse heaped upon those who dared to oppose their policy, would have satisfied the most vindictive spirit: and that abuse, too, let loose under the pretence of military necessity, or the maintenance of the government.

Of the absurdity of those making such professions, and the necessity of such an course, time and circumstances alone are now exposing to the world, and showing that the assertions of the leaders in regard to the preservation of the Union and the support of the government was, and is a mere sham, when it happens that either stand in the way of the wild and shameless purposes of those men.

We see now that every man, be his position what it may, his obligations as an officer, however binding, must yield to the pressure of these fanatics, and if he dare to interpose an opinion, or suggest any matter of judgment, he is set upon by the whole pack and hunted down. The veto of the President's Barnes Bill by the President, and also that of the Civil Rights Bill, has called down upon his head the meanest and most cowardly abuse of the press throughout the country, wherever fanaticism can override the patriotism and good sense of the people.

Of the propriety of the vetoes, and the right of the exercise of the President to use his individual discretion in such cases, we do not at this time propose to discuss. We only now seek to condemn what has become of late years a scandal to our country. That men have a right to their opinions now, we cannot question: nay more, it is one of the elements of success in advancing our system of government, and placing it upon a sound and solid basis, that all political subjects should be discussed and understood by the people; yet no man but a tyrant would claim that to him, or a party, belongs the exclusive right to make laws and regulations touching the interests of the entire nation. To this miserable principle the people yielded during the rebellion, because of the universal desire to have our once happy Union restored; yet, even then, this consent was taken advantage of, and those who had the bravery to suggest a different policy, or propose a new line of conduct, were branded with the most insulting epithets. And what is now the spectacle presented before us? The man who fills the highest place on the part of the people, a servant of their own choice, and one who stood up firmly and bravely against his enemies at home, and if evoked, at his discretion, the commendation of all loyal men for the course he pursued throughout the rebellion, now stands accused of the most heinous crimes, and the victim of unmeasured abuse, because he dare to step aside from the line as marked out for him by his party leaders. The same epithets—the same reproaches—the same falsehoods and misrepresentations and wicked accusations are now hurled at him, as have been so freely used against all those who heretofore have questioned their policy, or doubted the motives of any of their measures. Every measure is being made use of to impute to him the most possible motives and the most dangerous consequences in connection with all his official acts and private life.

We need not carry this further, for any person who happens to read the partisan press of the Abolition persuasion, can but see that what we here assert is true. And can any one doubt what will be the end of all this, when we look back to the political campaign of 1860, and see the same policy then pursued that is now the element of the day—the worst passions of the people excited, the very evils of our natures aroused, and those who should regard the social and political relations of one to other as sacred and binding, taught to look upon them as worthless—these, with every other such means, were let loose upon us, and brought about their legitimate fruit. The one must as certainly follow the other as the day follows the sun.

We do not write as the apologist of the dead Johnson, he requires no such at our hands who desire to see peace and tranquility in our land, and fanaticism destroyed, we approve the decisions of the President, and adopt it may read in the more sober and cooperative judgments of our rulers growing the control, and put an end to this continued agitation that is so destructive of the material interests of the country. We have no intention of departing from the time honored principles of our party, and believe we can afford to wait until the second sober thought of the people applies them again to the administration of the government, but if the chief magistrate of the nation should place Andrew Johnson upon that platform, and in unity with those principles, we feel ourselves bound to sustain him to every reasonable extent up to this standard: and, in like manner, if he should yield to the torrent of abuse that is now hurled at him, and consent to the destruction of the old established forms of our government, we shall oppose him with every legitimate means within our power.

Amidst all this, however, some good will be derived to the people. Every thinking man will now see what the real issues have been from the beginning; that the declarations of Garrison, of Wade, of Sumner, and the hosts of others who made the destruction of slavery and the elevation of the black man a primary object, and the preservation of the Union but a secondary matter, were the honest men of the party, and have well nigh accomplished their fiendish purpose. This much good will be accomplished, if the real issue is understood. Many who have been misled should see the danger in thus to subvert those fanatics, and destroy the end desired by them. Our hope now is, in the firm and honest masses of the Democratic party, sustained, as he will be, by every national man within the limits of our land. Our hope is in the antecedents of Andrew Johnson, a man who was born a Democrat, has lived a Democrat, and we believe that principles of so deeply infused into his blood that he will die a Democrat. We must live.

Adjournment of the Legislature.

On the 6th inst. the ninetieth session of the Legislature of this State adjourned sine die, after a sitting of thirteen weeks. The organization commenced in excitement, and ended in the same, occasioned by the independent course pursued by the Hon. James M. Scovel.

More legislation has taken place on public matters than usual, and many valuable charters granted to private corporations, among which we notice the extension of the Williamstown railroad to the Delaware river, which will materially benefit the counties in this Congressional district. The act incorporating the Newark and New York Railroad, the Tidewater Improvement Company, and the Hudson River Wet Basin Company will all contribute to the improvement of Hudson and Essex counties.

Among the public acts that of the Registry Law and the act closing the polls at sunset, were abrogated and passed as party measures, while the acts authorizing the Governor to appoint police and water commissioners for Jersey City, are in keeping with the partizan acts of the dominant party.

During the canvass last fall, the cry of the so called "Union" party was "reform" and "retrenchment," yet the Daily Advertiser says their extravagance was enormous. The people will remember that this is a Republican journal, and we hardly think they can call this charge a "copperhead" lie, emanating from that source.

The vetoes in the United States Senate, occasioned by the displacement of the Hon. John P. Stockton, produced the closing excitement of the body, and after several ineffectual attempts to go into joint meeting, owing to Mr. Scovel's determination, he believing Mr. Stockton legally elected, the Legislature adjourned sine die, and the Republican press have loud and long cause of being able to hold him, thus preventing the election of their nominee, Hon. A. G. Cattell.

Thus has ended a legislature, the majority of which were Republicans, and who evidently intended to carry things with a high hand, but in the midst of apparent success they were defeated.

We hope to see a different body elected next fall, and who will not sit in carrying out a petty party malice. The matter is in the hands of the people, and we believe they will do right.

The Triumph of Fanaticism.

The passage of the Civil Rights Bill over the veto of the President, may be justly termed the triumph of fanaticism. It is now plain that the Southern States are to be held off at arms' length, until abolition vengeance is satisfied by heaping upon their helpless victims every degradation and misery that can possibly be conceived. No limit to the measure of punishment is to be allowed, and the whole power of the Government is to be used to force negro equality upon the white race. The Southern States, denied all voice or vote, are literally chained to the abolition car, while the scourge of fanaticism is plied by men frenzied with passion or prejudice. The monstrous assumptions of the present Congress have no parallel. The legislation upon the internal affairs of eleven States are placed beyond their control—the passage of laws directly affecting their domestic relations when unrepresented in Congress—the palpable violation of every right secured by the Constitution, and a tyranny that will forever blacken the pages of American history. What disgrace and misery these men are yet to encounter, time alone can determine: if the people are firm and manacled, and will be kept in that helpless position until they are subjected to every experiment that springs from abolition brains.

It may be well to remind our readers that there are issues in the Civil Rights Bill which the Northern States, in turn, may be called upon to meet. The passage of power on the part of Congress in this instance, is a fearful precedent, and one that may form a pretext for similar outrage in all the States. The reserve rights retained alone by the States to the abuse of power, save that which revolution presents; and it may be that we shall like our fathers, be compelled to fight against "taxation without representation."

Election Illegal.—An act to present

the election of electors passed by the Legislature. The bill provides that if any candidate for an office within this state shall directly offer, promise, procure, confer or give any money, property or other thing of value to any person for giving or refusing to give his vote at any election, he shall be deemed and taken to be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, shall be forever disqualified to hold the office to which he was elected at such election. If any person shall directly or ask for, accept, receive or agree for any money, property or other thing of value, or the promise thereof for giving his vote at any election held within this state, all to thereof convicted according to the provisions thereof, shall, in addition to the penalties already provided, be disqualified to vote at any election held under the laws of the state for ten years after such conviction.

☞ The subscription books to the Newark and New York Railroad have been opened this week, and about $400,000 of the entire stock ($60,000) has already been subscribed. The corporators have enough offers from capitalists both in Newark and in Jersey City to take the entire balance, but desiring to give the citizens generally an opportunity to become interested in the enterprise, which is emphatically a Newark interest, the books will remain open at their office, in Newark, until further notice. An election for Directors will be held at an early day.

☞ The N. Y. Times (Republican) says: "The age of bastiles and guillotines has passed, but there is a despotism in Congress as infinite as that which caused France to weep tears of blood. The majority of the House of Representatives has invested a committee of fifteen with powers which, under the guidance of a Jacobin chairman, is becoming as odious as any triumvirate created by despotism."

LOCAL AND STATE ITEMS.

☞ We this week commence the publication of the proceedings of the City Council of Millville, and shall hereafter publish the proceedings of the Council of Millville and Bridgeton. The council of Millville were pleased to have their proceedings thus made public, but agency of the Council of Bridgeton were opposed to having the public know what they were doing. We are under obligations to Messrs. Jacob Riendle and Chas. Pitblado, in securing the proceeding.

Mother Took Dose.—On Thursday of last week a crowd gathered in front of E. Davis & Son's hotel, to see a defunct mad canine, belonging to a person named Lippincott, of Harrisonville. Fido might have concerned his journey with good intentions, but evil soon overcome him, if the biting of various other dogs on his route can be taken as evidence. We hear of quite a number in the country above us that felt victims, first to his teeth, then to their master's gun. After biting several in our fair city, his long and eventful life was brought suddenly to a close, by taking an over dose of lead, administered by one of the boarders at the house above named. If the warm weather of the past few days continues, we may hear tell, if not see, more of the furance of animals traveling over the country, snapping at whatever is in their road. Instead of confining their attention to dogs, they may turn to people and individuals. Hydrophobia is no bitter in the prospective than cholera. To keep clear of the former our city fathers should come out with their dog ordinance, and thereby probably saving a number of lives. No one can tell what harm may be done by one, much less the hundreds of worthless curs that have no owner, but still find a habitation within our city limits.

Runaway.—Rosa is a nice name for a beast of burden. This Rosa is generally the animal that gives locomotion to R. Iott's mill wagon. She is quite young, and not used to the ways of the world, or the customs of most other horses, that have aged and experience on their side. Last week her driver left her in Bank Street, without hitching; she being full of spirit, and not liking the situation of things, concerved the plan of going home alone, which she began to put in immediate practice. In turning, however, at the "old brick store," not having the steady hue of the driver for a guide, she went under the awning shed in front of the store, instead of the door, damaging the wagon but little. The cargo, consisting of flour and feed, took to a sudden scattering and salting, out fiance ally, but promiscuously. In future, if not so convenient, it may be as safe to hitch a colt as to have it alone, especially if you have to look it up when you want it.

Runaway and Upset.—On Wednesday afternoon last, a horse belonging to Jarman Elmer, of Hopkins Mills, in this neighborhood of the saw mill, became loose and started for home at a gait faster than a walk, coming down Commerce Street regardless of the laws and municipal ordinances relative to driving, without molestation, until after he had upset a sulky standing in front of Nixon & Mitchell's law office, and square carriage in front of the Telegraph office. The old adage, "misery likes company," was verified in this case, for both carriages rolled over together without any other damage than the breaking of a shaft; one of which has been spliced, attached to Mr. Davis' vehicle.

Fight Shad.—The first shad of the season, caught in our bay, was exhibited in this city last week before last by Charles Buck. Its weight was less than two pounds, not quite so heavy and one day later than the first our last season. Our worthy townsman, Mr. Simon Beckhardt, paid the small price of one dollar for it. In times gone by, it would have tasted of silver at the above figure. If it was caught with a gill net, it must have been up to the purchase.

PRESENTATION.

On Thursday, the 5th inst., Joseph B. Walker, late keeper of the State Prison, was made a recipient of a handsome photographic pictures of the officers of that institution, who were under him during the three years of his appointment. The presentation took place at the National Hotel, and Mr. Baxter was called to the chair, who made the presentation, and said:—

Mr. Walker—The pleasing duty has been imposed upon me by my associate attaches of the New-Jersey State Prison, of presenting to you this frame and photographic likenesses of the officers connected with the institution during the past three years of its administration under you.

I need scarcely say that it is not offered with any expectation of adding to your pecuniary wealth, for independent of the remembrance with which it may be associated in your mind in future year, it has but little intrinsic value; but it is presented in the hope, that when in the providence of God we may be separated, it may recall to your mind, in silence, the pleasant hours that you have friends who honor you. Sir, you have been a kind and indulgent keeper to us. Where you have had occasion to reprove it has been done in that gentlemanly manner, which left behind it no feelings of resentment, but excited our still greater admiration of you.

We are ready to bear witness of the faithful manner in which you have discharged your duty to the State; and that, in unfortunate prisoners, we know, you have "tempered justice with mercy," and exhibited firmness with humanity.

You leave the institution, sir, without an enemy, and without a single complaint worthy of words, may I not request that you will accept this gift of the officers of the prison, and the same shall be to you a token of esteem, and to be accompanied by as much gratification as it gives us in presenting it.

In accepting this gift Mr. Walker replied as follows:

To you, sir, and through you, to all your associates, late Deputy Keepers and assistants of the New Jersey State Prison during my administration, I desire to express my profound gratitude and sincere thanks for this token of your friendship and esteem.

On occasion similar to the present, I have sometimes noticed that the most distinguished literary gentlemen and the most eloquent orators have found their utter inability to select suitable words expressive of the emotions which throbbed their hearts, and declined what they could not say in fit and not discribed. I, a plain man, making no pretentions to literary skill, must not attempt on this occasion I can more than ever before bear testimony to the truth of what they have said.

I beg leave to assure you that the beautiful present you have placed in my hands could not have been more happily chosen. The beautiful portraits of those with whom I have been so long and so pleasantly associated, and from whose daily association I am now about to be separated, excite many regrets. I need not say to you that it will be cherished with care, and that its contents will be preserved as a memorial to the end of life in viewing the familiar faces of my old and kind assistants in duty, will afford me the highest source of gratification and remind me of the many pleasant hours we spent together, and of our old associations and friendships.

Imagine, gentlemen, if you can, after years of faithful and arduous duty under my charge, what feelings and emotions must be upon this evidence of your esteem and friendship at the close, for it is idle for me to attempt to express them.

I feel that you indulge in doing me quite too much and consider it the highest honor in the reference you make to the discharge of my official duties. You must take back a very large share of this praise to yourselves, for without just such cheerful aid as you have been ready to render me from the lowest and faithful discharge of your duties no keeper can hope for credit to himself, however great his individual efforts.

Again, gentlemen, accept my sincere thanks for this token of esteem of friendship and regard, and be assured I shall ever retain it as a rich souvenir of a very happy portion of my life.—Trenton Gazette.

Mr. Walker has the respect and esteem of all those associated with him during his term, and we find but one opinion of him in Trenton and throughout the State as to his qualifications and gentlemanly bearing with all who had business with the institution. Another compliment may be proud of Mr. Walker, as we believe no other keeper of that institution ever had a similar mark of appreciation bestowed upon them. We hope Mr. Walker may be successful in his future career, but we doubt not that the good prayers and well offers he brought in remembrance on beholding this gift, which speaks louder than words, will done thou good and faithful servant.

New Jersey Endorses the President!

The brilliant list of Democratic victories just chronicled in this State are so many endorsements of the policy of the President. Loyal and safe principles that though she may have slipped her moorings a little last fall, New Jersey is staunch for the Union and Andrew Johnson! Jersey Democracy—"Democracy per se!" Princeton! New Brunswick! Patterson! (redeemed!) Hoboken! Hudson City! Harrison Township! Three towns in Black County! Elizabeth City!

Why it reads like the roll call of the old Revolution! Well done, by good men and true of New Jersey! Close your ranks! Stand it on, and victory overcomes to sustain the banner of the Constitution and the Union, upheld by Andrew Johnson. No more Radical rule or ruin for the Jersey Blues!

☞ Our first page is filled with laws this week to the exclusion of interesting reading matter, but as they are of importance we hope our readers will bear with us. This week closes the proceedings of the Legislature, and while they have occupied considerable of our space, we are aware that many of our subscribers are glad to have them. As soon as we finish publishing the laws we intend to make some improvements, which will no doubt be agreeably received.

☞ We notice by the Ocean Wave that a public meeting of the citizens of Somers Point was held on Saturday evening, 7th inst., to give expression to their views in reference to the running of excursion trains to that watering place the coming season. The meeting was called to order by the Mayor S. S. Magonagle, Esq., and Alvin P. Hilbrich was appointed Secretary. Hon. W. Wood introduced a series of resolutions protesting against running said trains, which were unanimously adopted.

☞ A bill has been introduced in the Ohio house of Representatives to prohibit conductors on street railroads from receiving fare except from passengers provided with seats.

Petty Tyranny in Atlantic City.

The municipal election of Atlantic city was held on the 14th day of March. On the same day, it is alleged that a bill for the consolidation of the city (formerly divided into two wards) was passed by the Legislature; but as the bill could not go into operation on the day it was passed, and in the absence of all knowledge of its existence, the election was held under the old law and just here comes in the difficulty. The people discovered that the Legislature had elected a portion of the City Councilmen.—When the time came for organizing the new board, the Abolition members refused to meet the Democrats, and claimed that the election was illegal, from the fact that the new law was passed on the day the election was held! Now every voter knows that specified notice for a given time must be posted in your mind in future year, it has but little intrinsic value; but it is presented in the hope, that when in the providence of God we may be separated, it may recall to your mind, in silence, the pleasant hours that you have friends who honor you. Sir, you have been a kind and indulgent keeper to us. Where you have had occasion to reprove it has been done in that gentlemanly manner, which left behind it no feelings of resentment, but excited our still greater admiration of you.

We are ready to bear witness of the faithful manner in which you have discharged your duty to the State; and that, in unfortunate prisoners, we know, you have "tempered justice with mercy," and exhibited firmness with humanity.

You leave the institution, sir, without an enemy, and without a single complaint worthy of words, may I not request that you will accept this gift of the officers of the prison, and the same shall be to you a token of esteem, and to be accompanied by as much gratification as it gives us in presenting it.

In accepting this gift Mr. Walker replied as follows:

To you, sir, and through you, to all your associates, late Deputy Keepers and assistants of the New Jersey State Prison during my administration, I desire to express my profound gratitude and sincere thanks for this token of your friendship and esteem.

On occasion similar to the present, I have sometimes noticed that the most distinguished literary gentlemen and the most eloquent orators have found their utter inability to select suitable words expressive of the emotions which throbbed their hearts, and declined what they could not say in fit and not discribed.
