ENTHUSIASTIC RALLY.
Followers of the Party of Protection and Prosperity Gather in Permanent O...

Permanent organization of the Hamilton Township Republican League was effected at a rally of Republicans of the Township held at Library Hall Monday evening last, when staunch followers of the party banner and many others who desired to affiliate themselves

The meeting was called to order at 7.30 o'clock and officers were elected as follows for the ensuing year: President, E. C. Shaner; Vice-President, C. E. Hemmery; Secretary, I. B. Smith; Treasurer, John S. Rinsley. After an informal discussion of the political issues the meeting adjourned to meet at the call of the President.

Much interest was displayed by the members in the approaching election and their enthiasm indicates a rousing Republican majority November next.

GLASSWORKS RE-OPENED.

G. Jonas Company Employs Full Force of Workers.

The works of the George Jonas Glass Company at Minotola re-opened Monday last with two hundred men.

Two shifts of workers working full time, and the output of the plant this year will probably be larger than usual, large orders having been booked.

The plant has been closed during the Summer as is customary in glass works, and in that time has been repaired and placed in good running order. It is one of the largest factories in South Jersey and employs in the neighborhood of five hundred workers.

Death of Mrs. Judith Cain.
After a lingering illness of nearly two years, Mrs. Judith Cain, daughter of the late Peter Cay, of Pleasantville, and widow of William Cain, died Tuesday at her residence on Cape May avenue, at the advanced age of ninety-one years. The funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock from her late residence, conducted by the Rev. William Disbrow, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Interment was made in the Presbyterian cemetery. Mrs. Cain was one of the oldest and respected residents of May's Landing, is survived by two sons and a daughter, George Ripley, Sr., Elmer Hackett and Elizabeth Wood, all of this place. She had married three times, her two other husbands being Israel Hackett and William Ripley.

The Republican County ticket this year, as constituted by the primary election, is one of the strongest in years, and one which will carry the party to a sweeping victory at the polls next November. From Presidential candidate Taft down the nominees are men in whom the people have confidence, men who have been tried and who have demonstrated their fitness as standard-bearers of their party and efficient public officials. One of the strongest features of the County ticket is the candidacy of Enoch L. Johnson for the office of Sheriff. "Nuck" as he is familiarly known to every voter in the County, will receive almost unanimous support, for his personality has won for him a legion of friends not confined to those of his own political following. Having acted for several years in the capacity of under-sheriff, he has a thorough knowledge of the duties of the office and has proved a careful, painstaking public official. He has been prominently identified with the councils of his party during several recent campaigns, and will receive an overwhelming majority as a testimonial of the esteem in which he is held by the people of Atlantic County. Martin E. Keffer, who proved his mettle as Assemblyman last year, will be returned with flying colors, while Samuel Kirby as candidate for County Clerk, Emanuel Sontheimer and Charles Cunningham for Coroners will receive heavy pluralities. The ticket is one which will carry the party to a sweeping victory.

If it were better understood what a difference a little judicious trimming of the trees along the highways would make in the free circulation of light and air, short time would be wasted in making the improvement. Aside from the question of enhancing the general appearance of the municipality, attention to public health and economy should prompt the work, which would not only make the avenues lighter at night but allow the free access of sunlight and air in day, which are necessary at all times for the preservation of hygienic conditions. Several hundreds of dollars are expended annually by taxpayers for electric lights of which they do not derive the full benefit owing to the untrimmed condition of the trees. The picturesque appearance of the municipality would not be one whit destroyed by the improvement, but on the contrary the general neatness would be much greater if the trees along the highways were trimmed to a proper height and maintained in that condition. This matter has not received the serious consideration heretofore that it should, and it is to be trusted that the Township Committee will take it up at an early date.

A better system of heating has long been needed in the County buildings, and general safety demands that the County jail and grounds be thoroughly lighted during the night hours. That being the case, no one will dispute the wisdom of installing the new heating and lighting plant in the County property. The present heating system is wholly inadequate, and as the lights in use at this time are extinguished at one o'clock each morning the jail is left in darkness from that time until dawn. The improvement is justified, if justification is necessary, by public necessity.

The automobile "speed mania," which has characterized the first few years' usage of the machine, is gradually disappearing as owners accustom themselves to a more sane, practical use of this popular means of transportation. It is a repetition of the first few years' history of the bicycle, when "scorchers" brought the whole class of riders into disrepute by abusing the privileges of the public highways. As the machine grows into a more normal use, the number of accidents will be reduced to a minimum and the automobile will be found to be a useful invention as well as a popular means of pleasure. Already it is employed to a large extent by mercantile firms and for the transfer of passengers and express matter, and the hundreds of thousands now in daily use testify to the general adaptability of the machine. Good roads are an indispensable adjunct to automobile usage, which will grow in proportion to their maintenance and general improvement.

Dissatisfaction expressed in many localities over the working of the new direct primary law is largely attributable to imperfect understanding of this method of selecting party candidates. Like every new law, the effectiveness of the statute can be determined only by usage and time. Such a radical change in the method of procedure in regard to nominations must naturally cause at first some confusion in the minds of voters, who evidently do not well understand the new manner of nominating candidates. The primary takes the place of the time-honored convention, held separately by each party. The nominations are still separated in that the voters of each party vote on separate ballots in separate ballot-boxes, and must give their party as they deposit their vote. The efficacy of this method cannot be determined at this time, or until the voters become better acquainted with its workings.

Bryan is putting up the fight of his life for the presidency, but he has about as much chance of winning out as the sky has of falling. The American people are too wise to entrust the National prosperity to the wild-cat schemes of "the peerless one." At the same time Republicans should realize that a fight is on, as it should be, and should not, like the hare, give the tortoise the race by overconfidence. Many good Republicans have acquired the habit of trusting to their party on election day through continued success, and that habit will be the chief foe of the party this year. There are divisions in the ranks of the Democrats, but Bryan is a crafty politician and will turn every stone possible, hence every Republican will "cinch" the election of Bill Taft by going to the polls next November and casting his ballot. It is never safe to be too sure, especially in affairs political.

It is no time for political jealousies now. The candidates for the Republican ticket have been selected and there is nothing for any loyal Republican to do but support the straight ticket, first, last and all the time. If any preferences there were, they had their opportunity to be expressed last Tuesday, and the candidates selected represent the will of the majority of the Republican voters. As such they should receive the hearty and unqualified support of every one who affiliates with the party of protection and prosperity.

The tariff walls are up around May's Landing. Home trade is being protected by exacting a license fee from outside merchants and itinerant peddlers, and not a business man but will testify to better trade since the wall went up. Business prosperity is indicative at all times of general prosperity, and the same principles which underly the support of a National tariff are applicable here.

Improvement of church property is commendable. Besides, it denotes not only interest in religious institutions but prosperity among the people who comprise its congregation. It takes something more substantial than "widows' mites" to raise eight hundred dollars in a single day in a municipality no larger than this, and the improvements are indicative of something other than "hard times."

STATE PRESS COMMENT.

"The pledge of the Republican party to revise the present tariff in the interest of the wage earners and producers of the country, and the promise of Judge Taft if elected to call a special session of Congress to do it, are very annoying to the Bryan Democracy and its chief apostle. In fact Bryan shows he is very sore over it, and is asking from the stump why the Republicans are in such a hurry for revision. Bryan is an alleged newspaper man, that is, he is editing a personal organ out in Nebraska, and is presumed to keep posted on the progress of political as well as material things. The Republican party is of record for several years past in its declaration that the tariff issue "should be rested until when conditions have changed that the public interest demands their attention." It is because of the belief that public interest demands revision that the Republican party has promised to bring it about. There has been and is no hurry in preparing for the change, and if there was why should Bryan be so concerned about it? Doubtless he realizes that the revision of customs duties will be done by the actual friends of protection of American industry, and that he and his followers are not likely to be entrusted with the duty, so that they might destroy the Republican principle of protection which they claim to follow by business adversity. The country is gradually recovering from the money crisis of a year ago, manufacturers and commerce are improving, and were it not for the fear of the possibility of Bryan's Democratic success in November, the business activities of the country would today be in full swing and idleness be reduced to a minimum. There is no hurry, Col. Bryan, in the matter of tariff revision, but it is coming in the regular order, whether you like it or not."—Camden Courier.

"An impression has gone forth from the employment of outside detectives to go over the heads of the police and raid gambling houses at Atlantic City, this action being advised by Governor Fort, that the Governor has a force of State detectives at his command and can send them into any county where the local authorities are not disposed to enforce the law. The State has no such officers. The detectives who made the raids at Atlantic City were supplied by a private agency located in Newark, were employed by the President of the Pleas of Atlantic County, were sworn in as deputies for the special service and will be paid for their services by Atlantic County."

"When the Democrats were in control of the State government they started to establish a State constabulary, but did not get much farther than the creation of the office of chief, at a fat salary. The scheme was so distasteful to the people that it was promptly squelched when the Republicans came into power."—Camden Post-Telegram.

"There seems to be a disposition on the part of legislators, and also of judges who have a say in the matter to allow railroads to increase the fare and freight rates rather than that they should cut the earnings of employees."

"Really, it seems to be a very sensible thing to do. The increased freight rate is so very small that not one person in a hundred would feel the difference, but if wage rates are cut thousands of wage earners will at once feel the result most seriously."

"Those who oppose the increase seem to be actuated by selfish motives only, without regard to the affairs of thousands of others, who really deserve more consideration than themselves."—Trenton State Gazette.

"Mr. Bryan's whirlwind trip through New Jersey raised considerable dust for the time being, but it had settled away without altering the prospect in the slightest degree. The people like to hear the 'poor man's' talk, but he is certainly not the 'poor man's' friend. He is a man who is not much interested in what he has to say. It is doubtful if he visits to the poor man's home, much less with him."—Post-Telegram.
