REPUBLICAN TICKET

For Governor
EDWARD C. STOKES

For State Senator
WALTER E. EDGE

For Assembly
CAROLYN GODFREY
EMERSON RICHARDS

For County Clerk
EDWIN A. PARKER

For Township Committee
HARRISON WILSON

For Township Clerk
THOMAS G. HOOVER

For Constables
JOHN ABBOTT
SCOTT CHAMPION
CHARLES M. GODWIN

"Thompson G. Hoover for Township Clerk" means Thompson G. will be Clerk, for "Tomp" has a host of friends throughout the Township who will take positive pleasure in going to the polls Tuesday next and aiding one after another to his majority.

Republicans of Atlantic County have a real Republican, clean, open and above-board, able, contentious, and of uncommon common sense, in Edwin A. Parker for County Clerk. He is a man of the people, a friend of the rich and poor, thoroughly capable of filling this important position loyal to the party, and you will vote for not only the next County Clerk, but one who is going to prove one of the best Atlantic County ever had.

Stokes! In spite of the "dead" of the Democrats and Progressives, repulsive to every man who loves fair play; in spite of all the vindictive mud-slinging and vilification that has been indulged; in spite of strenuous but ineffectual efforts of detractors to find flaws in his public and private life; in spite of the united efforts of disappointed office seekers and disgruntled "sons-tems," the voters of New Jersey are going to reward him with the victory of the State. Stokes will win!

In the Republican candidates for constables, Messrs. John Abbott, Scott Champion and Charles M. Godwin, voters have three men for whom to cast their ballot who are well-able, physically and otherwise, to discharge the duties of these offices. Ordinarily of little importance in May's Landing these officers stand between the people and the law and when they are needed, like the Texan's pistol, they are needed bad. Voters can cast their ballot for these candidates with the assurance that they will be ready and able at all times to protect their lives and property and uphold the law.

Hamilton Wilson will stand loyally by the Republican legislative candidates, Senator Walter E. Edge, for the State Senate; Assemembman Emerson Richards and Hon. Carlton Godfrey for the Assembly. Local interests, as well as the big interests of Atlantic City and the importance of Republican legislators to the State at large, induce voters to go to the polls Tuesday next and pile up a heavy majority for all three, who are all representatives of the people of Atlantic County, friend, devoted to good roads, better schools and sane game-laws. When voting for legislative candidates, it is sometimes well to not only what we do, but what we intend to do.

Hamilton Wilson will stand loyally by the Republican legislative candidates, Senator

STOKES URGED TAX REFORMS

Pioneer In Bringing About Legislatiion Providing For Equal Taxation.

HIS PRACTICAL METHODS.

Newark, Oct. 27.—The man who does things is always the target for abuse, however much he may be deserving of admiration. The only man who receives no attention other than his critics' is Edward C. Stokes, whose name sounds like a continual bleep.

Edward C. Stokes is a man who does things. He can't, but he can also earn talk for himself. Hence he has left behind him a record which furnishes a vast amount of material for review. It is a point and an interesting part of the history of New Jersey.

Having failed utterly in his efforts to besmirch this long and remarkable record of service to the state and its citizens, his opponents have adopted the method of trying to discredit the records of his political life, the credits for what he has done. Having neither facts nor arguments to use they are resorting to falsehood and misrepresentation. In this as in his constituent advocacy and support of other reform legislation he proved that he was genuine progressive.

FORMER ASSEMBLYMAN APPEALS TO YOUNG MEN.

Edward Thomas Moore, former assemblyman from Passaic, has written to the young men of New Jersey, now secretary of the New Jersey League of Young Republicans, urging them to support the young men of the state in their campaign.

The old order of things is big to the young men of New Jersey. They are anxious to take the liberty of addressing you the young men who are anxious to know what is best for the country. The most popular thing they have is the most despotic kind of bribery, but they cannot afford the reputation of Edward C. Stokes. It is written in bold letters on every page of the record of the young men which he has served so loyally and so long, and it cannot be denied by their misrepresentations any more than these facts of history can be altered by a lying historian.

The young men bring to their credit the record for which they are fully qualified. Stoking a man's reputation, the most important thing he has, is the most despotic kind of bribery, but they cannot afford the reputation of Edward C. Stokes.

Inside, N. J., Oct. 1. In big to the young men of New Jersey, that it was Governor Stokes who formulated and submitted to the legislature the first practical plan that has ever been presented to the body for equalization of tax rates and costs of living, the state committee in which I am a member, the state committee in the work of the campaign organization.

The old order of things has given a new possibility of usefulness in state and nation. To render a present service to the state and nation, this is the most important thing for the young men of the state to do.

The young men are very anxious to familiarize with the recent history of New Jersey, that it was Governor Stokes who formulated and submitted to the legislature the first practical plan that has ever been presented to the body for equalization of tax rates and costs of living, the state committee in the work of the campaign organization.

LANDSLIDE FOR STOKES ON WAY

Reports From All Parts of New Jersey Indicate Great Republican Victory.

REVIEW OF THE CAMPAIGN.

Newark, Oct. 27.—"I don't like to be too confident," said Chairman Budget of the Board of Education, "but the election of Edward C. Stokes is assured. More than this, there are many indications that an old fashioned Republican landslide is on the way. I think it is absolutely certain, however, that Stokes will be elected to the seat of his predecessor in the Legislature."

"With these facts in possession, it will be easy to determine what inequities exist and to remedy the same with honest and fearless to all concerned. I trust they will be done by the man elected. It was that matter that thoroughly interested me and that this important subject should not be handled by any other person. I believe that Stokes is the man who deserves the highest office in the state." Stokes stood on the equal taxation question when he assumed office. The people asked him if he was a member of the party. He replied, "I am not a member of the party, but I am a member of the Democratic party."

"I am a member of the party," he said, "but I am not a member of the party."

DEAN AND FITZHERBERT

POLL OF STATE FAVORS STOKES

How the Recent Acting Governor Stultified Himself In the Senate Scandal.

HONOR ROOTED IN DISHONOR

Newark, Oct. 27.—James E. Fielder has resigned as state senator from Hudson county, which automatically removes him from the position of acting governor of New Jersey. The acting governor is now Leon H. Taylor of Monmouth county, the speaker of the house of assembly.

Senator and Acting Governor Fielder is now a private citizen. He hopes to be the next governor of New Jersey. Whether he shall be or not, he can never remove from his name the stigma that attaches to it from his action in the case of the discredited senator from Morris county, Richard Fitzherbert.

Mr. Fielder stultified himself in the Fitzherbert case in order to gratify his ambition to be governor of New Jersey. As a member of the senate committee appointed to investigate the charge that Fitzherbert was guilty of dishonorable conduct in the state senate he signed a report which stated that "we (the committee) believe and can only report that the senator from Morris county has been guilty of such an offense as is inconsistent with the trust and duty of a member of this senate, and we hereby recommend that the senator from Morris county be tried by the senate on the question of his expulsion from this body."

The specific charge against Fitzherbert was that he had taken part in certain negotiations involving a money consideration of $5,000 in connection with bills affecting the Commercial Acetylene company, a corporation engaged in making acetylene gas. The committee's report urging that Fitzherbert be tried was made to the senate Feb. 26, 1912. It scandalized the entire state and cast unjust reproach upon the honorable members of the state senate who were associated with Fitzherbert in that body.

Fitzherbert was tried by the senate and was found guilty. On March 13 Senator Pierce offered a resolution setting this fact forth and moving that "the said Fitzherbert be and he is hereby expelled from the senate of the state of New Jersey and his seat be and the same is hereby declared to be vacant."

FIELDER AFRAID TO DEBATE WITH STOKES.

Senator Fielder was one of the seven members of the senate who voted against Fitzherbert's expulsion. A two-thirds vote was required to expel the discredited member, but only eleven votes out of the twenty-one were cast against him.

Why did Senator Fielder, a member of the committee, who, upon investigation, found that Fitzherbert's offense was such that he ought to be expelled from the senate, reverse himself and vote that the guilty Morris county senator retain his seat?

For the simple reason that Senator Fielder needed Fitzherbert's vote to make him president of the senate, that he knew that with Fitzherbert out the senate would be at a standstill and he would not be elected president, and that if he were not elected president he would not be acting governor when Governor Woodrow Wilson resigned to become president of the United States.

James E. Fielder has accomplished his purpose of becoming the Democratic candidate for governor by reason of the prestige he gained as acting governor by virtue of his position as president of the senate.

Grosscup's Optimism.

It is barely possible, so to speak, that when Chairman Grosscup of the Democratic state committee informed President Wilson that the Democratic party in New Jersey was "entirely united and harmonious" he hadn't received all the returns. What with a split in Hudson, a faction in Essex, Mr. Fielder's own creation and Democratic disagreement in two or three other counties it would seem to even a casual observer, to say nothing of the man up a tree, that Democratic harmony and unity are not overworking themselves. But Mr. Grosscup is a fine gentleman, and optimism as a campaign asset is no new thing.

How About This, Governor?

A correspondent writes: "It seems to be a part of the policy of Governor Fielder to flit with the Progressives in all of his stump speeches."

Of course it is a part of his policy. When he was in the senate he generally was flirting with somebody or something. When it wasn't a railroad corporation—the Lehigh Valley, for instance—it was with Fitzherbert, whom he helped to keep in his seat in the senate after indignant protests had been received from decent Democrats and Republicans. Fielder has one coming to him for this part of his record as senator.

Stokes and Public Schools.

In all the long history of the state New Jersey has never had a governor who gave so much active and intelligent attention to the public schools of the state as former Governor Stokes.

To him the citizens of New Jersey owe the revision—in fact, the rebuilding—of the school laws until they have become the model upon which several other states have reformed their school statutes. It is conceded from one end of the country to the other that New Jersey has the best public school system, making it all in all, of any state in the Union. For this concession and judgment New Jersey is indebted to Edward C. Stokes.

BORAH TO THE PROGRESSIVES

Independent Newspaper Finds That the Trend Is Toward the Republican Candidate.

COLBY CUTS SMALL FIGURE

THAT IS WAY TO WIN.

Newark, Oct. 27.—The Newark Sunday Call, independent, is making a poll of New Jersey and in its issue of this week says the results show that "Colby is apparently gaining more votes from the Fielder side than from that of Stokes." The Call also says that Stokes is making "an excellent campaign" is a likely winner and that Fielder is running substantially behind the vote polled by Woodrow Wilson for governor.

Three years ago the Call conducted a similar poll and forecasted the election of Wilson for governor by a big plurality. In describing the results of the poll now going on the Call says:

"Edward C. Stokes, the Republican gubernatorial nominee, is making an excellent campaign. This is indicated by the Sunday Call's state wide poll of the situation. Returns received from every section of the state show that the ex-governor is holding practically even with the vote polled by Vivian Lewis in 1910, while James E. Fielder is running substantially behind the vote polled by Woodrow Wilson.

"The poll is also showing that Everett Colby is gaining votes from both candidates, but in numbers insufficient to put him in the running. The majority of these Colby votes are votes that were cast for Wilson in 1910. The votes given Lewis in 1910, which are being credited by the Sunday Call poll to Colby, are nearly offset in the Stokes column by Wilson votes in 1910, which are now indicated to be for Stokes. These represent some of the Republican votes which gave the Wilson landslide its main impetus. No landslide, however, is in sight this year.

"Up to the present time the Sunday Call poll has covered each of the twenty-one counties of the state, the results reached being most complete in Hudson, Hunterdon and Middlesex counties."

FIELDER AFRAID TO DEBATE WITH STOKES.

Newark, Oct. 27.—James E. Fielder is willing to throw mud from a safe distance at Edward C. Stokes, but he realizes that it would hardly be good material to use in a public debate with the former governor before an American audience. He has hung mud at Mr. Stokes in every speech he has made in this campaign, apparently being incapable of discussing the real issues in a logical and dignified way. He therefore refuses to debate with Mr. Stokes.

Edward E. Grosscup, the Democratic state chairman, no doubt thought he was putting Mr. Stokes in a hole when he challenged him to debate the currency question with Congressman Glass. This Mr. Stokes declined to do on the ground that currency was not a state issue and that he did not care to confuse the issues, but that he would be glad to break his speaking engagements to meet Mr. Fielder in debate.

This brought a very peevish answer from Mr. Fielder. "I haven't asked him to break any engagements to debate with me," said he. Then Mr. Stokes received a letter from Chairman Grosscup, in which the chairman said that the engagements of Mr. Fielder were such that it would be impossible to change them at this time to engage in a joint debate. Both Mr. Fielder's remark and Mr. Grosscup's letter came as a surprise to former Governor Stokes' campaign managers. The lead they expected was that Mr. Fielder would engage the muddle-witted George L. Record to write a letter to Mr. Stokes in lieu of the argument which every one knows Mr. Fielder himself would be incapable of presenting.

But this hasn't come to pass. Record, the ready letter writer especially for Democratic candidates, has failed to take up the cudgels for Mr. Fielder, while Mr. Fielder has had the worst nervous shock of his campaign. If the whole state of New Jersey could attend a public debate between the Republican and the Democratic candidates Mr. Fielder would probably not carry the "Horseshoe" district in Jersey City.

The Check of George L. Record.

The check of George L. Record of Jersey City is too perfect to be ignored. The man has been a free lance in politics—Democrat, Republican, Progressive—everything according to the occasion, and his history as a public official has been exposed so often that it might be supposed he would hide himself in the reported corner of the state. For the impulsive George turns up every campaign and always as an assailant of other men's wives. Stranger still, he finds some men who support him. He is the most annoying figure in New Jersey to the eye, and probably one of the most dangerous to those who do not know him and the record of Record.—Newark Sunday Call.

"In the readjustment of industries there may be some temporary inconveniences," so says the Philadelphia Record, and it strikes the nail on the head this time. —Canden Post-Tribune.

The result of the primary election shows for a certainty that the Democratic party is split wide open, as wide as it has been at any time in the history of the party, in Hudson county. The Union. For this concession and judgment New Jersey is indebted to Edward C. Stokes.
