Our Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 10, 1873.
General Eaton, Commissioner of Education, writes from London that he expected to sail on the 28th of October, for home. He states that his trip has been very profitable. It extended from England, where he has spent about two weeks time, to Vienna, where he spent several days studying the educational features of the World's Exposition, and by the distinguished educators there assembled; from Vienna to Switzerland, where he found much to admire in the educational progress of that Republic; from Switzerland to Italy, as far as Rome, where he was most cordially received by the Italian Minister of Education, who extended to him every facility for studying the educational features of that country; from Italy to France, where he visited several of the larger cities, giving special attention to technical and veterinary schools. The fruits of the Commissioner's observations will, doubtless be many, and we shall, probably, see some of them in his report for 1873.

The elections of last Tuesday have caused the count-down of the Democratic party to take their perch once more, and to crow incessantly over what they claim as a Democratic triumph. As compared with last year, they certainly have some cause to congratulate themselves; but, in taking a review of all the elections held this year, it is found that the Republicans have elected in ten of the States, and the Democrats in five; while in Ohio the Republicans elected all the State officers, excepting Governor, and in New York the Democrats succeed with their State ticket and the Republicans with the Legislature. So that the honors are nearly even, with the strength on the Republican side, still shown to be double that of the Democracy. One great result of these elections is the revival of the nearly extinct Democracy, as the sole opponent of the dominant party of the country. By many of our shrewdest politicians, it is thought that this result is the best thing for the Administration party. No considerable disintegration among the leaders of the Republican party will hereafter occur. The certainty that in the Democratic ranks are more than sufficient hungry office hunters to fill every post, in case of its success, will discourage new accessions to its ranks, even among those who may expect it to succeed in the future. The hummers and hangers on of every party that is established in power, will occasionally give trouble in the ranks when there is no longer any room at the political crib. The third party movement, which was chiefly made of this material, has failed, and those who of the Republican party, with ambitious views, will probably think their chances better within the ranks of their former love, than in those of the revived and reinvigorated Democracy. Some of them will gradually drop back into the administration fold, while others will lose most of their spirit of enthusiasm in the loss of their "main chance" to claim high places in a new party which is now practically dead. Let the Democrats take all the comfort they can find.

The defeat of Governor Washburn, of Wisconsin, and the election of Mr. Taylor, the people's Reform candidate, has surprised many, as he was set down for a large majority. There are two reasons for this that are not generally known. One is that he took personal ground on the side of the administration party, and assumed to be better than the party to which he owed his nomination—so he giving up distinctive partisanship, the one great Western exponent of the opposition, the Chicago Tribune, endorsed him as a Liberal, and recommended his nomination by the Reform Convention. His franker and anti-railroad views paralyzed the hopes of Republican managers, and the Liberal vote did not come heavily out to him. But the chief cause of his defeat was the fact that he was mixed with the temperance movement, and that he signed the "new liquor damper" law of the State, which is bitterly opposed, especially in the cities, by members of all parties. In Milwaukee, one-third of the population is German and they resent this kind of legislation. Thirty thousand dollars was raised by the liquor interest and spent in the canvass, and this, with the indifference of Republicans, defeated Mr. Washburn, who is generally acknowledged to have been an excellent Governor and an able and deserving man.

The election of Senator Ames as Governor of Mississippi, with a Republican Legislature, is an assurance that there will be no annexation here as there has been in the neighboring State of Louisiana. Senator Ames' term in the Senate does not expire until March 3, 1875. Hence, when he takes his seat as Governor, a Republican Senator will be elected by the Mississippi Legislature for the balance of his unexpired term. Senator Aaron's term will not expire until 1867. In the meantime, the anti-temperance influence of that Senator in Mississippi, will be somewhat diminished by the success of his rival, G. W. Ames.

It is now authoritatively stated that E. L. Stanton, Esq., Receiver of the First National Bank, will receive a dividend of thirty per cent. on the dollar, payable on and after Monday, November 10. The amount due depositors, banks and bankers is $371,450.89, on which the dividend to be paid will be $432,355.26, and the amount of dividends payable to depositors will be 101,994.45, which will go into circulation as legal tender, and can be used to renew to a great extent the present stringency in business operations at the capital. No settlement being yet had with J. J. Cook & Co., who are very slow in making the money dividend depend much for time and amount on what they do.

WIFE AND HUSBAND.

WASNT SLEEPY. A Sunday school teacher selected as the subject of her address to the class one of the most excellent of virtues and illustrated her theme by reading the scriptural account of how Joseph resisted the blandishments of the fair and voluptuous wife of Potiphar.

In order to a certain effect upon her class, she asked them, "Why did Joseph resist the blandishments of the fair and voluptuous wife of Potiphar?"

One of the boys in the class could give no plain reasons for such an inexplicable conduct on the part of the modest yet noble hero, and there was no response. She then turned to a bright-eyed Davon pupil of hers and asked, "Hence, why did Joseph refuse to do with the wife of Potiphar?"

He was evidently as much in the dark as his companions as to the motives prompting his declination, and was about to give it up, when a happy new struck him, and turning to his teacher, he replied, triumphantly:—

"Me tells you why our virtuous Shosull refuse to let a wife of Potiphar. De reason was, cos why, she wash a cheeply!"

Teacher. (With a slight smile)—The class will go on with the next lesson.

Punch says that "one profession is safe from the invasion of woman, she may enter the army, but it is impossible that she can man the navy."

THE NEW YORK TIMES.

DAILY, SEMI WEEKLY, AND WEEKLY.

THE NEW YORK WEEKLY TIMES IS THE ONLY REPUBLICAN JOURNAL IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

The high character which the Daily Times has borne in the past is a sufficient guarantee for its good credit in the future. It will continue to advocate the cause of the public, without reference to the interests of individuals. No expense will be spared in the maintenance of its position as the foremost of American journals. It is the best daily family newspaper, or in the country. It has the latest news, the best foreign correspondence, and the largest staff of able correspondents. All objectionable news and advertisements are rigidly excluded.

TERMS TO MAIL SUBSCRIBERS. The Daily Times per annum, including the Sunday edition, $1.00. The Daily Times per annum, exclusive of the Sunday edition, 75 cents. The Sunday edition per annum, 25 cents.

The Weekly Times.

The Weekly Times is undoubtedly the best paper for the farmer, the mechanic, and for all who live in localities which are served only by weekly mails. It contains, in addition to editorial comments on current topics, an excellent condensation of the news of the week; the most important events, both home and foreign, are reviewed at length, and a large quantity of matter is given especially interesting to the farmer and mechanic. Its market reports are the fullest and most accurate in the country. Terms—$2 per annum.

Club rates of the Weekly—All to one Post Office address. Five copies per annum, $7.50; ten copies per annum, $12.50; twenty copies per annum, $22.50. Thirty copies per annum, $30, and one extra copy to each club. For every fifty copies of the Semi-Weekly Times to the get-up of the club. When the names of subscribers are required to be written upon each paper of the club at one Post Office address, ten cents for each copy added to the above rates. The Semi-Weekly and Weekly mailed for one year to clergyman at the lowest rates. These prices are invariable. Remit in drafts on New York or Post Office Money orders, if possible, and where neither of these can be procured send the money in a registered letter. Terms—cash in advance.

THE NEW YORK TIMES, New York City.

THE SUN.

WEEKLY, SEMI WEEKLY, AND DAILY.

THE WEEKLY SUN is too widely known to require any extended recommendation; but the reasons why it has already given it fifty thousand subscribers, and which will give it many thousands more, are briefly as follows:— It is a first-rate newspaper. All the news of the day is condensed when unimportant, and full length when of moment, and always presented in a clear, intelligible and interesting manner. It is a first-rate family paper, full of entertaining and instructive reading of every kind, but containing nothing that can offend the most delicate and scrupulous taste. It is a first-rate paper. The best tales and romances of current literature are carefully selected and legibly printed in its pages. It is a first-rate agricultural paper. The most fresh and instructive articles on agricultural topics regularly appear in this department. It is an independent political paper, belonging to no party and bearing no color. It fights for principle and for the election of the best man to office. It especially denounces the enemies of the exposure of the great corruptions that now weaken and disgrace our country, and threaten to undermine republican institutions altogether. It has no fear of knives and axes no favors from their supporters.

It reports the transactions of the market and the markets for the week, especially the cattle market, in which it pays particular attention. It is the cheapest paper published. One dollar a year will secure it for any subscriber. It is not necessary to get up a club in order to have the Weekly Sun at this rate. Any one who sends a single dollar will get the paper for a year. We have no traveling agents.

THE WEEKLY SUN.—Eight pages, fifty-six columns. Only $1.00 a year. No discounts from this rate.

THE SEMI WEEKLY SUN.—Same size as the Daily Sun. $2.00 a year. A discount of 20 per cent. to clubs of ten or over.

THE DAILY SUN.—A large, four page newspaper of twenty-eight columns. Daily circulation over 120,000. All the news for two cents. Subscription price 50 cents a month, or $6.00 a year. To clubs of ten or over, a discount of 20 per cent.

Prospectus for 1874--7th Year.

THE ALDINE.

An Illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the Handsomest Periodical in the World. A Representative and Champion of American Taste.

Not for Sale in Book or News Stores.

THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature; and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in blue and white. Although each succeeding number affords a rich pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of the Aldine will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may find a superior cheapness, as compared with those of a similar class, the Aldine is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—also utterly without competition in price or character. The possession of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape, and number of volumes for ten times the cost; and then there are the chromos, besides.

ART DEPARTMENT—1874.

The illustrations of the Aldine have won a high world-wide reputation, and in the art circles of Europe an admitted fact that its woodcuts are examples of the highest perfection ever achieved. The common prejudice in favor of "engravings" is rapidly yielding to a superior and discriminating taste, which recognizes the superior quality of superior artistic quality with greater facility of production. The illustrations of the Aldine possess all the delicacy and subtlety of the most costly steel plate, while they afford a better rendering of the artist's original. To fully realize the wonderful work which the Aldine is doing for the cause of art culture in America, it is necessary to consider the fact that the people of any other decent representation of the productions of great culture are in addition to be by the members of the National Academy and other noted American artists, the Aldine will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success and greatest general interest. Thus the subscribers to the Aldine will, at a trifling cost, enjoy in his own home the pleasure and refining influences of true art. The quarterly tin ed plates for 1874 will be by Thomas Moran and J. D. Woodard. The Christmas issue for 1874 will contain special designs appropriate to the season, by our best artists, and will surpass in attractions any of its predecessors.

Premium for 1874.

Every subscriber to the Aldine for the year 1874 will receive a pair of chromos. The original pictures were painted in oil for the publishers of the Aldine, by Thomas Moran, whose great Colorado picture was purchased by Congress for ten thousand dollars. The subjects were chosen to represent "The East" and "The West." One was a view in the White Mountains, New Hampshire; the other gives the cliffs of Green River, Wyoming Territory. The difference in the nature of the scenes themselves is a pleasing contrast, and affords a good display of the artist's scope and coloring. The chromos are each worked from a thirty distinct plates, and each is 12x18 and approximate exact facsimiles of the originals. The presentation of a worthy example of American's greatest landscape painter to the subscribers of the Aldine was a bold but a peculiarly happy idea, and its successful realization is attested by the following testimonial over the signature of Mr. Moran himself.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 20th, 1873.

Messrs. James Sutton & Co.—Gentlemen:— I am delighted with the perfect colors of your chromos. They are wonderfully successful representations by mechanical process of the original paintings.

Signed Very respectfully, THOS. MORAN.

These chromos are in every sense American. They are by an original American process, with material of American manufacture, from designs of American scenery, by an American painter, and presented to subscribers by the first successful American Art Journal. It is no better because of all this, they will certainly possess an interest no foreign production can inspire, and neither are they any the worse if by reason of peculiar facilities of production they cost the publishers only a trifle, while equal in every respect to other chromos that are sold singly for double the subscription price of the Aldine. Persons of taste will prize these pictures for themselves—not for the price they did or did not cost, and will appreciate the enterprise that renders their production possible. If any subscribers should indicate a preference for a figure subject, the publishers will send "Thoughts of Home," a new and beautiful chromo, 14x20 inches, representing a little Italian exile whose steaming eyes betray the longings of his heart.

TERMS.

$5 per annum, in advance, with all Chromos free. For 100 copies extra, the chromos will be sent, mounted, varnished, and prepaid by mail.

The ALDINE will, hereafter, be obtainable only by subscription. There will be no reduction of club rate; cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local canvasser, without responsibility to the publisher, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the facsimile signature of James Sutton & Co.

ROGET'S INVALUABLE WORK. New, Revised, Enlarged and Improved Edition. Thesaurus of English Words, And Phrases, so Classified and Arranged as to Facilitate the Expression of Ideas and Assist in Literary Composition, by PETER MARK ROGET. Revised and Edited, with a List of French Words defined in English, and other additions, by BARNAS SEARS, D. D., late President of Brown University. A new American Edition, with extensive Additions and Improvements. N. York 12mo. Cloth. $2.00.

This great and noble work of Dr. Roget, occupying his attention more than fifty years in its preparation, furnishes, with respect to the English Language, a collection of the words it contains, and of the idiomatic combinations peculiar to its arrangement (as expressed by the author) "not in alphabetical order, as in a Dictionary, but according to ideas which they express." As one has aptly said, "It gives a writer a word he wants when that word is on the tip of his tongue, but altogether beyond his reach." It needs only to be tested in order that its real value to every one, and especially to every literary man, may be fully known and appreciated. A distinguished Clergyman, the author of various popular works, says of it: "There is no work, save the Bible, I so highly prize as an aid in my work, as Roget's Thesaurus. I use it much more frequently than the Dictionary." Also, an eminent scientific man, remarked encouragingly, "No work in my library is so much consulted as this."

In the present much enlarged, and in various respects greatly improved edition, the subject matter of the original work is presented entire, changed with various additions and while the Foreign Words and Phrases—Latin, French, Italian, Spanish, Greek—are allowed a place in the body of the work as arranged by the author, they are also arranged alphabetically, defined for the benefit of those only acquainted with the English language, at the end of the volume, thus rendering it in all respects more full and more perfect, even than the author's edition! Either of the above works will be sent GOULD & LINCOLN, 38-9 57 Washington St., Boston.

Colonel Crickley's Horse.

I have never been able to ascertain the origin of the quarrel between the Crickleys and the Drakes. They had been acquainted for five or six years, and from the first of their acquaintance there had been a mutual feeling of dislike between the two families.

But father, it's such a trick!

"Hang you and your tricks!" cried the old man, beginning to be interested. "Gad, if you've played the Colonel a trick, let's hear it!"

How to Drive a Horse.

There is another point of importance in driving any horse, says Murray, and that is to hold the reins correctly.

Farm, Garden and Household.

How to Hang Gates. A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette writes: "In the spring of 1887 I hung four large gates. The posts were six by eight inches square, and were put in the ground two and one-half feet apart."

Perils of the California Desert.

A letter from Don Palma Estacion, on the coast of California, describes the perils of the California desert. The writer says: "The son of Don Chalo Estacion, from Yuma, came to the station recently about dark, on foot, and nearly dead."

A Strangely Remarkable Man.

In the trial of Marshal Baisane there is one person, Regnier, who has a prominent part to play in the trial and concerning whose position and conduct during the war even Paris is expressing surprise.

The Old Story

The old story first, forever now. The old and requiem, soft yet wild; Heaven shed her tender tears in dew Above her fair butted child.

The Siege of Black Cottage

To begin at the beginning, I must take you back to the time after my mother's death, when my only brother had gone to sea, when my sister was out at service, and when I was left alone in the midst of a moor in the West of England.

The Curse of Drink

The appetite for strong drink in man has increased since the discovery of rum. More fortunes for them, brought them to more sorrow, shame and hardship than any other evil in life.

The Coal Prospector

"Are you going to let up in price this winter?" asked the writer of a prominent coal dealer who was on a recent occasion at the office of an individual addressed was quick to respond, "I hope so, sir; I hope so."

The Dairy Boy's Tooth

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison had just finished their breakfast. Mr. Harrison had pushed back, and was looking at the clock on the wall.

A Countryman's Riddle

It has been many years since we first saw Owens, says a writer in the Washington Chronicle. Then he was the handsomest man on the coast.

The Chinese Experiment

Exciting scenes at North Adams. Public faith in the success of the new Chinese labor dispensation, of which Mr. C. T. Sampson of South Adams is the prophet and exponent.

A Japanese Execution

The London Times has received from a correspondent the following account of a Japanese execution: "I went to see the execution of a convict of good curiosity. I repented of it but still it was most extraordinary spectacle, and impressed me very much."

The wind had lulled with the sunset, but a mist was rising, and a heavy rain was beginning to fall. Never did the lonely prospect of the moor look so dreary as it looked to my eyes that evening.

"Wait a bit, and let me explain," said a second voice, that of Dick's companion. "You are alone in the house. You may crack your sweet voice with screaming, and there's nobody near to hear you."

A Startling Scene

A singular scene is said to have occurred in the Calvary Episcopal church, Chicago, on a late Sunday. The Rev. J. F. Walker, says the account, was observed by the congregation to be in ill health and in a peculiarly feeble manner.

Did Not Want Him

Recently a juror approached the clerk of the Supreme Judicial Court and stated that he had accepted the nomination for the office of juror.

What the Earth Has Been

Geologists believe with Sir William Thomson that the earth has been expanded from the first formation of a solid crust on the earth, to the modern period, is not less than from seventy to one hundred million years.

Inheritance of Deformities

The heredity of anomalies of organization, says an account published in the Boston Herald, has been demonstrated in several instances.

Stokes Not Satisfied

The New York Sun says Stokes was disappointed at his sentence of four years in State Prison. He confidently expected an acquittal, so much so that before leaving the Tombs in the morning he divided the trifling articles which he had collected in his cell.

Eschelor's Mementoes

Some one who has been rummaging in a bureau has been writing: "I found one of the characteristics of things that you cannot destroy them. That little white glove, for example. Time was when you carried it about with you, and it was so like those articles who, lacking the bad courage to commit murder, abandon their offering to chance, you fling the once prized covering of a loo-see, and so on."

The wind had changed; after I observed its direction early in the evening, I should have gone astray, and have probably perished of fatigue and exposure. I had no other shelter than the hearth all over the room.

"I had written enough to let the smoldering fire burn itself out, and to pour the water of my careful water over the fire before the third stone came down the chimney."

Silver Below Paper

One of the peculiarities of the late financial panic is the fact that silver sold for several days below bank bills. A broker of Wall street refused to take $10,000 for the same amount in paper.

A Sad Story

The pathetic story contained in the old ballad "The Mistletoe Bough" had something of a parallel at Cedar Rapids, Minn. A Mrs. Smith while visiting her mother in that city missed her infant son, about eleven months old, when she prepared to depart.

Captain Jack's Gun

The gun which Captain Jack fired during the late unpleasantness between him and the Government is now in the hands of General Davis as his memento. It is about three feet long, and the cast in my arms.

How long it was before I reached the farm in the next place to which I could fly for that point in time. I remember that I had just seen to keep the wind at my back (having observed in the beginning of the evening that the heavy rain had not fallen incessantly for more than six hours. Burn the place over my head. How?

The wind had lulled with the sunset, but a mist was rising, and a heavy rain was beginning to fall. Never did the lonely prospect of the moor look so dreary as it looked to my eyes that evening.

"Wait a bit, and let me explain," said a second voice, that of Dick's companion. "You are alone in the house. You may crack your sweet voice with screaming, and there's nobody near to hear you."

A Startling Scene

A singular scene is said to have occurred in the Calvary Episcopal church, Chicago, on a late Sunday. The Rev. J. F. Walker, says the account, was observed by the congregation to be in ill health and in a peculiarly feeble manner.

Did Not Want Him

Recently a juror approached the clerk of the Supreme Judicial Court and stated that he had accepted the nomination for the office of juror.

What the Earth Has Been

Geologists believe with Sir William Thomson that the earth has been expanded from the first formation of a solid crust on the earth, to the modern period, is not less than from seventy to one hundred million years.

Inheritance of Deformities

The heredity of anomalies of organization, says an account published in the Boston Herald, has been demonstrated in several instances.

Stokes Not Satisfied

The New York Sun says Stokes was disappointed at his sentence of four years in State Prison. He confidently expected an acquittal, so much so that before leaving the Tombs in the morning he divided the trifling articles which he had collected in his cell.

A Lecture on the Nature, Treatment and Radical Cure of Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Emissions, Sexual In-debility and Impediments to Marriage generally, Nervousness, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits;
Mental and Physical Incapacity, resulting from Self-Abuse, etc.—By ROBERT J. CULVER,
M. D., Author of the "Green Book," etc.
The world-renowned author in this important
Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of self-abuse may be effectually removed without medicines, and without dangerous surgical operations, blisters, instruments, rings or cordials; pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.
This Lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.

Send under seal to any address, in a plain
