Our Washington Letter:
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 16, 1873.

Considerable excitement exists here since the last exhibition of brutality on the part of the Cuban officials. The shooting of four men, some of whom were American citizens, before receiving orders from Spain for a delay of action was bad enough, but the wholesale slaughter of the captain, crew and passengers on board the Virginius, after receiving these orders, and in violation of them, has established for the Cuban local government the unquestioned reputation of a piratical power. The barbarity and insolence of such an unauthorized butchery demands prompt redress and must receive it. If Spain does not, upon demand of our Government, immediately arrest and punish the parties instrumental in these murders, or if the Castellar government shall prove unable for any reason to give the required satisfaction, our Government will proceed to such extreme measures as may be necessary to obtain it. The proceedings of a Cabinet conference just held on the subject are to be kept entirely secret, but sufficient has crept out to show that the administration means business, and that no unauthorized pretence of a Government can be permitted to perpetrate acts of barbarism upon American citizens with impunity. There is a calmness of exasperation among our people that is far more portentous than mere wordy indignation. In the city of New York alone 50,000 men could be obtained in three days, should our Government call for volunteers to punish Cuban outrages. Facts in this case of assault upon our flag will be presented to Congress by the President within two weeks of the time this will be read. Meanwhile every preparation for the worst will be made. Our fleets are already ordered to the Gulf, and no time will be lost in putting our navy and marine in condition to meet any new state of things that may be anticipated.

New stories have just been started to the effect that President Grant had been interviewed by an intimate friend, who has discovered that Hon. Roscoe Conkling, of New York, will be surely nominated for the vacant Chief Justiceship of the United States Supreme Court, and that his name will be promptly sent to the Senate at the opening of Congress. The President is always reticent with his friends regarding important appointments—and it is not believed here that there is any foundation for the rumor. Many think that Justice Miller will be nominated, and he certainly has many friends and advocates. Even if Mr. Conkling were nominated, it is doubtful that he would accept, and sacrifice his political place in the Senate for judicial retirement from politics. There are many leading Southerners who claim that a seat on the bench, as Justice, is due to their section. These generally favor the promotion of Justice Miller to Chief Justice, with a view to filling the present place by a leading Southern Republican.

The suicide of Mr. Brewster, one of the wealthy banking firms of Kings & Co., of this city, was a singular affair. He was well off, and in every way comfortable, but had been subject to dyspepsia for some time past. Without any previous signs of insanity, when called at 7 o'clock the first cold morning, which was on last Wednesday, to go to market, he preferred to end life's ills, and so, instead of dressing, shot himself. If, in addition to the discomfort of a chilly morning, he had had no way of procuring the means for marketing, there would have been a better reason for the desperate deed. It is a fact, however, that the very necessity of daily exertion for the necessities of life, keeps off the blues and prevents such melancholy thoughts from turning people's heads. He left a family and a considerable estate, and had always borne a good reputation in this community, of which he was one of the old residents.

Some officious newspaper meddler has circulated a rumor that Senators Sumner and Shurs will be tendered their former places on leading committees of the Senate, to which other Senators have been regularly elected. It is alleged that since the collapse of the Liberal party, these gentlemen desire to return to their old love; that their feelings and instincts are all in opposition to the old Democratic party, and their present isolated condition will induce them to meet their old friends half-way, if they can be restored to favor in the Republican party. The restoration to favor is very easily done, with their consent, but the reinstatement of Senator Sumner in the control of the Committee on Foreign Affairs, while his insane personal opposition to the President and Secretary of State exists, is an utter impossibility. It is more than likely that the suggestion is a sensational emanation from the brain of a correspondent who was suffering for want of an item, and that it has no other foundation. "Alas! poor Yorick!"

The split in the Democracy of West Virginia has been considerably widened by the recent action of the Legislature of that State. Gov. Jacobs has refused to certify any legal election for Congressmen of the coming session from West Virginia. The anti-Jacobs' House of Delegates have, therefore, passed a bill which requires the Board of Public Works to step into the Governor's official boots, for the special purpose and certify that the anti-Jacobs Democratic candidates, Messrs. Benj. Wilson, Benj. Martin and Frank Harford were duly elected to Congress last October. That election was called specially by no one authorized to do so, and against the interdiction of the Governor, who is the only person empowered to call elections. In more than one-third of the State no election was either advertised or held in October. The Governor will veto the bill, but it will probably pass over his veto. The object of it is to secure the recognition of the Bourbon members named, and to defeat Hon. J. J. Davis and J. Marshal Hogans, who were elected at the general election, according to the new Constitution in August, 1872.

To show the war spirit of our citizens a little game was practised on Saturday last on Pennsylvania Avenue near the Capitol. A large bulletin was posted on an unoccupied store, bearing the following announcement: "300 in gold! Men wanted for three months' service. Office open at 10 A. M. to 2 30 P. M., Nov. 13, 1873. ALVARADO DE GALIENTES."

A crowd soon assembled, among whom were a large number waiting to enlist, who were very anxious to head the roll of Cuban invaders. It proved a sell, but at the same time it illustrated the willingness of our people to carry their belligerent spirit into practical demonstration.

LIFE.

"Now, Johnny," said a venerable lady to her six-year old nephew, who was persistently denying an offence of which she accused him, "I know you are not telling the truth; I see it in your eye." Pulling down the lower lid of the organ that had so nearly betrayed his want of veracity, Johnny exultingly replied, "You can't tell anything about it, aunt; that eye was always a little streaked!"

The Weekly Times.

The Weekly Times is undoubtedly the best paper for the farmer, for the mechanic, and for all who live in localities which are served only by weekly mails. It contains, in addition to editorial comments on current topics, an excellent condensation of the news of the week; the most important events, both home and foreign, are reviewed at length, and a large quantity of matter is given especially interesting to the farmer and mechanic. Its market reports are the fullest and most accurate in the country. Terms—$2 per annum.

Club rates of the Weekly—all to one Post Office address—Five copies per annum, $7 50; Ten copies per annum, $12 50; Twenty copies per annum, $22; Thirty copies per annum, $30, and one extra copy to each club. For every club of fifty one copy of the Semi-Weekly Times to the getter-up of the club.

When the names of subscribers are required to be written upon each paper of the club at one Post Office address, ten cents for each copy additional to the above rates.

The Semi-Weekly and Weekly mailed for one year to clubmen at the lowest rates. These prices are invariable. Remit in drafts on New York or Post Office Money orders, if possible, and where neither of these can be procured send the money in a registered letter. Terms—cash in advance.

THE NEW YORK TIMES.
New York City.

WEEKLY, SEMI WEEKLY, AND DAILY.

THE WEEKLY SUN is too widely known to require any extended recommendation; but the reasons why it has already given fifty thousand subscribers, and which will, we hope, give it many thousands more, are briefly as follows:

It is a first-rate newspaper. All the news of the day will be found in it, condensed when unimportant, at full length when of moment, and always presented in a clear, intelligible and interesting manner.

It is a first-rate family paper, full of entertaining and instructive reading of every kind, but containing nothing that can offend the most delicate and scrupulous taste.

It is a first-rate story paper. The best tales and romances of current literature are carefully selected and legibly printed in its pages.

It is a first-rate agricultural paper. The most fresh and instructive articles on agricultural topics regularly appear in this department.

It is an independent political paper, belonging to no party and wearing no collar. It fights for principle and for the election of the best men to office. It especially devotes its energies to the exposure of the great corruptions that now weaken and disgrace our country, and threaten to undermine republican institutions altogether. It has no fear of knaves and asks no favors from their supporters.

It reports the fashions for the ladies and the markets for the men, especially the cattle markets, to which it pays particular attention.

Finally, it is the cheapest paper published. One dollar a year will secure it for any subscriber. It is not necessary to get up a club in order to have the Weekly Sun at this rate. Any one who sends a single dollar will get the paper for a year.

We have no traveling agents.

THE WEEKLY SUN.—Eight pages, fifty-six columns. Only $1 00 a year. No discounts from this rate.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY SUN.—Same size as the Daily Sun. $2 00 a year. A discount of 20 per cent. to clubs of ten or over.

THE DAILY SUN.—A large, four page newspaper of twenty-eight columns. Daily circulation over 120,000. All the news for two cents. Subscription price 50 cents a month, or $6 00 a year. To clubs of ten or over, a discount of 20 per cent.

Prospectus for 1874—7th Year.

THE ALDINE.
An Illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the Handsomest Periodical in the World. A Representative and Champion of American Taste.

Not for Sale in Book or News Stores

THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature; and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in blue and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of the Aldine will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may rival a superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, the Aldine is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possession of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then there are the chromos, besides.

ART DEPARTMENT—1874.

The illustrations of the Aldine have won a world wide reputation, and in the art circles of Europe it is an admitted fact that its wood cuts are examples of the highest perfection ever attained. The common prejudice in favor of "steel plates," is rapidly yielding to a more educated and discriminating taste, which recognizes the advantages of superior artistic quality with greater facility of production. The wood cuts of the Aldine possess all the delicacy and elaborate finish of the most costly steel plate, while they afford a better rendering of the artist's original.

To fully realize the wonderful work which the Aldine is doing for the cause of art culture in America, it is only necessary to consider the part it takes in the production of great painters. In addition to the productions of the members of the National Academy and other noted American artists, the Aldine will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success and greatest general interest. Thus the subscriber to the Aldine will, at a trifling cost, enjoy in his own home the pleasure and refining influences of true art.

The quarterly tinted plates for 1874 will be by Thos. Moran and J. D. Woodward. The Christmas issue for 1874 will contain special designs appropriate to the season, by our best artists, and will surpass in attractions any of its predecessors.

Premium for 1874.

Every subscriber to the Aldine for the year 1874 will receive a pair of chromos for the year. The original pictures were painted in chromos. The publishers of the Aldine, by Thos. Moran and J. D. Woodward, great color and picture artists, whose progress for ten thousand dollars was purchased by Congress for ten thousand dollars. The subjects were chosen to represent "The West" and "The East" and "The Mountains, New York was a view in the White Mountains, New Hampshire; the other gives the difference in the nature of the scenes themselves, as a pleasing contrast, and affords a fine play of the artist's scope and coloring. The chromos are each worked from thirty distinct plates, and are in size (12x18) and appear exact fac-similes of the originals. The presentation of a worthy example of America's greatest landscape painter to the subscribers of the Aldine was a bold but a peculiarly happy idea, and its successful realization is attested by the following testimonial, over the signature of Mr. Moran himself.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 28th, 1873.

Messrs. James Sutton & Co.—Gentlemen:

I am delighted with the proofs in colors of your chromos. They are wonderfully successful representations by mechanical process of the original paintings.

Very respectfully,
Signed, THOS. MORAN.

These chromos are in every sense American. They are by an original American process, with material of American manufacture, from designs of American scenery by an American painter, and presented to subscribers to the first successful American Art Journal. If no better because of all this, they will certainly possess an interest no foreign production can inspire, and neither are they any the worse if by reason of peculiar facilities of production they cost the publishers only a trifle, while equal in every respect to other chromos that are sold singly for double the subscription price of the Aldine. Persons of taste will prize these pictures for themselves—not for the price they did or did not cost, and will appreciate the enterprise that renders their production possible.

If any subscriber should indicate a preference for a figure subject, the publishers will send "Thoughts of Home," a new and beautiful chromo, 14x20 inches, representing a little Italian exile whose speaking eyes betray the longings of his heart.

TERMS.

$6 per annum, in advance, with oil Chromos free. To 50 cents extra, the chromos will be sent, mounted, varnished, and prepaid by mail.

The ALDINE will, hereafter, be obtainable only by subscription. There will be no reduced or club rate; cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local canvasser, without responsibility to the publisher, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the fac-simile signature of James Sutton & Co.

ROGET'S INVALUABLE WORK
New, Revised, Enlarged and Improved Edition.
Thesaurus of English Words, And Phrases; so Classified and Arranged as to Facilitate the Expression of Ideas and Assist in Literary Composition, by PETER MARK ROGET. Revised and Edited, with a List of Foreign Words defined in English, and other additions, by BARNAS SEARS, D. D., late President of Brown University. A new American Edition, with extensive Additions and Improvements. Royal 12mo. Cloth. $2.00.

This great and noble work of Dr. Roget, occupying his attention more than fifty years in its preparation, furnishes, with respect to the English Language, a collection of the words it contains, and of the idiomatic combinations peculiar to it, arranged (as expressed by the author) "not in alphabetical order, as in a Dictionary, but according to ideas which they express." As one has aptly said, "It gives a writer a word he wants when that word is on the tip of his tongue, but altogether beyond his reach."

It needs only to be tested in order that its real value to every one, and especially to every Literary man, may be fully known and appreciated. A distinguished Clergyman, the author of various popular works, says of it, "There is no work, save the Bible, I so highly prize as an aid in my work, as Roget's Thesaurus. I use it much more frequently than the Dictionary." Also, an eminent scientific man, remarked concerning it, "No work in all my library is in such constant use."

In the present much enlarged, and in various respects greatly improved edition, the subject matter of the original work is presented entire, though with variations of arrangement and with numerous valuable additions; and while the Foreign Words and Phrases—Latin, French, Italian, Spanish, Greek—are allowed a place in the body of the work as arranged by the author, they are also arranged alphabetically, defined for the benefit of those only acquainted with the English language, at the end of the volume, thus rendering it in all respects more full and more perfect, even, than the author's addition!

Either of the above works will be sent

The Driver's Story.

"Ah, sir, this is going to be a hard winter," said a good burly car driver to the other evening.

As sure as I live, sir, there was that fellow that one year ago was as strong and hearty a young man as you ever saw, with his legs no bigger than my wrist—and him in my on the day and night.

"He told me he hadn't sent for me until he had to, and on looking round, sir, I saw there wasn't any furniture left, and that he had to take his little room fitted up comfortable-like, he had sold even the straw in his tick and was a lay-in on the floor."

"Hold on, sir, I slip up a bit, sir. There I good-night, sir; good-night. And we walked away from the terrible words of that kind-hearted man."

A Thankful Professor.

Professor Sedgwick was geologizing in a quarry near high-road in the purple, dressed in a rough suit for the purpose, and striking vigorous blows with his hammer upon the rock.

Professor Sedgwick having answered this and various other questions put to him very readily, the gentleman, pleased with what he deemed the intelligence and civility of the quarryman, offered him a shilling, which was received with thanks.

"Oh yes," was the reply; "you saw me this morning, and gave me a shilling for answering a whole string of questions, and I was much obliged to you for it."
