A Card—We, the children of Mrs. Daniel Westcott, wish to express our sincere thanks to the many friends who so kindly offered their service in many ways, to lighten our sorrows caused by the loss of our dearly beloved mother, who celebrated her ninetieth birthday on November 17th, and died December 29, 1920.

A crash occurred last Saturday night, between two automobiles on the new cement road near the foot of Central Avenue. M. L. Rutherford was driving his car, when another machine coming off the dirt road onto the cement, dashed against his front axle, causing it to turn turtle two or three times. He, with his friends, were badly bruised and shaken up; but their escape from death was really miraculous.

When the children start a game, they "count out" to see who shall be "it." It's merely a process of elimination for making a choice.

When you buy goods through a mail order catalog you do much the same thing. There are often several items of the same class grouped on a page. You don't want this one because of such and such a feature. You reject that one because it lacks so-and-so. And when you have inspected all the pictures and read all the descriptions and eliminated those with objectionable features you finally take what's left.

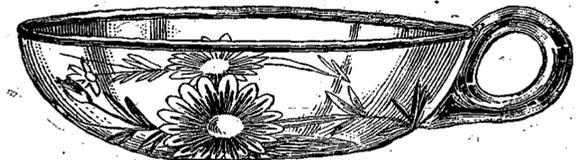

If you could have seen the articles themselves, you might have found that one of the others would have suited your needs better. That's why a pop in trade where you can see before you buy.
