

WONDERFUL SUCCESS.

ECONOMY IN WHAT? All the PATENTERS...

The South Jersey Republican

Demorest's Magazine

With Twelve Orders for Cut Paper Patterns...

DEMOREST'S THE BEST

Or all the Magazines. Contains Recipes, Poems, and other literature...

DR. JOHN BULL'S Smith's Tonic Syrup

FOR THE CURE OF FEVER and ACUE

Or CHILLS and FEVER, and ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine...

DR. JOHN BULL'S SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP

BULL'S SARSAPARILLA is the old and reliable remedy...

DR. JOHN BULL'S SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP

THE SPY OF THE REBELLION

Agents wanted

GARDNER & SHINN INSURANCE CO.

LOAD & THOMAS NEWSPAPER

THIS PAPER may be found...

THE INDEPENDENT

THE WEEKLY PRESS

NOTICE

To my Patrons, and to Whom it May Concern.

HERMANN FIEDLER, MANUFACTURER

JOHN ATKINSON, Tailor

Dr. J. A. Waas, DENTIST

A. H. SIMONS & CO BAKERY

THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN

Weekly National Republican

THE INDEPENDENT

THE LARGEST, THE ABLEST, THE BEST

THE INDEPENDENT

The much talked of bridge over the Kill Von Kull...

In a libel suit in Asbury Park...

Judge Kelly, in an interview...

The report of changes in the President's Cabinet...

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria...

Fourteen columns daily of special New Jersey news...

The Weekly Press

The Most Liberal and Varied Premium List Ever Before Offered.

SHERIFF'S SALE

at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day...

THE PRESS CO., Limited, Philadelphia.

THE LARGEST, THE ABLEST, THE BEST

THE INDEPENDENT

THE INDEPENDENT

THE INDEPENDENT

THE INDEPENDENT

THE INDEPENDENT

THE INDEPENDENT

Camden and Atlantic Railroad

Table with columns: STATIONS, A.M., P.M., Exp., etc.

South-Jersey Republican

Orville E. Hoyt, Publisher. Terms--$1.25 Per Year.

VOL. 25. HAMMONTON, N. J., JANUARY 15, 1887. NO. 3

THE WALMER HOUSE, Central Avenue, Hammonton, N. J.

BARGAINS AT COOK'S. Ornamental and Useful Articles to be had at Fair Prices.

TUTT'S EXPECTORANT. Is composed of Herbal and Muscular...

TUTT'S PILLS. ACT DIRECTLY ON THE LIVER.

THE ATTENTION OF THE citizens of Hammonton is called to the fact that...

Jones & Lawson BUILDERS CONTRACTORS AND

GERRY VALENTINE is the only RESIDENT FURNISHING Undertaker.

WANTED Practise-Cannvassers. On the Lines of Modern Family Physician and Hygienic Guide.

WAGONS AND Buggies. On and after Jan. 1, 1887, I will sell

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers...

DR. J. A. WAAS, DENTIST, RESIDENT

DYSPEPSIA. Is a disease as well as a complaint...

IRON BITTERS. THE BEST TONIC

RUSSIAN HEUMATISM CURE

A Good Sewing Machine For $18

DON'T GO HUNGRY. Bat go to Packer's Bakery. Where you can get

THE BEST BREAD. At the old price of ten years'

FIVE CENTS per LOAF. Breakfast and Tea Rolls,

Geo. A. Rogers, FLOUR, ETC.

COAL. To his business, and is ready to supply

Choice Groceries as ever. I will retain Flour

DRY GOODS, Medicated, Blue, and Canton Flannel,

CHOICE BUILDING LOTS FOR SALE.

POST OFFICES, CHURCHES, and R.R. DEPOTS,

Standard Medicine for the Man,

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Men resemble the gods in nothing so much as in doing good to their fellow creatures.

Two sorts of writers possess genius—those who think, and those who cause others to think.

Lions show their respect for the truth by growling angry when caught disregarding it.

Defence is the most complicated, the most intricate, and the most elegant of all compliments.

To smile at the jest which plants a thorn in another's breast is to become a principal in the mischief.

A good word is an exact obligation; but to speak ill requires only our silence, which costs us nothing.

I think the first virtue is to restrain the tongue; he approaches nearest to the gods who knows how to be silent, even though he is in the right.

The greatest will always speak of himself either in praise or in censure; but a modest man ever shuns making himself the subject of his conversations.

Man's value is in proportion to what he has courageously suffered, as the value of a metal is in proportion to the tempering it has undergone.

She is not to be pitied who thinks to find a friend other than her husband if she is a wife, than her children if she is a mother, than God if she is neither.

We cannot skip the seasons of our education. We cannot hasten our ripeness and the sweetness by a single day, nor dispense with one night's nipping east wind.

There is no knowledge for which so great a price is paid as a knowledge of the world; and no one can become an adept at it except at the expense of a hardened and wounded heart.

The Bible writers hope over the darkest fields of life. Man, above all creatures, needs hope, and the Bible is his charter of hope, the message of the God of Revelation, who alone is the God of hope.

If there's a right thing to be done, and we seem to pass through a wrong thing on our way to it, depend upon it there's another way to do it and a better one, and it is our own fault, and not God's that we do not find it.

A man without earnestness is a mournful and terrifying spectacle. The earnestness is generally the most effective and compulsive of all schools.

Neatness in clothes being fine, they should be well made, and worn easily, for a man is only the less genteel for a fine coat, if in wearing it he shows a regard for it, and is not as easy in it as he is in his shirt.

For the best results there needs to be the longest waiting. The true harvest is the longest in being reached. The failures come first, the successes last. The uncertainty is generally the soonest to be seen.

No enjoyment, however inconsiderable, is confined to the present moment. A man is the happier for life from having once an ascending tour, or any length of time with pleasant people, or only any considerable interval of unobscured pleasure.

The storm tries the building, and discovers which are built upon the rock and which upon the sand. The storm tries the pilot. The touchstone tries the metal, whether it be gold or copper. The furnace tries the metal, whether it be iron or steel, and the crucible and the persecution try the Christian.

It was a very proper answer to him who asked, why any man should be delighted with beauty? That it was a question that has any beautiful object, and that it is in no man's power not to be pleased with it.

Don't be a grumbler. Some people continue to grumble and peckily object to everything, to run against all the sharp corners and disagreeable things. Half the strength spent in growling away from the beauty which heaven has so well made up your mind to begin with that no one ever found the world quite as he would like it; but you are to take your part of the trouble and bear it bravely. You will be sure to have burdens laid upon you that belong to other people, unless you are a shirker yourself; but don't grumble. If the work needs doing, and you can do it, never mind about that other who ought to have done it but didn't.

Those workers who fill up the gaps and smooth away the rough spots, and finish up the work, are those who have more of the true peace-makers, and worth a whole regiment of growlers.

Whenever I find a great deal of gratitude in a poor man I take it for granted that he has been as much benefited by it as he was a rich man.

Money and time are the heaviest burdens of life, and the unappetite of all mortals are these, and they are the cause of other things they know how to use.

God is the whole life of our soul. All the powers of the mind do not find their aim in this life. In him we find the best thing that heaven has ever made for us, and the only true freedom.

If we had hearts like those which beat so lightly in the bosoms of the young and the beautiful, what heavy burdens would this earth would be. If, while our bodies grow old and withered, our hearts could but retain their early youth and freshness, of what advantage would our sorrows and sufferings. But the fat image of Eden, which is stamped upon them in childhood, eludes and runs in our rugged struggles with the world and wears away, until there is nothing left but a mournful blank remaining.

JUST LIKE A WOMAN

How a Pretty Girl Saved Her Lover in Nick of Time.

"I saw an amusing incident the other evening," said the treasurer of a Chicago club, "and one that revealed a woman's true character. Just before the curtain rose a carriage drove up in front of the office and a young gentleman alighted, followed by one of the prettiest young ladies I have ever seen. There was considerable of a crowd just then in front of my window, and it was two or three minutes before I reached the door. He appeared and asked for two seats in the orchestra circle. I had none left that suited him, but offered him a box. He concluded to take it, and put his hand in his pocket for the money. The lady stood just behind him, but outside the little brass rail. He evidently had searched for the money in the wrong pocket for his hand came out empty. He gradually flushed as the search proceeded, until it grew flaming red. I should have been perfectly willing to let him have his box, and I knew he was and guessed that in changing his dress he had forgotten his money; but I wanted to see what he would do. The little woman waiting for him became impatient at the delay. The nervous tapping of her fan on the rail was not exactly in unison with the strains of the orchestra that could be heard from the interior. At last, realizing that he had forgotten his pocket-book, the young man addressed me by name and said:

"I have left my pocket-book in my other trousers, but I will give you my card, and if you will oblige me with the tickets I will send you the amount in the morning."

"Here he made a dash into his inside pocket for his card case, but failed to bring it to light. He had forgotten his card case as well as his purse.

"I was about to hand him a blank card when I caught sight of the hall's porter right behind her, while her eyes, brimming over with laughter, sparkling merrily. She was evidently enjoying the situation to the utmost, and I was mentally reproaching her for lack of sympathy, when I spied just under the elbow of the now thoroughly embarrassed man a small hand pressed against the wall to attract his attention, while in its grasp was a dainty purse of shell and gold.

"The young man saw it just as I did and with a sigh of relief took the proffered pocket-book, but not without a gentle pressure on the hand—that so thoughtfully and delicately had tendered his offering. I doubted if the purse he opened it, my doubts fled. I could plainly see two or three $10 bills, neatly folded, in one corner, in the other, was a flower and two or three pieces of gold, evidently some of the samples to be found in every woman's purse or pocket.

"The tickets being paid for, the couple entered, and through the little door in the back of my office I saw them slip into the vestibule and engage in courteous discussion. He seemed to wish her to take back her purse, which she finally did, and opening it, gravely handed it to him. He at first refused to receive it, but she persisted and he accepted the loan. His hand closed over hers, and the man's face could show absolute devotion his did then. I honestly believe he would have proposed to her on the spot had she not, with a woman's intuition, foreseen the probability, quickly in his arm, and moved toward the entrance of the box. I saw them later during the play and I am sure he watched her face much more closely than he did the stage. After the curtain fell I stood on the sidewalk and heard him tell the driver to go to a fashionable restaurant. I am willing to bet a bottle of wine that their engagement is announced before a month is passed."

Seeing the Pope.

The first thing is, you must be so recommended to the holy father, or to some very powerful member of his court, that your demand for an audience is granted. When that is done you have to go to the chamberlain and get your card, your day, your hour. Then you come into the audience room, where, as everywhere else, you wait with those who are received until your turn comes. The chamberlain opens the door for you, loudly calling your name as he does.

A camerier follows behind you with a large tray, on which are laid the objects, ivory, gold, silk, silver, anything that you have brought with a view of pleasing the blessing. If that you may bring it to your Catholic friends, who look at it from that moment as a relic. You hold in your hand whatever offering you have yourself to lay at the feet of the holy father.

Mind you, you are now on the threshold; now comes the ceremonial. On the doorstep you have to kneel down; you then get up and make three steps and kneel down again, another three steps and you kneel at the feet of the padre santo, and get hold of the hem of his robe, which dexter he lets you kiss in all humility, or he takes you by the hand, lifts you up, and, after blessing you, stretches out his hand towards the tray, which the camerier holds, and then gets the blessing. "In nomine Amen, et Fili, et Spiritus Sancti, Amen." Whereupon the camerier with the tray disappears, and you are left alone with the holy father.

The room is a very small one, nothing like the big hall where the general reception of more than 2000 people takes place. It contains a simple table and chair. A white cotton dress and a red cap are all the uniform of the head of the Roman Catholic Church.

DEALING IN DEAD HORSES.

Shoes, Fertilizers, Ladies' Switches, Buttons, Glass Made Out of Defunct Equines.

A crowd had gathered on a South State street corner, where a horse's broken head had been shot. The owner stood ruefully surveying his loss as a fat, dark-complexioned man elbowed his way up and said, as he smiled broadly:

"Say mister, I'll cart that horse away if you will give it to me. Is it a bargain?"

The owner pondered a moment, looked around at the crowd, and remarked:

"The animal is no use to me, and I guess you can have it, but on business I know what you want with it. You can have it if you will let me."

"All right. You see a dead horse represents considerable money to me, and when I can get one out of you, I'll haul the animal out to my place, where I will skin it and tan the hide, or else sell it as a broken horse. When you get over to some hot bed and shoe firm, who will proceed to make it up into shoes. The leather, being soft and waterproof, makes up nicely and commands a fancy price."

"Shoes made of cordovan as the leather is called, are considered the proper things by swells and well-to-do men from the interior. At last, realizing that he had forgotten his pocket-book, the young man addressed me by name and said:

"I have left my pocket-book in my other trousers, but I will give you my card, and if you will oblige me with the tickets I will send you the amount in the morning."

"Here he made a dash into his inside pocket for his card case, but failed to bring it to light. He had forgotten his card case as well as his purse.

"I was about to hand him a blank card when I caught sight of the hall's porter right behind her, while her eyes, brimming over with laughter, sparkling merrily. She was evidently enjoying the situation to the utmost, and I was mentally reproaching her for lack of sympathy, when I spied just under the elbow of the now thoroughly embarrassed man a small hand pressed against the wall to attract his attention, while in its grasp was a dainty purse of shell and gold.

"The young man saw it just as I did and with a sigh of relief took the proffered pocket-book, but not without a gentle pressure on the hand—that so thoughtfully and delicately had tendered his offering. I doubted if the purse he opened it, my doubts fled. I could plainly see two or three $10 bills, neatly folded, in one corner, in the other, was a flower and two or three pieces of gold, evidently some of the samples to be found in every woman's purse or pocket.

"The tickets being paid for, the couple entered, and through the little door in the back of my office I saw them slip into the vestibule and engage in courteous discussion. He seemed to wish her to take back her purse, which she finally did, and opening it, gravely handed it to him. He at first refused to receive it, but she persisted and he accepted the loan. His hand closed over hers, and the man's face could show absolute devotion his did then. I honestly believe he would have proposed to her on the spot had she not, with a woman's intuition, foreseen the probability, quickly in his arm, and moved toward the entrance of the box. I saw them later during the play and I am sure he watched her face much more closely than he did the stage. After the curtain fell I stood on the sidewalk and heard him tell the driver to go to a fashionable restaurant. I am willing to bet a bottle of wine that their engagement is announced before a month is passed."

The Clothes of Japanese Girls.

Japanese young men of fashion visit the girls just as they do in this country, take them out to restaurants and fill them up with ice cream. They have balls and parties where the waiting girls are in the center of the attraction. However, a recent innovation, but is liked by the Japanese exceedingly. The costumes of the ladies in Japan are more in contrast with those of the American and European girls. First of all, no corset is worn. The long silk sash supports the hips of steel and around the waist loosely and the ends hang down behind. There is no large, elaborate bow pinned against the back, like those seen in the costumes of the girls of Mikado's court. Some of the ultra-fashionable girls of Tokio, however, have adopted a method of making the waist look smaller, but no corset is used—simply a belt buckled around the waist. The ladies are fond of picking the strings of their bands, and are up to the time in a fashion which has been greatly in vogue among American girls. Japanese girls attire themselves in pretty much the same underwear as American women, but the order of a mitter for the hand, there being a separate receptacle for the big toe. A very curious fact of the reporter gleaned from the interpreter was this: The Japanese think that all Europeans have very old types of faces.

The Deepest Lake.

A communication from Dr. Bailey of the New Brunswick University, relative to the great depth of Lake Temiskaming, has been received. The lake, which is situated in the St. John. Dr. Bailey spent some time about the lake during the past summer in connection with the work of the Canadian Geological Survey, and from three soundings made near its southern extremity, depths of 225, 400 and 500 feet were reached, and it seems probable, says Dr. Bailey, that even this depth is at some places considerably exceeded. The surface of the lake is, by the measurement of this sounding, about 20 feet below the tide level in the Bay of Fundy, so that it has a depth fully below tide level. Dr. Bailey's communication is called forth by a report, according to the statement of the geologist of Crater Lake in Oregon, which depth, to judge from the name, is no more than one might expect from its volcanic origin. But in fact it is a very deep lake, and there is nothing of a volcanic character, and the whole depression is evidently the result of simple erosion. If this should be the case, it would be a very interesting fact. It was first employed by Jules Clarus, of Leipzig, in 1850, but has never been used to any great extent.

SCIENTIFIC.

Sea-Fish for California.—An interesting letter from Dr. Baird, United States Fish Commissioner, has been addressed to J. D. Redding, who was recently appointed Deputy United States Fish Commissioner for California. The letter states that it is impossible as yet to make any definite calculation as to the time, place and circumstances of the proposed shipment of the fish to California. The size of the shipment must depend upon the success achieved in obtaining the proper sizes and conditions of sea fish, and it is doubtful whether it will be practicable to get a carload of these fish next fall. They can be gathered during the summer and held so as to become accustomed to captivity, after which a shipment may be safely made. Professor Baird says that he is instituting experiments with regard to the best way of moving lobsters, etc., so as to make them live in the water. He can see no reason why scallops cannot be transported as well as any other mollusks. Whitefish have frequently been sent to California, although it is not likely that they will be introduced into the States. A number of lakes in the West, including Lake Tahoe, have been fully stocked.

The suggestion having been made that the ignition of petroleum tanks may sometimes be caused by sparks from the rail, and that clouds, some of which are made into a nice horse-brush or switch for ladies, to make a nice switch. I take out the bone from the nail and then the nail is ready for use as soon as it gets dry."

"But, what do you do with the remainder of the body—the bones?"

"O, they come in handy. I make lots of hunting dogs. Of course, if I were to buy beef for them it would cost me something. When you get over to some hot bed and shoe firm, who will proceed to make it up into shoes. The leather, being soft and waterproof, makes up nicely and commands a fancy price."

"Shoes made of cordovan as the leather is called, are considered the proper things by swells and well-to-do men from the interior. At last, realizing that he had forgotten his pocket-book, the young man addressed me by name and said:

"I have left my pocket-book in my other trousers, but I will give you my card, and if you will oblige me with the tickets I will send you the amount in the morning."

"Here he made a dash into his inside pocket for his card case, but failed to bring it to light. He had forgotten his card case as well as his purse.

"I was about to hand him a blank card when I caught sight of the hall's porter right behind her, while her eyes, brimming over with laughter, sparkling merrily. She was evidently enjoying the situation to the utmost, and I was mentally reproaching her for lack of sympathy, when I spied just under the elbow of the now thoroughly embarrassed man a small hand pressed against the wall to attract his attention, while in its grasp was a dainty purse of shell and gold.

"The young man saw it just as I did and with a sigh of relief took the proffered pocket-book, but not without a gentle pressure on the hand—that so thoughtfully and delicately had tendered his offering. I doubted if the purse he opened it, my doubts fled. I could plainly see two or three $10 bills, neatly folded, in one corner, in the other, was a flower and two or three pieces of gold, evidently some of the samples to be found in every woman's purse or pocket.

"The tickets being paid for, the couple entered, and through the little door in the back of my office I saw them slip into the vestibule and engage in courteous discussion. He seemed to wish her to take back her purse, which she finally did, and opening it, gravely handed it to him. He at first refused to receive it, but she persisted and he accepted the loan. His hand closed over hers, and the man's face could show absolute devotion his did then. I honestly believe he would have proposed to her on the spot had she not, with a woman's intuition, foreseen the probability, quickly in his arm, and moved toward the entrance of the box. I saw them later during the play and I am sure he watched her face much more closely than he did the stage. After the curtain fell I stood on the sidewalk and heard him tell the driver to go to a fashionable restaurant. I am willing to bet a bottle of wine that their engagement is announced before a month is passed."

"The young man saw it just as I did and with a sigh of relief took the proffered pocket-book, but not without a gentle pressure on the hand—that so thoughtfully and delicately had tendered his offering. I doubted if the purse he opened it, my doubts fled. I could plainly see two or three $10 bills, neatly folded, in one corner, in the other, was a flower and two or three pieces of gold, evidently some of the samples to be found in every woman's purse or pocket.

"The tickets being paid for, the couple entered, and through the little door in the back of my office I saw them slip into the vestibule and engage in courteous discussion. He seemed to wish her to take back her purse, which she finally did, and opening it, gravely handed it to him. He at first refused to receive it, but she persisted and he accepted the loan. His hand closed over hers, and the man's face could show absolute devotion his did then. I honestly believe he would have proposed to her on the spot had she not, with a woman's intuition, foreseen the probability, quickly in his arm, and moved toward the entrance of the box. I saw them later during the play and I am sure he watched her face much more closely than he did the stage. After the curtain fell I stood on the sidewalk and heard him tell the driver to go to a fashionable restaurant. I am willing to bet a bottle of wine that their engagement is announced before a month is passed."

"The young man saw it just as I did and with a sigh of relief took the proffered pocket-book, but not without a gentle pressure on the hand—that so thoughtfully and delicately had tendered his offering. I doubted if the purse he opened it, my doubts fled. I could plainly see two or three $10 bills, neatly folded, in one corner, in the other, was a flower and two or three pieces of gold, evidently some of the samples to be found in every woman's purse or pocket.

"The tickets being paid for, the couple entered, and through the little door in the back of my office I saw them slip into the vestibule and engage in courteous discussion. He seemed to wish her to take back her purse, which she finally did, and opening it, gravely handed it to him. He at first refused to receive it, but she persisted and he accepted the loan. His hand closed over hers, and the man's face could show absolute devotion his did then. I honestly believe he would have proposed to her on the spot had she not, with a woman's intuition, foreseen the probability, quickly in his arm, and moved toward the entrance of the box. I saw them later during the play and I am sure he watched her face much more closely than he did the stage. After the curtain fell I stood on the sidewalk and heard him tell the driver to go to a fashionable restaurant. I am willing to bet a bottle of wine that their engagement is announced before a month is passed."

"The young man saw it just as I did and with a sigh of relief took the proffered pocket-book, but not without a gentle pressure on the hand—that so thoughtfully and delicately had tendered his offering. I doubted if the purse he opened it, my doubts fled. I could plainly see two or three $10 bills, neatly folded, in one corner, in the other, was a flower and two or three pieces of gold, evidently some of the samples to be found in every woman's purse or pocket.

"The tickets being paid for, the couple entered, and through the little door in the back of my office I saw them slip into the vestibule and engage in courteous discussion. He seemed to wish her to take back her purse, which she finally did, and opening it, gravely handed it to him. He at first refused to receive it, but she persisted and he accepted the loan. His hand closed over hers, and the man's face could show absolute devotion his did then. I honestly believe he would have proposed to her on the spot had she not, with a woman's intuition, foreseen the probability, quickly in his arm, and moved toward the entrance of the box. I saw them later during the play and I am sure he watched her face much more closely than he did the stage. After the curtain fell I stood on the sidewalk and heard him tell the driver to go to a fashionable restaurant. I am willing to bet a bottle of wine that their engagement is announced before a month is passed."

"The young man saw it just as I did and with a sigh of relief took the proffered pocket-book, but not without a gentle pressure on the hand—that so thoughtfully and delicately had tendered his offering. I doubted if the purse he opened it, my doubts fled. I could plainly see two or three $10 bills, neatly folded, in one corner, in the other, was a flower and two or three pieces of gold, evidently some of the samples to be found in every woman's purse or pocket.

"The tickets being paid for, the couple entered, and through the little door in the back of my office I saw them slip into the vestibule and engage in courteous discussion. He seemed to wish her to take back her purse, which she finally did, and opening it, gravely handed it to him. He at first refused to receive it, but she persisted and he accepted the loan. His hand closed over hers, and the man's face could show absolute devotion his did then. I honestly believe he would have proposed to her on the spot had she not, with a woman's intuition, foreseen the probability, quickly in his arm, and moved toward the entrance of the box. I saw them later during the play and I am sure he watched her face much more closely than he did the stage. After the curtain fell I stood on the sidewalk and heard him tell the driver to go to a fashionable restaurant. I am willing to bet a bottle of wine that their engagement is announced before a month is passed."

"The young man saw it just as I did and with a sigh of relief took the proffered pocket-book, but not without a gentle pressure on the hand—that so thoughtfully and delicately had tendered his offering. I doubted if the purse he opened it, my doubts fled. I could plainly see two or three $10 bills, neatly folded, in one corner, in the other, was a flower and two or three pieces of gold, evidently some of the samples to be found in every woman's purse or pocket.

"The tickets being paid for, the couple entered, and through the little door in the back of my office I saw them slip into the vestibule and engage in courteous discussion. He seemed to wish her to take back her purse, which she finally did, and opening it, gravely handed it to him. He at first refused to receive it, but she persisted and he accepted the loan. His hand closed over hers, and the man's face could show absolute devotion his did then. I honestly believe he would have proposed to her on the spot had she not, with a woman's intuition, foreseen the probability, quickly in his arm, and moved toward the entrance of the box. I saw them later during the play and I am sure he watched her face much more closely than he did the stage. After the curtain fell I stood on the sidewalk and heard him tell the driver to go to a fashionable restaurant. I am willing to bet a bottle of wine that their engagement is announced before a month is passed."

"The young man saw it just as I did and with a sigh of relief took the proffered pocket-book, but not without a gentle pressure on the hand—that so thoughtfully and delicately had tendered his offering. I doubted if the purse he opened it, my doubts fled. I could plainly see two or three $10 bills, neatly folded, in one corner, in the other, was a flower and two or three pieces of gold, evidently some of the samples to be found in every woman's purse or pocket.

"The tickets being paid for, the couple entered, and through the little door in the back of my office I saw them slip into the vestibule and engage in courteous discussion. He seemed to wish her to take back her purse, which she finally did, and opening it, gravely handed it to him. He at first refused to receive it, but she persisted and he accepted the loan. His hand closed over hers, and the man's face could show absolute devotion his did then. I honestly believe he would have proposed to her on the spot had she not, with a woman's intuition, foreseen the probability, quickly in his arm, and moved toward the entrance of the box. I saw them later during the play and I am sure he watched her face much more closely than he did the stage. After the curtain fell I stood on the sidewalk and heard him tell the driver to go to a fashionable restaurant. I am willing to bet a bottle of wine that their engagement is announced before a month is passed."

"The young man saw it just as I did and with a sigh of relief took the proffered pocket-book, but not without a gentle pressure on the hand—that so thoughtfully and delicately had tendered his offering. I doubted if the purse he opened it, my doubts fled. I could plainly see two or three $10 bills, neatly folded, in one corner, in the other, was a flower and two or three pieces of gold, evidently some of the samples to be found in every woman's purse or pocket.

"The tickets being paid for, the couple entered, and through the little door in the back of my office I saw them slip into the vestibule and engage in courteous discussion. He seemed to wish her to take back her purse, which she finally did, and opening it, gravely handed it to him. He at first refused to receive it, but she persisted and he accepted the loan. His hand closed over hers, and the man's face could show absolute devotion his did then. I honestly believe he would have proposed to her on the spot had she not, with a woman's intuition, foreseen the probability, quickly in his arm, and moved toward the entrance of the box. I saw them later during the play and I am sure he watched her face much more closely than he did the stage. After the curtain fell I stood on the sidewalk and heard him tell the driver to go to a fashionable restaurant. I am willing to bet a bottle of wine that their engagement is announced before a month is passed."

"The young man saw it just as I did and with a sigh of relief took the proffered pocket-book, but not without a gentle pressure on the hand—that so thoughtfully and delicately had tendered his offering. I doubted if the purse he opened it, my doubts fled. I could plainly see two or three $10 bills, neatly folded, in one corner, in the other, was a flower and two or three pieces of gold, evidently some of the samples to be found in every woman's purse or pocket.

"The tickets being paid for, the couple entered, and through the little door in the back of my office I saw them slip into the vestibule and engage in courteous discussion. He seemed to wish her to take back her purse, which she finally did, and opening it, gravely handed it to him. He at first refused to receive it, but she persisted and he accepted the loan. His hand closed over hers, and the man's face could show absolute devotion his did then. I honestly believe he would have proposed to her on the spot had she not, with a woman's intuition, foreseen the probability, quickly in his arm, and moved toward the entrance of the box. I saw them later during the play and I am sure he watched her face much more closely than he did the stage. After the curtain fell I stood on the sidewalk and heard him tell the driver to go to a fashionable restaurant. I am willing to bet a bottle of wine that their engagement is announced before a month is passed."

"The young man saw it just as I did and with a sigh of relief took the proffered pocket-book, but not without a gentle pressure on the hand—that so thoughtfully and delicately had tendered his offering. I doubted if the purse he opened it, my doubts fled. I could plainly see two or three $10 bills, neatly folded, in one corner, in the other, was a flower and two or three pieces of gold, evidently some of the samples to be found in every woman's purse or pocket.

"The tickets being paid for, the couple entered, and through the little door in the back of my office I saw them slip into the vestibule and engage in courteous discussion. He seemed to wish her to take back her purse, which she finally did, and opening it, gravely handed it to him. He at first refused to receive it, but she persisted and he accepted the loan. His hand closed over hers, and the man's face could show absolute devotion his did then. I honestly believe he would have proposed to her on the spot had she not, with a woman's intuition, foreseen the probability, quickly in his arm, and moved toward the entrance of the box. I saw them later during the play and I am sure he watched her face much more closely than he did the stage. After the curtain fell I stood on the sidewalk and heard him tell the driver to go to a fashionable restaurant. I am willing to bet a bottle of wine that their engagement is announced before a month is passed."

"The young man saw it just as I did and with a sigh of relief took the proffered pocket-book, but not without a gentle pressure on the hand—that so thoughtfully and delicately had tendered his offering. I doubted if the purse he opened it, my doubts fled. I could plainly see two or three $10 bills, neatly folded, in one corner, in the other, was a flower and two or three pieces of gold, evidently some of the samples to be found in every woman's purse or pocket.

"The tickets being paid for, the couple entered, and through the little door in the back of my office I saw them slip into the vestibule and engage in courteous discussion. He seemed to wish her to take back her purse, which she finally did, and opening it, gravely handed it to him. He at first refused to receive it, but she persisted and he accepted the loan. His hand closed over hers, and the man's face could show absolute devotion his did then. I honestly believe he would have proposed to her on the spot had she not, with a woman's intuition, foreseen the probability, quickly in his arm, and moved toward the entrance of the box. I saw them later during the play and I am sure he watched her face much more closely than he did the stage. After the curtain fell I stood on the sidewalk and heard him tell the driver to go to a fashionable restaurant. I am willing to bet a bottle of wine that their engagement is announced before a month is passed."

"The young man saw it just as I did and with a sigh of relief took the proffered pocket-book, but not without a gentle pressure on the hand—that so thoughtfully and delicately had tendered his offering. I doubted if the purse he opened it, my doubts fled. I could plainly see two or three $10 bills, neatly folded, in one corner, in the other, was a flower and two or three pieces of gold, evidently some of the samples to be found in every woman's purse or pocket.

"The tickets being paid for, the couple entered, and through the little door in the back of my office I saw them slip into the vestibule and engage in courteous discussion. He seemed to wish her to take back her purse, which she finally did, and opening it, gravely handed it to him. He at first refused to receive it, but she persisted and he accepted the loan. His hand closed over hers, and the man's face could show absolute devotion his did then. I honestly believe he would have proposed to her on the spot had she not, with a woman's intuition, foreseen the probability, quickly in his arm, and moved toward the entrance of the box. I saw them later during the play and I am sure he watched her face much more closely than he did the stage. After the curtain fell I stood on the sidewalk and heard him tell the driver to go to a fashionable restaurant. I am willing to bet a bottle of wine that their engagement is announced before a month is passed."

"The young man saw it just as I did and with a sigh of relief took the proffered pocket-book, but not without a gentle pressure on the hand—that so thoughtfully and delicately had tendered his offering. I doubted if the purse he opened it, my doubts fled. I could plainly see two or three $10 bills, neatly folded, in one corner, in the other, was a flower and two or three pieces of gold, evidently some of the samples to be found in every woman's purse or pocket.

"The tickets being paid for, the couple entered, and through the little door in the back of my office I saw them slip into the vestibule and engage in courteous discussion. He seemed to wish her to take back her purse, which she finally did, and opening it, gravely handed it to him. He at first refused to receive it, but she persisted and he accepted the loan. His hand closed over hers, and the man's face could show absolute devotion his did then. I honestly believe he would have proposed to her on the spot had she not, with a woman's intuition, foreseen the probability, quickly in his arm, and moved toward the entrance of the box. I saw them later during the play and I am sure he watched her face much more closely than he did the stage. After the curtain fell I stood on the sidewalk and heard him tell the driver to go to a fashionable restaurant. I am willing to bet a bottle of wine that their engagement is announced before a month is passed."

"The young man saw it just as I did and with a sigh of relief took the proffered pocket-book, but not without a gentle pressure on the hand—that so thoughtfully and delicately had tendered his offering. I doubted if the purse he opened it, my doubts fled. I could plainly see two or three $10 bills, neatly folded, in one corner, in the other, was a flower and two or three pieces of gold, evidently some of the samples to be found in every woman's purse or pocket.

"The tickets being paid for, the couple entered, and through the little door in the back of my office I saw them slip into the vestibule and engage in courteous discussion. He seemed to wish her to take back her purse, which she finally did, and opening it, gravely handed it to him. He at first refused to receive it, but she persisted and he accepted the loan. His hand closed over hers, and the man's face could show absolute devotion his did then. I honestly believe he would have proposed to her on the spot had she not, with a woman's intuition, foreseen the probability, quickly in his arm, and moved toward the entrance of the box. I saw them later during the play and I am sure he watched her face much more closely than he did the stage. After the curtain fell I stood on the sidewalk and heard him tell the driver to go to a fashionable restaurant. I am willing to bet a bottle of wine that their engagement is announced before a month is passed."

"The young man saw it just as I did and with a sigh of relief took the proffered pocket-book, but not without a gentle pressure on the hand—that so thoughtfully and delicately had tendered his offering. I doubted if the purse he opened it, my doubts fled. I could plainly see two or three $10 bills, neatly folded, in one corner, in the other, was a flower and two or three pieces of gold, evidently some of the samples to be found in every woman's purse or pocket.

"The tickets being paid for, the couple entered, and through the little door in the back of my office I saw them slip into the vestibule and engage in courteous discussion. He seemed to wish her to take back her purse, which she finally did, and opening it, gravely handed it to him. He at first refused to receive it, but she persisted and he accepted the loan. His hand closed over hers, and the man's face could show absolute devotion his did then. I honestly believe he would have proposed to her on the spot had she not, with a woman's intuition, foreseen the probability, quickly in his arm, and moved toward the entrance of the box. I saw them later during the play and I am sure he watched her face much more closely than he did the stage. After the curtain fell I stood on the sidewalk and heard him tell the driver to go to a fashionable restaurant. I am willing to bet a bottle of wine that their engagement is announced before a month is passed."

"The young man saw it just as I did and with a sigh of relief took the proffered pocket-book, but not without a gentle pressure on the hand—that so thoughtfully and delicately had tendered his offering. I doubted if the purse he opened it, my doubts fled. I could plainly see two or three $10 bills, neatly folded, in one corner, in the other, was a flower and two or three pieces of gold, evidently some of the samples to be found in every woman's purse or pocket.

"The tickets being paid for, the couple entered, and through the little door in the back of my office I saw them slip into the vestibule and engage in courteous discussion. He seemed to wish her to take back her purse, which she finally did, and opening it, gravely handed it to him. He at first refused to receive it, but she persisted and he accepted the loan. His hand closed over hers, and the man's face could show absolute devotion his did then. I honestly believe he would have proposed to her on the spot had she

The Republican.

Entered as second class matter.
HAMMONTON, ATLANTIC CO., N. J.
SATURDAY, JAN. 15, 1887.

Every individual of the large audience assembled in Union Hall, last Monday evening, was well pleased with the entertainment given by the Boston Star Company. We are not sufficiently familiar with musical terms, to properly word a criticism, but if hearty applause may be accepted as evidence, the entire company were highly approved. From old and young we have heard words of commendation. A lover of instrumental music says: "Miss Lida Low is one of the finest pianists I ever heard." John Thomas, the humorist, incites to laughter before he utters a word, and keeps his audience in a perfect roar. Walter Emerson is a complete master of the cornet, executing some of the most difficult movements. Nella F. Brown, the elocutionist, did her part well, seeming to understand the difficult art of arranging musical effects in a manner to give increased interest to her reading. Medora Henson-Emerson has a full, rich, cultivated voice, and a pleasing manner. She sang several songs, and responded twice to persistent recalls. We should be pleased to hear this company again, at next season.

The West Jersey Press says: "A bank has been organized at Hammonton, by a number of prominent gentlemen of that place and surrounding towns." That's going away from home to learn the news. We overheard an intimation of something of this kind a few days ago, and approached a gentleman whom we thought ought to know all about it, but found him so reticent that we thought it might be premature, and asked no more questions. We hope the report is true.

We were hoping that some of our thoughtful readers would have something to say, this week, on the subject of war bonds, and their assumption by the United States government. We fail to see an injustice in the plan proposed by our friend Thomson. Its details should be worked out by some competent man, and the matter be brought before Congress at the present session.

Last year, by Gov. Abbott's recommendation, our Legislature limited the expenditure for publishing the laws to $50,000. The Governor got into trouble with some of the publishers, and now asks for additional appropriation to cover deficiencies. The regular routine in every Democratic attempt at economy.

Nrs. M. Gheek intends opening a class for Needlework, such as crochet, knitting, netting, canvas and white embroidery, etc., with two lessons per week. French and German taught to ladies, gentlemen, and children, as heretofore. Address box 136, Hammonton.

Wood for Sale.—Oak wood, in the pole, $1.50 a two-horse load. Pine wood $1.50 per cord, two feet long, delivered. Please give me your custom; I will give you satisfaction. Leave your orders at the post-office and I will fill them promptly, in any part of town. L. HEWITT.

Regular meeting of Atlantic Division, Sons of Temperance, in the Masonic Hall, first and third Monday evenings in each month.

Insure your property against damage by lightning, as well as against loss by fire, by ordering your insurance of A. H. PHILLIPS. Correspondence solicited. Address, Hammonton or Atlantic City, N. J.

The Collector will be found at his office, over the Post Office, six days per week, and at home nearly every evening, ready for business. For the convenience of those living up town, my father, Lewis Hoyt, is authorized to receive taxes and report therefor.

Our Terms.—Our subscription price to all within the county is One Dollar per year if paid in advance. If not paid within the first two months, $1.25 per year, invariably. To subscribers outside of this county always $1.25 in advance as we are compelled to wrap papers and prepay postage.

The Baking farm, on First Road, Hammonton, is for sale. Nineteen acres of good land, with a comfortable house and other conveniences. Terms reasonable. Apply on the premises, or at the Republican's office.

AFFLICTED & UNFORTUNATE
all others fall consult
DR. LOBB
229 N. 14th St., below Callowhill, Phila. Pa.
20 years experience in all SPECIAL diseases. Permanently restores those afflicted with eye, ear, nose, throat, and other ailments. Address and strictly confidential. Hours: 11 a. m. till 8, and 7 to 10 evenings.

Washing and Ironing done at her home by Mrs. KATE MORRIS,
Egg Harbor Road and Vine St.,
Hammonton, N. J.

The REPUBLICAN and the Philadelphia Weekly Press one year for $1.25.

Now is your time. Bring in your cash. We don't offer chromos or other premiums, but give you the benefit of this special arrangement. Come now—don't wait.

In Chancery of New Jersey,

Between ELI STOCKWELL, Complainant, and SARAH D. WESCOAT et al., Defendants.

To Andrew H. Wescoat, Elizabeth Cloud, and Harmon Cloud her husband, by virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day of the date hereof, in a cause wherein Eli Stockwell is complainant and you and others are defendants, you are required to appear and plead, answer or demur, to the bill of said complaint, on or before the Second day of February next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a mortgage given by the late John Wescoat, deceased, and wife, to Eli Stockwell, complainant, on lands in the township of Millton, in the county of Atlantic, N. J., dated October 25th, A. D. 1877; and you, Andrew H. Wescoat, are made a defendant because you are an heir of the said John Wescoat; and you, Harmon Cloud, are made a defendant because you are the husband of Elizabeth Cloud, aforesaid.

Dated December 1st, 1886.
A. J. KING & SON,
Solicitors of Complainant,
Hammonton, N. J.

COAL.

Best Lehigh Coal for sale from yard, at lowest prices, in any quantity.

Orders for coal may be left at John A. Saxton's store. Coal should be ordered one day before it is needed.

GEORGE F. SAXTON.

J. MURDOCH,

MANUFACTURER OF SHOES.

Ladies', Men's, and Children's Shoes made to order.

Boys' Shoes a Specialty.

Requiring Neatly Done.

A good stock of shoes of all kinds always on hand.

First door—Small's Block,
Hammonton, N. J.

Harness!

Light and Heavy (hand made) always in stock.

Orders and Repairing promptly attended to.

L. W. COGLEY.

MONEY!

Wanted, three hundred dollars ($200) for seven years, on first mortgage on a twenty-acre farm. Inquire at the Republican's Office.

ORVILLE E. HOYT, Collector.

Our Terms.—Our subscription price to all within the county is One Dollar per year if paid in advance. If not paid within the first two months, $1.25 per year, invariably. To subscribers outside of this county always $1.25 in advance as we are compelled to wrap papers and prepay postage.

Wm. Bernshouse,
CONTRACTOR & BUILDER
[Of 32 years' Experience.]

Steam Saw and Planing Mill Lumber Yard.

Doors, Sash, Moldings, and Scroll-work.

Window-Glass, Odd sizes cut to order.

Lime, Cement, and Calcined Plaster.

Manufacturer of
FRUIT PACKAGES

Berry Chests
Cranberry and Peach

CRATES.
Odd Sizes of Fruit Crates made to order.

CEDAR SHINGLES
A Specialty.—odd sizes cut to order.

Oak and Pine Wood for Sale. Cut and Split if desired.

A large quantity of Pine and Cedar Cuttings, for Summer and kindling, $2.50 per cord. CEDAR PICKETS five and a-half feet long, for chicken yard fence.

J. S. Thayer,
contractor & Builder

Hammonton, N. J.

LUMBER
For sale, in small or large quantities.

HEATERS
Furnished and Repaired.

Plans, Specifications, and Estimates Furnished

JOBING
Of all kinds promptly attended to.

Shop on Bellevue Avenue, next door to Elam Stockwell's store.

Orders left at the shop, or at Stockwell's store, will receive prompt attention.

Charges reasonable. P. O. box 53.

W. Rutherford,
Hammonton, N. J.,
Conveyancer, Notary Public,
Real Estate and Insurance

AGENCY.

Insurance placed only in the most reliable Companies.

Deeds, Leases, Mortgages, etc., Carefully drawn.

OCEAN TICKETS
To and from all parts of Europe, made out while you wait, at the Companies' lowest rates.

Office, in Rutherford's Block.

For Sale & To Rent,

I have a number of properties for sale ($500 to $3000 each), and having some twenty five town lots, I am able to give better satisfaction in location and price than any other parties in town.

I am also agent for what is known as the Clark property, now owned by J. B. Smeal.

T. J. SMITH,
Hammonton, N. J.

Wood for Sale.
—AT ANCORA.
As it lies on the clearing.
One-horse load, 25 cents.
Two-horse load, 50 cents—cash.
Apply on the premises,
M. M. WALKER.

THOS. HARTSHORN,
Hammonton, N. J.
Paper Hanger, House Painter.

Orders left with S. E. Brown & Co., or in Post-office box 206 will receive prompt attention.

Job Printing of all kinds

S. E. BROWN & Co.

Judging from the way the carpets, stoves, pumps, and sewing machines, etc., are selling, what we have heretofore said has been remembered, and the time to speak of other things has arrived.

Since we have increased our stock of carpets within a few days, we will just refer to 'em once more, giving prices:

Hemp Carpet, full width, 20 c. pr. yd.
Cottage " " 33 " "
Rag " " 40 " "
" " " 47 " "
" " " 50 " "
Lograins " " 60 " "
All-wood " " 72 " "
Brussels " " 75 " "

Matting and Carpet Lining always in stock.

Concerning our Furniture department we have said but little. Until very lately, we have not put in any new stock, preferring to lessen the quantity on hand in order to thoroughly clean our furniture rooms. While we would not boast of the matter of furniture, yet we can sell you a good strong Bedstead for $3; others for $3.75, $5, and $6, etc.

A nice and substantial Chamber Suit of seven pieces for $24. A good, strong, and neat 8-foot Cherry Extension Table for $7.50, or a 10-foot black walnut drop-leaf extension-table, $10.

We think we can treat you very fairly in the matter of Carpets and Furniture; at all events it will cost you nothing to examine our stock.

There are two things in our store which we have never yet called your attention to, viz: our 5 and 10 cent tables. Some time ago we counted the articles on the 5-cent table, and to our surprise found over 1400. Always look over these tables, as we frequently add new goods to them.

January and February—dull times, some people say; but let's see what's going on around our place for a day. There comes a lady—wants a stove door fixed and mica put in; buys a lamp-bracket, lamp, burner and chimney. This man wants clothes-line, clothes-pins, etc. Another wants a lounge; still another, a stove; a third buys glue, oyster-knife, level, bits, etc.; a fourth, wall-paper and carpet; fifth, a grub-hoe; another wants carriage curtains. All day long, something wanted. Occasionally a person comes in saying: "I want to pay my bill." If we ever have the blues, that is the man who settles our case. We feel like shaking his hand, and treating him to peanuts at once. If you don't believe it, just try us.

A few more prices, and we must close for this time:
Wood-saws, 50 c, 60 c, 70 c, 85 c.
Hammers, 40, 50, 60 c.
Saw-sets, 25, 50, 75, 85.
Holes, 10, 15, 30, 40, 85, $1.15.
Pumps, $1.55, 2.25, 2.50, 2.60, 3.25, 3.50, 4.15.

* Job-let, extra heavy and handsome, † Beautiful pattern, and very trim.

S. E. B. & Co.

The Republican.

SATURDAY, JAN. 15, 1887.

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

Post meeting to-night.

Miss Cora Newton invites you to call at her new store.

Listen for Sam. W. Gilbert's meat-broth, some time next week.

Mr. P. H. Jacobs attends the Boston Poultry Show, next week.

Born.—on Sunday last, Jan. 9th, to Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Snor, a son.

S. E. Brown & Co.'s column contains some things of general interest, this week.

The January thaw began on Wednesday. Rain began to fall Thursday night.

The annual meeting of the Fruit Growers' Union will be held on Saturday, Jan. 29th.

Andrew K. H. Doughty, lately of Elwood, has moved into his new house at Collingswood.

The holidays are over, and Chicago beef will be found at Jackson's every Saturday, as usual.

The Whitmore and Geishaker Combination are billed for an entertainment at Williamstown this evening.

Capt. R. W. Sargeant, of Maine, the first importer of those great handsome Langshan fowls, was in town last week.

Mr. J. S. Thayer has a contract to build a house for Mr. Bowen, on Central Avenue, and will push the work as soon as weather permits.

Rev. J. B. Sheppard, of Bridgeton, is expected to preach in the Baptist Church to-morrow. Mr. Ogden, the pastor-elect, is detained by the illness of his wife.

Miss Bertha Gage is now teacher of the Columbia School. Bertha is a good scholar, has decision of character, and some experience. She will no doubt succeed.

The entertainment given recently under the management of Mrs. May Oakleigh, netted $106.50, which amount has been placed in the treasury of the Fire Company.

So far as the Town Treasurer can ascertain, there is not an unpaid town or school order in the hands of any one. If the reader has one, he can have cash for it whenever he wishes.

Mrs. Samuel Thompson, formerly a resident here, died, lately, at the home of one of her children, in Massachusetts, where she was visiting. She was buried by the side of her husband, in Athens, Penna.

Regular meeting of the Poultry Association on Monday evening next. This is a change from Tuesday evening for this occasion only, because of business which could not otherwise come before the members.

Will B. Oliver appears to be making a success in his new position as Superintendent at Pleasant Mills. It is a responsible position for a young man, but he seems to have the ability and determination to succeed.

The services at St. Mark's Episcopal Church, to-morrow, will be Morning Prayer and Holy Communion at 10:30 A. M. Sunday school at 2:30 P. M. Evening Prayer with sermon at 3:30. Rev. G. R. Underhill, Rector.

The Hammonton Cranberry and Improvement Association have declared a dividend of two dollars per share on the capital stock as recorded on the books of the Association Jan. 6th, 1887, payable on demand, by P. S. Tilton, Treasurer. Stockholders must present their certificates.

A two-inch fall of snow, Sunday last, renewed the already excellent sleighing, making it as good as was ever known here. We never saw boys enjoy sleighing as they have this week, for every man who owns a horse seems anxious to share the pleasure, by allowing all who wish to hang on, or "hitch behind."

Personal.—If the sister of Peter Don, an aged Italian, will write to the undersigned, she will learn of something very much to her advantage. When last in N. J. if she be dead, her husband or heirs should promptly communicate with me. Address ALFRED ASHTON, 100 N. 15th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

The above appeared in our columns last week. Since then we received a letter from Mr. Ashton, in which he says: "I was informed that Mr. Don was an Italian, but it turns out that he belonged to an old and highly respectable Swiss family."

SCHOOL REPORT.

The following pupils of the Hammonton Schools have received an average of 90 in department, 80 or above in recitations, and have been regular in attendance, during the week ending Friday, Jan. 7th, 1887, and thereby constitute the

ROLL OF HONOR.
HIGH SCHOOL.

W. B. MATTHEWS, Principal.
Thomas Elvin, Ralph Jones, Harry Smith, Nellie Taylor, Emma Wood, Eva Van, John W. Parkhurst, John H. Roberts, Emma Fausco, May Conley.

GRAMMAR DEPARTMENT.
Miss MINSIE COLWELL, Teacher.
Fred Miller, Frank Whittier, Edna Hall, Annie Whittier, Lillie Hoyt, Willie Hoyt, Lucy Hood, Edna Cordery, Ruth Clark, Nellie Deane, Henry Stockwell, Laura Baker, Charles Sturtevant, George Lawson, Arthur Elliott, Lillie Barrett, Willie Loyer.

INTERMEDIATE DEPARTMENT.
Miss C. A. UNDERWOOD, Teacher.
Mary Hall, Maggie Adams, John Baker, Edna Newman, Edna Whittier, Belle Hurley, Corna White, Lillie Loyer.

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.
Miss Nettie D. FOGG, Teacher.
Fred Reid, Maggie Miller, Harry Simons, Lawrence Knight, Edna Lewis, Marjorie Whittier, Harry Hutterford, Florence Miller, Ada Clark, Marjorie Potter, Hattie Jones, Maurice Jones, Herbert Cordery, Percy Whiffen, Ada Doves, Walter Herbert, Hannah Jones.

LAKE SCHOOL.
Miss Flora Potter, Teacher.
William Good, Frank Brown, Fannie French, Pasquana Bartoli, Belle Deyna, Gus Robertson, Freddie Biala.

MAIN ROAD SCHOOL.
Newton C. HOODRIDGE, Teacher.
No Report—teacher sick.

MIDDLE ROAD SCHOOL.
Miss Clara Cavlier, Teacher.
Harry Montfort, Nita Chambers, John Rogers, Annetta Wheeler, Katie Gordon, Hattie Crawley, Dudley Farnum, Robert Newcomb, Phoebe Newcomb, Nina Moore.

MAGNOLIA SCHOOL.
Miss Carrie Carhart, Teacher.
Abbie Bakery, Frank Brown, Edna Lewis, Edna Whittier, Lillie Johnson, John Heiser, Chris. Heiser, Victor Moore, Lida Doves, Walter Inespaard, Chris. Holman.

COLUMBIA SCHOOL.
No Report.

STATISTICS.

NAME OF SCHOOL	Teachers	Male	Female	Total	Attendance	Books	Spelling	Reading	Writing	Arithmetic	Grammar	History	Geography	Science	Music	Art	Physical	Other
High School	1	30	30	60	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100
Grammar Department	1	30	30	60	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100
Intermediate Dept.	1	30	30	60	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100
Primary Dept.	1	30	30	60	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100
Total Central School	4	120	120	240	400	400	400	400	400	400	400	400	400	400	400	400	400	400
Main Road School	1	30	30	60	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100
Middle Road School	1	30	30	60	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100
Columbia School	1	30	30	60	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100	100

The Independent Order of Red Men having rented the new hall over Mr. Black's brick store, have furnished it in a tasteful style, and on Tuesday evening last took possession, inviting many of their friends to attend. They entertained their guests with recitations, songs, addresses, and ventriloquism, and set before them a good supper in Small's Hall. The following officers were also installed:

Satchon.—H. B. Blythe.

Sr. Stigmator, Edw. Bennett.

Jr. " John Austin.

Sargants.—Wm. H. Burgess, David F. Lawson.

Wardens.—Chas. Austin, D. Albertson, Edw. Reed, George Bennett.

Deacons.—John Digler, Isaac Taylor, Chas. Simons, Clayton Scullin.

Guard of Wiganan.—Chas. Scullin.

Sr. Dea. A. Russell Post, at their last meeting, installed the following:

Commander.—Chas. Woodnut.

Sr. Vice Com.—Wm. Galbraith.

Jr. Vice Com.—J. M. Jordan.

Q. M.—Orville E. Moore.

Q. M. S.—John Atkinson.

Adjutant.—W. H. H. Bradbury.

S. Major.—Wm. Rutherford.

O. D.—B. F. Henshaw.

O. G.—Geo. Bernshouse.

Chaplain.—Alex. Aitken.

Outside Guard.—Wm. Jones.

Surgeon.—Dr. H. E. Bowles.

Trustees.—Aitken, Monfort, Beverage.

Representatives.—Aitken, Parkhurst.

Alternates.—Atkinson, Moore.

The Hammonton Loan & Building Association have elected the following officers:

President.—R. J. Byrnes.

Secretary.—W. R. Tilton.

Treasurer.—G. F. Saxton.

Directors.—Wm. Bernshouse, S. E. Brown, T. J. Smith, Benj. Crawley, D. C. Herbert, G. Valentine.

The Association is prospering.

For Rent.—A house containing six rooms, near the depot, inquire of Mrs. M. C. GASK (formerly Cate).

The Best Sausage

Ever made in Hammonton,

At Jackson's. Try it.

Now Ready, at

Herbert's Shoe Store,

Bellevue Avenue, near Second St.,

HAMMONTON. Repairing well Done.

It is a Fact That nine-tenths of the buildings painted in Hammonton, the last four years, (and they number two hundred, were painted with

Hammonton Paint,

Manufactured by

JOHN T. FRENCH,

Hammonton Paint Works, Hammonton, N. J.

Stylish Millinery, Dry Goods, Notions, etc. CHEAP!

Wholesale & Retail.

J. J. Taylor

405-407 North Second Street, Philadelphia.

INSURANCE.

"Imitation is the sincerest flattery." I was one of the first, if not the first, to give Lightning clauses to all my insurances, and to extra charges for them, either. All damages by lightning paid, whether fire causes or not. All questions on insurance, whether verbal or by mail

What Does It Matter?

What and glory, and place and power. What are they worth to me or you? For the lease of life runs out in an hour...

PERILS OF AUTHORSHIP.

Mildred's pretty face wore a new expression as she toyed with her teaspoon and tried to finish her roll and coffee. John had just left for his office...

Phoebe's Romance.

Phoebe Tasson was sent to Grand-Aunt Garraway's at the foot of High peak, to get out of the way of Mr. Middleton De Motte.

FASHION NOTES.

In a dark begonia-colored velvet a medium shade is used to suggest the foundation and underbolos of the dress.

Dreams.

Let them dream their dream of perfect love. It is the sweetest feeling, the most fair, the flower-like joy that blooms in the soft air.

MAN-EATING TIGERS.

How Natives in Various Parts of China Are Devoured. For a long time I was disposed to treat their tiger stories with ridicule...

LOVE IN THE DARK.

We were seated in luxurious arm-chairs before the cheerful open grate in Jack's snug smoking-room, enjoying his excellent Havana, when my host broke the silence...

THE NEW PRECIOUS STONE.

A slender Crystal Found in Connecticut with the Emerald. A new precious stone has lately been brought to the notice of jewelers and the public in discoveries made by Mr. William Earl Hiddell...

DECORATIVE NEEDLEWORK.

The Estem in Which it was Held by the Upper Classes of England. In all times decorative needlework seems to have been esteemed as an employment for women of the upper classes...

Berlin Marriages.

Among the 13,314 couples who got married in Berlin last year were 561 widows, 229 divorced women, and one man who had the courage to marry a woman who had been divorced three times...

Prayer is the outlet of the saint's sorrow.

Prayer is the outlet of the saint's sorrow, and the inlet of their supports and comforts. In a tone of mingled indignation and fright 'Let go my hand; you have made a mistake.'

WONDERFUL SUCCESS.

ECONOMY IS WEALTH. All the PATTERNS you wish to use during the year for nothing (a saving of from $3.00 to $4.00) by subscribing for

The South Jersey Republican
Demorest's Illustrated Monthly Magazine
With Twelve Orders for Cut Paper Patterns of your own selection and of any size.
BOTH PUBLICATIONS, ONE YEAR, FOR $2.60 (TWO SIXTY).

DEMAREST'S THE BEST
Of all the Magazines.
CONTAINING STORIES, POEMS, AND OTHER LITERARY ATTRACTIONS, COMBINING ARTISTIC SCIENTIFIC, AND HOUSEHOLD MATTERS.
Illustrated with Original Steel Engravings, Photographures, Oil Pictures, and Fine Woodcuts, making it the Model Magazine of America.
Each Magazine contains a coupon order entitling the holder to the selection of any pattern illustrated in the fashion department in that number, and in any of the sizes manufactured, making patterns during the year of the value of over three dollars.
DEMAREST'S MONTHLY is justly entitled the Largest in Circulation, and the best TWO Dollar Family Magazine issued. 1887 will be the Twenty-second year of its publication. It is continually improved and so extensively as to place it at the head of Family Periodicals. It contains 72 pages, large quarto, 8 1/2 x 11 1/2 inches, elegantly printed and fully illustrated. Published by W. Jenning Demorest, New York.
AND BY SPECIAL AGREEMENT COMBINED WITH
THE SOUTH JERSEY REPUBLICAN
AT $2.60 PER YEAR.

DR. JOHN BULL'S
Smith's Tonic Syrup
FOR THE CURE OF
FEVER and ACUE
Or CHILLS and FEVER,
AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.
BULL'S SARSAPARILLA is the old and reliable remedy for impurities of the blood and Scrofulous affections.

DR. JOHN BULL'S
SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP,
BULL'S SARSAPARILLA,
BULL'S WORM DESTROYER,
The Popular Remedies of the Day.
Principal Office, 83 1/2 Main St., LOUISVILLE, KY.

THE SPY OF THE REBELLION
By the Great Detective, Chief of U. S. Secret Service, ALLAN PINKERTON.

AGENTS WANTED
The "SPY" is now selling by the Tens of thousands. No competition. The only copy book of its kind. The "SPY" reveals many secrets of the year never before published. Thrilling narratives of PINKERTON'S SPY, that exposed the plots of our enemies, and the accounts of the capture of our Federal Spies in the Rebel Capital; their tortures and heroic bravery are fully recounted in these vivid sketches, and make it the most thrilling war book ever published. Endorsed by hundreds of Press and Agents' testimonials. A large handsome book of 320 pages, with 50 illustrations.
Sold only by our Agents. Can not be found in bookstores. Sell to merchants, farmers, mechanics and everybody. We want one agent in every Grand Army Post and in every township and county in the U. S.
For full particulars and terms to agents address G. W. CARLETON & CO., Publishers, New York.

GARDNER & SHINN
IN URANCEAGEN
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.,
References: Policy holders
in the Atlantic City
Ares.

LORD & THOMAS, NEWSPAPER
Advertisers, 46 to Randolph St., Chicago, keep this paper on file and are authorized to make contracts with ADVERTISERS.

GOLD fields are scarce, but those who write to Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine, will receive free, full information about work which they can do, and invest money that will pay them from $5 to $20 per day. Some have earned over $20 a day. Either new or old. Capital not required. You are started free. Those who start at once are absolutely sure of a big little fortune. All is new.

THE INDEPENDENT

The Largest,
The Ablest,
The Best
Religious and Literary Newspaper in the World.

"One of the ablest weeklies in existence." - Pall Mall Gazette, London, England.
"The most influential religious organ
in the States." - The Spectator, London, England.
"Clearly stands in the fore-front as a weekly religious magazine." - Sunday-school Times, Philadelphia.

It is a Religious,
Literary, Educational,
Art, Story,
Financial, Insurance,
Scientific, Political,
Agricultural, Sunday-school
NEWSPAPER

It has more and abler Contributors than any three of its contemporaries. It stands in the front ranks of journalism, and every person of intelligence should read it.

Terms to Subscribers.
One month 30
Three months 75
Four months $1.00
Six months 1.50
Nine months 2.25
One year 3.00
Two years 5.00
Three years 7.00
Four years 8.50
Five years 10.00

Send postal card for a free sample copy and clubbing list if you wish to subscribe for any magazines or other newspapers at less than publishers' prices.

The Independent,
251 Broadway, New York City.

HERMANN FIEDLER,
MANUFACTURER
AND
WHOLESALE DEALER IN CIGARS,
Hammonton, N. J.

New York Tribune.

While the NEW YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE is the most expensive publication of its class in the United States, it is sold at a price now fixed at $1 a year, the semi-weekly at $2, in both cases an extra copy
with a club of ten.
The campaign just closed found the country in the trough of the political wave. The Republican managers have made the best struggle they could against a state of general apathy. In a few states they have been aided by the inspiring presence of a great leader whose speeches have won almost the only enthusiasm anywhere shown. The result of the campaign is gratifying: its sides are an inspiration; the Democratic losses are a plain guide to popular drift.
From this time forward the country will feel the lift of the advancing wave of 1888, which, if we all do our duty, will sweep out of us Washington the most questioned man in possession, the foes of protection, equity and patriotic government. It is now the duty of all earnest and energetic workers to bend their energy toward united and heroic work for 1888. The party is to be re-constituted, cheered, and rallied. To this work the Tribune pledges its zealous efforts.
The Tribune offers for 1888 several excellent premiums, including THE TRIBUNE

Book of Open Air Sports,
A work compiled by the Tribune, especially for the young men of the United States. It is a thorough statement of the present state of open-air athletic amusement in our land, with suggestions to the friends of the rules of every important game, records of noted contests, and achievements of American champions.
The book will contain about 100 illustrations. Chapters are provided on Archery, Baseball with record of wonderful playing and League and Association contests, and instruction as to how to cure a ball, Court Tennis, Lawn Tennis, Football, Golf, Lacrosse, Hockey, Horseback riding, Cross-Country Hounding, Yachting, with a description of Sloop and Cutter and instructions
how to sign, build and sail a boat; Towling, Canoeing, Fishing, Trapping, Swimming, Hunting with shot gun and rifle, Camping, War or Sports, Bicycle, Amateur Photography, and a few minor sports.
Among the contributors are: Wm. Blake, Maurice Thompson, Capt. Jacob A. Auger, Cavalry Instructor at West Point, David Kirby, Thomas Clapham, Gen.
Geo. W. Wingate, Prof. Geo. Goldie, Director of the New York Athletic Club, and a large number of private gentlemen throughout the country have furnished facts concerning the wild game and hunting sports of their several localities. No book of this character has ever been put into print in America. It is sufficiently elemental to be a "Boy's Own Book," and answers all the queries of the young man, and will also meet the demands of adults. Will be ready for delivery Dec. 1st. Octavo, 60 pages. Retail price, $2.50. Terms, postage weekly: with Weekly, one year,
$2.50; with Semi-weekly, 1 year, $3.50; with Daily, $10.50. Only to be had in connection with yearly subscriptions to the Tribune.
Also "Bunt's Rifle Practice," a book for every hunter and National Guardsman; a fine Wall-map of the low-priced Waterbury Watch; and two Unabridged Dictionaries; Wood's Medicine; Hygiene and Surgery illustrated; and Young's Concurrence of the Bible.
Sample copy, giving terms in full sent free. Order by postal card.
A Club Agent wanted wherever there is none.

THE TRIBUNE, New York.

MUNN & CO'S PATENTS
ESTABLISHED 1846
NEW YORK
After forty years' experience in the preparation of more than one hundred thousand applications for patents in the United States and Foreign countries, the publishers of the Scientific American continue to act as solicitors for patents, caveats, trade-marks, copy rights, etc., for the United States, and to obtain patents in Canada, England, France, Germany, and other countries. Their experience is unequalled and their facilities are unsurpassed.
Drawings and specifications prepared and filed in the Patent Office on short notice. Terms very reasonable. No charge for examination of models or drawings. Advice by mail free.
Patents obtained through Munn & Co. are notified in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, which has the largest circulation and is the most influential newspaper of its class published in the world. The advantages of such a notice every patentee understands.
This large and splendidly illustrated newspaper is published WEEKLY at $3.00 a year, and is admitted to be the best paper devoted to science and mechanics. Inventions, engineering works, and mechanical progress, published in any country. It contains the names of all patentees and lists of every invention patented in this week. Try it for one month for one dollar. Sold by all newsdealers.
If you have an invention to patent write to Munn & Co., Publishers of Scientific American, 37 Broadway, New York.
Handbook about patents mailed free.

It is quite likely that Mr. Morrison will try his hand again at getting his tariff revision measure considered by the House. Between Mr. Morrison, his wife and the Democrat majority, the business interests of the country are kept in agitation and uncertainty.
The St. Louis Globe-Democrat condenses the situation to which the people have so strangely persisted in shutting their eyes: "The free negro counts for more than he did as a slave in the respect that his emancipation has increased the number of congressmen and presidential electors to which the South is entitled, and which she elects without giving the colored voters any chance to be heard in the proceeding; but that is about the only way in which his value has been advanced."

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

JOHN ATKINSON,
Tailor,
Has opened a shop in Rutherford's Block
Hammonton.
Garments made in the best manner.
Scouring and Repairing promptly done.
Rates reasonable. Satisfaction guaranteed in every case.

The Weekly Press.
THE BEST OF
Metropolitan Newspapers.
Only $1.00 per Year.
The Most Liberal and Varied
Premium List Ever Before Offered.

Favorable combinations with all the popular Literary and Class periodicals.
The Weekly Press is printed in bold, clear type. It is staunchly Republican in politics.
Weekly Contents.
An elaborate digest of all the news of the week. Good original stories from the best authors. Special articles on interesting topics.
The Farm and Garden Department, seasonable and edited by a practical farmer.
The Helping Hand, devoted exclusively to the interests of women in the household work, literary culture, social advancement, and entertainment.
Outings and Innings caters to the pure and healthful entertainment of young people of both sexes in every station of life.
The Market Reports come from every important commercial centre, and may be relied upon as absolutely correct up to the hour of going to press.
The War Articles that have attracted so much attention for their interest and accuracy will be continued through the coming year.
A Sample Copy Free
Of both the Weekly Press and its magnificent Premium List will be sent to any address upon application. Be sure you are getting the most and best for your money before subscribing.
Address
THE PRESS CO., Limited,
Philadelphia.

NEW JERSEY
State Normal & Model School
TRENTON.
Fall Term commences Monday, Sept. 13
TOTAL COST for Board, Tuition, Books, etc., at the NORMAL SCHOOL, $154 for Ladies and $180 for gentlemen; at the MODEL SCHOOL $200 per year. Buildings thoroughly heated by steam. The Model School offers to both young Ladies and Gentlemen superior advantages in all its departments, viz: Mathematical, Classical, Commercial, Musical, Drawing, and in Belles Lettres. For Circulars containing full particulars, address
W. HASBROUCK, Principal,
Trenton, New Jersey.

THIS PAPER may be found on Newspaper Advertising Bureau (10 Spruce Street), where advertising contracts may be made for it in NEW YORK.
Established in 1860.
THE
NATIONAL REPUBLICAN,
Washington, D. C.
Daily, except Sundays. Price, $6. per year, in advance, postage free.
Weekly National Republican
Devoted to general news and original matter obtained from the Department of Agriculture and other Departments of the Government, relating to farming and planting interest.
An advocate of Republican principles, reviewing fearlessly and fairly the acts of Congress and the National Administration. Price, $1 per year in advance, postage free.
E. W. FOX,
President and Manager.
The SOUTH JERSEY REPUBLICAN and the National Republican—two weekly papers, one year for $1.75—the only paper in Atlantic County that can make this offer.

Camden and Atlantic Railroad.

Monday, Oct. 4, 1886.
DOWN TRAINS.

STATIONS.	At Ac.	At Ex.	Exp.	Sat'y	Exp.	Exp.	Acco.	Exp.	Su. Ex.	S. Exp.	Su. Ac.	S. Exp.	Su. Ac.
	a.m.	a.m.	p.m.	p.m.	p.m.	p.m.	p.m.	p.m.	p.m.	p.m.	p.m.	p.m.	p.m.
Philadelphia	8 00						3 30	4 30				8 00	4 00
Camden	8 10						3 30	4 30				8 00	4 00
Haddonfield	8 20						4 00	5 00				8 20	4 20
Berlin	8 30						4 10	5 10				8 30	4 30
Atco	8 40						4 20	5 20				8 40	4 40
Waterford	8 50						4 30	5 30				8 50	4 50
Winslow	9 00						4 40	5 40				9 00	5 00
Hammonton	9 10						4 50	5 50				9 10	5 10
Da Costa	9 20						5 00	6 00				9 20	5 20
Elwood	9 30						5 10	6 10				9 30	5 30
Egg Harbor City	9 40						5 20	6 20				9 40	5 40
Absecon	9 50						5 30	6 30				9 50	5 50
Atlantic City	10 20						5 10	6 42				10 20	6 22

UP TRAINS.

STATIONS.	At Ac.	Exp.	Exp.	Acco.	Exp.	Exp.	Exp.	Su. Ac.	Sunday	Exp.	S. Ac.	S. Exp.	Su. Ac.
	a.m.	a.m.	p.m.	p.m.	p.m.	p.m.	p.m.	p.m.	p.m.	p.m.	p.m.	p.m.	p.m.
Philadelphia	9 05		9 40		5 50			10 05				9 20
Camden	9 15		9 50		6 00			10 15				9 30
Haddonfield	9 25		10 00		6 10			10 25				9 40
Berlin	9 35		10 10		6 20			10 35				9 50
Atco	9 45		10 20		6 30			10 45				10 00
Waterford	9 55		10 30		6 40			10 55				10 10
Winslow	10 05		10 40		6 50			11 05				10 20
Hammonton	10 15		10 50		7 00			11 15				10 30
Da Costa	10 25		11 00		7 10			11 25				10 40
Elwood	10 35		11 10		7 20			11 35				10 50
Egg Harbor City	10 45		11 20		7 30			11 45				11 00
Absecon	10 55		11 30		7 40			11 55				11 10
Atlantic City	11 20		12 00		8 00			12 20				11 40

READ
The New Jersey
EDITION
OF THE
N. Y. World.
Fourteen columns daily of special New Jersey news, with full reports of the Legislature, and all the general news of the day.
Two papers—twelve pages—for two cents.
The brightest paper in America.
New Jersey office,
JERSEY CITY.

Camden & Atlantic Railroad
On and after Oct. 16th, 1885.
Trains will leave as follows for ATLANTIC.—
From Vine Street Ferry.—Express week-days
3.30 p.m.
Accommodation week-days, 8.00 am, 4.30 pm.
Sundays, 8.00 am and 4.00 pm.

AGENTS WANTED
In every town to sell the Improved
SHANNON LETTER and BILL FILE
Price, $2.50, the greatest Labor-Saving OFFICE DEVICE ever invented, and
THE COSMOPOLITAN
Price, $1.50, the best illustrated low-
price magazine in the world. It contains 64 pages and
is brim full of first-
class short stories,
travels, adventures,
scientific and literary articles, by distinguished foreign and American writers; also entertaining juvenile and invaluable Home-
hold Department.
Get SAMPLE
STAND or send 20
cts. to the Publishers to the Publishers.
No. 4 A File, $2.50 for same with Price $2.25, full particulars
$4.75 in value for only $2.50.
SHELIGHT & FIELD CO., ROCHESTER, N.Y.

Rare Chance for Agents
We have just issued from the press a volume which sells at sight. Any industrious person can earn three to ten dollars a day, and often much more, with the
New Ladies' Medical Guide,
By Drs. Parcast and Vanderbeck. A Counsellor and Friend, absolutely indispensable to mothers and daughters. The structure and functions of the Reproductive Organs illustrated and explained clearly and fully by the highest authority in the United States.
All diseases of women and children, with symptoms and treatment, etc., etc. Over 120 illustrations, and 200 pages. Price, only $2.00.
The largest, cheapest, and only authentic,
reliable, and satisfactory work of the kind.
The success of our canvassers is unparalleled!
Ladies accomplish much good, and make money very fast selling this book. Circulars and terms free. Get a sample copy by mail on receipt of price. Address
JOHN E. POTTER & Co.,
Publishers
617 Sansom St., Philadelphia, Penna.

WANTED
Practical Canvasers of experience and ability in every township, to handle a new and standard work of great merit and virtue. THE Modern Family Physician
'And Hygienic Guide.
Specially prepared for family and individual use by three of Philadelphia's most noted medical men and sanitarians. A volume representing a vast expenditure of time and money, and embracing all diseases known to medical science, with their proper treatment, by specialists of world-wide reputation. How to build, ventilate, light, heat, and drain houses; and physical culture, including a progressive course in Callisthenics and Swedish Light Gymnastics, are among the original features of this modern volume. Every illustration and illustration, including superb colored lithographs never before equaled in this country, is new, and the book stands next to the Bible in value and importance in the home. Its hygienic teachings will, if followed, save any family several hundred dollars of doctor's bills. Bound in the magnificent volume of nearly 1200 pages and over 300 illustrations and never approached for completeness and practical value. Send stamp for highest endorsement from the leading papers in America, descriptive circulars and full particulars regarding agency. Our vast capability of handling a heavy book of sterling merit and large and steady sale, will to give you an opportunity unequalled for several years.
Address
JOHN E. POTTER & Co.,
Publishers,
617 Sansom St., Philadelphia, Penna.

A Lecture to Young Men
On the Loss of MANHOOD
Lecturer on the Nature, Treatment, and Radical cure of Seminal Weakness, or Spermatorrhoea, induced by self-abuse, Involuntary Emissions, Impotency, Nervous Debility, and Impediments to Marriage generally; Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits; Mental and Physical Incapacity, etc.—by ROBERT J. CULVER-
WELL, M.D., author of the "Green Book," &c.
The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly prescribes from his own experience, that the awful consequences of self-abuse may be effectually removed without dangerous surgical operations, blisters, instruments, rings, or cordials, pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.
This Lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.
Sent, under seal, in plain envelope, to any address
on receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps.
The Culverwell Medical Co.
41 Ann Street, New York. Post Office Box 466
23-1/2

FREE MENTION
Send 10 cents postage, and we will mail you free a royal, valuable
sample box of goods that will pay
you in the way of making new
money at once that anything else
in America. Both sexes of all ages
can live at home and work in spare time, or all the time. Capital not required. We will start you. Immediate pay sure for those who start at once. STINSON & CO., Portland, Maine.

FREE MENTION
Send 10 cents postage, and we will mail you free a royal, valuable
sample box of goods that will pay
you in the way of making new
money at once that anything else
in America. Both sexes of all ages
can live at home and work in spare
time, or all the time. Capital not required. We will start you. Immediate pay sure for those who start at once. STINSON & CO., Portland, Maine.