"DISCOURAGING.—A New York Tribune imagines that we have a great talent for making things, and has called for many years, but with very little success. An old friend called at would-be artist's studio, not long since abandoned, and said:—
"Why don't you stop spinning car and wasting good paint?"
"I'm not discouraged," was the reply. "In a few more years I may eat Raphael."
"Eclipse Raphael," sneered the old friend; "why, you are forty years old at least, and nobody can paint at your olden age. Do you know that at your age Raphael had been dead five years?"

True other night a lady of the first rank's acquaintance happened to be visiting in a household where it is safe to say that "Robert Elsmere" has been read, because the family are of an extremely set of orthodoxy. There was a little girl, and a very little girl, having found her way to violator's par, where she sat, big eyes and wistful, the visitor asked:—
"Do you like to have me tell you story?"
"Oh, no," said the child, with a shudder, "cause God would 't'nterfere with your story!"
"But I tell you of your pictures yet, yet we send missionaries to Japan and the South Sea Islands."

"By the way, Frank," said a friend of the eminent Chicago statesman, the two met for a moment in a Washington cold rest restaurant, "you did indeed have a once better night. I missed a very fine thing, that you had returned to the 'Caliph of Bagdad'."

Overtures to the Caliph of Bagdad exclaimed the eminent Chicago statesman, thickly, bringing his fist down the counter with the force of scattered knives, pokers and other articles, and saying: "The Caliph of Bagdad's any business with the 'Nited States' at him make the overtures hums 'n' gosh."

"I'm going to leave, mum."
"What for? I am sure I have do all the work myself, in order to keep you!"
"Well, mum, t'r work's not doing so suit me."

The late Reverend Daniel Leaveworth a great wear and a great snore. "Ah, there you are," cried a lady, surprised him one day enjoying pipe, "at your idol again."
"I'm not smoking," he replied cooly. "I hope you don't find fault with me, for I ought to be commending as you see I'm burning it."

HUSBAND.—"This house is as cold as barn, all the doors are swinging open and the children yelling, no signs of supper."
"Why—why, my dear, how can I be unable you are. You are absolutely wrong. The idea of talking that way after I've worked like a slave the whole morning, trying to finish this 'Heaven Bless Our Home' motto for the children."

His OFFENSE.—West Point cadet young lady—I am surprised to hear that Corporal Callow has been punished. Did you learn what his offense was, Miss Smith?
"No, I don't believe, Lieutenant Underbustard, that it was conduct unbecoming either an officer or a gentleman, but I have forgotten which."

FARBON.—I am astonished, sir, to hear a man with three married daughters say that "marriage is a failure."
"Citizen—Well, sir, when you have three families, beside your own to support, you may think that marriage is a positive bankruptcy."

MR. ROCKAWAY BEBINE.—Among the most unwelcome years in the life of a man, I understand, is the "middle age." Mr. Barker Corder—Well, it ought to be the author has made most difficulties for obtaining accurate information on the subject. He has been employed as a deputy in Ludlow street jail for the last quarter of a century.

BABBER, to customer—Oll, sir?
Customer, emphatically.—No!
Barber—You are right, sir. Now, I want you to turn your collar on the hair now, sir. (To next customer.) Oll, sir?
Customer.—Why, yes, I guess so. Proper thing, isn't it?
Barber.—Yes, sir. All our best people are using oil on their hair now days.

VISTON, regarding the baby.—Oll, that dear little duck of a child! He resembles you both, indeed he does. He's got his mother's handsome eyes and his father's hair.

Barber, fazed.—I think that child must have, I haven't.

PA NOWHERE.—Which do you love more, Bobby, your papa and mams, or your baby?
Bobby, after some consideration.—I think I love ma and the jack rabbit the best.

MRS. DOLLITER.—Oll, Henry, I have popped the water, plow other out the window, and I saw it light on a Green Island.

Dolliter, turning pale.—Oll, what damage you may have caused!
Mrs. Dolliver, in tears.—Yes, I do. I've put china and can't be replaced for more than $25. Oh, what shall I do?

PERSONAL ANALYSIS.

I. HIS PERSONAL DEVOTION.

1. Prompt:

A great while before day, he rose and went out (35).
He must will awake right early (36).
O God, thou art my God; early seek thee (Psa. 63: 1).
With my spirit within me shall I seek thee (37).
Those that seek me diligently shall me (Prov. 8: 17).

II. Prayerful:

1. He . . . departed into a desert and there prayed (35).
He went up into the mountain
apart (Matt. 14: 23).
He withdrew himself in the deserts,
prayed (Luke 5: 16).
He came out all night in prayer to God (6: 12).
Being in an agony, he prayed earnestly (Luke 22: 44).
II. Persistent:

Let us go into the next that he may I pray reach there also (38).
Jesus went about in all Galilee,
teaching (Matt. 4: 23).
I caught him saying good tidings . . .
that he preached in all the synagogues t must go on to way to-day and morrow (Luke 13: 33).
Who went about doing good (41).

1. "He rose up and went out, . . .
a desert place, and there . . ."
(1) His time of prayer; (2) His place of prayer; (3) His manner of prayer;
(4) His purpose in prayer.

2. "All are seeking thee," (1)
seekers; (2) The seeking; (3) sought.

3. "And when it came I forth," Consciousness of his appointed
(2) Pursuit of his appointed end.

II. HIS GENEROUS ZEAL.

A. Broad:

He went into their synagogues
throughout all Galilee (20).
Jesus went about all the cities . . .
in their synagogues (Matt. 9: 35).
He was preaching in the synagogues and glorifying God (44).
These things said he in the synagogues
(John 6: 59).
He has spoken openly to the world
(John 18: 20).

1. Sympathy with the people.

Being moved with compassion,
. . . touched him (41).
He was moved with compassion toward them (Matt. 9: 36).
He was moved with compassion on the multitude (Matt. 15: 32).
Jesus wept (John 11: 35).
We have not a high priest that can have sympathy with our weaknesses be touched (Heb. 4: 15).

II. Selfless:

He taught the leprosy
diseased from him (42).
He arose, and straightway took up his journey (43).
Straightway the damsel rose up,
walked (Mark 5: 42).
He is able to save to the uttermost (Heb. 7: 25).

1. To save, . . . preaching and doing deeds, . . . (1) Missionary teaching; (2) Perinent preaching;
Holy helpfulness.

2. "And ye that turn, ye must make clean." (1) Willingness of the sinner; (2) Ability of Jesus affirmed.

3. "Straightway the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed." (1) The healing command; (2) The healing response; cleansing.

II. HIS SELF-FORGOTTEN HUMILITY.

A. Laudation of Him Forbidden:

Use thou any nothing to any man (4)
I have no desire to be called they should tell no man that he was Christ (Mark 8: 20).
Tell the vision to no man (Matt. 17: 9).
Let no man enter into the village
(Mark 8: 20).

II. How to Moses Commanded:

Offer for thy cleansing the thing which Moses command d (44).
He will be the law of the leper (Lev. 14: 1-2).

A. Birds from him . . . two living clean birds (Lev. 14: 4).
He will be the priest, . . . he shall take two birds (Lev. 14: 4).
He will be the poor, . . . he shall take one lamb (Lev. 14: 21).

II. Labors for Him Multiplied:

[illegible][illegible]

This image shows a vertical strip of a document page that is severely damaged. The paper is torn and ragged, with a large, dark, irregular shape (likely a stain or a piece of tape) covering the right side. The left edge shows the binding of the book, with some text visible on the adjacent page. The text on the left page is partially obscured by the binding and the damage. The text on the right page is mostly illegible due to the damage and the dark shape. The overall appearance is that of an old, worn, and possibly water-damaged document.

HAMMONCTON, ATLANTIC CO., N. J.

SATURDAY, JAN. 10, 1889.

W. C. T. U.

The local Union met on Tuesday, with a good attendance. Much interest was manifested by the ladies. After the usual devotional exercises, a few minutes were devoted to business. The Union was pleased to receive a response to the greeting sent the Sons of Temperance. Mrs. U. S. Peabody is Chairman of a Committee to confer with one appointed by the Division to plan for future work.

Mrs. Lake read some very interesting articles on the effect of alcohol on the brain and nerves. It blunts all the fine sensibilities, weakens the will, and, oh, what a power for evil it is, not only on those who use it, but on future generations. Oh, that every father and mother in the land might realize this, and abstain from all alcoholic stimulants.
Mothers, we need you in our Union;
yes, every woman in our town, that we may work together for the purity of our homes.

I will give a part of the report of the State Superintendent of Juvenile Work.
"It is not the will of your Father which is in Heaven that one of these little ones should perish."

"Happy the state whose children learn in youth
To conquer evil with the sword of Truth."
"The world will be what you make it little people."

Who can estimate the importance of the work set before us in the rescue of the children of the nation from the pitfalls of sin which yawn, open mouthed, for them on every side? Only "He who hath measured the waters to the bottom of his hand, and meted out Heaven with the span, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure, and weighed the mountains in scales, and the hills in a balance." The drunkards of the next generation are largely in our hands.
The hope of the world lies in the right education of the children; and in the hands of the W. C. T. U. to-day, lies much of the training. Our State has become thoroughly organized during the past year, and I take pleasure in stating that numerous counties are doing good work in the juvenile field. There are about two hundred schools in the State, nine thousand members, and six hundred teachers.

We are to have a temperance school organized in Hammoncton. We do hope that all parents will be interested, and that it may be a power for good in our midst. The following notice is from Mrs. Allen, our Superintendent of juvenile work:

A Temperance school, or Loyal Temperance Legion, will be organized in the Baptist Church on Thursday afternoon, Jan. 24th, at four o'clock. All are invited. It is a free school, and no money is to be paid. The object of the school is to teach, by books, lectures, charts, black-board exercises, object lessons, and familiar talks, the nature and effects of alcoholic liquors, and other substances which are used for the purpose of intoxication, and how to avoid them.
We hope to have Mrs. A. M. Hammer, State Superintendent of this department, with us the last of this month. She will hold a children's meeting in the afternoon, and give the grown people a talk in the evening.
Every man, woman, and child will be welcome.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 29th.

Carl M. Cook, our jeweler, is at New York City, attending the School of Optics, to perfect himself in that science, which he has been studying for years. No man is fit to sell spectacles unless he understands the structure of the human eye, can recognize any disease or defect of that organ, and is thereby made competent to advise an applicant as to the kind of spectacles to use.

Barton Champion has a chum, John Richmond, who now resides at Oakhurst, Florida, in a forty acre orange plantation. Last year he sent to Barton a box of oranges which for size and beauty exceeded any we ever saw, here. Some of them weighed nearly a pound each.

A meeting of members of the Fruit Growers' Union, for the purpose of putting in nomination a ticket to be voted for at the annual meeting, will be held in the basement of Union Hall on Tuesday evening next, Jan. 22nd, at 7:30 o'clock.

Dividend.—The Hammoncton Cranberry and Improvement Association this day declared a dividend of 12 per cent.

A Model Newspaper

THE NEW YORK MAIL AND EXPRESS

The Advocate of the Best Interests of the Home—The Enemy of the Saloon. The Friend of American Labor. The Favorite Newspaper of People of Educated Tastes Everywhere.

The New York MAIL AND EXPRESS, the favorite American newspaper of many people of intelligent and cultivated tastes, has recently made some noteworthy improvements, materially increasing its general excellence. It is in the broadest sense

A National Newspaper, most carefully edited, and adapted to the wants and tastes of intelligent readers throughout the entire country—North, South, East and West. It is a thoroughly clean paper, free from the corrupting, sensational and demoralizing trash, mislabeled news, which defiles the pages of too many city papers.

OUR POLITICS.

We believe the Republican party to be the true instrument of the POLITICAL PROGRESS of the American people; and holding that the honest enforcement of its principles is the best guarantee of the national welfare, we shall support them with all our might; but we shall always treat opposing parties with consideration and fair play.

AGAINST THE SALOON.

The MAIL AND EXPRESS is the recognized National organ of the great Anti-Saloon Republican movement. It believes that the liquor traffic as it exists to-day in the United States is the enemy of society, a fruitful source of corruption in politics, the ally of anarchy, a school of crime, and, with its avowed purpose of seeking to corruptly control elections and legislation, is a menace to the public welfare and deserves the condemnation of all good men.

Building lots for sale, some of the best located in town, for the least amount of money. WM. COLWELL.

For Sale.—A sixty-acre farm, 14 miles from Elwood station. About thirty acres have been cleared and farmed. Inquire of WM. BERNHOUSE, Hammonton, N. J.

HAMMONTON, N. J., Jan. 8, '89. Mr. Editor:—As our usually quiet town is a good deal excited over the "White Cap" scare, and condemnation is heard on all sides, I think it but just that the boy, Alfred Pressey, should have some word spoken in his defence. There was not threat conveyed on the paper,—it simply told the gentleman to leave town, and on account of sickness in his family, gave him all the time he wanted to do so. It was a mean piece of business, that any boy ought to be ashamed of; and after realizing what mischief he had done, Alfred was ashamed, and expressed his willingness to ask pardon of Mr. Moore and family; but, on consultation, Mr. M. thought that, notwithstanding the youthfulness of the offender (15 years), "for the protection of the public it is best for the law to take its course."

Correspondents of the Philadelphia papers give our town officials quite a puff for their shrewdness in working the case. There was no case, and no working in the right direction. Alfred confessed his guilt at home. Mr. Moore was informed because it was the wish of his parents that the matter should be cleared up and no innocent ones suspected. The boy is forced to leave friends, school, home, and parents, for a piece of thoughtlessness. But the public is protected from a fifteen-year-old boy. Is this prosecution or persecution? It is certainly not justice. A FRIEND.

MR. EDITOR:—Will you kindly call attention, through your paper, to the pernicious habit some have of dumping and scattering ashes upon the sidewalk daily. It is a bad habit, besides being very injurious to our clothing.

Please suggest, also, that no more dishwater and slops be thrown on the sidewalks, to "lay the dust and harden it." It don't do it, and is a filthy habit. A LADY.

MR. EDITOR:—Will you give the public an invitation to stay off my land. There is no street to run to the Park. I have put up bars, but they are taken down. They are carting sand away on one side, without pay, and carrying off wood from the other. As long as I have the taxes to pay, I want people to stay off. MRS. LIDE MILLER.

Nine bills proposing reforms in the election laws of Indiana were introduced in the General Assembly of that state.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria, When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria, When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria, When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
