The man who doesn't believe in any hereafter has got a dreadfully mean opinion of his self and his chances.

Here would be a right corner's verdict; oftentimes: Death by hanging—around the tavern.

SATURDAY, JAN. 30, 1892.
President Harrison, on Monday sent to Congress his special message in regard to the Chilean difficulty. The message is a calm, dignified document, occupying, with the accompanying correspondence, twenty columns of Tuesday's Press. The President makes no definite recommendation, but the inference is unmistakable, that he favors insisting upon a simple apology and reparation from Chile for the murder of two of our sailors and the wounding of nearly a score of others. Both Senate and House approved the sentiments of the message, and referred it to the Committee on Foreign Relations. Official word was received, the same day, that Chile had decided to withdraw offensive communications, and refer the question of indemnity to the arbitration of a friendly power.

Short Tariff Sermons.
NO. IV.
One of the most important features of the Tariff law of 1890 is the Reciprocity section. Restricted Reciprocity would be a better term, as the provisions are limited.
The law provides for the admission into the United States, duty free, of all sugars not above No. 16 Dutch Standard in color, molasses, coffee, tea and hides. And whenever and so often as the President shall be satisfied that the government of any country producing and exporting sugars, molasses, coffee, tea and hides, raw and uncurd, or any of such articles, imposes duties or other exactions upon the agricultural or other products of the United States which, in view of the free introduction of such sugar, molasses, coffee, tea and hides into the United States, he may deem to be reciprocally unequal and unreasonable, he shall have the power and it shall be his duty to suspend, by proclamation to that effect, the provisions of this act relating to the free introduction of such sugar, molasses, coffee, tea and hides, the production of such country, for such time as he shall deem just, and in such cases and during such suspension duties shall be levied, collected, and paid upon sugar, molasses, coffee, tea and hides, the product of or exported from such designated country.
Restricted Reciprocity is not Free-Trade. It is only on non-competing products that reciprocal relations are entered into. Consequently we are not free of duty such products as we cannot raise, and upon which if a duty were imposed it would be a tax, but our farmers and manufacturers have certain of their products admitted free into foreign countries, thereby enlarging our markets without sacrificing any of our own advantages.
Restricted Reciprocity is the logical outcome of Protective principles. In taking of the duty from a country's products we simply reciprocate for the remission of a duty, which would otherwise be operative against us.
Treaties have already been completed with five republics and nine colonies, and many others are under consideration. — American Economist.

A Safe Investment.
Is one which is guaranteed to bring you satisfactory results, or in case of failure, a return of purchase price. On this safe plan you can buy from our advertised Druggist a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. It is guaranteed to bring relief in every case, when used for any affection of throat, lungs or chest, such as consumption, influenza, the lungs, bronchitis, asthma, whooping cough, croup, etc. It is pleasant and agreeable to taste, perfectly safe, and can always be depended upon. Trial bottles free at any Drug Store.

A Catskill Physician.
I give to Dr. Dean's Dyspepsia Pills the credit of doing more for me than all other medicines combined, for the acid stomach and indigestion with which I have suffered 15 years. I now relish my food, have so much comfort after eating, and have added 10 pounds to my weight. I have used 45 boxes of these pills, and have done a larger business than any other doctor in Greene Co., yet I have never felt better than of late.

Consumption Cured.
A world physician, retired from practice having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous diseases, after having treated his wonderful curative power in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. He has written a full and complete treatise on this subject, and claims against the estate of the said deceased, under oath, within nine months from this date, or they will be forever barred on any action thereagainst by said executor. Dated Nov. 18th, A. D. 1891.

Notice to Creditors.

Whitney to bring in their claims, demands and claims against the estate of the said deceased, under oath, within nine months from this date, or they will be forever barred on any action thereagainst by said executor. Orders by mail will receive prompt attention.

When one who loves you and whom you love has wounded you to the very soul, wait! Be patient and silent until the first keen suffering has worn away. In the end he will suffer more than you, because he hurt you. And remember always that man never lived who did not suffer from hurt.

The most difficult lesson we have to learn, in life—a lesson which begins in the cradle and ends in the grave—is that of our own insignificance.

Water is the emblem of truth, but printers always use it in making a lie. It is not by his faults but by his excellencies, that we must measure a great man.

Thomas Lawless, who was sent to the House of Correction for dissolute habits, apparently thought if a man had a bad name he might as well live up to it.

LESSON ANALYSIS.

I. SUFFERING AMONG MEN.

I. Unattractive: When we see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him (2). His visage was so marred more than any man (Isa. 52: 14). Can any good thing come out of Nazareth (John 1: 46). We will not that this man reign over us (Luke 19: 14). II. Rejected: He was despised, and rejected of men (3). I am... a reproach of men, and despised of the people (Psa. 22: 6). They that were his own received him not (John 1: 11). Not this man, but Barabbas (John 18: 40). III. Suffering: A man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief (3). My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death (Mat. 26: 38). Jesus wept (John 11: 35). With strong crying and tears (Heb. 5: 7).

II. SUFFERING FOR OTHERS.

1. Bearing Man's Sorrows: He hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows (4). Himself took our infirmities, and bare our diseases (Mat. 8: 17). Being grieved at the hardening of their hearts (Mark 3: 5). He groaned in the spirit, and was troubled (John 11: 33). II. Enduring Man's Penalties: He was wounded for our transgressions (5). My blood... which is shed for many unto remission (Mat. 26: 28). Having been once offered... upon the sins of many (Heb. 9: 28). Who his own self bare our sins... upon the tree (1 Pet. 2: 24).

III. SUFFERING WITHOUT COMPLAINT.

He humbled himself, and opened not his mouth (7). But Jesus held his peace (Mat. 26: 63). Now what I will, but what thou wilt (Mark 14: 36). Who, when he was reviled, reviled not again (1 Pet. 2: 23). IV. Suffering Unto Death: He was cut off out of the land of the living (3). He poured out his soul unto death (Isa. 53: 12). After the... weeks shall the anointed one be cut off (Dan. 9: 26). Ye did crucify and slay (Acts 2: 23). V. Lying in the Grave: They made his grave with the wicked (9). Joseph took the body... and laid it in his own new tomb (Mat. 27: 59, 60). He... laid him in a tomb... hewn out of a rock (Mark 16: 40).

III. SUFFERING TO SAVE.

4. An Offering for Sin: Thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin (10). Him... he made to sin on our behalf (2 Cor. 5: 21). Christ... offered to bear the sins of many (Heb. 9: 28). The offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all (Heb. 10: 10). 11. A Source of Justification: By his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many (11). The justifier of him hath faith in Jesus (Rom. 3: 26). Being now justified by his blood (Rom. 5: 9). Ye were justified in the name of the Lord (1 Cor. 6: 11).

III. A Sure Victor.

He shall divide the spoil with the strong (15). As for me, I shall divide the spoil (Job. 40: 27). Divide the spoil of your enemies with your brethren (Job. 22: 8). He made a show of them openly, triumphing over them (Col. 2: 15). IV. An Honored Intercessor: He... made intercession for the transgressors (12). Who also maketh intercession for us (Rom. 8: 34). He ever liveth to make intercession for them (Heb. 7: 25). We have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ (1 John 2: 1).

Some Singular English.

Among the permanent results of the latest World's Fair is the Practical-Guide of the Exhibition Paris 1889. English-speaking persons who are so fortunate as to possess this book will cherish it. As an example of English "as she is written," it is immeasurably superior to the songs of the Sweet Singer of Michigan, and is every respect worthy of shelf room by the side of that standard Portuguese work, English as She is Spoke.

LESSON BIBLE READING.

THE HUMILITY OF CHRIST. Foreshadowed in prophecy (Isa. 42: 1-4). Declared by himself (Mat. 11: 29). Shown by his nature (Phil. 2: 7; Heb. 2: 16). Illustrated in his birth (Luke 2: 7). Maintained in his station (Mark 3: 6). Displayed in his death (John 19: 3). Illustrated by his poverty (Luke 9: 58; 2 Cor. 8: 9). Enduring suffering (Isa. 53: 8, 9; Acts 9: 32-35).

INTERVENING PROPHECIES.

The historical division of the Book of Isaiah closes with chapter 33. The remaining twenty chapters contain no reference to contemporary Jewish history, but form a connected prophecy, centering in one thought—the return of the Jews from exile. It is this portion which is so many modern critics as the work of an unknown author near the close of the Babylonian captivity.

REMINISCENCE OF REMOVAL.

Mrs. Dolliver—"Did you save your candy for recess?" Dollie Dolliver—"No I ate it on my way to school." Mrs. Dolliver—"Then you had no dog for recess?" Dollie Dolliver—"Yes, find the toothache."—Chicago News.

WONDERFUL CURE.

Carter (calling on a friend).—"Mercy! What's that frightful shouting up stairs?" Servant—"That's Mr. Barker, sir." Carter—"Why, I thought he had lost his mind." Servant—"He had; sir, but he has just received the doctor's bill."—Fair

POLITENESS VS. PRIDE.

War Veieran—"Have you ever heard the story of how thirty-six of our men got 8000 of the enemy to fight?" Host (politely).—"No, believe me, I haven't." War Veieran—"Well, Colonel Buster told it last night, and after he'd gone you said you were getting sort of tired of that old Joe."—New York Weekly.

GOVERNMENT NOTES—GOLD COINS AND PENNIES.

Perhaps many of our readers do not know that all our government note paper is made in a large factory situated at Dalton, Mass., and that one who desires, can go in and see the workmen place the blue die on the machine that makes the paper for the United States notes. The silk comes in spools and is made by the Belding Co., of Northampton, Mass. This silk thread is secured by letting paper, but the real secret, the making of the paper, the compound of the ingredients, is known only to Mr. J. Murray Crane who received the art from his father, who made bonds for Salmon P. Chase, Liensy's Secretary of the Treasury, in war times.

LOOK AHEAD.

The heart of grass and look before you tread. The heart of the man who is a hypocrite. Wash out the old ingratitude. The sorrowful sins of yesterday.

FANCY WORK.

Fashion has set her seal upon pure white as the most elegant tone for table this winter. Tonchessy of color are of course possible, especially in the way of dyes, but the most magnificent examples of the looms of the old world have their snowy expanse broken by color. Hemstitching, drawn-work, heavy hand embroidery, and embroidery in table cloths and edgings find some favor, but not to the same extent, except perhaps in finger rings. The color which, of the latest mousseline de soie, in various tints, edged with point lace, shares honors with others of Irish linen, hand embroidered in raised butterflies. The chrysanthemum and bow-knot patterns find favor, and are especially perfect in new, but trim, and with soiled notes, such as are sent in for redemption, showed that twenty-seven of them weighed much more than the twenty-dollar coin. This fact is due to the relation of the weight of the metal to the quality of the metal.

IDENTITY.

Census—"Brown had two sheets for the wind when I saw him yesterday afternoon." Banks—"Then he evidently succeeded in his morning work. He was trying to raise the wind when I saw him."—Munsey's Weekly.

WE SAY HE CLAIMED A REDUCTION.

"I say, doctor, isn't this bill a little steep? Can't you knock off a V?" "No, you should!" "Well, you must remember that it was me who introduced this scarlet fever in this town, and that that worth something!"—Texas Siftings.

A QUESTION OF OWNERSHIP.

Employer—"John, what do you mean by sitting there doing nothing for the last half hour? I can't have you wasting your time that way." John—"Beg pardon, sir, but it isn't mine I'm wasting. It's some of yourn."—Boston Transcript.

FAIDS IS FORNISHED.

Littleton (coming out of the restaurant).—"By Jove, I'm glad we are rid of that waiter! His air was so lofty that I actually felt alone!"

Mrs. Dolliver—"Did you save your candy for recess?" Dollie Dolliver—"No I ate it on my way to school." Mrs. Dolliver—"Then you had no dog for recess?" Dollie Dolliver—"Yes, find the toothache."—Chicago News.

INURED TO EVERY ORDEAL.

"The operation," said the surgeon gently to the man who had just met an accident, "will be very painful. I strongly advise you to take an anesthetic."

SCIENTIFIC.

Ores are purified by electricity. An inch of rain means 100 tons to the acre. The moon moves 8333 feet per second. There are 20,000 different kinds of butterflies. The process of separating iron ore by electricity is working satisfactorily in Michigan. An expert says that the left main driver of a locomotive flattens more than the right. One or more belts running independently on the top of another will add much to the transmission of power. A scientific journal states that a little sugar put on the hands with soap will greatly increase its lather and cleaning power, and will remove dirt, chemical stains, etc.

THE FLOWERING OF THE FIG.

To the uneducated eye, the fig is a mystery. The fruit seems to come from where the flowers ought to be, and there seems to be no flowers below, fruit, in other plants. In past ages it was attributed to something miraculous; the appearance of anything out of the ordinary course of nature, was accounted miraculous, with some individuals whom they wished the world to wonder came to be associated with the fig. In the infant Jesus was born in a manger, and the shepherds themselves under a fig tree. In recompense for the security afforded her, she blessed the tree, and bestowed upon it marvelous power. One day a man, a carpenter, was producing two crops a year. In order that the tree might be fertilized, even in those days it was known that the flower was of two sizes. The tree put forth, by her command, a magnificent white flower of unknown beauty and purity. It sent forth rays of phosphorescent lightness. This fruitifies the whole tree, and renders any other flower unnecessary.

THE FLOWERING OF THE FIG.

This flowering continues every year on this night only—St. Nicholas. It opens for a few minutes at midnight, and whoever could see or secure this flower, at the expense of a good quantity of fig culture, would possess himself of a charm which would enable him to procure anything he might wish in the world. The Virgin Mary, knowing this, caused the tree on the evening of the flowering to be gnawed by a kind of horrible thing—a snake, lizard, biotated toad, birds of ill omen, wild beasts and venomous reptiles of every description, so that no one should be able to get near the wonderful flower. The story is firmly believed by all those Latin races, whose chance for life is cast in those regions where the fig tree dwells, and has always been a sufficient reason for their thinking. What a pity all those beautiful and interesting stories are crushed, since science tells us, in spite of the lovely traditions of ages, that the fig tree has flowers every other plant, but the flowers are inside, what we call the fruit. All flowers rest upon something. The apple, is much sought and enjoyed by us during the summer months, but the apple tree has no flowers. The formation of this fig is analogous to the apple; the little globe, and which afterwards becomes the fruit, is filled with flowers, just as the apple, but the flowers are never project up the centre, so as to be seen by vulgar eyes. There is a small orifice at the apex through which the pollen is drawn, and this is all that is known of the flowers of the fig. The orifice is rewarded in opening a flower, by finding it filled with a pink, spongy substance; each of the little projections composing it, is seen to be a small flower, and the mystery of the fig tree is solved. The fig is a little community in which hundreds of individual flowers dwell inside the fruit. Woman's Work.

THE DROJKY.

The one-horse drojky of Russia is nearly to hold two persons. Our experience was that it held one and a bit. It is common and an amusing sight to see some gallant officer dilly dallying the waist of his fair companion in one of these conveyances. "His arm gets in the way," he explains, "and this is the only means of disposing of it, that he can think of." The horse is a first-rate, small size, but able to do a great deal of hard work, and keep their good looks in spite of it. Nearly all the drivers are stations, and are bred in Russia. The driver, who is sometimes a mere boy, wears a dark blue dressing-gown kind of coat, a curiously-shaped hat and his- topped boots, and makes quite a nice object. His dress seems to be a very hot one for summer, but the average driver is too poor to buy cooler clothing. It is astonishing to see what an amount of hard Russian seems capable of bearing. Even on the hot days of August a great many of the officers would wear their thick military cloaks.

And with it there is no smoke, no soot,
no broken chimneys, no flickering, no swaying,
no climbing up of the flame, no "tantrums" goes out. It is a lamp that is a real thing, tough and seamless brass, with careful draft. It is absolutely unbreakable,

HE Missed his Opportunity! DON'T Miss Yours, Reader. The majority neglect their opportunities, and from lost cause live in poverty and disobedience! Harrowing despair is the lot of many, as they look back on lost, forever lost, opportunity. Life is passing! Beach out. He up and doing. Improve your opportunity, and secure prosperity, prominence, peace. It was said by a philosopher, that "the Goddess of Fortune offers a golden opportunity to each person at some period of life;
embrace the chance, and she pours on her riches; fail to do so and she departs, never to return." How shall you find the golden opportunity? Investigate every chance that appears worthy, and of fair promise; that is what all successful men do. Here is an opportunity, such as is not often within the reach of laboring people. Improved, it will give, at least, a grand start in life. The golden opportunity for many is here. Money to be made rapidly and honorably by any industrious person of either sex. All ages. You can do the work and live at home, wherever you are. Even beginners are easily earning from $5 to $10 per day. You can do as well if you will work not too hard, but industri-ously; and you can increase your income as you go on. You can give spare time only, or all your time to the work. Easy to learn. Capital not required. We start you. All is comparatively new and really wonderful. We instruct and show you how, free. Failures unknown among our workers. No room to explain here. Write and learn all free, by return mail. Unwise to delay. Address as above. H.
