Our Roads.

As we have a little time to discuss roads before March, a few words may not be out of place. I wish to correct certain suppositions, or reports, regarding my views on roads.

First. I did not affirm that the roads should be oiled, but suggested that, as the Government Road bureau reports good results with oil (and the railroads use it), an experiment might be made with a few hundred feet of road surface, which would not cost over five dollars.

Second. It is said that I am opposed to the use of the road machine. On the contrary, I consider it indispensable, but do not believe in using it injudiciously, and entailing expense that might be avoided.

Third. It is urged that, as I have a means of livelihood, the "job" of overseer of highways should go to some one who needs it. I suggest that it go to a dozen or more who need it, by giving the work to the lowest bidder.

Fourth. It is claimed or supposed that the overseer of highways can do no repairing or other work unless ordered by the highway committee. Such claim is a mistake. The rules of Council compel the overseer to attend to all urgent work during the intervals of meetings. The rules simply prevent the overseer from expending $2500 in any manner he sees fit, with no responsibility to any authority,—he being contractor and supervisor, judge, jury, and sheriff, and in a manner to his own individual advantage. The rule is right and proper, and injures no official who desires to do his duty with due regard to the interests of the town.

The question to be considered is whether we shall hand $2500 over to one man, to spend as he pleases, with a leaning toward his own interests, or shall the money be expended by a Council elected by the voters. As it has been in the past, Council could only pay the bills, having no jurisdiction in creating them.

I am finding no fault with overseers of highways. They have only done what other overseers practiced. We have had just as honest men in the position as could be found in the county. We elected our overseers, gave them power to expend large sums, expected them to keep teams, and also to support their families. There was no other course for the overseers to pursue. I am condemning the system, not the men. But I maintain that it is time to change the system. I do not believe that we should vote $2500 for any purpose, and hand it over to one man, no matter what his position.

The overseer of highways should be a supervisor, not a contractor. He should represent the town, see that all work is well done, and see that all money for highways be expended judiciously. We have plenty of men and teams ready to do any work required, and when the supervisor works with the committee there will be strict accounts kept.

It is for the voters to say whether they prefer the money to be used on the highways, or the roads worked to the advantage of individuals. Personally, I am only interested as a citizen; but some one must start the ball rolling, hence my agitation of the subject.

A battleship is not only a floating fortress, but is also a steam power plant of the largest size, with a greater variety and number of engines or machines than is ever dreamed of by the uninitiated. Of all this combination, there is no portion that can be permitted to remain in a state of repose for any length of time without endangering its effective action when the emergency arises for which it was designed. It is only by constant use that it can be kept perfectly efficient.

On an armored cruiser like the Brooklyn, taking her as a sample of an up to date warship, between a battleship and an ordinary cruiser, there are eighty-one separate engines, having a total of 156 steam cylinders. Add in imagination to this number, imposing in itself, the vast quantity and extent of steam, exhaust, and water piping needed to connect all these engines to the boilers, condensers, and water systems, the thousands of valves to be kept workable and efficient. Then include the seven great boilers, capable of evaporating into steam, under forced draft, 185 tons of water an hour, and one can begin to comprehend the vastness of the steam plant of a modern ship.

CALIFORNIA.

America is a great country. In variety and grandeur of natural scenery it is unrivaled. To traverse it, to behold its diversities and wonders, is a liberal education, a revelation to the immured metropolitan citizen. The Personally-Conducted Tour to California under the direction of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which leaves on February 9, affords a most excellent opportunity to view the vast variety and boundless beauty of this marvelous land. The party will travel over the entire route in the model Pullman train of smoking, dining, sleeping and observation cars exhibited at the World's Fair, Chicago, and subsequently at Atlanta, Nashville, and Omaha. This train will be placed in service for the first time on this occasion, and will be in charge of a Tourist Agent and Chaplain, who will look after all details of the trip, as well as the individual welfare of members of the party. Stops will be made at Mammoth Cave, New Orleans during Mardi Gras Carnival, El Paso, Los Angeles, San Diego, Redlands, Riverside, Pasadena, Santa Barbara, Monterey, Del Monte, Santa Cruz, Mount Hamilton, Menlo Park, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Glenwood Springs, Colorado Springs, Manitou and Garden of the Gods, Denver, and Chicago. Nineteen days will be spent in California. Round-trip rate, including all necessary expenses during entire trip, $400 from all points on the Pennsylvania Railroad System east of Pittsburg, $335 from Pittsburg. For itinerary and full information apply to ticket agents; Tourist Agent, 1100 Broadway, New York; or address Geo. W. Hoyt, Assistant General Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia.

The Philadelphia and Reading Route to New York has been noted since its inception for the special attention given by the management to insure the comfort and safety of its patrons, and while sacrificing neither of these important points to speed, at the same time managing to keep in the front with swift traveling trains. It is but a short time since a trip to New York was considered quite a journey, and because of the time consumed and discomfort of traveling, never attempted unless entirely necessary; but under changed conditions, caused by modern improvements, it is but a short, pleasant trip, and on no line are these improvements more in use than on the Philadelphia and Reading Route, neither time nor cash being spared in the effort to secure everything that will conduce to comfort and convenience of passengers. Fast trains for New York leave Reading Terminal, Philadelphia, at convenient hours, connecting at Columbia Avenue and other stations with express trains from Philadelphia, Williamsport, and other points in the coal and lumber regions. For time of trains, rates of fare, and other information, apply to any P. & R. ticket agent, or address Edson J. Weeks, Gen. Pass'r Agt., Phila.

Sir James Sawyer, of Birmingham, England, has laid down some rules by following which one may, says the medical compiler, reasonably hope to reach the century mark. Here they are:

1. Sleep eight hours a day.
2. Sleep on the right side.
3. Open the windows of your bedroom at night.
4. Put a screen in front of the door.
5. Place one's bed away from the wall.
6. Take a bath the temperature of the body every morning, not a cold douche.
7. Take exercise before breakfast.
8. Eat little meat and be sure it is thoroughly cooked.
9. (For adults.) Do not drink milk.
10. Eat much grain to in order to nourish the cells which destroy the germs of disease.
11. Avoid intoxicants which destroy these cells.
12. Take daily exercise in the open air.
13. Keep no animals in living rooms. They may have the germs of disease.
14. Live as much as possible in the country.
15. Drink water, avoid humidity and the neighborhood of sewage pipes.
16. Vary one's occupations.
17. Take from time to time a short holiday.
18. Limit one's ambitions.
19. Retain one's natural character.

JOHN T. FRECH, P. M.

Oh, that my eyes might closed be To what becomes me not to see. That darkness might possess my ear. To what concerns me not to hear.

That truth my tongue might always tie From ever speaking truthfully. That no vain thought might ever rest Or be conceived within my breast.

Wash, Lord, and purify my heart, And make it clean in every part. And when 'tis clean, Lord, keep it so, For that is more than I can do.

This is the way the Hammonton correspondent of the Philadelphia Press wrote.

The shoe factory of W. H. Whiffen & Brother, of this city, caught fire at 8 o'clock this morning from a defective flue and narrowly escaped total destruction.

The fire was first discovered breaking through the roof and an alarm was sounded throughout the factory, which nearly caused a panic among the employees. The Volunteer Fire Company were soon on the grounds, but only after a desperate fight against a heavy west wind were the flames extinguished.

The loss by fire and water will amount to several thousand dollars.

Everybody knows that the fire engine was not in service; that only a few pails of water were used; that a hole in the roof almost three feet in diameter was the only damage to building, and ten dollars will pay the entire bill of losses. There are seven erroneous statements in those few lines.

The annual convention of the New Jersey Conference Epworth League will be held in the Broadway M. E. Church, Camden, Feb. 15th to 17th.

The opening exercises, on Wednesday evening, 7:30, will be highly interesting, as Chaplain Casseard, of the U. S. battleship Indiana, will deliver an address.

This organization is composed of over two hundred chapters of the Epworth League, the churches with which they are connected having a membership of more than 18,000.

Delegates from all these churches are entitled to attend the convention, for whose comfort the League of Camden are making extensive preparations. The programme is made up of many addresses, conferences on every branch of work, an old-fashioned Methodist Love-feast, and various games, prayer, and social meetings.

Among the speakers will be Bishop Wm. C. Nide, of Detroit, Mich., Rev. Dr. Cadman, the eminent orator and preacher of New York City, Rev. Thos. Matthews, D. D., of Delaware, Rev. Chas. N. Howells, Supt. of the Philadelphia Forward Movement, and other prominent ministers and laymen.

A correspondent writes: Eight years ago, the pike on which I live was freed by the earnest collection of taxpayers, to save toll. Since that time a saloon has been up business not far from the old toll gate site, and many farmers now pay toll at this saloon, unconsciously.

And so the world moves on.

A dollar's worth of paint, rubbed in well, will save five dollars' worth of lard.
