HAMMONTON, N. J.

Those Glass Oil Cans, at 29 c., have given such perfect satisfaction that we have hesitated to mention any other kind; yet we have one other we will direct your attention to, viz: can holding one gal., made of Galvanized Iron,—stout, and warranted not to leak or rust. 22 cents is the price.

Those Double Roasting Pans fill the bill completely. Another lot is now on sale. If you don't own one already, be sure to secure one from this lot. Small, medium, and large size. Medium, 68 c.

We have just received direct from the importer some of the finest Irish Mackerel, we venture to say, that has been offered to the people in this vicinity in some time. Very fat and white, no rust about them. All this season's catch, and the price makes them quick sellers.

We quote at 10 c. per pound.

Kipperd Herring is also very palatable. While a canned fish, yet it is put up with great care, and when properly served, is excellent. If you have not tried them, we advise you to invest in a can—which at 22 c. we think is cheap.

Codfish Cakes, ready for the table in 10 minutes when you use X. C. L. R. Shredded Codfish. No soaking, no boiling, no bones, and no bad smell in the house. Simply mix with potatoes, and fry.

Large package, 10 c.

English Cured Cod, we have mentioned before,—simply wish to remind you that we have it constantly in stock. Price a little higher than the ordinary fish, but those who are acquainted with it are quite willing to pay the difference. 10 c. per pound.

Have you tried Taylor's Prepared Ham? If not, let us have your order for at least one pound. Every body that has used it speaks in the highest terms of its superior qualities. Remember, there are no bones, no waste—all solid meat. 15 c. per pound.

We would like your ear a few moments, on the Butter question. We think the quality we are now offering will please the most fastidious, being finest Elgin Creamery that the market can furnish. We ask a trial. Our price at present, 33 c. Compare with others,—you will find us on the right side.

Genuine Vermont Maple Syrup is the proper thing to serve with Buckwheat Cakes. We have it put up in very attractive shape,—full quart glass jars,—and at 35 c. we think it cheap.

We have also a full stock of Buckwheat Flour, both prepared and the plain old-fashioned kind.

We quote Hecker's prepared at 16 c.

Grove's prepared at 15 c.

Hecker's Griddle Cake Flour at 16 c.

Plain Buckwheat, the price is so unsettled that we refrain from quoting, but depend on us being right on the prices.

Let us remind you, in passing, we still hold the price of Sugar at 4 1/2 c., in any quantity. Can't tell how long this price will hold; depend, however, on finding our price as low, if not a trifle lower than some others, at all times.

A small quantity of White Clover Honey, in the comb. We offer it at the extremely low price of 10 cents per pound. We anticipate a ready sale at this price.

Those California Prunes, advertised last week, 30 to the pound, at 12 c., all closed out. We offer for a few days only, same quality, 50 to the pound, at 9 c. These are new bright goods, eat just as well as the larger sizes.

We also keep constantly in stock the very best of Gasoline. 5 gallons for 50 cents.

N. B. We are now booking orders for Dried and Ground Fish Guano. If you expect to use any the coming season, we would suggest that your order be placed early.

Foreign Missions.

To the Reader: The conductor of this column is convinced that one cause for want of interest in Christian Missions is lack of information. He knows also, that there is no surer way to reach the masses than by the various local papers. It has occurred to him to press into use this valuable agency for gospel purposes, and, along with the common news of the day, let it carry also the news of our Lord's Kingdom. Hence he has begged of a number of editors, whom he always finds to be of a kindly class, the privilege of publishing in their papers a column a month, simultaneously, of the most interesting missionary intelligence and strongest facts that he can command. These items will, for the most part, be of equal interest to all denominations. An occasional special reference to the particular sect which he represents, will of course be pardoned.

May I hope, dear reader, that before you lay your paper aside permanently, you will kindly read this column, which is written and published in the interest of the Master, and with no other motive than a loyal desire to promote his Kingdom on earth, and to any reader struck by this column to a deeper and more generous thoughtfulness concerning missions, I am sure the editor will feel that the space he kindly gives has not been wasted. Sincerely yours, GEO. W. TOMSON.

CLAYTON, N. J.

"THE FIELD IS THE WORLD."

The field is the whole inhabited globe, with its one billion five hundred millions of population, a figure almost too vast to be readily comprehended.

This population is divided as follows: Christian church and its adherents, 140 millions; Greek church, 90 millions; Romanists, 205 millions; Jews, 8 millions; Mohammedans, 175 millions; Pagans and Heathen, 882 millions.

To say nothing then, of the millions who are held in the false religions' grip, there are 882 millions of absolute heathen, whose religion, if they have any, is a base, cruel, degrading idolatry.

Against 882 millions, place four millions, the possible number of converts from heathenism to Christianity thus far, and you see the vast area yet untouched by the gospel.

China, with a population estimated anywhere from 350 to 500 millions, has about 1100 Protestant missionaries, or one to every 320,000.

In India there is one missionary to every 400,000 of population. Kurdistan, with three millions; Afghanistan, with eight millions; Anam, with thirty millions, and Africa, north of equator and west of the Nile basin, with fifty millions, are sitting in almost total darkness. Siam has single cities of 200,000 inhabitants without a missionary to tell them of Jesus.

Korea has one missionary to every 800,000 of population. The country that shares with us this side of the globe, South America, is called the "neglected continent," though it is not without its religious forms, its priests, and its Cathedrals. Half of its population, 17 millions, is not within reach of the pure gospel. There are no missionaries in Bolivia, Ecuador, or Venezuela.

These are specimen glimpses at the great field which awaits the sowing of the gospel seed. Truly "There remaineth much land to be possessed."

THE NEED.

But may it not be possible that we are overestimating the need? Nay, for the souls of the heathen are lost in sin. If they are not, where does the mysterious line run that separates between the nations of the earth, and makes those on the one side responsible and those on the other side not responsible?

"The wages of sin is death," whether under Asian skies, in tropical Africa, or on "Tudra's coral strand," or on the isles of the sea. The mere matter of geographical position does not affect the moral status and natural condition and responsibility of people as members of a fallen race.

The heathen are condemned, not because they are heathen, but because they are sinners. Condemnation is remitted only on one condition,—"There is now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus."—There is supreme need that the heathen should have Christ preached to them. The sufferer whom we can relieve has a God-given claim upon us for relief. We who have the Bread of Life owe it, by this law, to our perishing brother. What does the world think of the speculator who corners wheat, and so raises the price of flour and of bread? To withhold the "living bread" from the perishing is as bad, at least, as to create a corner in wheat.

"Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature," are the marching orders of the Church, and have never been countermanded. That word of our great Captain is yet as blinding as any the gospel records. A Christ-like and Christ-following Church must be a missionary Church.

Think; pray; give. An intelligent study of missions; earnest prayer for missions; an inspired liberality toward missions; these are the need of to-day.

ENCOURAGEMENTS.

When Carey landed in India there was but one feeble mission, now the communicants number 250,000 and the adherents one million. The number of converts last year was 24,000. There has been a gain of 140 per cent in the last ten years.

Japan was opened by Commodore Perry in 1854. Before that the penalty for being a Christian was death, now there are 365 native churches with a membership of 85,500.

In 1855 there were not more than ten native baptised Christians in all China. In 1893 there were 50,000 communicants and 150,000 adherents to the Christian faith. Everywhere God is throwing down barriers and opening doors, and the Church is challenged as never before to make an earnest business of giving the gospel to the world.

THE TARIFF BILL.

BY JOHN KELLY, BRIDGEPORT.

There's trouble in the country, There's trouble in the air; Those fellows up at Washington Had better now beware.

If they tinker with this tariff We'll protest with might and main; We'll protest with might and main; Through the Wilson Tariff Bill.

The wheels of our industries Have been running mighty slow; They pass that cruel measure They'll surely cease to go.

This land of full and plenty Will go empty down the hill To perpetual desolation Through the Wilson Tariff Bill.

There'll be trouble in the country Sure as two and two make four, And we'll meet the onsets of sadness At the tariff-wrecker's door.

I wish that Mr. Wilson Had broken the gray geese quill The moment he set down to write This blundering tariff bill.

With fine words and fair speech The people are deceived, They made such glowing promises Which were really believed.

But now we cannot swallow This sugar-coated pill; We know to our cost the nation As the Wilson Tariff Bill.

Let us put our heads together, Let us join with heart and hand In solemn protestation Throughout the troubled land; Then at the next election Their pieces we will find With honest thinking citizens.

Who oppose this tariff bill.

The State Senate settled down to business, this week, with no reference to the "claimants." On Tuesday the Legislature had a joint meeting, with President Rogers in the chair. George B. Swaine, of Essex Co., was elected State Treasurer, and Wm. S. Hancock, of Mercer County, Comptroller. It is expected that when these new officials demand possession, the present Democratic incumbents will refuse to surrender, and legal proceedings will follow, thus possibly bringing the whole Senate difficulty into the courts. Several bills passed by both houses were carried to Governor Vets for his approval. Of course he declined to receive them, and they were left on his desk. Just what the Legislature will do about it is not announced. The Democratic Senators meet every day or two, and being a minority, solemnly adjourn—the only thing they can do.

Dushane Post No. 3, G. A. R., of Baltimore, takes a practical way of refuting Mr. Cleveland's statement that there are "thousands of neighborhoods that still have their well known fraudulent pensioners," by offering a reward of $25 for the first arrest and conviction of a resident ex-Union soldier on the charge of obtaining or attempting to obtain a pension by fraudulent means. That's business.

Distance lends exaggeration as well as enchantment. Two musket shots from Admiral Behan's flagship in the harbor of Rio grew to be a broadside by the time the sound reached the United States.

Some of the Democrats in Congress seem to assume that a lie well stuck to is as good as truth. They will discover their error when the people get a whack at them again.

Mr. Albert Favorito, of Arkansas City, Kan., wishes to give our readers the benefit of his experience with colds. He says: "I contracted a cold early last spring that settled on my lungs, and had hardly got rid of it when I caught another that hung on all summer and for me with a hacking cough which I thought I never could get rid of. I had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy some fourteen months ago with much success, and concluded to try it again. When through with one bottle my cough had left me, and I have not suffered with a cough or cold since. I've recommended it to others, and all speak well of it." 50 cent bottles for sale by W. C. The following poem was written by—Rev. A. Gilmore, forty years ago, and read at his funeral service by Presiding Elder Harris:

When on the boisterous sea of life,
By storm and tempest tost and driven,
What soothes us 'mid the raging strife?
A Hope of Heaven.

When we have ceased the swelling flood,
And harps of praise to stars are given,
We'll sing hosannas to our God;
All safe in Heaven.

When fortune smiles upon our road,
And worldly good to us is given,
We're poor without the gift bestowed,
The Hope of Heaven.

When Providence does darkly crown,
And hope of earth is torn and given,
One star illumines the night profound,
The Hope of Heaven.

When death shall stare us in the face,
Then, tranquil as a summer sea,
We'll smiling meet his cold embrace,
In Hope of Heaven.

When we have ceased the swelling flood,
And harps of praise to stars are given,
We'll sing hosannas to our God;
All safe in Heaven.

REV. DR. TALMAGE

THE BROOKLYN DIVINE'S SUNDAY SERMON

Subject: "Fidelity."

There is a great deal of talk about the work of the Holy Spirit. It is said that the Spirit is the power of God, and that he who is filled with the Spirit is filled with the love of God. This is a very beautiful thought, and one which we should all strive to attain. The Spirit is the power of God, and he who is filled with the Spirit is filled with the love of God. This is a very beautiful thought, and one which we should all strive to attain.

There have been great entertainments where a talking of the vine gave out. I have seen many a man who has been so overcome by the spirit of the Lord that he has been unable to do his duty. This is a very sad thing, and one which we should all strive to avoid. The spirit of the Lord is a very powerful thing, and he who is filled with the Spirit is filled with the love of God. This is a very beautiful thought, and one which we should all strive to attain.

There are not enough cups in heaven to dip up the ocean of beauty. There are not enough symbols to dip of the riches of this one altogether. There are not enough cups in heaven to dip up the ocean of beauty. There are not enough symbols to dip of the riches of this one altogether. There are not enough cups in heaven to dip up the ocean of beauty. There are not enough symbols to dip of the riches of this one altogether.

INAUGURATIONS.

FOUR PRESIDENT SWOY IN TO OFFICE IN PRIVATE.

Washington's splendid inauguration ceremony of a President, writes E. J. Edwards in the Atlanta Constitution, was that which occurred at midnight on September 18th, when General Arthur received the oath of office. The simplest—and it has always been called the typical democratic ceremony—was that which characterized the inauguration of Thomas Jefferson. The most exciting ceremony was that attending the inauguration of Abraham Lincoln, and perhaps the most brilliant was that which accompanied the inauguration of President Garfield.

President Washington was inaugurated in such splendor of ceremony as gave some idea of the respectability of the public, who were gathered to witness a great democracy should not appear in a tendency to duplicate our ceremonial. The inauguration of Lincoln was a grand affair, and the inauguration of Garfield was a very simple one. The inauguration of Arthur was a very simple one, and the inauguration of Cleveland was a very simple one. The inauguration of Harrison was a very simple one, and the inauguration of Grant was a very simple one.

There have been four Presidents who have been inaugurated in private. This is a very interesting fact, and one which we should all strive to remember. The inauguration of Washington was a very simple one, and the inauguration of Lincoln was a very simple one. The inauguration of Garfield was a very simple one, and the inauguration of Arthur was a very simple one. The inauguration of Cleveland was a very simple one, and the inauguration of Harrison was a very simple one. The inauguration of Grant was a very simple one.
