Washington Letter.

From our regular Correspondent.

Washington, Feb. 6, 1893.

The President has heard the official proposition made by the commissioners from the new provisional government of Hawaii for the annexation of that country to the United States, and is now, with his usual thoroughness and care, studying the question in all its bearings, in order to make up his mind whether he will take any steps towards annexation, make any recommendations to Congress, or leave the whole matter for the incoming administration and Congress. Before the commissioners arrived it was thought probable, indeed it was informally agreed that a treaty by which the United States took the republican government of Hawaii under its protection would be about the proper thing for the present, leaving annexation to follow, as it unquestionably would have done in a few years. But when the ultimatum of the commissioners—annexation or nothing—was received the situation was changed. The President and all of his Cabinet are favorable to annexation, but as it would have to be preceded by Congressional legislation, and the life of the present administration and Congress is so nearly spent, it may be deemed advisable not to begin the business. A decision will probably be reached in a few days. The Hawaiian flag—red, white and blue stripes, with a red cross in the corner—is flying from the top of the hotel at which the Hawaiian commissioners are quartered. There is nothing foreign looking about the members of this commission.

A determined effort is being made to secure some silver legislation on a compromise basis before the session closes. Dan Lamont and Don Dickinson are here in the interest of the new administration, and to submit to the silver men several propositions for a compromise, all of them involving a suspension of the purchase of silver by the government. They say that if their efforts are not successful, an extra session of Congress will certainly be called.

The bill authorizing the expenditure of $50,000 in the preparation of an exhibit for the World's Fair, showing the progress of the colored race since 1863, has been favorably reported to the House, and the manner in which it is spoken of by members indicates that it may pass, but, owing to the crowded condition of the calendar, action on no measure is certain.

Probably no single action of the President during his entire term has been more talked about than the nomination of Judge Howell E. Jackson, of Tennessee, an able jurist, but an uncompromising Democrat, to succeed the late Justice Lamar on the bench of the U. S. Supreme Court. The President had stated to a number of gentlemen his intention to nominate a Republican, and such was his intention until the day before he nominated Judge Jackson. The cause of his change of mind was a notification he received to the effect that twelve Republican Senators would vote with the Democrats against the confirmation of any Republican he might nominate. The reason given by most of these Republicans was, that an attempt to force the confirmation of a Republican would result in either tying up the Senate for the rest of the session, or the adoption of a cloture rule, and that they would not take any chances of either. Contrary to precedent, Judge Jackson's nomination has been referred to a committee. It has been customary to confirm the nomination of ex-Senators without referring. Judge Jackson, although a Democrat, is not a believer in the doctrine of states rights. Democratic Senators say privately that his confirmation depends on Mr. Cleveland's wishes. The House, while sitting as a committee of the whole, adopted a very sensible amendment to an Appropriation bill, giving the owners of American quarries a chance to compete with foreigners in furnishing the marble for the new Congressional library building; but when the yea and nay vote was taken in regular session, the party whip was brought into use and the "protection" ory raised; consequently the amendment was rejected by a party vote.

Sec. Foster's report on the condition of the Treasury, and his estimates of receipts and expenditures for this and the next fiscal year, have put an end to the talk about a bankrupt Treasury, which has been more or less prevalent among Democrats ever since Congress met.

The total amount of mutilated currency now being presented to the Treasury for redemption averages $1,500,000 a day, being much larger than for many years. It is believed that this is largely caused by the scare concerning the carrying of the germs of contagious diseases in old paper money.

The attempt to make the Panama Canal investigation a star-chamber affair is not well received. The people want to know the whole truth in regard to this business, and if it injures anybody's reputation, so much the worse for them.

FOR THE American Home!

The Press has the best possible organization to secure news from the most important sources, and with nearly 400 correspondents in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware, the State and near-home news is covered with a routine carefulness and attention to detail not even attempted by any other paper.

The Press has also the best of correspondents in all the great cities of the United States, as well as financial and railroad experts in Chicago and the West, who keep the paper more than abreast with events.

The columns of the Press are established by contributions from those whose names are written high in our lists of great authors, novelists, essayists, as well as from men of high rank in public life. The best authors know that their best audiences are the readers of the Daily, Sunday, and Weekly Press.

In politics, The Press knows no other master than the people, and the best year has seen, as has been seen before, the marked fact that it is subservient to no political bias. It has no political ambitions to foster, but looks after the interests of its readers, and delivers itself upon the issues of the day in a manner both frank and fearless, letting the facts speak for themselves and evading no issues, but meeting them all on the basis of fair play to all men at all times. Its pages know no distinctions, and the rights of one class over another are not recognized nor supported.

PAINT! PAINT!
—THE—
HAMMONTON.
When you buy the Hammonton Paint, you do not buy seven-eighths of a gallon for a gallon, or three pints for a half-gallon; nor do you get one of those packages that weigh 12 to 14 pounds, and containing so much alkali that it appears to be so thick that it is impossible to use it without thinning; but in buying the Hammonton you get a full standard gallon of paint, weighing 14 to 16 pounds to the gallon, made from the best materials known to the trade, and costs the consumer from $1 to $1.50 per gallon for honest paint.

If the purchaser doesn't want honest paint, and wants to be honest to himself, then be sure to buy the Hammonton Paint, and the manufacturer will give a receipt with every gallon sold telling you how to make two gallons of paint out of one of the Hammonton. It will cost 33 cents for the extra gallon.
One Dollar.
And there have come Commercial Paint, in 30 shades,—the best wearing paint ever put on the market for so low a price as $1 per gallon, and guaranteed to be a first-class wearing paint. If any one should not want to pay so high a price for a good exterior paint, then work the 30 cent racket, and get two gallons for $1.25. Manufactured at Hamonton Paint Works.

SATURDAY, FEB. 11, 1893.

The revival meetings which have been held in the Rosefield Chapel, for the past few weeks, have been largely attended and have awakened considerable interest among the residents. It is stated that a prominent hotel keeper has been attending the meetings nightly, which fact alone has greatly encouraged those who have the service in charge.—

There is a gem from the Texas Life Stock and Farm Journal:
If you think your boy is getting too much education that he will not be satisfied to stay on the farm, give him considerable more, and he will see that it is to his interest to stay there. To give a boy just enough education to make him a ten dollar-a-week clerk, or a jacklawyer, or a "piping doctor," is a certain way of rendering him dissatisfied with being coror or mauling rails for a living.

For an extended tour to Washington, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company offer an exceptional opportunity on Feb. 16th. Seven days will be spent on the trip. The rates, including transportation, hotel accommodations, transfers, carriage ride, and a trip to Mount Vernon, are very low. This tour will afford ample time for thoroughly viewing and resting at the nation's handsomest city. All information can be obtained of any of the company's ticket agents.

Pursuing the policy inaugurated last year, the Pennsylvania R. R. Co. is applying regularly ordained ministers of the Gospel with clerical orders entitling the holders to tickets at half-rates over its entire system. These tickets are purchasable by any clergyman exhibiting an order, and may be bought to any station on the Penna. system, both east and west of Pittsburgh, at one-half the regular rates. Under this arrangement clergymen may secure half-rates to Chicago during the World's Fair, and there can be no doubt that a great many of them will avail themselves of the opportunity. The inauguration of this liberal privilege by the Penna. R. R.
Co. last year met with hearty appreciation at the hands of the ministers of all denominations, and its continuance this year will be especially well received by reason of the advantages it carries in connection with the Fair.

The Mirror of last week told a heart rending story of abuse suffered by a small colored boy, at the hands of Mrs. Capt. Loveland and Capt. Hooper.
That was the boy's story; but there are two sides to the story, as usual; here is the other. "Joe" was brought here from the South by Capt. Loveland, and left at home for chore boy. The family treated him well, but he soon became so unreliable and impudent that Mrs. L. wrote to his mother, who replied that she could do nothing with him at home, and begged that he be kept here. At length the climax came, and finding that moral suasion and threats were of no avail, Mrs. Loveland sent for Capt.
Hooper and requested him to take such measures as seemed advisable. The Captain tried a verbal reproof, but was met with impudence; then he took hold of Joe's coat, and slapped both sides of his face. That was all of it. Since his face was made public, Joe has been to Loveland's and begged to be taken back, but he got wated.

Ex-Congressman Benjamin F. Howey died at his home in Columbia, Warren county, of Bright's disease, on Monday morning, in the sixty-eighth year of his age. Mr. Howey was an honest, able and upright man, who possessed in a marked degree the elements of popularity, as was evidenced by his numerous political successes as a Republican in a county and district that is strongly Democratic. He was the Republican nominee for Governor in 1886, but was defeated by Robert S. Green by a small majority.

"A tariff is a tax," so say free-traders, yet their plan is to restore the sugar duty to raise needed revenue and so tax the people $50,000,000 a year, that being the tariff on imports of sugar and molasses in 1890.

The Republican.
SATURDAY, FEB. 11, 1893.

Resolved, That this Town Meeting does now and hereby plainly and utterly disavow and repudiate all of the false and illegal and unjust Records which during the past twenty-four years may ever have been made on the Town Map or on the Tax Duplicate or on the Tax Bills of the Town, or in the Minutes of the Town Meetings or of the Town Council or of the Commissioners of Appeal for Taxes.
Resolved, That this Town Meeting does now and hereby order and direct all of the officers of the Town, and especially the Assessors and Collector of the Town, that they shall forthwith, and at the very earliest date possible, so alter the Tax Map and the Tax Duplicate and also the Tax Bills that shall ever hereafter be made out by them or their successors in office, that everything may hereafter be done legally and justly and "by due process of law," and that no such thing has in this case by the mere arbitrary will and pleasure of some of the Town's officers in flat defiance of both Law and Justice.
Resolved, That the 20 acres now laid out in streets in the Passmore tract be restored to the assessment, and the whole tract be taxed as 69 acres of land, not as town lots. (This fourth resolution is less than two-thirds of three-fourths of Mr. P., but conveys his idea.)
The alternative proposed by Mr. P. is expressed thus: "I will fight the whole Town of Hamonton." "It shall have war to its heart's content, and a war that shall last until the whole town shall have grown sick and tired of it." Mr. Passmore has forfeited all claim to personal consideration, by his free use of slanderous language, such as "mean and cruel and wickedly devilish liars and thieves and robbers," (p. 10 supplement No. 1), and such opprobrious epithets as "dog," "swine," "devil," etc., in this pamphlet, and only the consideration that his estimate of his wife and daughter would necessarily result in his punishment, has brought him immunity. But Americans love fair play; so, white we do not believe there are men in town who would consent to sit in Town meeting long enough to hear Mr. Passmore's statement and the discussion which should follow, would it not be well to shut off all talk upon the subject, and prevent long and tedious litigation which might follow, by adopting something like this:
WHEREAS, William Passmore, a citizen of Hamonton, considers himself grievously wronged by assessments made upon certain of his property; therefore, be it Resolved, That we, the voters of the Town of Hamonton, in Town Meeting assembled, do hereby agree to submit the whole subject to the arbitration of three men,—one to be selected by Mr.
Passmore, one by our Town Council, the third by the two so selected.
Resolved, That the arbitrators herein provided for shall receive a concise written statement of his case from Mr. Passmore, shall consult all records bearing upon the case, summon witnesses, consult legal advice if necessary, and decide all points at issue. Their decision shall be binding upon both parties.
Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions shall be presented to Mr. Passmore, and they shall become operative upon his acceptance of their provisions.
Resolved, That a sum not to exceed $500 is hereby appropriated from the Surplus Fund, to compensate the arbitrators and defray necessary expenses.

We should like to publish the opinions of others on the subject; but bull them down, don't exceed two hundred words; which we propose to send to you, transportation paid. The little darling rests against a pillow, and is in the act of drawing off its pink sock, the mate of which has been pulled off and hung aside with a triumphant "COO." The reproductions cannot be told from the original, which cost $400, and are the same size (17x22 inches). The baby is life size, and absolutely lifelike. New York Tribune, 1893 Greatest of Republican Papers.

National in its Aims, and Devoted to the Welfare of the Masses of the American People.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE conceals the election of Grover Cleveland, but promises to defeat the Republican policy on Finance and Protection, with all the ability it can command.
It was the discontent of the farmers which caused the Democratic victory of two years ago. The Weekly Tribune, addressing its direct readers for the last two years, has carried on a campaign of discussion for their benefit, almost unparalleled in American journalism, and the result coupled with Whitelaw Reid's previous great service to farmers, has been seen in the fact that agricultural communities have stood faithful to the Republican party, in a campaign in which in other localities the party was completely changed their tactics and excited discontent among workmen. They pointed to the higher prices of farm products, and assented the workmen of Northern cities that the British tariff system, (that is to say, the tariff on imported goods, and the industry) would lower the prices of food and manufactured products, and the profits of "monopolists" in this country, while at the same time maintaining the wages of labor, whose wages being now the highest ever known in the United States. By false pretenses, deception, and a purring of the lowest passions of the masses, the Tribune, in its campaign, has misled the country and elected a Democratic President and Congress.
The Tribune confidently awaits the result. Not for one moment, however, will the Tribune yield one inch of ground in the battle for American policies.
Growth of the Tribune, the coming year will be the feat of the Tribune, the coming year will be the feat of every political faith are invited to read them. They will state the Republican view with frankness, point out the probable consequences of a change in the tariff policy of the country, and evade no issue, and conceal no fact bearing upon the subjects discussed. This thorough treatment of fundamental principles will aid every reader to a better understanding of profound and important issues.
A page a week will be devoted, during 1893, to war stories and news of interest to Union veterans. Old soldiers, who have some experience to tell, which has not yet been printed, are asked to send the story to the Tribune for publication.
Farming has now become such an enormous interest in the United States, that there is an imperative necessity for making more of a specialty of the business interests of the farmers of the country at large. Plans have been formed which ought to make the Semi-Weekly and the Weekly Tribune absolutely independent in every dollar of the soil during 1893.
A large number of entertaining features of general interest will also appear. "How to Succeed in Life," "Village Improvement," special articles by brilliant men and women of high reputation, Chess and Checkers, and a hundred other things which cannot be recited in a brief prospectus, will appear on the Tribune's pages during 1893. The paper will have less politics and more of the thousand and one things which refresh the mind, entertain the imagination, and guide the reader in the prosecution of business and social life.
The Tribune asks for reports as to the operations of Village Improvement Societies, from those who are acquainted with their operations.
An illustrated catalogue of excellent premiums will be sent free on application.
The Semi-Weekly is particularly commended to the attention of general readers. It gives more of the keen incisive editorials, book reviews, foreign letters, and other valuable features of the Tribune, than the daily issue. The large type and broad columns of the Tribune make it the easy to read.
Weekly, $1 a year. Semi-Weekly, $2. Sample copies free.
Friends of Agriculture, Industry, and the Republican Party are invited to make up plans for the paper in their localities. There are four years of trial, of new experiment, of discussion of great national topics, and of observation of the effects of Democratic supremacy before the country. The Tribune will lead in the presentation of the Republican view. The friends of the splendid record of the Republican party can aid in the final triumph of Republican principles by seeing that the people read the Republican side of the story.
