

South-Jersey Republican

Orville E. Hoyt, Publisher.

Terms--$1.25 Per Year.

VOL. 25.

HAMMONTON, N. J., FEBRUARY 26, 1887.

NO. 9

THE WALMER HOUSE,

Central Avenue, Hammonton, N. J.

Open at all seasons, for permanent and transient boarders. Large airy rooms. First-class table. Verandas and balconies to every room. Plenty of Shade. Pure Water. Stabling for horses. Special Rates for Families for the Season. For terms, address—WALMER HOUSE, Hammonton, Atlantic County, New Jersey. (Lock-Box 75)

Watches!

American and Swiss Movements.

THE VERY BEST.

Gold, silver, silverine, nickel cases

Your Choice, at Fair Prices.

CARL M. COOK.

Repairing of all kinds done, and Guaranteed.

J. MURDOCH,

MANUFACTURER OF

SHOES.

Ladies', Men's, and Children's
Shoes made to order.

Boys' Shoes a Specialty.

Repairing Neatly Done.

A good stock of shoes of all kinds always on hand.

First floor—Small's Block,
Hammonton. : : N. J.

Read the Republican.

THOS. HARTSHORN,

Hammonton, N. J.

PaperHanger, HousePainter.

Orders left with S. E. Brown & Co., or in Post-office box 200 will receive prompt attention.

Jones & Lawson

CONTRACTORS AND

BUILDERS

Hammonton, N. J.

Plans, Specifications, and Estimates
furnished
JOBING promptly attended to.

Wagons

AND

Buggies.

On and after Jan. 1, 1886, I will sell

One-horse wagons, with fine body and Columbia springs complete, 1 1/2 inch tire, 1 1/4 axle, for CABIN,	$80 00
One-horse wagon, complete, 1 1/2 tire 1 1/4 axle, for	62 50
The same, with 2-inch tire	65 00
One-horse Light Express	55 00
Platform Light Express	60 00
Side-spring Buggies with fine finish	70 00
Two-horse Farm Wagons	$35 to 70 00
No-top Buggies	50 00

These wagons are all made of the best White Oak and Hickory, and are thoroughly seasoned, and ironed in a workmanlike manner. Please call, and be convinced. Factory at the C. & A. Depot, Hammonton.

ALEX. WICKEN, Proprietor.

TUTT'S

EXPECTORANT

Is composed of Herbal and Mucilaginous products, which permeate the substance of the Lungs, expectorates the acrid matter that collects in the Bronchial Tubes, and forms a soothing coating, which relieves the irritation that causes the cough. It cleanses the lungs of all impurities, strengthens them when enfeebled by disease, invigorates the circulation of the blood, and braces the nervous system. Slight colds often end in consumption. It is dangerous to neglect them. Apply the remedy promptly. A case of twenty years' duration of this terrible disease, which was cured by the use of TUTT'S EXPECTORANT. A single dose raises the phlegm, subdues inflammation, and its use speedsily cures the most obstinate cough. A pleasant cordial, children take it readily. For Croup it is invaluable and should be in every family. In 25c and $1 Bottles.

TUTT'S

PILLS

ACT DIRECTLY ON THE LIVER. Cures Chills and Fever, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Bilious Colic, Constipation, Rheumatism, Piles, Palpitation of the Heart, Dizziness, Torpid Liver, and Female Irregularities. If you do not feel very well, a single pill stimulates the stomach, restores the appetite, imparts vigor to the system.

A NOTED DIVINE SAYS:

Dr. Tarr:—Dear Sir: For ten years I have been a martyr to Dyspepsia, Constipation and Piles. Lacking your pills were recommended to me; I used them (but with little faith). I am now a well man, have good appetite, digestion perfect, regular stools, piles gone, and I have gained forty pounds solid flesh. They are worth their weight in gold.
REV. E. L. SIMPSON, Louisville, Ky.
Office, 35 Murray St., New York.
(DR. TUTT'S MANUAL of Useful Receipts FREE on application.)

THE ATTENTION of the citizens of Hammonton is called to the fact that

GERRY VALENTINE

Is the only RESIDENT

FURNISHING Undertaker.

Having recently purchased a
New and Modern Hearse,
And all necessary paraphernalia,
I am prepared to satisfy ALL who may call.

Mr. Wm. J. Hood

Will attend personally, to all calls, whether day or night. A competent woman ready to assist, also, when desired.

Mr. Hood's residence, on Second St., opposite A. J. Smith's.
Orders may be left at Chas. Simons' Livery

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing

Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,
Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10c for 100-Page Pamphlet.

There is convincing proof that irritable old Mr. Bismarck is still boss of the German Empire. The Germans are to be congratulated upon the wisdom which dissuades them from swapping horses in the middle of a stream.

The State Commission appointed to investigate the the White River, Vt., horror, found that the accident was caused by a defective rail.

A series of earthquake shocks along the Riviera and all over Southern Europe have caused great destruction and loss of life to hundreds.

The farther the Senate investigation of the Texas election outrages proceeds the deeper are the rascalities which it exposes. The revelations already made show that the methods of the bulldozer which made South Carolina so solidly Democratic have been used with powerful effect in the same direction in Texas.

When the Alabama Legislature was polled the other day on the question of presidential favorites for 1888 one member proclaimed himself for Jefferson Davis first, last and all the time. Episodes like this show that there is a good deal of the Old South still left in the New South which we hear so much about nowadays.

There may be liberal appropriations for the national defense, but they will not be made at this session. There is little chance for any of the Senate bills passing the House, except the Fortifications bill now in conference and reduced to $10,000,000.

New York City appears to be at last thoroughly aroused to the necessity of securing a high license law from the present Legislature of that state. All may not prefer high license as the remedy for the evils of intemperance, but, like Rev. Dr. Peddie, of Philadelphia, are willing to accept that advance until a more effectual remedy can be reached.

The Washington social season closed with a reception to the public by the President and Mrs. Cleveland.

Senator Sherman tendered his resignation as presiding officer pro tem. of the Senate, to take effect to-day.

The Trenton Brewery has been seized by the Deputy Revenue Collector for violating the stamp laws.

The Boston car strike is developing into a serious riot. The militia has been called out, and many special constables sworn in, Monday.

If it be true that the President has offered the secretaryship of the Treasury to Speaker Carlisle it will prove of great significance on two points. It anchors the revenue policy of the Administration firmly in accord with the Free-traders, a more frank and open indication of policy than the country has yet had from that quarter. It is further significant as a palpable design on the part of the President to do something to popularize his Administration with the South, where, in spite of Garland and Lamar, it is notoriously disliked. The appointment of Carlisle will be a sacrifice of the East to the South; for Carlisle will take the active South into the Cabinet, and in addition to being a delight to the Free traders, will be a well spring of happiness to the anti civil service reformers and the silver men, with whom the President has not got along very well. With Byard, Carlisle, Garland and Lamar, the South will have the balance of power in the Cabinet.

Rare Chance for Agents

We have just issued from the press a volume which will sell at night. Any lady who presents with three or four dollars a day and other small made, with the

New Ladies' Medical Guide,

By Drs. Faucon and Vanderbeck. A Counselor and Friend, absolutely indispensable to mothers and daughters! The structure and functions of the Reproductive Organism illustrated and explained clearly and fully by the highest authority in the United States. All diseases of women and children, with symptoms and treatment, etc., etc. Over 13 illustrations and 700 pages. Price, only $2.00. The largest, cheapest, and only authentic, reliable, and satisfactory work of the kind. The success of our canvassers is unparalleled. Ladies accomplish much good, and make money very fast selling this book. Circulars and terms free, or a sample copy by mail on receipt of price. Address

JOHN E. POTTER & Co.,
Publishers
617 Sanson St., Philadelphia, Penna.

You can be cured

OF RHEUMATISM by using
RUSSIAN RHEUMATISM CURE.

It is not a cure-all. It cures nothing but Rheumatism, but it is a safe and sure cure for that disease. Thousands who have been cured will testify to its reliability.
Mr. G. B. ULMER, of 1231 N. 12th St., Phila., wrote four months after he had been cured by the Russian Rheumatism Cure (waiting to see whether it would not return), saying he was bedridden with the disease, and thought he would lose his reason from the agony he had to endure; and inside of two weeks he was cured by this remedy, although he had his home physician, and used other remedies without result, previous to trying this wonderful remedy.

Mr. CHAS. A. COX, American and Morris St., Phila., said: "My wife was bedridden, and her condition made me despair. Doctors and everything else failed. The Russian Rheumatism Cure cured her in one week."

EVERY BOX HAS BOTH TRADE MARKS AND SIGNATURE. Twice this Size. Knead mass without this size. Measure and both Trade Marks. PRICE $2.50 PER BOX. For complete information, Descriptive Pamphlet, with testimonials, free. For sale by all druggists. If one or the other is not in position to furnish it to you, do not be persuaded to take anything else, but apply direct to the General Agents: PAULZ & CO., 619 & 621 Market Street, Philadelphia.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS
WILL CURE

HEADACHE
INDIGESTION
BILIOUSNESS
DYSPEPSIA
NERVOUS PROSTRATION
MALARIA
CHILLS AND FEVERS
TIRED FEELING
GENERAL DEBILITY
RAIN IN THE BACK & SIDES
IMPURE BLOOD
CONSTIPATION
FEMALE INFIRMITIES
RHEUMATISM
NEURALGIA
KIDNEY AND LIVER TROUBLES
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS
The Genuine has Trade Mark and crossed Red Lines on wrapper.
TAKE NO OTHER.

A. J. SMITH,
NOTARY PUBLIC

AND
COMMISSIONER OF DEEDS,
Deeds, Mortgages, Agreements, Bills of Sale, and other papers executed in a neat, careful and correct manner.
Hammonton, N. J.

S. D. HOFFMAN,
Attorney-at-Law,

Master in Chancery, Notary Public,
Commissioner of Deeds, Supreme Court Commissioner.

City Hall, Atlantic City, N. J.

GEO. A. ROGERS,
ELM,

Presents his card and compliments, with the remark that he has added

COAL

To his business, and is ready to supply any in want thereof. I have also a set of wagon-scales, so I am able to tell you your avoirdupois, or that of your team, or whatever you may desire.

Don't forget, I am just as complete in the line of

Choice Groceries

as ever. I still retain Flour a specialty, with Teas and Coffees.

A good assortment of

DRY GOODS,
Medicated, Blue, and Canton Flannel, and Notions. Also, Bran, Hay, Feed, and Salt.

Standard Medicine

for the Man, and Wilkinson's Phosphate
for his land.

Winter Dress Goods
at a great Reduction in Prices, at Stockwell's,
to make room for Spring stock of goods.

Also,
a good variety of Notions.
Buttons
A Specialty.

DON'T GO HUNGRY!
But go to

Packer's Bakery,

Where you can get

The Best
Wheat, Bran, and Rye
BREAD

At the old price of ten years' standing.

FIVE CENTS per LOAF

Breakfast and Tea Rolls,
Cinnamon Buns,

Pies, Crullers,
A great variety of Cakes.

Baker's Yeast

constantly on hand.

Foreign and Domestic Fruits, Nuts and Confections, as usual

Meals and Lunches furnished to order, and a limited number of lodgers accommodated.

The REPUBLICAN contains more than twenty-five columns of entertaining reading each week. Thus, in a year we furnish you 1800 columns of fresh news items, stories, etc., all for $1.25.

90 CHOICE BUILDING LOTS FOR SALE.

Close to SCHOOLS, CHURCHES, POST-OFFICES, and R.R. DEPOTS in the CENTRE of the Town of Hammonton.

Prices Reasonable Terms Easy

Call on, or address,

A. J. SMITH, HAMMONTON, N. J.
P. Box

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

When you retire to bed, think over what you have been doing during the day.

The private path of elopement leads to the public highway of the divorce court.

It is a long road paved with hope, between what you expect and what you get.

Be patient. Water may be carried in a sieve if you will wait—it will freeze.

If your hands cannot be usefully employed attend to the cultivation of your mind.

An ignorant teacher is like a blind torchbearer with an unlighted torch; he holds it up, but it gives no light, and he does not know it.

Charity toward the weaknesses of human nature is a virtue which we demand in others, but which we find very hard to practice ourselves.

Memory and hope are set like stars above the soul, the one shining dimly through the twilight of the past, the other lighting the archway of the future.

Education is not a charity it is a necessity, and parents are guilty of a crime against the State when they refuse to give their children a decent education.

The threats of the divine law, but the warnings of divine love? They are a fence thrown around the pit of perdition to prevent rash men from running headlong into it.

A thankful spirit has always fresh matter for thankfulness. To praise God for the past is the sure way to secure mercies for the future. Prayer or praise form is better than a beautiful face; a beautiful behavior is better than a beautiful form; it gives a higher pleasure than statues and pictures; it is the finest of the fine arts.

A protest against the unfair distribution of the world's work, which can only be well done when every man and woman is asked to work, and condemned by public opinion if they refuse to work.

When a man pulls out his pipe and gives it to a woman, he is laying by thousands of pounds, I can only consider that he forms a pretty accurate measurement of the value of his religion.

A gentle, mother-hearted visitor to a fall will sometimes soften and shape the hearts of the obdurate, who have long defied punishments and threats. The world can never be scared out of its sins.

We can easily manage if we only take, each day, the burden appointed for it. But the load will be too heavy for us if we add to it the weight of the burden of tomorrow before we are called to bear it.

He that will put time and eternity before him, and who will dare to look steadily on both of them, he will find that the more he contemplates the former, the more he will grow greater and the latter less.

The best books for us are not always those which we recommend, but often those which we need, and which we want, and the natural thirst of our minds, and which therefore, awaken interest and rivet thought.

The love of glory, the fear of shame, the desire of making a fortune, the desire of making a name, the desire of being a hero, the desire of being a saint, and the desire of being a saint, are often the causes of that valor so celebrated among men.

The soul may be compared to a field of battle, where the elements are ready for every moment to encounter. Not a single vice has a more powerful opponent, and not one virtue but may be overcome by a combination of vices.

It is very hard to live in the world and keep the tenderness, the purity, and the truth of a little child. Happy are those who do; but if the petrifying waters of deceit, and hate, and malice, and ingratitude, harden some hearts, who shall wonder?

He who betrays another's secret because he has quarreled with him, was never worthy of the sacred name of friend; a breach of friendship will not justify a breach of trust.

We ought to have room for enthusiasm even if they violate every rule of grammar. A grand blundering, hammering, thundering, whole-headed, Bonaparte is a better man than a refined, elegant, and polished, but unprincipled, prim as milk and water, soft as boiled parsnips.

There is no power like that of oratory. Caesar controlled men by exciting their fears; Cicero by exciting their affections and swaying their passions. The influence of one perished with the authority of the other continues to this day.

If you wish to make yourself agreeable to any one, talk as much as you please about his or her affairs, and as little as possible about your own. If you are such downright egotists themselves that they cannot tolerate egotism in others.

The diseased man, who is restored to health, cares little whether his physician wears a wig or gown, or receives his diploma from Paris or London, and so, to regenerate the man, it is of little moment where or by what process he became a temple of the holy spirit.

Conscience is doubtless sufficient to conduct the coldest character into the road of virtue; but enthusiasm is to conscience what honor is to duty; there is a superiority in being sweet to consecrate to the beautiful when the good has been accomplished.

It is safe to say that there would be a great deal more bread cast upon the waters than there is, if people were only sure it would be returned to them with ten per cent. interest. It is the uncertainty of the investment that makes people hesitate.

A TAIL AS A FISH-LINE

The Cunning Ape's Amazing Method of Catching a Crab.

There is on the coast of Java a peculiar long-tailed ape and a small crab grows to extraordinary size and possesses great strength in its claws. The apes are particularly fond of these crabs, which are very shy and wonderfully quick in their movements. The crab lives in deep holes in the sand, but spend much of their time on the outside of their holes, where they run and hop about. They range in size from that of a silver dollar to that of our edible crabs. The claws are not large, but have a grip that is vice-like.

The apes make daily raids on the haunts, and occasionally succeed—by creeping stealthily within a few feet of a group of them and then springing upon them—in capturing one. Usually, however, the crabs are so wary that while the ape is in the air during his spring toward them they have separated and disappeared into the ground. The ape, finding himself too slow to make a capture, then resorts to a bit of strategy to secure a dinner. His mode of plan is to capture an ant on him a pang of physical suffering which is frequently more than he can bear; but his love for the crab as a morsel of food is so strong that he never hesitates to accept the personal discomfort which its capture involves, and usually bears it with a stoicism which might inspire admiration if it were not for its comical side.

When the ape finds that he is foiled in his effort to catch a crab by springing as a group, he backs himself up to a few feet, and then he springs forward, sitting down he thrusts his long tail into the hole. The crab, to punish such unwarranted intrusion, seizes the end of the tail the moment it approaches near enough. Any one who has been fortunate enough to hide himself in the bushes unobserved by the ape making the raid will have a hard time to restrain his laughter when the critical moment of contact between the crab's claw and the ape's tail is reached.

There is a comical look of suspense on the ape's face as he thrusts his tail into the hole. When the crab closes on the tail the look of suspense departs. The ape gives an involuntary start and then settles on his haunches, while he closes his teeth together with a determined air, and eventually springing forward, comes the tail from the hole with the crab dangling to it, and the ape is soon proceeding with his meal.

Portentous Comets.

With or without (mostly without) precedence or accompanying celestial phenomenon conspicuous in the world's history have followed each other down the ages, but we think that the following table of comets, and of the events by which they have been succeeded, "shows that the popular belief that comets predict remarkable events is not altogether unreasonable." Before Christ, 431, Peloponnesian war; 331, battle of Arbela; 43, death of Christ; 62, earthquake in Achaia and Macedonia; 70, destruction of Jerusalem; 70, eruption of Vesuvius, which caused the destruction of Herculaneum; 337, death of Constantine; 400, invasion of Aleria in Italy; 812, preceded the death of Charlemagne; 877, death of Charles le Chauve; 999, preceded the disasters and terrors of the year 1000; 1066, conquest of England by the Normans; 1223, death of Philip Augustus; 1263, death of Urban IV; 1263, preceded the death of Manfred, the King of Naples; 1273, a comet killed Rodolph of Hapsburg; 1293, modified character and conduct of Koubli Khan, founder of the Tartar domination in China; 1454, taking of Constantinople; 1500, irruption of Tartars in Poland, famine in Swabia and expedition of Charles XIII in Italy; 1510, announced the misfortunes of Munster, under John of Leyden, civil war in Switzerland, plague in England, inundations in Holland, and an earthquake in Portugal; 1560, abdication of Charles V.; 1560, death of Francis II, of France; 1572, massacre of St. Bartholomew and death of Charles IV.; 1577, King Sebastian made an unfortunate expedition into Africa, where he lost his life; 1580, epidemic in Italy and France; 1580, execution of Louis XVI in France; 1804, downfall of the empire; 1811, birth of the King of Rome; 1820, Napoleon considered the appearance of this comet a sign that his disappearance was at hand; 1858, threatened assassination of the Emperor of France by Orsini and the Italian war; 1861, inundation of the Danube, American civil war, earthquakes of Guatemala and Rhodes, death of the Prince consort, the new Kingdom of Italy, emancipation of Russian serfs, death of the Sultan of Turkey, and the end of Rome as a power.

Liquor men in various New Jersey towns are said to have combined to defeat any legislative action against their interests.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

When you retire to bed, think over what you have been doing during the day.

The private path of elopement leads to the public highway of the divorce court.

It is a long road paved with hope, between what you expect and what you get.

Be patient. Water may be carried in a sieve if you will wait—it will freeze.

If your hands cannot be usefully employed attend to the cultivation of your mind.

An ignorant teacher is like a blind torchbearer with an unlighted torch; he holds it up, but it gives no light, and he does not know it.

Charity toward the weaknesses of human nature is a virtue which we demand in others, but which we find very hard to practice ourselves.

Memory and hope are set like stars above the soul, the one shining dimly through the twilight of the past, the other lighting the archway of the future.

Education is not a charity it is a necessity, and parents are guilty of a crime against the State when they refuse to give their children a decent education.

The threats of the divine law, but the warnings of divine love? They are a fence thrown around the pit of perdition to prevent rash men from running headlong into it.

A thankful spirit has always fresh matter for thankfulness. To praise God for the past is the sure way to secure mercies for the future. Prayer or praise form is better than a beautiful face; a beautiful behavior is better than a beautiful form; it gives a higher pleasure than statues and pictures; it is the finest of the fine arts.

A protest against the unfair distribution of the world's work, which can only be well done when every man and woman is asked to work, and condemned by public opinion if they refuse to work.

When a man pulls out his pipe and gives it to a woman, he is laying by thousands of pounds, I can only consider that he forms a pretty accurate measurement of the value of his religion.

A gentle, mother-hearted visitor to a fall will sometimes soften and shape the hearts of the obdurate, who have long defied punishments and threats. The world can never be scared out of its sins.

We can easily manage if we only take, each day, the burden appointed for it. But the load will be too heavy for us if we add to it the weight of the burden of tomorrow before we are called to bear it.

He that will put time and eternity before him, and who will dare to look steadily on both of them, he will find that the more he contemplates the former, the more he will grow greater and the latter less.

The best books for us are not always those which we recommend, but often those which we need, and which we want, and the natural thirst of our minds, and which therefore, awaken interest and rivet thought.

The love of glory, the fear of shame, the desire of making a fortune, the desire of making a name, the desire of being a hero, the desire of being a saint, and the desire of being a saint, are often the causes of that valor so celebrated among men.

The soul may be compared to a field of battle, where the elements are ready for every moment to encounter. Not a single vice has a more powerful opponent, and not one virtue but may be overcome by a combination of vices.

It is very hard to live in the world and keep the tenderness, the purity, and the truth of a little child. Happy are those who do; but if the petrifying waters of deceit, and hate, and malice, and ingratitude, harden some hearts, who shall wonder?

He who betrays another's secret because he has quarreled with him, was never worthy of the sacred name of friend; a breach of friendship will not justify a breach of trust.

We ought to have room for enthusiasm even if they violate every rule of grammar. A grand blundering, hammering, thundering, whole-headed, Bonaparte is a better man than a refined, elegant, and polished, but unprincipled, prim as milk and water, soft as boiled parsnips.

There is no power like that of oratory. Caesar controlled men by exciting their fears; Cicero by exciting their affections and swaying their passions. The influence of one perished with the authority of the other continues to this day.

If you wish to make yourself agreeable to any one, talk as much as you please about his or her affairs, and as little as possible about your own. If you are such downright egotists themselves that they cannot tolerate egotism in others.

The diseased man, who is restored to health, cares little whether his physician wears a wig or gown, or receives his diploma from Paris or London, and so, to regenerate the man, it is of little moment where or by what process he became a temple of the holy spirit.

Conscience is doubtless sufficient to conduct the coldest character into the road of virtue; but enthusiasm is to conscience what honor is to duty; there is a superiority in being sweet to consecrate to the beautiful when the good has been accomplished.

It is safe to say that there would be a great deal more bread cast upon the waters than there is, if people were only sure it would be returned to them with ten per cent. interest. It is the uncertainty of the investment that makes people hesitate.

When you retire to bed, think over what you have been doing during the day.

The private path of elopement leads to the public highway of the divorce court.

It is a long road paved with hope, between what you expect and what you get.

Be patient. Water may be carried in a sieve if you will wait—it will freeze.

If your hands cannot be usefully employed attend to the cultivation of your mind.

An ignorant teacher is like a blind torchbearer with an unlighted torch; he holds it up, but it gives no light, and he does not know it.

Charity toward the weaknesses of human nature is a virtue which we demand in others, but which we find very hard to practice ourselves.

Memory and hope are set like stars above the soul, the one shining dimly through the twilight of the past, the other lighting the archway of the future.

Education is not a charity it is a necessity, and parents are guilty of a crime against the State when they refuse to give their children a decent education.

The threats of the divine law, but the warnings of divine love? They are a fence thrown around the pit of perdition to prevent rash men from running headlong into it.

A thankful spirit has always fresh matter for thankfulness. To praise God for the past is the sure way to secure mercies for the future. Prayer or praise form is better than a beautiful face; a beautiful behavior is better than a beautiful form; it gives a higher pleasure than statues and pictures; it is the finest of the fine arts.

A protest against the unfair distribution of the world's work, which can only be well done when every man and woman is asked to work, and condemned by public opinion if they refuse to work.

When a man pulls out his pipe and gives it to a woman, he is laying by thousands of pounds, I can only consider that he forms a pretty accurate measurement of the value of his religion.

A gentle, mother-hearted visitor to a fall will sometimes soften and shape the hearts of the obdurate, who have long defied punishments and threats. The world can never be scared out of its sins.

We can easily manage if we only take, each day, the burden appointed for it. But the load will be too heavy for us if we add to it the weight of the burden of tomorrow before we are called to bear it.

He that will put time and eternity before him, and who will dare to look steadily on both of them, he will find that the more he contemplates the former, the more he will grow greater and the latter less.

The best books for us are not always those which we recommend, but often those which we need, and which we want, and the natural thirst of our minds, and which therefore, awaken interest and rivet thought.

The love of glory, the fear of shame, the desire of making a fortune, the desire of making a name, the desire of being a hero, the desire of being a saint, and the desire of being a saint, are often the causes of that valor so celebrated among men.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

When you retire to bed, think over what you have been doing during the day.

The private path of elopement leads to the public highway of the divorce court.

It is a long road paved with hope, between what you expect and what you get.

Be patient. Water may be carried in a sieve if you will wait—it will freeze.

If your hands cannot be usefully employed attend to the cultivation of your mind.

An ignorant teacher is like a blind torchbearer with an unlighted torch; he holds it up, but it gives no light, and he does not know it.

Charity toward the weaknesses of human nature is a virtue which we demand in others, but which we find very hard to practice ourselves.

Memory and hope are set like stars above the soul, the one shining dimly through the twilight of the past, the other lighting the archway of the future.

Education is not a charity it is a necessity, and parents are guilty of a crime against the State when they refuse to give their children a decent education.

The threats of the divine law, but the warnings of divine love? They are a fence thrown around the pit of perdition to prevent rash men from running headlong into it.

A thankful spirit has always fresh matter for thankfulness. To praise God for the past is the sure way to secure mercies for the future. Prayer or praise form is better than a beautiful face; a beautiful behavior is better than a beautiful form; it gives a higher pleasure than statues and pictures; it is the finest of the fine arts.

A protest against the unfair distribution of the world's work, which can only be well done when every man and woman is asked to work, and condemned by public opinion if they refuse to work.

When a man pulls out his pipe and gives it to a woman, he is laying by thousands of pounds, I can only consider that he forms a pretty accurate measurement of the value of his religion.

A gentle, mother-hearted visitor to a fall will sometimes soften and shape the hearts of the obdurate, who have long defied punishments and threats. The world can never be scared out of its sins.

We can easily manage if we only take, each day, the burden appointed for it. But the load will be too heavy for us if we add to it the weight of the burden of tomorrow before we are called to bear it.

He that will put time and eternity before him, and who will dare to look steadily on both of them, he will find that the more he contemplates the former, the more he will grow greater and the latter less.

The best books for us are not always those which we recommend, but often those which we need, and which we want, and the natural thirst of our minds, and which therefore, awaken interest and rivet thought.

The love of glory, the fear of shame, the desire of making a fortune, the desire of making a name, the desire of being a hero, the desire of being a saint, and the desire of being a saint, are often the causes of that valor so celebrated among men.

The soul may be compared to a field of battle, where the elements are ready for every moment to encounter. Not a single vice has a more powerful opponent, and not one virtue but may be overcome by a combination of vices.

It is very hard to live in the world and keep the tenderness, the purity, and the truth of a little child. Happy are those who do; but if the petrifying waters of deceit, and hate, and malice, and ingratitude, harden some hearts, who shall wonder?

He who betrays another's secret because he has quarreled with him, was never worthy of the sacred name of friend; a breach of friendship will not justify a breach of trust.

We ought to have room for enthusiasm even if they violate every rule of grammar. A grand blundering, hammering, thundering, whole-headed, Bonaparte is a better man than a refined, elegant, and polished, but unprincipled, prim as milk and water, soft as boiled parsnips.

There is no power like that of oratory. Caesar controlled men by exciting their fears; Cicero by exciting their affections and swaying their passions. The influence of one perished with the authority of the other continues to this day.

If you wish to make yourself agreeable to any one, talk as much as you please about his or her affairs, and as little as possible about your own. If you are such downright egotists themselves that they cannot tolerate egotism in others.

The diseased man, who is restored to health, cares little whether his physician wears a wig or gown, or receives his diploma from Paris or London, and so, to regenerate the man, it is of little moment where or by what process he became a temple of the holy spirit.

Conscience is doubtless sufficient to conduct the coldest character into the road of virtue; but enthusiasm is to conscience what honor is to duty; there is a superiority in being sweet to consecrate to the beautiful when the good has been accomplished.

It is safe to say that there would be a great deal more bread cast upon the waters than there is, if people were only sure it would be returned to them with ten per cent. interest. It is the uncertainty of the investment that makes people hesitate.

When you retire to bed, think over what you have been doing during the day.

The private path of elopement leads to the public highway of the divorce court.

It is a long road paved with hope, between what you expect and what you get.

Be patient. Water may be carried in a sieve if you will wait—it will freeze.

If your hands cannot be usefully employed attend to the cultivation of your mind.

An ignorant teacher is like a blind torchbearer with an unlighted torch; he holds it up, but it gives no light, and he does not know it.

Charity toward the weaknesses of human nature is a virtue which we demand in others, but which we find very hard to practice ourselves.

Memory and hope are set like stars above the soul, the one shining dimly through the twilight of the past, the other lighting the archway of the future.

Education is not a charity it is a necessity, and parents are guilty of a crime against the State when they refuse to give their children a decent education.

The threats of the divine law, but the warnings of divine love? They are a fence thrown around the pit of perdition to prevent rash men from running headlong into it.

A thankful spirit has always fresh matter for thankfulness. To praise God for the past is the sure way to secure mercies for the future. Prayer or praise form is better than a beautiful face; a beautiful behavior is better than a beautiful form; it gives a higher pleasure than statues and pictures; it is the finest of the fine arts.

A protest against the unfair distribution of the world's work, which can only be well done when every man and woman is asked to work, and condemned by public opinion if they refuse to work.

When a man pulls out his pipe and gives it to a woman, he is laying by thousands of pounds, I can only consider that he forms a pretty accurate measurement of the value of his religion.

A gentle, mother-hearted visitor to a fall will sometimes soften and shape the hearts of the obdurate, who have long defied punishments and threats. The world can never be scared out of its sins.

We can easily manage if we only take, each day, the burden appointed for it. But the load will be too heavy for us if we add to it the weight of the burden of tomorrow before we are called to bear it.

He that will put time and eternity before him, and who will dare to look steadily on both of them, he will find that the more he contemplates the former, the more he will grow greater and the latter less.

The best books for us are not always those which we recommend, but often those which we need, and which we want, and the natural thirst of our minds, and which therefore, awaken interest and rivet thought.

The love of glory, the fear of shame, the desire of making a fortune, the desire of making a name, the desire of being a hero, the desire of being a saint, and the desire of being a saint, are often the causes of that valor so celebrated among men.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

When you retire to bed, think over what you have been doing during the day.

The private path of elopement leads to the public highway of the divorce court.

It is a long road paved with hope, between what you expect and what you get.

Be patient. Water may be carried in a sieve if you will wait—it will freeze.

If your hands cannot be usefully employed attend to the cultivation of your mind.

An ignorant teacher is like a blind torchbearer with an unlighted torch; he holds it up, but it gives no light, and he does not know it.

Charity toward the weaknesses of human nature is a virtue which we demand in others, but which we find very hard to practice ourselves.

Memory and hope are set like stars above the soul, the one shining dimly through the twilight of the past, the other lighting the archway of the future.

Education is not a charity it is a necessity, and parents are guilty of a crime against the State when they refuse to give their children a decent education.

The threats of the divine law, but the warnings of divine love? They are a fence thrown around the pit of perdition to prevent rash men from running headlong into it.

A thankful spirit has always fresh matter for thankfulness. To praise God for the past is the sure way to secure mercies for the future. Prayer or praise form is better than a beautiful face; a beautiful behavior is better than a beautiful form; it gives a higher pleasure than statues and pictures; it is the finest of the fine arts.

A protest against the unfair distribution of the world's work, which can only be well done when every man and woman is asked to work, and condemned by public opinion if they refuse to work.

When a man pulls out his pipe and gives it to a woman, he is laying by thousands of pounds, I can only consider that he forms a pretty accurate measurement of the value of his religion.

A gentle, mother-hearted visitor to a fall will sometimes soften and shape the hearts of the obdurate, who have long defied punishments and threats. The world can never be scared out of its sins.

We can easily manage if we only take, each day, the burden appointed for it. But the load will be too heavy for us if we add to it the weight of the burden of tomorrow before we are called to bear it.

He that will put time and eternity before him, and who will dare to look steadily on both of them, he will find that the more he contemplates the former, the more he will grow greater and the latter less.

The best books for us are not always those which we recommend, but often those which we need, and which we want, and the natural thirst of our minds, and which therefore, awaken interest and rivet thought.

The love of glory, the fear of shame, the desire of making a fortune, the desire of making a name, the desire of being a hero, the desire of being a saint, and the desire of being a saint, are often the causes of that valor so celebrated among men.

The soul may be compared to a field of battle, where the elements are ready for every moment to encounter. Not a single vice has a more powerful opponent, and not one virtue but may be overcome by a combination of vices.

It is very hard to live in the world and keep the tenderness, the purity, and the truth of a little child. Happy are those who do; but if the petrifying waters of deceit, and hate, and malice, and ingratitude, harden some hearts, who shall wonder?

He who betrays another's secret because he has quarreled with him, was never worthy of the sacred name of friend; a breach of friendship will not justify a breach of trust.

We ought to have room for enthusiasm even if they violate every rule of grammar. A grand blundering, hammering, thundering, whole-headed, Bonaparte is a better man than a refined, elegant, and polished, but unprincipled, prim as milk and water, soft as boiled parsnips.

There is no power like that of oratory. Caesar controlled men by exciting their fears; Cicero by exciting their affections and swaying their passions. The influence of one perished with the authority of the other continues to this day.

If you wish to make yourself agreeable to any one, talk as much as you please about his or her affairs, and as little as possible about your own. If you are such downright egotists themselves that they cannot tolerate egotism in others.

The diseased man, who is restored to health, cares little whether his physician wears a wig or gown, or receives his diploma from Paris or London, and so, to regenerate the man, it is of little moment where or by what process he became a temple of the holy spirit.

Conscience is doubtless sufficient to conduct the coldest character into the road of virtue; but enthusiasm is to conscience what honor is to duty; there is a superiority in being sweet to consecrate to the beautiful when the good has been accomplished.

It is safe to say that there would be a great deal more bread cast upon the waters than there is, if people were only sure it would be returned to them with ten per cent. interest. It is the uncertainty of the investment

