Friends here are wishing Miss Elizabeth good luck.

Regular meeting of the Board of Trade next Tuesday evening, in Firemen's Hall.

A Prosperous Company.

The firm of Henry Nicolai & Co. re-organized Jan. 1st, and adopted the name "Figueroa Cut Glass Company." They occupy their large two-story building near the Pensy station.

They are turning out some very pretty designs, and judging by the shipments, find a popular demand.

At present they are making extensive improvements on second floor, intending to add many more cutting frames.

Mr. Nicolai has a natural eye for artistic lines; and Messrs. Strunk and Rothfus, both experienced cutters, should make the business a success.

This is what Hammonton wants.

My Seventy-fifth Birthday.

Last week I invited all my friends to call on Monday, March 9th, my seventy-fifth birthday. The latch string is still out. I will be pleased to have them call, every one of them say "Howdy," shake hands, take a supply of the New Board of Trade circulars, and then go on their way rejoicing, leaving me to do the same. The main thing is to get the Board of Trade circulars and use them. Every letter which goes out from Hammonton during the next thirty days ought to have one of these circulars enclosed. In this way the name and fame of Hammonton will go broadcast over the land; and that is just what we all want. Call for the circulars, if not on Monday, then some other day; if not at my office, next to The Peoples Bank, then on the street wherever you see me; and if not in either of these ways, then write me a letter (I can read writing), and I will send them postpaid. In some way, everybody gets a supply of the circulars and uses them, and in this way help to boom Hammonton into a modern American City of 25,000 people. Do it sure.

J. A. VANFLERK.

The Woman's Civic Club.

At the annual meeting, Tuesday, the following were elected: President, Mrs. H. K. Spear. Vice-Prest., Mrs. G. M. Crowell. Sec'y, Mrs. W. W. Mayberry. Cor. Sec'y, Mrs. H. McD. Little. Treasurer, Mrs. A. E. Holman. The Secretary made the following report of the Club's work for the past year:

In April the Club canvassed the town for the benefit of the flood sufferers of the middle West, collecting $334.75 and four barrels of good clothing.

In May we sent delegates to the Annual Convention at Atlantic, who brought back new ideas and enthusiasm. Club started publishing food exposure laws in the local paper, and continued during the summer. Mother's day observed by the Club worshipping in the Presbyterian Church. On the 24th, sale and entertainment, netting the Club $33.24.

June, Reading and Rest Room opened and furnished, for public use. Fly circulars and posters distributed. The triangle at Central Avenue graded and planted. July 8th, Tithable Bee started. August 14th, Club picnic at the Park.

September 4, social, netting the Club $26.

November, the annual fair, netting $250.

The Club wishes to thank all who helped to accomplish the good work of the year, and appreciation of good fellowship displayed.

A Twentieth Century Blizzard.

"March came in like a lion and will go out like a lamb," said the older inhabitant; and every older resident of Hammonton and vicinity and of all eastern States hoped the prediction will prove correct.

Last Sunday morning, rain began falling soon after dawn,—came down as softly as dew,—but gained in power until about ten o'clock snow flakes fell the air, and by noon the earth was covered by the "beautiful." Then the wind began to blow, and a terrible blizzard was raging before sundown, and increased in violence. Electric wires yielded to the pressure, and the town was in darkness before nine o'clock. The storm continued all night, and in the morning the snow, possibly eight to ten inches of it,—was heaped up in ridges six feet high, and more, streets were well nigh impassable and strewn with tree branches. Here and there, all over town, wires were hanging down, sometimes those of the two telephones and electric lights were twisted and tangled in fantastic fashion. The poles gave way in places, thus adding to the general mix-up.

Fortunately, though the wind blew a gale, and drifted the still falling snow still deeper, the weather was not extremely cold,—mercury thirteen above zero.

The railroads were blocked, and the early morning newspaper and mail train arrived about half-past one o'clock on Monday afternoon. The reading road was open a little earlier, but operated under difficulty all day. The Pennsylvania train, or some of them, passed this station, late, but were stalled between Asbury and Waterford. Time schedules were not observed until some time on Tuesday.

Falling telephone poles were especially dangerous both to traffic and nearby buildings. Radio's greenhouse was thus badly damaged,—glass shattered beyond repair and air and snow. His fine lot of sweet peas were frozen, but the clayanthemums, being more hardy, did not suffer much. J. E. Cawley's kitchen chimney was blown all over the roof and onto the ground,—a wreck. Some people lost window panes. School sessions were suspended on Monday, and business was far from brisk. Everybody was busy with his snow-shovel. On Tuesday, snow plows made some inroads on the drifts, making most of the streets usable.

The town was in darkness two nights, until the light wires were rescued from the wrecks. The local telephone was fortunate, and had little interruption. The Electric Light and Telephone Companies are to be commended for their promptness in restoring service. Grocery store employees also worked heroically in delivering goods. One round-trip per day was made, despite the handicaps.

Tuesday's temperature was mild, the sun shone brightly, and the snow melted and shrank fifty per cent.

During the storm, a local physician had an urgent call to Middle Road, but ran into ten foot drifts. He turned into the fields, but was again confronted by a snowy barrier. Then he whittled, put his horse in a barn, and tramped a mile and a quarter, to where his arrival was anxiously awaited. Professional pride and clear grit in that man.

Thursday night brought us about four inches more of snow; but it was most too wet to drift much, though the wind blew. The roads are in every sloppiness condition. As we go to press, there is every prospect of rain.

To our young friend James W. Cottrell belongs much of the credit for the success of the Alumni School Entertainments. He is giving much time and gray matter, and is certainly pleasing the people with winter evening entertainments. It is really surprising what talent lies cooped up in our young orators and singers, only waiting an opportunity for release.

Commencing to day, the REPUBLICAN office will close at 12:30, noon, on Saturdays. This is not done because of lack of orders,—we have lots of 'em,—but for needed rest. People can see us at mail time, between six and seven o'clock, Saturday evenings.

Tuesday evening, March 10th, the Sanitary Code will be finally acted upon, at the Board of Health meeting, in Trust Company parlor. Every plumber, especially, should attend the meeting, prepared to offer suggestions.

No, our information in regard to the Town's improvement certificates was not taken from the local correspondent's stories in the city papers; they were given us by the Finance Committee, and must be correct.

Don't pack those snowballs too hard, boys: They hurt.

High School Entertainment.

The snow storm made it necessary to postpone the Victrola concert until Wednesday eve'; then the slush and lack of street lights made travel difficult for the one hundred and fifty who attended. Twenty records were played on the Concert Victrola, and appreciated. The program included selections of Caruso, Zetrazzini, Souza's and Pryor's Bands, and others.

Miss Gakes won applause by her recitation of "In the Morning," by Paul Lawrence Dunbar, " and an encore, "My sweet brown girl," by the same author.

We wish to thank the friends who supplied the necessities for this.

Kindly note that the next entertainment will be given on NEXT Monday evening, 9th inst. There will be a short musical program and a discussion of school matters, as follows:

1. Present and Future Needs of our schools ..... Prof. N. Cambridge.
2. Relation of Parents to Schools ..... Anonymous.
3. Relation of Teachers to the Community ..... Mr. W. H. French.
4. The Needs of Schools, as Seen by the Board of Education ..... Mr. W. H. French.
5. Vocational Training for Hammonton ..... A. Waak, W. R. Hoyt.
6. Agricultural Training ..... A. J. Rider.
7. School Hospitals.
8. Some Suggestions Received by the Board of Education ..... You.

Everybody welcome.

Calamity Howling.

I have little use, and no respect at all, for a calamity howler, no matter where I find him. The man who travels about telling the people that the country is going to the dogs, and that it will be impossible to accomplish anything in these Democratic times, is an enemy of his country and ought to be deported. Shame on any man, or woman either, who thinks that the honest, clear-headed, and hard working people of this great country are not capable of taking care of themselves, for that is just what calamity howling means, first, last and all the time. Let us look things squarely in the face for a moment.

That the trend of political power in this country is peopleward just at this particular time goes without saying. The people of this country have been bought and sold in the political shambles for one mess of potage after another, until they are heartily tired of it and will have no more of it. Even men like ex-President Taft, the latest, worst whipped, and doubtless last machine candidate for President this country will ever see, has at least partially wakened up to this very important fact, and is recommending many important measures which will greatly help to put the government back into the hands of the people, from whom the political bosses of the past twenty years have taken it. Penrose, the big machine boss of the great State of Pennsylvania for many years, actually makes me laugh all to myself. He has had his best ear to the ground, and is fully convinced that from this time the people propose to have something to say about the management of their own affairs. So thoroughly is he convinced of this, that he is even willing to brave the wrath of the liquor power by declaring for local option. The presumption is that he will find it a mighty big job to convince the people that his conversion to their interests is genuine, the result of real sorrow for his past misdeeds, and real faith in the people. No man needs to be a prophet, or son of a prophet, to see that President Wilson's name will be Dennis the moment he fails to carry out the will of the people who made him President. He is sharp enough to see that he is in the White House, not to push any pet theories of his own, but to carry out the pledges of the platform upon which he was elected. Through him, if he remains true to his promise, the people will come into their own, and we will really have a "Government of the people, for the people, and by the people," once more, instead of a government by a political machine, such as we have had for twenty years past. Of course, the re-alignment of business and political conditions may pinch some toes; but every man who has real love for his country ought to suspend his howling and go to work to make this honestly a people's government.

Facts About the Great Canal.

Time required to go through the canal, from ten to twelve hours.

Freight will be charged $1.20 a ton, passengers are free.

American coastwise ships may pass through free of all charges.

The canal will save 8,000 miles between New York City and San Francisco.

New York is brought 5,000 miles nearer Valparaiso and the west coast of South America.

Our Atlantic seaports are 4,000 miles nearer Australia.

The distance to the Philippine Islands is not reduced materially.

Bulk products like wheat, lumber, minerals, wool, hides and wines will get lower freight rates through the canal from Pacific ports.

Eastern machinery, textiles, manufactures and finished products will enjoy cheaper rates to Pacific ports.

Staple products of the South, cotton, iron, coal, lumber and ship supplies will have similar advantages to the Orient and Pacific ports.

Immigration will be deflected in large numbers from New York to Pacific ports.

The cost of operating the canal will exceed $4,000,000 annually.

About 2,500 employees will be required.

To pay interest on the investment and operating expense approximately $15,000,000 revenue per annum will be needed.

Traffic experts estimate that for the first few years the average annual tonnage will be 10,000,000 tons, not enough at the $1.20 rate to make the canal self-supporting.

The rates charged vessels are the same as those at Suez.

The Government will monopolize the business of supplying coal and provisions and repair facilities.

Great dry-docks, wharves, warehouses, repair shops and other facilities to cost $20,000,000 are under construction.

All permanent building will be of the Italian Renaissance style of architecture. The route of the canal will be beautified with trees, etc.

Storage for 450,000 tons of coal, maximum capacity, is provided. Normal storage capacity, 37,000 tons. Oil, 160,000 barrels.

Monster 270-ton floating cranes will handle wrecks or accidents in the canal or locks.

Warships of all nations may pass through the canal, but cannot linger more than twenty-four hours at either end, in time of war.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has jurisdiction over canal traffic.—Leslie's.

THE BLIND.

"Did you ever stop to think," asks the Journal of the American Medical Association, "of the one hundred thousand blind people in the United States, and what caused their misfortune?"

"Did it ever occur to you that about thirty thousand of these unfortunates are unnecessarily blind?"

"Do you know that about twelve thousand of these children who are blind because of the unfaithfulness of either the father or the mother?"

"Are you aware that twelve thousand people are groping their way about in darkness, due to injuries which in most instances could have been avoided by the installation in factories of proper safety devices?"

"Twenty-five hundred of them are deprived from a livelihood because of granulated lids, which is preventable by the application of proper remedies. Two thousand are deprived of their sight because of Fourth of July accidents. Fifteen hundred will never again see the light of day because of various causes, such as the drinking or absorbing of wood alcohol and the neglect of proper treatment of certain eye afflictions."

"There will always be a certain number of cases of blindness, which cannot be avoided; but it is appalling to think that the sight of thirty thousand of those now blind could have been preserved."

How shall we limit blindness in the future? By insisting that our children's eyes shall have proper care. Medical inspection of schools will help. The child sitting next to your child may have diphtheria and convey it to your child's eyes. By demanding a safe and sane Fourth of July, and by establishing such other measures as will tend to keep us healthy and free from disease.—Trenton State Gazette.
