The free-trader believed that tariff
 did not make wages, so he lowered the tariff. What is the result? Wages have gone down one-quarter, to match the tariff. By lowering the tariff 25 per cent, just so much more goods must come in from other countries to keep the revenue up. If 25 per cent more goods are shipped from Europe, surely that amount less will be made here,
 and 25 per cent of our laborers will be idle—yes, are idle to-day—and 25 per cent of our mills are closed.

What was the wage earning power of this country three years ago? The census reports say $9,000,000,000 was paid for labor every year. Twenty-five per cent of these workmen are idle now,
 and $2,000,000,000 is being taken away from the laboring man every year. Each year the country is losing enough to pay
 the national debt.

What was our home market worth?
 Census statistics say our home manufactures were worth eleven billion dollars a year. The owners of railroads, manufactories, &c., got two billion dollars after paying his laborer nine billion dollars. Who got the lion's share? By making trade freer we are lowering our wages to match and running in debt one hundred and fifty million dollars a year. We have decreased the circulating medium through the workingman two billion nine hundred million dollars a year. We cry out "bad times and say lack of money is the trouble.
 Yes, that is the trouble, and freer trade
 has done it.

Let us go for protection till we make thirty million dollars worth of home
 goods now paid to Ireland and Germany and cover corn and wheat fields with flax. Let us pay the fifteen million dollar sugar bounty to our own people, as Germany does, and make our eighty million dollars worth of sugar and take out two million bales of cotton. Let us make our cutlery and pottery.

But that Chinese wall? It is a wall to keep wealth at home and low wages
 out. The world will have our cotton (one hundred and fifty million dollars),
 our corn and wheat (two hundred millions), pork and oil (one hundred millions), and our gold and silver (one hundred and twenty millions). They will take six hundred million dollars worth of our stuff if we sell it cheaper than the rest of the world, which we can; and, if we sell it for 10 years and make our own stuff, we will save six billion dollars.

Don't throw our eleven billion-dollar
 market open to twelve billion pauper laborers. Keep them out. Keep cheap labor out. If their stuff does come in, let them pay us at the custom houses
 enough to run our Government.

Mrs. Smith of South Boston is so stingy that the only things she is known to give away are shoes to her neighbors'
 chickens.

The sluggard usually goes to the
 "uncle" instead of to the ant—he can

Blessed is the man who gives his wife

 is going to do with it.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper
 a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to all persons similarly afflicted. For sale by druggists.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down
 with pneumonia succeeding a gripe.
 Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption, and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory results." Trial bottles free at Croft's Pharmacy. Regular size 50 cents and $1.

SATURDAY, MARCH 23, 1895.

Halt a dozen letters came to Hammonton last week, from capitalists, asking for expert managers of poultry farms. One man from Hammonton now gets $100 per month. Good salaries are paid to experienced and energetic men.

The new law allows all towns, villages, etc., to organize themselves into boroughs or cities, without permission from the Legislature. It is time we throw off our old defective charter and organized as a city. Who will take the initiative?

New advertisements this week: F. E. Roberts, roasters; W. H. Ellis, bicycles; J. B. Small, Easter goods; W. H. Bernshouse, bicycles; Win. Son, clothing, etc.; J. Eckhardt, meat; M. Stockwell, carpets; Boddy & Mather, wall papers; Fruit-Grower's Union, seed potatoes.

The desks in one of the rooms at Central School have been cut and backed with pocket knives, by some of the pupils. Prof. Sanbury has made a complete investigation, and the parents of the guilty ones will pay the damage and possibly some of the leaders will be expelled from the school.

Rev. H. T. Taylor will preach in the M. E. Church to-morrow morning. Subject, "The blessedness of present salvation and freedom from sin." Pastor Wagz is attending the meeting of Conference, at Burlington. It was announced that Mr. H. K. Wheeler will speak in the evening.

Some of the books from the American Book Company, New York, turned out to be inferior in binding, but the Principal insisted that they should be of the best, the consequence being that the company sent 70 new ones to replace the others. All books are inspected by the teachers every week, and the damage reported to the Board.

The Board of Education met on Thursday evening, and organized by electing C. F. Osgood President, P. H. Jacobs District Clerk. The Board will meet on the Tuesday evening after the first Monday in March, June, September and December, and in all other months on the first Tuesday evening. All meetings will be held in the Central School-house. Parties having bills against the Board can have them certified by the District Clerk or by Mr. Rutherford without charge.

But for the promptness of a lady neighbor, on Tuesday last, there would have been a serious fire in Aitken's livery stable. She saw smoke issuing therefrom, ran across to the blacksmith shop and told the men, Franz Lehman seized a pail of water, burst open the office door, and found a lively little blaze climbing up the partition. Just in time, for a little energetic work made things safe. Mr. Aitken had left his office but a few moments before, and is puzzled to account for the fire. It must have been communicated in some unexplainable way from the stove to a basket of kindling, and thence easily to the ceiling partition.

There was a very pretty wedding on Wednesday evening last, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Ayers, on Main Road, when their adopted daughter, Miss Nellie V. Ayers, was united to Mr. E. Leonard Adams, - Rev. J. C. Killian officiating. Hiram H. Hannum acted "best man," with Miss Leona Adams as bridesmaid. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Ayers, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Adams and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Adams, Mr. Alvin Adams and sister, Mr. Thos. Tebbot, Mr. Elam Stockwell. A bountiful supper was provided, to which all did justice. Mr. and Mrs. Adams will greet friends at their home (lately Mr. Tebbot's), on Oak Road.

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Syrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing, and so common, that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to it in the neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have got one, get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold, but we will. This Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the least and expeditious, open the secretions, and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

Hammonton Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., have arranged for a "smoker" to be held next Saturday, March 30.

Warrington. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Communications read from Story & Co., dealers in chemical engines, and from Senator Hoffman, and ordered filed. Trustees reported grading being done in front of engine house. Trustee Sticks instructed to fix front doors so they will open of themselves when unhooked. Voted, that the Trustees be instructed to investigate and report the cost of rigging the fire bell to ring automatically. Bill of J. W. Myers for services as janitor, $5, ordered paid. Secretary instructed to procure a roll book for exempt firemen. On motion, Jos. I. Taylor was placed on the retired list, as he has served the required seven years. ANNUAL SCHOOL MEETING.

The annual school meeting was held last Tuesday. John T. French was selected as chairman and P. H. Jacobs as secretary.

A motion was made to have the Board remain at nine members. An amendment was offered to reduce the number of members to five.

The amendment was lost and the original motion adopted. The Board to consist, as now, of nine members.

On motion, the reports of District Clerk and Board of Education were accepted as presented, in printed form.

C. F. Osgood, Edw. North, and Mrs. M. M. Beverage were elected trustees for three years.

A resolution was adopted to pay members of the Board at the rate of $25 per year each as salary from July 1st, 1894, these salaries to be full compensation for all services, including committee work.

It was also adopted that the Board issue a detailed statement next year, the same as was done this year.

The sum of $2500 for current expenses, $100 for flags and flag poles, $200 for books and supplies, and $450 for an extra year adopted, making a total of $3650, the same as estimated in the report of the Board.

There were fifty-nine votes cast for members to be elected. Some discussion occurred over the teachers' account. From statements made, the Town received $5,097.37 from the state, voted $500, and spent $6,024 for salaries of teachers.

The amount from the State has just been received, the larger share going to pay off money borrowed since last year. A balance of $3,099.75 is reported, but this will be expended before October, as the expenses (excluding balance) exceeded the receipts nearly $400, and after losses made for paying teachers are paid off there may be a deficiency before the year expires.

Owing to "balances" handed down from away back, the accounts of the Collector and District Clerk can not always agree on teachers' salaries, and as they must make two reports a year they have to keep one portion of the year separate from the other. If the school meeting was held in July there would be a better understanding of the balances, or if the Collector was required to report to the school meeting in March, closing his account at the end of February, with the District Clerk, it would be an advantage to the voters, as their accounts could then be compared.

Further information will be given on this matter, as soon as the Collector and District Clerk can compare their accounts. The State money just received is under the census of May, 1893.

FOR SALE—on Ninth Street, near First Road, 2 1/2 acres, 4 men improved, small house and barn. Some fruit, 20 grape vines. Inquire of JOHN ATKINSON.

But little or no fault is found by any one with the action of Town Meeting in directing the purchase of a chemical fire engine. -Owing to lack of water supply, the old engine is practically useless, except in the very center of town where fire cisterns are located. The proposed new machine is light and can be hauled any distance by either hand or team. It is charged with about seventy gallons of fluid which is sufficient for an hour's work, and in case of continued action, can be refilled. But such is the power of the chemical that only a few gallons of water and a few minutes of time are required in the majority of cases. Thus, protection from the fire will be afforded not only to citizens living in the center of town, but to those in the suburbs and even the farmers in remote districts.

FOR SALE—store property at Elm Post Office on the premises. Apply to R. J. EVANS, Hammonton.

A branch of the "Junior Auxiliary" has been formed in St. Mark's Sunday School, and the first regular meeting was held on Saturday afternoon at Miss Olive DePuy's. The organization starts out with eight members, and the following are the officers elected, with Mrs. A. C. Prescott president: Vice-President, Miss Roberta Maxwell. Secretary, Miss Emily Morrill. Treasurer, Miss Olive DePuy.

Meetings will be held every Saturday during Lent at three o'clock, and thereafter only once a month. For the present the Auxiliary is working for missions.

The District Clerk omitted Dr. Edw. North's name from the report of the Board of Education unintentionally, and desires to publicly state the fact, though none more deeply regrets it than he.

Now that the School Trustees, on their own recommendation, receive no pay for committee work, but merely their salaries, wouldn't it be a good plan for the Town Council to follow suit?

FOR SALE, or will rent for the season, ten 1/2 acres of land, 4 acres in blackberries, 2 in red raspberries, one in Wm. Basky. Apply to L. G. HORN, Pine Road.

One of the prettiest sights on Main Road is the "hen-farm" of Edwin Adams. With several hundred Light Brahma hens, of white plumage, in contrast with the darker soil and herbage, one is induced to stop and take another look.

The school meeting was well attended. Many questions were asked and answered and everything passed off pleasantly. The voters were good-natured, not only re-electing the retiring members, but gave the Board everything it asked for.

Dr. Ella M. Anderson visited her parents two weeks ago on a three day leave of absence from the hospital on Ward's Island, New York. During the time, an item appeared in a New York daily stating that the doctor was away on a southern trip with a lady patient, that they were on a steamer which met with disaster on the Ohio River, and both were among the lost. It is wonderful how enterprising and accurate these reporters are.

The New York World has asked the banks why they are hoarding $31,000,000 of gold for which they have absolutely no use whatever. Their replies are evasive, shifty, insincere. They have no obligations payable in gold. Their notes are redeemable not by themselves but by the government, and in gold but in greenbacks. The checks drawn by their depositors are payable in paper alone, and in fact, are paid in nothing else. There is no possible reason for their hoarding gold except that they expect a premium upon it for that they wish to force the government to borrow money which it does not need. Their talk about converting the gold into greenbacks is a mere remnant in futility. They can go to the treasury upon every such occasion and exchange greenbacks for gold in any quantity they please. The banks still owe to the public an answer to the World's question.

Chicago Times: Owing to the faulty construction of the Pullman dining-cars two of the cooks on the Charleston of the Chicago and Alton road, which burned, escaped. When the conductors how seldom Providence comes up with the dining-car cook it does seem with the naked eye from the Washington side of the river, and when the crowd settles down to sleep, various things are done upon the elab which grows the hills, grows before the vision, and as the advance guard covers the gate the remainder of the army, waving their black flags, sweep shrieking over and beyond until every leaf is observed, almost wholly, by the amazing host.

A GREAT ARMY OF CROWS

THEY HAUNT THE NATIONAL CEMETERY AT ARLINGTON

A Million Find Shelter in the Tree-Tops at Night and Go Forth in the Morning.

It is not generally known, but it is a fact, nevertheless, that the great National Cemetery at Arlington, near Washington City, is inhabited every night by a host of crows, or rather more of feathered natives of Virginia. Every morning, just before daybreak, the soldiers of Fort Meyer, near by, notice a stir in the tall trees in the branches and on the extreme limbs of the primeval forest which forms the cemetery.

As the light penetrates the leaves and branches of the forest the feathered natives are awakened and rise with a bound into the azure blue, writes a correspondent of the Philadelphia Times. The morning air is stirred with the flapping of a million of wings and with light-pitched notes, as they are sung by the army of crows. Like an army with banners, well trained, mystic, wonderful, these denizens of the forest rise in graceful flight and with the lightest and gracefulness of gyrfalcons, they fall into the line of march with tremendous energy and speed across the sky toward the northeast. Directly across the river, which is about a mile from the Great Memorial Bridge is proposed to be built, over ancient Georgetown and Northern Washington, hiding the rising sunlight from the suburban city of Chesapeake Bay. Almost the head of the column usually reaches the bay and commences to settle down by the time the rear guard has left Arlington.

Late in the afternoon, just about a little before sunset, the observer will see a long and constantly growing army of these birds retreating their steps, or rather retreating their tracks, southward to their nightly home at Arlington. The numbers of this migratory flock, as well as the regular, periodical character of their diurnal flight, produce a spectacle of more than ordinary interest. Their going about has attracted a great deal of notice and been a subject of scientific inquiry for a number of years. As a matter of fact, ever since the Potomac Valley was settled the ancestors of the present generation have noted the woods and wooded hills along the river in Alexandria and Fairfax Counties. Before the war they occupied an immense strip of pines above Georgetown, but the woods were destroyed during the war and the crows were obliged to forsake the home of their ancestors and seek their nightly refuge in the natural groves about the factors of the city and the farmer in this section of the country, but rather his friend. It is true that he will follow the grain sower and pick up a small portion of the seed which is sown. But the crow has an appetite for animal food, and is always on the lookout for cut worms and other enemies of the farmer. Thousands of these crows, in their flight towards the Chesapeake in the early morning, stop on their way, and stragglers and foragers from an army, and settle down upon the farms to half an hour or more, during which period they gather up millions of worms of various kinds, and rob the farmer of them, while at the same time they satisfy their own appetites. They are helpful fellows, are these crows, and the farmers in this country do not put up screw-crows as they do in many portions of the United States.

The river men, that is those who dwell along the banks of the Potomac, or who are engaged in boating or fishing, can see the immense gathering to the National Cemetery ground black in the evening as the warlike predatory peripatetic settle there. The reader probably knows that at each of the entrances to the National Cemetery iron gates are hanged from immense granite pillars, surmounted each with a slab bearing the chiseled name of some of our great military leaders. The pillars were formerly in the open porticoes of the old War Department building. They can be seen with the naked eye from the Washington side of the river, and when the crows settle down to sleep, various things are done upon the elab which grows the hills, grows before the vision, and as the advance guard covers the gate the remainder of the army, waving their black flags, sweep shrieking over and beyond until every leaf is observed, almost wholly, by the amazing host.

So many are interested in the new Mechanics' Lien Law that we publish a synopsis of its provisions:

Section 1, requires the specifications to be filed with the contract in the County Clerk's office.

Sec. 2, makes the notice served by a claimant on the owner, under the third section of the old law, a lien upon any other payment that may come due from owner to contractor, as well as any that may be due at the time of the notice.

Sec. 3, provides that in case such a notice is served the contractor may notify the claimant that he disputes the claim and requires it to be put to judgment, and the owner must not pay the claim until it is so established.

Sec. 4, amends section 13 of the old law, by making the time limit for filing the claim four months from the last work or material, instead of one year, as before.

Sec. 5, provides that if the owner makes a payment ahead of time fixed by the contract, he shall be as liable as if no payment had been made. This is to prevent collusion between owner and contractor in making advance payment to defeat notice to stop payment.

Sec. 6, gives priority in all cases to a mortgage to the extent of advances actually made and applied to erection of the building. This is in addition to any priority that may be obtained, as under the old law, by recording mortgage before the commencement of the building. The mortgagee can see that his advances are applied to the building by making his advances to contractor, on the owner's order, instead of directly to the owner.

Sec. 7, gives priority in all cases to workmen employed on the building, without regard to the time when their lien is filed or notice served. This makes it really a "Mechanics' Lien Law," for the first time.

Secs. 8-9, repeal the Stull act of 1890 and the Potts act of 1892, thus doing away with the system of releases and affidavits that caused so much trouble and hardship.
