No. 10

Town Council meets next Wednesday evening.

To-morrow is scheduled as the first day of Spring.

Chester M. Crowell and family visited his brother, the doctor.

Arthur Burnham and wife, of Cape May, visited his parents this week.

Mrs. Ernest M. Jackson and little son have been visiting relatives this week.

P. T. Rauere has sold to Russo's Market a fine large auto delivery car, an Overland.

Mrs. Laura Choate, from Norristown, Pa., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. H. McD. Little.

Mrs. Charles Campbell, from Brooklyn, is visiting her mother, Mrs. C. S. Newcomb.

The Women's Political Union will have a cake sale on Saturday, April 2nd, at two o'clock.

The Baptists will observe "self-denial week," during Passion week, previous to Easter Sunday.

"Town Improvement Night," by the Alumni Association and others. Program next week.

Benj. Foglietto purchased the O'Donnell corner, last Monday, at auction, for the sum of $19,600.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Colwell regret their decision to go to California early in May.

The first ball game of the season, away, between the High School and Cape May, will be played next Saturday.

Improvements have been made to the Goff house, on Grape Street, a new roof, window, and inside conveniences.

Vine Street received a good heavy layer of gravel, from curb to curb, and teams are now giving Second Street a like coating.

Horace Hay and family have come on from Hazelhurst, Pa., for an indefinite stay. Mr. H. may return to his work in a month.

Irvin I. Hearing has promised to furnish the High School team with the base-ball to be used in the game with the Atlantic City High School, April 2nd.

Chas. Davenport is erecting a substantial addition to the rear of G. N. Lyman's house, on Maple Street. A bath room and bedroom will be included on the second floor.

The Baptist Ladies' Aid Society will give a Colwell Social next Tuesday evening, in the social room. The same evening, Miss Righter, a missionary from China, will speak in the Chapel.

The Peoples Bank have sold their dwelling house to Wm. L. Black, who will remove it. The lot will then be graded and sodded, and thus add another to Hammonton's beauty spots.

E. F. Fry, the milkman, is putting up a building to contain an up-to-date plant for cleansing and disinfecting bottles with live steam. A pasteurizing apparatus will follow in the near future.

Mr. Frank S. Swift has given a Bishop's chair to St. Mark's Church, in memory of his wife. The chair has carved on it the mitre and usual Episcopal symbols. It stands on the Gospel side of the altar.

Harold I. Eaton, chief Inspector for Atlantic County, will give an illustrated lecture on Mosquitoes, in High School Auditorium, next Monday evening. All are interested in the topic, or may be by August next.

The Women's Civic Club had a St. Patrick's social on Thursday evening. Their neat little hall was appropriately trimmed and decorated, and filled with members and friends. There was a short programme, various games, and light refreshments.

Miss Bessie Fisher, one of our young teachers, was thrown from a horse, which she was riding, last Tuesday afternoon, and severely injured, being unconscious and partially paralyzed for an hour or more. Dr. Cunningham reports her suffering from bruises and the shock, with no fractures. Her condition is favorable. She lives at "The Cedars."

"The Killarney Girls and Rita Rich," on Monday evening, were very pleasing, as to their singing, playing, choice of program, and their manner of presentation. Being so near St. Patrick's Day, their coming was especially appropriate; and the repeated encores indicated that they had made a bit with Hammonton people. Their work on the violins, piano, and solo singing, was something extraordinary, so say music lovers.

The Girl Pioneers of America entertained their friends at their first anniversary celebration, last week Friday evening. The programme included vocal and instrumental music, violin solos, readings, a song entitled "The Boston Tea Party," by the Bluebird Group, in colonial costume, and concluded with an historical sketch in three acts, and introduced the following characters in costume, Washington, Ross, Morris, Betsey Ross, three sewing girls, a captain, drummer boy, and eight soldiers. After the entertainment, games were played until refreshments were served, which consisted of cake, lemonade and cherry ice. Over sixty were present and nearly every one expressed themselves as well pleased with the efforts of the Girl Pioneers.

Warning to Chicken-Thieves.

As there have been rumors about town that the Court at May's Landing dismissed the case of chicken thieving in Hammonton, recently sent there for sentence, the Poultry Raisers Association of Hammonton, who offered $25.00 for the arrest and conviction of any one caught in act, instructed the Secretary to write to the Honorable Judge C. C. Shinn, who promptly replied:

"Alfred Smith, of whom you write, was committed to the care of the Probation Officer, and it will be necessary for him to report weekly, and in addition pay the sum of $1.00 per week for a period of three years."

The Association deems that the penalty inflicted (which amounts to $156) was not only just, but should be sufficiently severe to be a warning to all other evil doers. B.

SATURDAY, MARCH 20, 1915

Annual School Meeting.

By far the most largely attended meeting of its kind ever held in Hammonton was witnessed on Tuesday evening, March 16th, in the High School Assembly Room. All the seats were filled and at least one hundred and fifty men stood up.

District Clerk W. R. Seely called the gathering to order, and after nomination and vote, declared R. C. Scudder elected chairman. W. R. Seely was elected secretary, and H. C. Doughty assistant.

Minutes of last regular and special meetings were read. Secretary read the condensed report of the Board of Education, giving the total number of teachers as 57, not including the Supervising Principal and one special teacher. Total enrollment of pupils, 1544; average attendance, 1089.

Nominations being opened for three members of the Board of Education, the following were placed before the voters: A. L. Jackson, J. R. Imhoff, Dr. F. C. Burt, Dr. Chas. Cunningham, Jos. Pizzi, and Tony Colasurdo.

After a record breaking rush of an hour and a half, with the assistance of Officers Myers and Pinto, the tellers, — Messrs. J. W. Cottrell and Morton Crowell, — handed the Secretary the following score of the 404 ballots cast:

Dr. Charles Cunningham, 240 votes
A. L. Jackson, 208 votes
Jos. R. Imhoff, 192 votes
Dr. F. C. Burt, 189 votes
Jos. Pizzi, 189 votes
Tony Colasurdo, 187 votes.

Chairman declared the first three men named, elected. Only about one hundred citizens waited for the count, which was complete and reported about eleven o'clock.

The Board offered a series of ten resolutions, in printed form, which were, balloted for, — Messrs. A. L. Jackson and W. O. Hoyt having charge of the box. But sixty-two ballots were cast, and the chairman declared the resolutions adopted, — authorizing—

A special District Tax, to pay current expenses, manual training, libraries, improvement of grounds, and payment of District Notes and interest, amounting to $12,295. For enlarging the First Road School House, to cost $3,500. The ballots were cut on some resolutions, but stood about 60 for to 2 against.

No other subjects were introduced, on account of the lateness of the hour. Adjourned at 11:10.

People here and elsewhere are seconding our motion that something ought to be done with the worse than useless cuts which are wandering over everybody's yards. The "County Record" advocates punishing owners; a portion of their article being as follows: "There ought to be some law to reach the wretch that will keep a dog only to starve and abuse him." A few of the animals would amount to something if they had half a chance, but most of them should be put to sleep.

Somebody is lying. It was stated, recently, in an effort to give the annual school meeting a partisan color, that our School Board was planning to drop from the roll every teacher who is a Roman Catholic. There's nothing in it. We have several of that faith, and some of them are among our best teachers. Our Board do not worry over religious affiliations, and so long as a teacher proves efficient and complies with the Board's rules, there'll be no question as to their being on the list.

The ordinance requiring connections made with the sewers was adopted Dec. 28th. Accordingly, those who have not already done so must be connected not later than one hundred and twenty days from the above date; or at least must have their order on the plumber's books and the permit taken out.

It is not too early to urge property owners to exercise more civic pride in the appearance of their properties. Old newspapers and other rubbish can easily be buried, but are allowed to blow all over town.

Easter bonnets are getting ripe, for Sunday, April 1st. Sweet that fly now, and you'll prevent a million of them.

Shirker vs. Worker.

The shirker, like unwritten music, is to be found on every hand. We find him in private as well as in public life. As sailors say, "He is in every one's mess, but in no one's watch."

The shirker in private life is the one who lies about while his wife gets up and skimpies around in the woodshed (if happily there be one) for kindlings to start up the breakfast fire. Often the answer, like Mother Hubbard's cupboard, is bare, but he leaves it to his much better half to manage somehow to get things on the table in time.

Or he will take his ease while the wife shakes and feeds the better. If any young woman reader is thinking of marriage, and should discover earmarks of such tendencies in the favored one, she will be wise if she changes her mind; else she will be the wheel-horse of the domestic team until the end of the chapter.

As this fellow heads the list, he must, of course, be considered the most notorious.

In all trades and professions, shirkers abound. In any gang of workmen will be found this character,—always calling upon his fellow workmen to do this, that, or the other thing for him, thereby hindering them while making the job show up well for himself. You will find him at the small end of the log, if he can get there, doing the grunting while others lift.

In social circles, this person is often present wearing skirts perhaps, instead of trousers. She will lay out work for others, and like the setting hen create a sensation in the social barnyard, but seldom lays a egg.

One other brand is deserving of special mention. The fraternity shirker is the most difficult to deal with. He can unload the biggest pile of excuses of the whole bunch. His obligation is shattered, being willing that a few should carry on the work of the order for years.

While it is often inconvenient to "get out" yet if a person is half alive to the welfare of the society he will answer to roll call at least once a year. He is, in fact, a fraternal "hyphen," and in great measure a hindrance to any order to which he is attached.

Testing Seed Corn.

Don't up by the collar at County Every farmer, before planting the corn that he stored in the fall for seed,—should make a second examination in the winter, and then test the corn that he expects to plant. To make the examination before testing, he should place the ears on a board, tips pointing one way, then select out the best shaped ears, keeping in mind the shape and size of the kernels. We do not want the large, broad or thick ones, or the narrow slender ones, but we do want the medium size kernels that are well developed, filled out and firm, not shriveled.

After selecting the best ears take a knife and pick four kernels from different parts of the ear.

There are a number of methods used for testing, but I think the best method is to use the germination box.

To describe the box briefly, it is this: Take a box 14 x 4 x 4 or 20 x 20 inches square, inches deep, place moist soil in the box even with the top, then take and divide small snails around the top, one inch apart, leaving about half an inch of the soil above the edge of the box; then take some string and tie to a corner nail and stretch across the box, back and forth from one end to another, and after you have covered the box one way, cross the other way, and you will have a number of squares measuring one inch.

Before placing your four kernels in the square, number each ear and also each square, and in that way you can tell to just which ear each of the four kernels belong. Place the kernels in the soil and cover with less than one fourth inch of dirt, moisten the soil well on top, and cover to keep from drying out, then place the box in a warm place and moisten every two or three days. At the end of ten days examine the kernels and notice the vitality of the individual ears. For instance, if two out of four kernels fail to show evidence of germination, it would indicate that only half of that ear would grow, and if such ear was planted you would only have a fifty per cent stand, which would mean less than half a crop.

Any method that will enable a corn grower to determine accurately the percentage of germination of each individual ear, can be used in subjecting the corn to the test, and will be one of the greatest factors in increasing the yield as well as the quality of his corn.

Civic pride is very evident on the grounds of Raleigh-in-the-Pines. Buildings have been neatly painted, trees and poles white-washed, the grounds plowed up ready for a green sod, and the paths and "road-ways" gravelled and rolled.

A birthday party was given to Charles Marcellus Jackson, Thursday afternoon, by his grandma and grandpa Jackson. It was surely a pretty sight, when the seventeen little folks gathered around a dainty table trimmed in pink, with shamrock too, for decoration, the main attraction for the children being the lovely birthday cake with three little lighted candles on it. They were a happy lot of youngsters who left at six o'clock.

Who Makes the Errors?

The "Country Editor" is often blamed for errors which are not due to any fault of his own. He is brought face to face, daily, with the people of whom he speaks, and differs materially in this respect from his brother worker, the City Editor. The few mistakes that the Country Editor makes are usually chargeable to improper information given by those whom he trusts.

The City Editor, however, frequently falls into error because he is compelled to conform to the "style" of his paper, and rewrites copy sent to him by his staff correspondents. In the rush of handling an enormous volume of copy he frequently fails to get the sense of the story sent him.

This is proven this week, when four different city daily papers, in headlines or in body matter, told the story in four different ways. Yet all had the very same correct copy.

How Much Longer Will You Pay?

For four years in Pennsylvania, for two in New Jersey, the Full Crew Law has had the acid test of every-day experience.

What has it accomplished?

Five and one-half million dollars have been wasted by the railroads, and in no single instance has the Full Crew Law, that compels this waste, contributed one jot to the safety of the traveling public.

In proportion to the great body of railroad employees, the number of extra men forced on the railroads by the Full Crew bill is small. But their pay is high, higher, in fact, than the wages really earned by most other classes of employees.

It costs the railroads $2566 in one year to pay the superfluous trainmen on one passenger train operating between New York and Pittsburgh.

That's but a single item, taken at random from the tremendous bill which directly or indirectly each citizen has to pay.

But the people are now determined to pay this needless bill no longer.

If you have not yet voiced your personal demand that the waste of this money that should be spent for your better and safer service be stopped, a letter to your elected representative at Harrisburg and Trenton is your most effective method.
