COAL FACTS 1921

PRICES.

The price you pay for coal in your home is made up of:

> Mine price Freight Retail margin.

Mine prices for domestic coal will, we believe, not be lower than they are at present, and they may be higher. It has been customary, in anthracite, for the mine prices to advance 10 cents a ton, a month through the summer months.

Freight rates are higher than a yearago—an average of 35 per cent. higher. Here, that means over $1.00 per ton.

Our cost of doing business has not receded to any extent.

Inquiry from your own coal merchant will convince you, however, that now is the most advantageous time to buy

> No one knows what the future will develop

Order your coal now; take it in early deliveries and in reasonable quantities; and thus enable us to place our orders, keep the mines operating, and avoid-

The labor saving machinery of the last half-century has transformed the undertaker from a carpenter to a funeral director, for his chief duty is no longer to painfully steam lone boards into the sides of a coffin, but to intelligently and scientifically care for the dead. By his skill decomposition can now be held in check at will, for with the means and knowledge at present at his command he may choose the antiseptics best suited to his particular purpose. At the time of the settlement of America uncoffined interments were the rule among the humbler classes. In England "some decent coverings were Geemed necessary, but this was all." It is more than propable that many or the pilgrim fathers were thus interred. As early as 1703, however, we find record of coffins provided for the poor. Roger Williams was buried in a coffin as early as 1683, so that for the past two hundred and fifty years inhumation in comms may be said to be the custom in this country. In the memory of the living these coffins were all made by Synopsis.—In December, 1918, four nen gather in a hotel in Berne and men gather in a botel in Berne and hear one of the quartet outline a plan to paralyze Great Britain and at the same time selze world power. The other three, Hocking, American, and Steineman and Von Gratz, Germans, all millionaires, agree to the scheme, providing another man, Hiram Potts, an American, is taken in. The instigator of the plot gives his name as Comte de Guy, but when he leaves for England with his daughter he decides to use the name Carl Peterson. Capt. Hugh his daughter he decides to use the name Carl Peterson. Capt.
