Town Council Meeting.

Regular convocation last Saturday evening, May 28th. All members were present.

After the usual roll-call and approval of minutes, the several standing committees were called upon for reports.

Highways stated that Chew Road work has been completed. New street signs being painted. First Road and Egg Harbor Road to be repaired. Amended contract for paved gutters being prepared. Chairman reported his visit to Mrs. Snow's property, and his recommendation for improving the drainage.

License reported in favor of granting liquor license to Joseph Bowker, at the Hammonton Hotel. Later, the license was granted. Messrs. Spear and Parkhurst voting against it, not because of any lack of respect for the applicant, but on the ground that no more saloons are needed in that locality.

Fire reported repairs to chemical hose and suggested that twenty-five additional feet be purchased, to be on hand in case of sudden need.

Law and Order referred to complaints of sidewalk riding; said that Marshal cannot be in all parts of town at one time, and that citizens who feel themselves wronged should assist the authorities by making formal complaint.

Property stated that no one seems desirous of leasing land for a dog pound; can buy a lot on Fairview for $20. Also old well at the Park is in good condition, and recommended that it be arched over below the surface of the ground, and covered, to be used in the future, perhaps. Committee was given power to act in both matters.

Letter read from R. O. Braddock, in which he declined to sell gravel from his land at Rosedale, but will sell the property.

J. L. O'Donnell's bond as Water Commissioner was accepted.

On motion of Mr. Spear, Clerk was instructed to make written request of automobile repairers to keep their work off the public street, especially on Sunday.

Mr. Batchelor stated that bicyclers were still riding on sidewalks on Twelfth Street, though the road is good,-- even ordering people out of the way with oaths; also riding at night without lights. Committee was given power to act,-- to employ a special officer if necessary.

In spite of inclement weather Monday afternoon and evening, the Red Men's picnic was well attended, and the proceeds were satisfactory. Wagon-loads of people from various towns, as far distant as Waterford and Blue Anchor, were there all day; and they didn't forget to bring pocket-books with them. The committee wishes to thank all who assisted and encouraged them, resulting in its success.

A Wonderful Saving.

The largest Methodist Church in Georgia, calculated to use over one hundred gallons of the usual kind of mixed paint in painting their church.

They used only 82 gallons of the Longman & Martin's Paint mixed with 24 gallons of linseed oil. Actual cost of paint made was less than $1.20 per gallon.

Saved over eighty ($80) dollars in paint, and got a big donation besides.

EVERY CHURCH will be given a liberal quantity whenever they paint.

Many houses are well painted with four gallons of L. & M. and three gallons of linseed oil mixed therewith. Wears and covers like gold. These Celebrated Paints are sold by H. Motz, Little.

MEMORIAL DAY.
Twenty-one of the old veterans were in attendance at the Universalist Church on Memorial Sunday morning. The service was decorated with flags, bunting, and flowers. Pastor Wilson made the service appropriate. "Decoration Day," as it was formerly called, brought many visitors into town, who helped to swell the numbers who gathered at the cemeteries. The weather might have been more agreeable, perhaps, but there were no complaints of dusty roads. Four large wagons loaded with children, the band in their "chariot," two bus-loads of soldiers, preachers and others in carriages, besides bicyclers and pedestrians, started about 1.30 for Oakdale Cemetery. But heavy clouds had been gathering, and the bottom dropped out suddenly. The children deserted the wagons and found shelter in the M. E. Church sheds. Those in covered vehicles found their way to the "silent city of the dead," and there held the Post's impressive ceremonies around the grave of Comrade Edw. B. Sprout, and decorated the twenty soldier graves. Rev. W. W. Williams offered the prayer. About four o'clock the line was reformed and proceeded to Greenmount Cemetery. Here, about the grave of Comrade Jesse Bakely, the ceremonies were held, the band played, and Rev. H. Marshall Thurston made the memorial prayer. Then flowers were laid on the soldier graves. The children sang very nicely, and we heard very complimentary remarks concerning our Band's performance. There were forty-four graves decorated in this enclosure. As one of our younger men said: "Each succeeding Memorial Day finds at least one more soldier's grave to be remembered."

He has had not a little amusement, greeting old-time intimate friends before recognition. THE ROMP BEFORE BED.

When Bessie gets her nightgown and wants to romp with me...

Leaving the Farm.

It was Sunday afternoon. Hank Pepperton, dressed in his best clothes...

"What's the matter, deacon?" queried Hank at last. "You seem to have no blue to-day."

"I'm not wearing any," returned the deacon feebly, with another sigh.

"You made 'em all leave?" asked Hank at last, quietly.

"I dunno. First John went, then Mary, then Tom. Now Henry's gone, and there's nobody left."

"What'll I do," she demanded, as she walked to the back door and announced the discouraging fact to her husband.

"Shoo 'em out," said the deacon, looking up quickly.

"You'll never guess what Hank is up to now, woman! My! I never saw such a fellow for fool money."

"What d'ye think?" he began.

"You'll never guess what Hank is up to now, woman! My! I never saw such a fellow for fool money."

"Well," said her husband, after a dramatic pause, you may not believe it, but that fellow is just a hater of his side yard under some apple trees.

"You'll never guess what Hank is up to now, woman! My! I never saw such a fellow for fool money."

Some observations as to his alleged characteristics by a Londoner.

An American young man does not, as a rule, look forward to marriage as preparation for life by saving any considerable portion of his earnings.

The middle class husband in America rarely interferes with the affairs of the household. He hardly knows a rule he does not make his wife's affair, but he does not make his wife's affair, but he does not make his wife's affair.

The young American husband is also very indulgent to his wife's fondness for the clothes. He would far rather have an extravagant wife than a dowdy one, and although he grumbles occasionally at a millinery bill, in reality he glories in the resplendent appearance of his wife in her latest fashions.

The American husband is sure who does not conceal his wife's right to expend a much larger sum on her dressmaker than he does with his tailor. Indeed, he often leaves his tailor or alterations and cheerfully repairs to the ready-made clothing house in order that his wife may have for his money an extravagant dandy.—London Telegraph.

LABOR NOTES.

Members of the Seaman's Union in the Great Lakes will refuse to ride with the marine cooks during the coming season should they persist in making the longshoremen's organization, which has been assured of the support of the marine cooks at Bay City, Cleveland, Toledo and Annapolis.

The Illinois Steel Company has hired five hundred performers to entertain the non-union steel-makers now concentrated in the mills at South Chicago. The officers of the union have been turned into a theatre and have been given the best of the performers will be given, free of charge, to the strike-breakers.

As a result of strikes it has been computed that there are idle men in various trades at the time as follows: 22,900 cigar-makers, 21,000 brick and tile workers, 15,000 mill workers, 17,000 boot and shoe workers, 10,000 leather workers, 20,000 lumber workers, 17,000 printers and 103,000 in other lines.

New Haven (Conn.) Coach Lamp Makers' Union has decided to cut drift from the Metal Polishing National Union and become part and parcel of the Carriage Workers' National Union. The work of the lamp makers is a necessary adjunct to the carriage trade.

The decision of the Chancellor of the Exchequer to retain the coal tax has caused a great deal of dissatisfaction among coal miners in Wales. At one time they entertained the idea of striking against the Government by limiting the production of coal, but they have now decided to resort to constitutional methods, to be continued generally.

There is a disposition on the part of the Grand Trunk Railway Company to participate in an arrangement whereby provision may be made to pension those persons who have served the company for a number of years, by increase of wages or by further labor. It is understood that the company will be required to contribute to the pension fund.

In order to encourage industrial enterprise the municipality of Centuria, Italy, has decided to grant a bounty of £200 to any new industry which is established in the town. The bounty is not fewer than 100 workmen or individuals daily. Such an industry which further develops could be given £200 for each batch of 50 individuals employed in excess of the first 100.

Forty-seven factories in 11 States have agreed to use the labor of the Consumers' League on their goods. In making this agreement have obtained themselves a list of 100,000 children under 16 years of age, overtime not to be worked; garments are made in the factory and are not to be given out to be made up in homes.

HOUSEHOLD.

Dainty Fried Toast.—Make a batter of one pint milk, one teaspoonful flour and one beaten egg. Dip into this batter a slice of toast, and fry in hot fat or oil. The egg prevents the bread from soaking up the fat. Very appetizing and quickly made.

Ten Minute Eggs.—Drop eggs into a pan of boiling water and draw to a sack of stove (where it is just warm, not hot for ten minutes); then boil for ten minutes.

Ham Patt.—Bring to a half boil one cup flour wet in one cupful of sweet milk. When cold add two cups chopped ham (diced) and four eggs beaten separately. Put in a baking dish and set in the oven in a pan of water and let the puff rise to the top of the pan (which will take from five to ten minutes).

Codfish au Gratin.—Pick two cups of codfish into tiny pieces. Cover with cold water and let stand three hours. It is better to change the water once during this time. Drain and squeeze dry. Put in a shallow greasing dish, sprinkle the top with tablespoonful of butter, two of four cup cream and a dash of salt. Bake in a hot oven for one hour.

Thubar Pie.—Chop two teaspoonfuls of thubar and let stand ten minutes. In water poured over it, boil for one hour. Drain and mix with the fruit large quantity of sugar, the yolk of an egg, moistening with three tablespoonfuls of water. Bake in one crust covering the top with narrow strips of pastry crossed, or a meringue. The old-fashioned "pleasant" pie. Use fruit filling (as she said, "sweetest pie I ever ate").

Welcomes Legitimation. Guest.—Sam, I suppose you like the man who always remembers the waiter.

Sam.—No, sah; Ah likes dem 'dat don't remember de waiter. Dem 'dat is liable to tip some one two or three times in de not know nuffin' about it.

Often when fortune knocks at a man's door it is house-cleaning time and he is away from home.

Pastime Club, of Elwood.

A number of ladies were invited to bring their fancy work and meet at the home of Mrs. John T. Irving on Friday, May 27th, from 3 to 5 p.m.

They accepted, had a social time and admired the many beautiful pieces of fancy work. The hostess explained the object of the gathering, saying it was for the purpose of bringing friends together and promoting sociability in our midst; then suggested that we form a woman's club, with this special object in view. This met with unanimous approval, and the "Pastime Club" was organized, with Mrs. John T. Irving as President and Miss Grace Robinson as Secretary and Treasurer. The Club will meet every two weeks at the homes of the different members. About twenty-five ladies have expressed their intention of joining.

Refreshments were then passed, and all returned to their respective homes, well pleased with their visit. Those present were:

Mrs. Thos. Irving Mrs. J. T. Irving
J. H. Bozarth W. Bischoff
C. W. Maurer J. Hand
O. Bassett T. Neville
Miss G. Robinson Miss L. Carhart

The Methodist minister of this place, Rev. Mr. Epperson, is winning many friends, and speaks to large congregations at both services. Six adult persons joined by letter, recently. Last Tuesday evening, a number of his friends gathered at his home, to help remind him of his birthday; and all expressed the wish that he might spend many more anniversaries in Elwood.
