MORE MOSQUITOES.

There is a chance for as much "science" in defending oneself against mosquitoes as in any other matter, and the common saying that "when you kill one a dozen will come to the funeral" is wide of the mark. The usual way of softly swinging a bush to drive them away simply drives them to bite in another place, and one insect will be likely to bite several times; but if the bush comes down with a crushing force those which it hits will not bite again.

Mosquitoes are not often very thick while the sun shines brightly, except in places where the grass or other herbage affords them shelter and food, but when one goes through a place where they are plenty a swarm generally follows, and in such cases, if, instead of making gentle passes at them and crying "shoo fly," you stand still a moment to allow them to alight and then hit them to kill, most of them may be disposed of and comparative quiet restored until another of their haunts is to be passed. An evergreen bush is the best weapon, because the fine foliage allows the air to pass through, hits harder and does not blow them away.

While upon this subject of insects, I wish to bring forward one view of it which is too often overlooked. I refer to the changes going on, seen only by their results, and brought about by the power which is above and behind all; and while I do not propose to very often inflict sermons upon my readers, I unhesitatingly say that I consider that mental vision very narrow which does not see daily "sermons in the trees" and every natural phenomenon around us. It is very common to hear grumbling about the weather; but to how many of us does it ever occur that in the economy of nature, these vicissitudes of weather may be accomplishing far more desirable results for us than just the condition we desire would do.

Take for instance, the fact mentioned in my last, about the critical point in the life of the mosquito. In the earlier stages of its existence, large numbers are needed as food for fishes; but if all that escape this peril should survive, we would be fairly driven out by them; and the violent showers and wind-storms, of themselves unpleasant, by agitating the stagnant water in swamps and ditches, save us from a worse evil.

Take our common rose-bug for another example. Some thirty or more years ago they had become so thick in portions of New England that it was next to impossible to find a rose which they had not mutilated; and they continued to increase until we had a season in which thunder storms and strong winds followed each other so closely through the whole term of the life of the rose-bugs, that it nearly exterminated them. In our warm climate we cannot expect to have them destroyed in the same way, but some invisible foe is gradually lessening them. Some few years since, our forests were annually divested of a large portion of their foliage by the oak worm, but for the last two or three seasons only here and there a few could be seen, a result which is most undoubtedly the effect of certain changes in the weather, or some parasitic enemy.

More than one Hammontonian can testify to the disagreeable abundance of the common apple tree caterpillar during the last two or three years, and the small effect produced by the ill-timed and disconcerted efforts to destroy them. How many have observed that comparatively few were hatched out during the Spring just passed? and that of these few we see only here and there one now. I think two causes have been at work to produce this very desirable result. I noticed that in early Spring many of the eggs seemed to have disappeared, and that some of those which remained were loosened and easily pulled off the twigs to which they had been attached. This may have been effected by sudden changes in the weather; and their disappearance later is probably the work of a parasite.

Changes like these are constantly going on; so, while we exercise ceaseless vigilance in protecting ourselves, don't let us wear ourselves out with fretting and grumbling at what we cannot help, and which may all the while be quietly aiding us in other directions.

WM. F. BASSETT.

The two churches in Elwood united in the exercises of Children's Day, at the M. E. Church—Rev. Crayne, pastor, took charge of the services, assisted by the Superintendent of the Presbyterian School. The choirs had made previous selections. The exercises consisted in singing, readings, and recitations,—some thirty exercises in all at the morning session. The principal address of the morning was on "The Objects of Life," ably handled by a lady of the M. E. Society. Short addresses by Superintendent Meredith, of the Presbyterian School, J. B. Wright and the Pastor. In the evening, there were a few readings, and the services concluded by an address on Palestine, by the Pastor, illustrated by a map of his own drawing, from his reading and study of the country, pronounced by some who had traveled there to be the best map they had ever seen of that historic land.

The lecture was entertaining and instructive. Taken as a whole the exercises of the day and evening were very good,—some portions excellent. The house was decorated with flowers, the attendance was good, the weather delightful. All appeared well pleased.

WORTH KNOWING.

Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City, Florida, was taken with a severe cold, attended with a distressing cough and running into consumption in its first stages. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse, was reduced in flesh, had difficulty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and found immediate relief, and after using about a half-dozen bottles found himself well and has had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a record of cures as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Guaranteed to do just what is claimed for it. Trial bottle free, at Cochran's Drug Store.

The Fugitive.

Could you have known how deep the love... Who heard not my prayers or pain of tears...

MYSTERIOUS SUMMONS.

The following story was told by a lady. She was the wife of a rich squire in the east of England...

During the first French Revolution two Frenchmen of high birth, Count A. and Viscount B., were despatched by the Royalist party on a mission to England.

During their journey on horseback to a northern port of France, where a vessel awaited them, they were on one occasion beset in the middle of a wide heath...

"Impossible!" was the churlish reply, and the door was about to be closed when one of the travelers intercepted it with his foot...

"I will give you shelter for the night, and food for yourselves and your beasts, on one condition, viz., that you give me your word of honor...

The promise given, the door was opened, and the horses taken to the stables, which were within the court. The porter then led the two travelers up a splendid staircase...

Near the door was a large fireplace in which a fire soon blazed. Candles were lighted, and the travelers saw two large and luxurious beds, with rich hangings...

After eating their supper the two travelers went to rest. The elder took the bed nearest the door, leaving the other some feet off to his companion. Logs had been placed on the fire sufficient for the night...

no noise, and Count A. was about to lay himself once again on the pillow, when a remarkable light met him. A man of striking appearance...

He had not remained long, when the figure appeared beckoning to him, and he at once rose to follow. It passed through the door, always looking from time to time to see that the priest was behind it...

The door raised, a steep ladder-staircase led to a vault. At the bottom of the ladder lay a human skeleton, dressed in clothes similar to those worn by the apparition...

The caretaker made little difficulty in confessing the real facts. The Marquis, who was a man of the kindest disposition and had treated his half-brother with unthought indulgence...

The travelers, mindful of their promise, made no remark. The horses, well groomed and refreshed, were ready for their journey, and the two companions left the chateau...

Not many years later the elder of the two returned to France and accepted the new government. The Bona-partists Government offered him an administrative post in the north. The Count accepted, and among the inducements which led to his acceptance...

The story told him was that the chateau belonged to the Marquis de—, a gentleman of great wealth and retired habits. When somewhat advanced in years he had married a girl of low extraction...

As a young woman thoughtfully put to her, she was by her side, and she kept them from freezing while she spent the afternoon and evening with a friend. Returning late at night, she disrobed and plunged in. Shriek! Well the one she lifted up her voice with caused the cat to dash through the window...

SEX AND BRAVERY. Hercules Shown by Women in Face of Danger and Death. The disaster to the steamer Scholten in the English channel is said to have been made more dreadful by the wild shrieks of the women...

On arriving at the house the caretaker endeavored to withstand the intrusion, but yielding to force, the gate was opened, and the Count and the priest proceeded straight to the room where the incident had occurred.

The priest, following with his lantern, perceived after some search a brass ring on the very spot where the figure had vanished. It was evidently the handle of a trap-door, which, however, was fastened with a key...

HARNESSED TO OXEN. An Idea of the Degrading Drudgery which Peasant Women Must Undergo. I can never forget the feeling of astonishment mingled with shame with which I first looked upon an oxen harnessed side by side with a woman...

Do you know that the three great poets of the world were totally blind? Homer, Ossian, John Milton. Do you know that Mr. Prescott, who wrote that enchanting book, "The Conquest of Mexico," never saw Mexico...

Columbus, the son of the weaver, Ferguson, the astronomer, the son of the shepherd. America the prey of the one; words on worlds the prey of the other. But what a noble hero is Columbus...

There are in all communities many invalids. They never know a well day. They adhere to their occupations, but they go panting along the streets with pain, and they are unable to do their work...

But I have noticed among that invalid class those who have the greatest knowledge of the Bible, who are in nearest intimacy with Jesus Christ, who have the most glowing experiences of the truth...

The British sovereign, or pound sterling, is a legal tender to unlimited amount, and contains 113 grains of fine gold, alloyed with 2 grains of copper to every 22 grains fine.

Then came the story that Queen Victoria would give £1,000 to each person collecting 1,000,000 old postage stamps. This appealed directly to the heart of the small boy, and many an unclean play-truant so that he could hunt in the ash barrels in front of the down town offices...

Tone of voice is not in itself reverence; yet reverence will show itself in the tones of one's voice. It is a duty to be reverent, but the attempt to show reverence by the use of an unnatural tone of voice is pretty sure to be a failure. Naturalness in tone of voice is always the better tone, but a natural tone of voice is the same calling out to a fellow-companion and in addressing an exalted superior...

DR. TALMAGE'S SERMON. Disabled Hunters. "The lame take the prey."—1st Cor. 13: 22. "The utter demolition of the Assyrian host was here predicted. Not only robust men should go forth and gather the spoils of conquest, but even men crippled of arm and crippled of foot should go out and capture the prey."

EGYPT'S SLAVE GIRLS. Their Life Compared With That of The English Drudge. The English drudge rises early and goes to bed late, working eight or twelve hours a day, either in her miserable garret or in a huge manufacturing establishment. The Republican.

(Entered as second class matter.) HAMMONON, ATLANTIC CO., N. J. SATURDAY, JUNE 16, 1888.

The Republican National Convention will meet in Chicago on Tuesday next to nominate the next President and Vice-President of the United States. Who the nominees will be, is more than any human being can tell. The business will not be done until after the convention assembles, and no man will be permitted to dictate either platform or candidates. The Republican party has an abundance of the material from which good Presidents are made, and cannot fail to make a good selection.

The Administration of James Buchanan had just as much trouble in increasing the Government income as the Administration of Grover Cleveland is having in reducing it. Democratic incompetency and stupidity in financial management has increased rather than diminished with the lapse of time.

The "natural gas" discovered in Sea Isle City, while drilling an artesian well, turned out to be nothing but marsh gas.—Landis, proprietor.

Hurray! for the Fourth of July. The Post and Camp are preparing an old-fashioned celebration, and will ask all Hammonon to join them. A joint committee will have their program ready in good time.

Frank B. Cunningham, of Hammonon, was married on Tuesday evening, at the residence of the bride's parents, to Miss Jennie Wilson, daughter of the gifted comedian, Mr. Harry Wilson, of Vineland.

Mr. Adam Williams, a former resident of Hammonon, died in Philadelphia, this week, of consumption, aged 65 years. He remains were here yesterday, by Undertaker Valentine, and buried in Greenwood.

Will H. Burgess has purchased two patent "horse-shovels," and uses them in his highway work. They are mounted on wheels, and scoop up a whole cart-load at once, and dump it good naturedly wherever wanted.

List of unclaimed letters remaining in the Post Office at Hammonon, N. J., Saturday, June 16th, 1888: Mary H. Lansting.

Persons calling for any of the above letters will please state that it has been advertised. Cyrus F. Osmond, P. M.

Henry E. Andrews, one of our G. A. R. boys, formerly of the 95th Pennsylvania Volunteers, will attend the Gettysburg reunion with his old regiment on the 1st, 2nd and 3rd of July next, and the twenty-third anniversary of that memorable battle.

Dr. W. N. Hodges has taken the late Dr. Snowden's office and practice. He graduated in this country sixteen years ago, practiced in New York City several years, then spent three years in Vienna, Austria, in study and hospital training. He comes to Hammonon with the best of recommendations.

We understand the Grand Army boys will soon have to look out a new hall, as the Masons have concluded not to sub-let their hall. The "boys" can hold one more meeting, however, in the old place. The Sons of Veterans and Sons of Temperance are in the same predicament.

Bucklin's Arnica Salve, the best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price, 25 cents per box. For sale by A. W. Cochran.

FOR SALE.—A new house, six large rooms, convenient, nicely located, full town lot, on Maple Street, Hammonon. Will be sold cheap. Apply to Wm. H. Bernshouse.

Wm. Rutherford, Notary Public, Conveyancer, Real Estate and Insurance Agent. Insurances placed only in the most reliable companies. Lowest rates to all. No two-thirds clause, no black-mailing. Address, Hammonon, N. J.

For Sale.—Easy Terms. A nice twenty-acre fruit farm. World suit a man and family. Located at Hammonon office, over the Post-office.

For Sale.—A sixty-acre farm, 11 miles from Elwood station. About thirty acres have been cleared and farmed. Inquire of Wm. H. Bernshouse, Hammonon, N. J.

EDGED TOOLS of all descriptions—from a moving-machine knife to a pair of scissors—sharpened at the mill foot of Hammonon Lake. GEO. W. ELVINS.

Building Lots.—On Third and on Pratt Streets, Hammonon,—large also, good location. Bargaining, if sold soon. Call on H. L. IRONS.

For Sale.—Store building lots, on the E. Tilton place, Bellevue Avenue, Hammonon, N. J. Apply to Wm. RUTHERFORD.

TOWN COUNCIL.

There is much said about what the Council do, and don't do. There are some things that ought to be done,—things that the old Council neglected entirely,—and while the new members were not pledged to these things, probably they will see the necessity for a reform, and if it is in their power, and not prohibited by our Charter, we have no doubt there will be a change for the better. The particular reform we ask for, is of the weather. We have great faith in the Town Council and good weather, and so have provided a good supply of Spring goods, such as

Consumption Can be Cured!

By the use of

Crescent Cough Cordial.

If taken in time. Or, perhaps, it would be better to say there would be no such thing as Consumption, in most cases, if care were taken to relieve the first symptoms of lung troubles; and for the purpose nothing can be so

Crescent Cough Cordial.

SATURDAY, JUNE 16, 1888. LOCAL MISCELLANY.

Thanks to Mrs. Robt. Thomas for a gift of berries.

Mr. H. Harrahd was at home this week, on a visit.

Mr. Cauffman is to have a wind-mill—or has one.

School children in Winslow township this year, 140,—a loss of 45.

Horace Black started, on Wednesday, for a visit with his relatives in Maine.

We have a few copies of the town Charter left. Your can have one for a quarter.

The new Woolley block presents an imposing front. It is about ready for the tin-roofers.

Master Archie Mewhinney, son of the late Presbyterian pastor, is visiting his grandparents.

Mr. Newton C. Holdridge will occupy the Baptist pulpit to-morrow, morning and evening.

D. Whitman Jacobs started for Massachusetts, on Wednesday, intending to spend the summer.

I say I hadn't you ought to call next door to the Bank and get your picture taken, before the weather gets too hot.

Fire Company meeting, Monday evening next. Don't forget it. There is business of great importance to every member.

The school census enumerator found 672 children of school age in Hammonon,—an increase of 22 over last year.

The Hammonon Baseball Club are having uniform suits made,—blue pants and shirts, red caps, belts, and stockings.

We are told of a number of new houses in contemplation in the early fall, and said houses are to be fairly "nobby," too.

Miss Maud Wilson is the happy possessor of a tricycle—the only one in town—and shares the pleasure with her companions.

Mr. Daniel Baker had Sharpless strawberries that were just immense in size, and as good as they were large. We've tried 'em.

The May's Landing Club gave our Hammonon boys a good game, last Saturday, but had to yield to superior playing. Score, 16 to 8.

Matthew Lantry, of Aiston, lost a ten-year-old son with scarlet fever last week, and had another sick with the same disease, at last report.

The widow of our deceased townsman, Mr. Edwin Crowell, will receive $3000 insurance from the Royal Arcanum, of Camden, of which order he was a member.

Hammonon streets are well lit these nights—by the moon—when the clouds are not too dense. And now that the new lamps are ready, night will be robbed of its darkness.

The Sons of Veterans gave a very satisfactory entertainment, on Saturday evening, and had a good audience, who also proved liberal patrons when the refreshments were ready.

Capt. H. M. Jewett is postmaster in Winslow. Wonder if the administration will object when he shouts for Blaine, Gresham, Alger, or some other good Republican, next week.

The abundant Spring rains have given vegetation a good start, and everything has grown well; but the prevailing light weather will have a bad effect if continued another week.

St. Mark's Church, Third Sunday after Trinity, June 17th, 1888. Holy Communion, 7:30 A. M. Morning Prayer, Litany, and Sermon at 10:30. Evening Prayer and Sermon, 3:30 P. M. Sunday School, 2:30.

Dr. G. M. Spencer and wife will spend a short time in Hammonon. Persons desiring to have their eyes examined can have it done, without charge, at the residence of Mr. J. L. Horton, for a week or more.

Everybody is pleased with our berry picker tickets. They prevent cheating, save time, enable every picker to keep an account of his work, don't cost much, and last for years. We have printed many thousands of them, yet can print as many more. Bring in your orders.

Insure with A. H. Phillips, 1255 Atlantic Ave., Atlantic City.

The Friend of American Labor.

The Favorite Newspaper of People of Refined Tastes Everywhere.

For many years the daily edition of the New York MAIL AND EXPRESS has been recognized as the leading afternoon paper of the metropolis, while its weekly edition has been THE FAVORITE HOME PAPER in thousands of families in every State of the Union. It has attained its great popularity and influence by its enterprise in the collection of news, the purity of its tone, and the ability and courage of its editorial staff. FOR THE MAIL AND EXPRESS will be a better paper than ever, and, as a clean, interesting, instructive

Home Newspaper,

It solicits comparison with any other in the country. It is one of the LARGEST PAPERS PUBLISHED in the world, and is the only one that is not expensive to secure for its readers the very best in all departments of newspaper literature.

OUR POLITICS.

We believe the Republican party to be the true instrument of the POLITICAL PROGRESS of the American people; and holding that the honest enforcement of its principles is the best guarantee of the national welfare, we shall support them with all our might; but we shall always treat opposing parties with consideration and fair play.

AGAINST THE SALOON.

The MAIL AND EXPRESS is the recognized leading journal of the country in the great Anti-Saloon Republican movement. It believes that the saloon traffic as it exists to-day in the United States is the enemy of society, a fruitful source of corruption in politics, the ally of anarchy, a school of crime, and, with its avowed purpose of seeking to corruptly control elections and legislation, is a menace to the public welfare and deserves the condemnation of all good men.

In fact all who wish to have in their homes a FINE AND NEWSPAPER of national scope, broad views, clean pages and attractive, yet kind, utterances on all questions of general public interest, will not be disappointed in the MAIL AND EXPRESS, and we respectfully solicit their influence and support.

The Tribune for 1888

GREATLY ENLARGED.

Much the Biggest of all the New York Weeklies.

Greater Variety of Contents, New Presses, New Type, and New Appliances.

At the Head of the Republican Press.

The New York Weekly Tribune will be enlarged on or before the 1st of January, 1888, by the addition of four to eight more pages of actual reading matter (an increase of size of great expense to the Tribune, but without expense to the subscriber.

A complete outfit of the new folding and inserting presses will be put into the Tribune's press-room in November and December; and the extra sheet will be folded into its place in the morning before it comes from the press. The enlarged Tribune will be the biggest and best of all the New York weeklies, and the new machinery will print it, in the enlarged form, at the rate of seventy two thousand copies per hour.

New features and a greater variety of contents will be added to the Tribune during the coming year. Readers will be given nearly half a score for their money than ever before.

Pensioners for the old volunteers, especially Service Pensioners, are being vigorously agitated in the Tribune; much space is given to every issue to this subject. Better Protection to Farmers under the tariff; the salvation of the country from the curse of intemperance; and the rescue of the national government from the hands of the rebel brigadiers; those, and all the other live issues of the day are receiving aggressive, earnest and loyal treatment in the Tribune.

The Tribune does not attempt to supersede the local State and County press. But in the great Republican conflict now at hand, every thinking Republican, old soldier, farmer, and temperance man, should have his local paper and the New York Tribune.

Subscription Rates.—Weekly, $1 a year; extra copy with every five. Semi Weekly, $2 a year; extra copy with every five. Daily, $5.00 per year. Sunday Tribune, $1.50. New subscribers receive the paper until Jan. 1, 1888. Remit always by draft, check, express, or postal money order, or registered letter.

Premiums.—(1) The New York Tribune's History of the United States and Pocket Atlas of the World, 16mo., 254 pages, 50 maps, 40 colored diagrams, price 40 cents; to subscribers, 20 cents; prettily framed of the year—a fascinating running account of the history of the country, with a great variety of statistics and general information. (2) Presidential Pocket Knife; subscriber's name and picture of his choice for President on the handle; sent for descriptive circular. Price at retail, $1.75; but given with the Weekly one year for $1.75; two other styles for less money. (3) Popular Picture Gallery of 6 Fine Large Pictures, including the new officers of the G. A. R., Mr. Blaine, Senators Evans and Hancock, "Betha of the Mayflower," "Christ before Pilate," and "Children writing to Santa Claus,"—and for of circular. (4) Waltham Watch; expansion balance movement; stem winder, stem set, seven jewels, nickel case, thoroughly reliable and an excellent watch; with the Weekly Tribune one year, $7.50. (5) Tribune's "Book of Open Air Sports." (6) Webster's Unabridged Dictionary. (7) Wood's "Household Medicine." These premiums cannot be described in full here. Send for circular.

THE TRIBUNE, New York.

Renews her Youth.

Mrs. Phebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 78 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. I am now free from all pain and soreness, and able to do all my household work. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth and removed completely all disease and pain." RUSSIAN RHEUMATISM CURE

HAS PROVED TO BE THE REMEDY FOR RHEUMATISM.

MARION, IOWA, Aug. 12, 1888.

My wife was so afflicted with Rheumatism in her shoulder and arm that she could do nothing for herself, and could not sleep in bed, but had to be bolstered up in a rocking chair. Physicians prescribed many patent medicines were used, but the pain still got worse. I sent for the Russian Rheumatism Cure, under a cloud of doubt. It was used according to directions for one week, and my wife was cured. It was one of those agreeable remedies that you meet once in a lifetime. It is now over four months since the cure was effected, and she can wash, iron, hoe in the garden, and do all kinds of work as well as ever, and has no symptoms of the complaint. We have no hesitancy in recommending the cure to all similarly afflicted, as SAFE AND SURE.

Truly yours,
H. J. FISHELL.

Best Home Paper in America

This is not brag. It is a plain statement of honest fact. Ordinarily, the weekly issue of a daily paper is esteemed to be merely a digest of the week's news, suited alone for rural readers.

This is not true in reference to the Weekly Press.

It is specially edited by a trained corps of writers selected for the purpose of making the best paper.

It is adapted to the improvement and enjoyment of both sexes, of all ages, of every family whether a resident of the city, village, or country.

Not a word of crime or impure suggestion in any part of the paper.

It is an old paper, and carries its age and reputation equally well.

Now we are seeking a new and larger circle of readers. As an inducement to this end, the Weekly Press in connection with any four dollar magazine in America will be sent for the single subscription price of such magazine.

Or, on application, we will make a special combination of any two or more periodicals published in America, either weekly or monthly, in conjunction with the Weekly Press, at such low rate as will be equivalent to a year's subscription to the Weekly Press free for one year.

We make this exceptional proposition in order that the Weekly Press may go on trial in a million households for an entire year.

It will help them through moulting wonderfully. It will furnish bone and muscle for young chicks, and thus save the mother's strength.

Prevents and absolutely Cures the diseases incident to Poultry.

CHICKEN CHOLERA

Is usually the result of weakness caused by a lack of the proper elements in the system. These are supplied by the IMPERIAL EGG FOOD.

It is no forcing process; you simply give them the food; so to make eggs, at a cost of less than you sent a week for each lot. Ask for it of your local Druggist; if he does not keep it, write to F. C. STURTEWANT, Manufacturer of Ground Oyster Shells and all Feeding Supplies, Mills, 22-24 Commerce St., One-1/2 State Street, Hartford, Conn.
