Short Tariff Sermons.

NO. XXV.

Aside from the fact of its material benefits, the higher wages and greater prosperity which it always brings, Protection deserves the support of American citizens because it is pre-eminently an American policy.

The great statesmen of our country, irrespective of party, Jefferson as well as Washington and Hamilton, Jackson as well as Clay and Webster, have all believed in Protection, not only because as wise men they saw the need of it, but also because it emphasized and exalted that true and American spirit of which all were equally enthusiastic exponents.

Free-Trade has nothing to offer us but what is foreign. It wishes us to buy foreign goods and import them in foreign ships. It holds out to us the prospect of foreign markets, and thinks no trade good but foreign trade. The very idea is foreign, imported from Great Britain, and its foothold has been secured in this country largely through the employment of foreign emissaries.

Protection thinks that so far as markets, laborers, industries, products, ships, trade are concerned, in the words of an American poet, "There's no place like home." It wishes it understood that American products are good enough for American people. It thinks that the Free-Traders' claim that American laborers are not skillful enough to manufacture as well as the half-starved laborers of Europe is a sneer at the intelligence of American manhood.

And above all other things, it emphasizes the fact that there is an American standard of wages and of living, and that our national life and the high grade of our country's citizenship depend on that standard's perpetuation.

The impartial man, therefore, who weighs both sides of the question cannot but conclude that Protection is the more patriotic policy, and as such, more worthy of a patriot's support. For with the great mass of mankind, patriotism still continues to be regarded as a noble feeling, despite the contempt of the "philosopher" or the sneers of the Mugwump. — American Economist.

It is not until the flower has fallen off that the fruit begins to ripen. So in life it is when the romance is past that the practical usefulness begins.

There is said to be an oak in the Imperial gardens at St. Petersburg which has grown from an acorn taken from a tree growing near the tomb of Washington at Mount Vernon. It was planted fifty years ago by George Sumner, of Boston, the brother of Charles Sumner.

The Republican.
[Entered as second class matter.]
SATURDAY, JUNE 25, 1892.
REPUBLICAN TICKET.
For President,
Benjamin Harrison,
Of Indiana.
For Vice President,
Whitelaw Reid,
Of New York.

The Democratic National Convention finished their business on Thursday, and adjourned. Grover Cleveland is their nominee for President; Adlai E. Stevenson, of Illinois, for Vice-President.
The whole number of votes cast for the first place was 969, of which Mr. Cleveland received 617, necessary to choice (two-thirds) 697. We congratulate our Democratic friends upon the excellent choice made. The campaign will be conducted upon the tariff question, chiefly, both candidates being too well known to make a discussion of their merits necessary.

Republican Platform.
Here's the excellent platform adopted by the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis, based down to fit our space, but containing the solid sentiments of the original document. We will keep it in type, perhaps, and once in a while refresh your memory by its publication.
We believe in the American doctrine of protection.
We believe that articles, except luxuries, which cannot be produced in the United States should be admitted free of duty.
We demand that on all importamenting with the products of American labor, duties should be levied equal to the difference between wages at home and abroad.
We ask the people to pronounce a verdict upon the arbitrary course of the Democratic party in attacking the tariff protection.
We believe in reciprocity, which has opened new markets for the products of the working and the farm.
We believe in the use of both gold and silver money.
We demand that every dollar, whether of gold, silver, or paper, shall be equal to every other dollar.
We believe in an international conference to secure a parity of gold and silver throughout the world.
We demand that every citizen, rich or poor, native or foreign born, white or black, shall be permitted to cast one ballot and have it counted as he casts it.
We propose to keep on fighting till we have won our rights in every State.
We favor the revival of our foreign commerce in American ships.
We demand a navy to protect our interests and maintain the honor of our flag.
We demand that arbitrary combinations of capital to control trade conditions shall be rigidly regulated.
We believe in wise and consistent civil service reform.
We believe in admitting all the territories to the Union as soon as they are qualified for entrance.
We believe that the Monroe doctrine should be maintained as a sacred and unalienable principle of the nation, and that the government should aid in its enforcement.
We sympathize with every legitimate effort to promote temperance and morality.
We pledge to the loyal veterans of the war for the Union the recognition that is their by right.
We are proud of President Harrison's magnificent administration.
And we propose to give the country another administration just as good for the next four years.

The American home is the one thing we cannot afford to lose out of our American life. The American home, where the father abides in the respect, and the mother in the devotion, of the children that sit about the fireside; where all to make us good is taught and the first rudiments of obedience to law, of orderly relations, one to another, are put into young minds. That which distinguishes us from other nations whose political experience and history have been full of strife and discord, is the American home, where one wife sits in single unbroken glory.— President Harrison.

God never spends any time trimming
up a dead stick.

God never spends any time trimming
up a dead stick.

God never spends any time trimming
up a dead stick.

God never spends any time trimming
up a dead stick.

The Minneapolis Convention made no mistake in nominating Whitelaw Reid for Vice President. He is an educated gentleman of great acquirements, whose character is spotless and whose years of experience as editor of the New York Tribune has made him intimately acquainted with every subject of National or political interest. His early proprietor was the great Horace Greeley, under whose direction he first achieved journalistic fame as war correspondent, and he also had the advantage of several years association with Charles A. Dana.
Mr. Reid's entire career has shown him to be a man of great intellectual power and marked executive ability. His recent marvelous success as a diplomat is conclusive proof that he possesses all the elements of statesmanship, so that if he should, by a national calamity, be called to fill the President's chair there would be no apprehension as to his capacity to administer the Nation's affairs. The nomination is a highly creditable one, and gives universal satisfaction.

"We stand," said Major McKinley,
"for a Protective Tariff, because it represents the American home, the American girl, the American boy and the highest possibilities of American citizenship." There is the ring of true Americanism in these words. No foreign tendency, no Anglomaniac here.

The annual report of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company declares that "the reciprocity treaties that have been entered into with the various countries to which the steamers of the company run, will undoubtedly prove of great value." Some another point for the reciprocity "thumping."

We are always living under some restriction, and instead of taking things as they are and making the best of them, we follow an ignis fatuus, and lose, in its pursuit, the joy we might attain.

A wide wagon tire is a good road maker, not a rut cutter. In France the farm wagon tires are from four to six inches wide. This is one secret of their good roads and the horses and cattle appreciate it as well.

Never regret anything that you did at the time with the best intention.

PAINT! PAINT!
—THE—HAMMONTON.
When you buy the Hammononton Paint, you do not buy seven-eighths of a gallon for a gallon, or three pints for a half gallon; nor do you get one of those packages that weigh 12 to 14 pounds, and containing so much alkali that it appears to be so thick that it is impossible to use it without thinning; but in buying the Hammononton you get a full standard gallon of paint, weighing 14 to 16 pounds to the gallon, made from the best materials known to the trade, and costs the consumer from $1 to $1.50 per gallon for honest paint.

If the purchaser doesn't want honest paint, and wants to be honest to himself, then be sure to buy the Hammononton Paint, and the manufacturer will give a receipt with every gallon sold telling you how to make two gallons of paint out of one of the Hammononton. It will cost 33 cents for the extra gallon.

One Dollar.
And then here comes Commercial Paint, in 30 shades—the best wearing paint ever put on the market for so low a price as $1 per gallon, and guaranteed to be a first-class wearing paint. If any one should not want to pay so high a price for a good exterior paint, then work the 33 cent racket, and get two gallons for $1.33. Manufactured at Hammononton Paint Works.

HE Missed his Opportunity! DON'T Miss Yours, Reader. The majority neglect their opportunities, and from that neglect arise all the troubles of life. It is a sad fact that many, as they look back on lost opportunity, find it is passing. Reach out. Be up and doing. Improve your opportunity, and secure prosperity, peace, and success. It is a golden opportunity to each person at some period of life; embrace the chance, and secure it, or it is gone. How shall you find the golden opportunity? Investigate every chance that appears promising, and of fair promise. That is what successful men do. Here is an opportunity, such as is not often within the reach of laboring people. Improved, it will give, at least, a grand start in life. The golden opportunity for many is here. Money to be made rapidly and honorably by any industrious person of either sex. All ages. You can do the work and live at home, wherever you are. Even beggars are easily carried from $25 to $100 per day. You can give more time only, and your time to the work. Easy to learn. Capital not required. We start you. Admit comparatively new and really wonderful. We instruct and show you how, free. Failure unknown among our workers. Verily, to explain here. Write and learn all facts by return mail. Urge to delay. Address at once, H. E. Hallett & Co., Box 530, Portland, Maine.

Philadelphia Press.
Daily, Sunday, Weekly.

A FAMILY PAPER
WHICH IS Clean and Unsensational,
And Just the Paper
For the American Home.

The Press has the best possible organization to secure news from the most important sources, and with nearly 100 correspondents in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware, the state and home news is covered with a routine carelessness and attention to detail not even attempted by any other paper.
The Press has also the best of correspondents in all the great cities of the United States, as well as financial and editorial experts in Chicago and the West, who keep the paper more than abreast with events.
The columns of the Sunday Press are enriched by contributions from those whose names are written high in our lights of great authors, novelists, essayists, as well as from men of high rank in public life. The best authors know that their best audiences are the readers of the Daily, Sunday, and Weekly Press.
In politics, the Press knows no other master than the people, and the past year has seen, as has been seen before, the marked fact that it is subservient to no political boss. It has no political ambitions to foster, but looks after the interests of its readers, and delivers itself upon the issues of the day in a manner both frank and fearless, letting the facts speak for themselves and evading no issues, but meeting them all on the basis of fair play to all men at all times. Its pages know no restrictions, and the rights of one class over another are not recognized but supported.
Advertisements of Help Wanted, Business Opportunities, Real Estate, etc., may be inserted in The Press for ONE CENT A WORD.

THE NATIONAL BAPTIST Philadelphia.
Prospectus for 1892.
It has not been our custom to issue a prospectus. A NEWSPAPER can never tell beforehand just what subjects will be discussed. We hold ourselves in readiness, however, with our well-trained editorial force, and our large staff of special contributors, to treat any subject which may present itself during the year. Our plans for 1892 contemplate an enlargement of our news department, a perfecting of the other department, and the bringing up of the entire paper to a still higher standard of efficiency.
PREMIUMS.
The National Baptist is offering a line of most attractive premiums. For example, communion services, organs and hymn-books, valuable books of reference and general information, fountain pens. One of its most attractive offers is the one offering to the new subscriber and to the person securing the new name, each a volume of Prof. Drummond's famous addresses, attractively bound in white and gold.
AGENTS
Are wanted in every Church, to canvass for new names. Liberal commissions are offered. Past experience has shown that a goodly number of new names can be quickly gathered by a good agent.
THE PRICE
Is $2 per year, in advance.—Send for sample copies, which will be cheerfully sent. Address all communications to Clinton Rogers Woodruff, Business Manager The National Baptist, 1200 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.

Never fail to say kind and encouraging words to those whom you meet in distress. Your kindness may lift them out of their despair.

Consumption Cured.
An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp (naming this paper) W. A. NOYES, 220 Powers Block, Rochester, N. Y.
