A., and had been in ill health for several months, until paralysis took her. Her husband has the sympathy of all, as young and old were among their friends. Funeral services were held yesterday, and interment at Oakdale.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN: I am greatly surprised and mortified on reading the article in your last issue from the pen of our usually well-meaning citizen, J. A. Van Fleet. Statements and insinuations in this article are calculated to do more harm than good to Hammonton.

Because successful business men and far-seeing citizens see in the future of Hammonton a residential paradise, instead of a business mart, is no excuse for accusing them of despising labor or laborers, or classing them with people who "inhabit jails and prisons."

Happily, the day is past when the man who labors with his hands is looked down upon. He is now respected by everybody, and by no class more than by those who by their own toil have secured a competence.

I think I express the sentiments of the Board of Trade and every good citizen in this matter, and I will thank you to give it publicity. A. J. RIDER.

A pretty home wedding occurred on Wednesday, June 24th, 1914, at the residence of Robert Steel, one of Hammonton's prominent business men, when Mrs. Steel's niece, Miss Hulda Virginia Ludlam, was united in marriage to Mr. J. Warren Tilton, by Rev. W. L. Shaw. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. Steel. Miss Kathryn G. Herbert was maid of honor; Miss Roberta Steel was bridesmaid; Warren Wood, "best man." The ceremonial room was very prettily decorated in pink and white. The young people expect to reside in West Philadelphia.

The guests were: Rev. Walter Shaw and wife, Mrs. P. S. Tilton, Miss Anna DePuy, Mr. Henry R. Andrews, Miss Jennie Andrews, Warren Wood, Miss Adaline Cunningham, Miss Roberta Steel, Mrs. Cora Conover, Miss Leira Conover, Mrs. Anna Ludlam, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steel, all of Hammonton; J. T. Woolston, Somers Point; Mrs. Allen Steelman, Philadelphia; Mrs. I. Ballenger, Medford; Kathryn Herbert, Perth Amboy; D. W. VanSiclan, New York City; and Miss Florence Maguire, of Haddon Heights.

Refreshments followed the ceremony, after which the newly wedded were escorted to the train, their carriage being elaborately decorated with old shoes, etc., jangling bells announcing their approach.

DON'T Shoot Fire-crackers before July 4th, or a "cop" may get you. F. C. BURT, Mayor.

Mr. S. T. Godfrey has charge of the street sprinkling business up to Third Street: Mr. Wm. J. Smith superintendent from that point to Main Road. If residents on Bellevue have complaints or suggestions to make, they should consult these gentlemen. The sprinkling is appreciated, and those directly benefitted seem willing to pay the expense.

Clothes bought here, Pressed and Cleaned free of charge

BANK BROS.

A few days ago a gentleman came in to buy a suit of clothes, and to our surprise told us that this is the first suit he had bought in Hammonton, though he has lived here nearly twenty years. The only reason he could give for not buying his clothing in his home town since the existence of this store was that he did not know. He had been accustomed to going to such and such a place, and kept on.

We realize that there are a good many men just the same way — not that they get better values. They go out of town as a matter of habit. (Men do not like to change around when they are treated right; this is a known fact.) You men who kept your clothing business away from us, just think that hundreds of men are now buying their clothes here. They were just like you, indifferent, but became steady customers, for no other reason than that the store is offering good clothes, big assortments, and is in a position to undersell the metropolitan stores, owing to the smaller per centage of expense on business done.

America's best manufacturers make our clothes, and we hold ourselves responsible for every garment sold. Try it; it will be worth while.

At $12.50, $13.50, $15, and $18

There are great assortments of suits made for us by A. B. Kirshbaum & Co. All the newest weaves and styles.

At $18, $20, and $22.50

There are suits made for us by Hart Schaffner & Marx, of new imported and domestic materials and new styles.

At $7.50, $10, and $12.50

There are big assortments of well made suits, — serges, cassimeres, worsted.

58 Men's and Young Men's Suits, lowered in price.

Some of these suits were lowered in price for the reason that there were only a few of a kind, and some we bought from the manufacturer at a lower price. They are divided into five lots.

Lot 1. Eighteen Men's and Young Men's Suits that were to be sold at $10, are marked at $7.50

Lot 3. Ten suits that were $18, are reduced to $12.50

Lot 5. Ten suits, made for us by Hart Schaffner & Marx, and were sold at $22.50 and $25, marked down to $18.

Lot 2. Twelve suits for men and young men that were to be sold at $12.50, marked down to $8

Lot 4. Eight suits, made for us by Hart Schaffner & Marx. They were our $20 suits; now marked down to $15

Kahki Trousers at 75 c, 95 c, $1.50
White flannel Trousers at $3.50, $4 and $5

SATURDAY, JUNE 27, 1914
The influx of berry pickers from outside always includes more or less undesirable; but the business depression of this year seems to have driven in more than usual. The other day, one of these men had a misunderstanding with Antonio Cappuccio, and drew a thirty-eight calibre revolver, with every indication of a purpose to use it. Chief Adams took the fellow in charge, and he was sent to jail. At Nesco, a six-year-old boy was killed with a revolver. In this case it is claimed that he shot himself; but as the ball entered his back, near left arm-pit, took a downward and forward course and lodged near the surface on the right of the navel, this story of self-inflicted wound seemed improbable. But though detectives are on the case, it is still a mystery.

Remember—the special school meeting next Monday evening, 29th. There will be some opposition to buying and improving the fence, etc., on the four-acre playground. The Board has received written requests to discontinue the base-ball grounds there, because of the noise during games; and the members are not unanimously in favor of the purchase and improvement. The question arises, where can we locate an athletic field? Our young men must have a ball ground, and unless some better plan is formulated, we shall vote to purchase, move and repair present structures. The diamond and grand-stand might be moved to Peach Street side, occupying one acre; leaving three acres for the children to use in their games.

Mr. Delker's proposition to conduct an ice cream and temperance drink stand at the Park, until October 31, in exchange for painting and caring for the building occupied, should be favored by the Town Council. Such a stand is needed there. On the Fourth, for instance, if restless Hammonctonians know that they can get cool stuff at the Park, many will spend hours at that always popular playground.

As our readers have seen, the past few weeks, by the advertisement on fifth page, another lot of sidewalks and curbs will be laid about town; that is, if the ordinance is passed. A public hearing will be held next Tuesday evening, when said ordinance will be discussed previous to final passage.

Dead limbs on shade trees ought to be removed by town authority. There are many right on Bellevue that are dangerous. Wind may break them off, and a passer-by have a good claim for damages against the Town. At present they are far from ornamental.

Patrons of this office will please bear in mind that we are on the Republican every Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and cannot do job printing on those days.

Don't run your lawn sprinkler during the day, between eight o'clock a. m. and six p. m., nor after nine in the evening.
Summer began on Monday, the 22nd; and it got here with both feet. Wasn't Wednesday a scorcher?
One-half of 1914 has passed into eternity, with its unchangeable record of good and ill.
Next Saturday will be July 4th, — another holiday when business houses cannot close.
Twenty-six weeks to Christmas. Have you commenced your shopping yet?
Do your shopping and banking before Saturday, next week.
One of our local farmers observed a number of quail on his place, particularly in the vicinity of his potato patch. As his neighbors were suffering greatly from potato bugs, and his own field was comparatively free from the pest, he hid near by and watched the birds. They were eating the bugs; and now, instead of using poison, the owner proposed to keep gunners away from his property. In the winter he will see that his feathered friends are fed. Farmers will do well to protect these and other useful birds.
The young man who stands with a foot on a saloon rail and a mug of beer in his hand need not expect to get very far in a business or professional way. Such a young man is not wanted, because every firm or corporation knows his efficiency is diminished. No young man with the proper ambition will take any such chances. He may think he is exercising his personal liberty, but he cannot fool the man who has work to be done.—From "The Issue."

Mr. George Green died very suddenly, Tuesday night, June 23d, at the home of his son-in-law, George O. Bobst, on Hammoncton Avenue, aged 69 years. During the evening he seemed unusually well, sat with his wife and others on the piazza until ten o'clock. About 10:30, his grandson noticed that the old gentleman was breathing heavily, and called attention to the fact. A physician was summoned, but before midnight he passed away, this being his third attack of paralysis. Mr. G. was a former resident of Hammoncton, and was making arrangements to move his household goods hither.

The Trolley Car.

What will the trolley car do for Hammonton? I am just a little bit ashamed that right in intelligent Hammonton I feel that I had better ask and try to answer this question. The trolley car will do much for Hammonton in every way.

1st. It will enable the people in all the smaller towns up and down the line to come to Hammonton to do their buying and work in our factories. This will help our local merchants and make them feel that life is worth living. Whatever will help our local merchants will help the town and make it grow.

2nd. It will enable us to land more factories and more people to man them. Manufacturing plants that are really worth having will not locate in towns that are too indifferent to their best interests, too old foggy, too sleepy, to go after the trolley car till they get it. The trolley car history of the whole country proves this to a demonstration. Go where you will, and you will find that towns which have no trolley car are towns that need to be labelled, so that people passing through them will know what towns they are. In this progressive age, almost as well as without a post office as without the trolley car. With a citizenship imbued with the progressive spirit of the age in which we live, and capable of keeping step with the onward march of improvements seen all about us, no town will need to be labelled to let the world know that it is a live town. A progressive citizenship makes a progressive town. A non-progressive, close fist, stingy citizenship, that is unwilling to reach down into its pocket for money to help boom the town, will always need to resort to slogans, labels and other claptrap of the kind, to make the world believe, if they can, that they are doing something.

3rd. With the help of the trolley car we could soon locate a lot of new factories, and the factories would bring thousands of people to work in them, and almost before our Rip Van Winkles would have time to rub their eyes wide enough open to realize what was going on, there would be thousands of dollars paid out in wages at every weekend in Hammonton to the rank and file of the people who are most in need of it. Almost every dollar of this money would go into the hands of local merchants, and that would enable them to put in larger and more complete stocks of goods, and in only a few years at most even compete with the city merchant. Not only this, but almost every acre of the garden soil within ten miles of Hammonton would be increased in value from ten to fifty dollars. There is hardly a limit to the long train of advantages that would follow the trolley car into Hammonton; and we can have the trolley car as well as not, if we will go after it as the boy went after the wood chuck. We can have the big blowout early next Spring, too.

Many other people, both in Hammonton and up and down the line, seem to think as I do in regard to this matter. Warren Stafford, banker at Berlin, writes me, "The people of Berlin and West Berlin would do anything within their power to get a trolley line extended through this community to Hammonton, because a trolley line in a few years would transform these little, quiet villages into flourishing busy towns. I suggest that the Secretary of your Board at once communicate with the Boards of Trade at Atco, Chesilhurst, Gibbstown, and with prominent men all along the line, with a view of holding a joint meeting at some central point at an early date to discuss ways and means of procedure, and elect a strong committee to place this matter in its proper light before the officials of the Public Service Company at once."

I am very strongly inclined to second Mr. Stafford's motion, and swing my hat while I am doing it, because it is full of common sense. J. A. VANPLANT.

Ex. Mayor Brearey says, "If the people along the line from Camden to the Sea will compare their section with the section along the line from Camden to Jersey City, they will find that they have been asleep."

M. K. Boyer says, "Am reading your articles with much interest, and hope you will capture the Pat Coon. Don't invite to your blow-out people who knock others over Nom-De-Plumes. Glad you have the courage to father your own opinions. We must have the trolley."

Improvements are going on at the Park.

Town Council Meeting.

Council met in regular semi-monthly session on Wednesday evening, all being present, tho' two or three tardy marks were chalked up.

Highway Committee recommended the running of curb around Dr. Waas' southern corner to school grounds; concrete cross-walk at Tilton Street and Bellevue, also at Vine Street and Egg Harbor Road; also walks over new crossing at Penna. Station; also, the repair of all walks on Bellevue in bad shape. Committee was empowered to proceed.

T. B. Delker asked for privilege of the refreshment stand at Park, on Saturdays and all special days, except when exclusive possession is granted organizations. In return, he will keep stand in repair, and paint it.

Burl Simons, also Jas. V. Baker, asked for the same privilege; and Council referred the whole matter to Property Committee, with power to act.

A petition, signed by about one hundred citizens, requested the turpiking and graveling of Fourth Street. Committee will investigate and report.

Mullica Township rendered a bill for $75, one-half cost of surveying along Seventh Street, the division line. As the Town had not authorized or agreed to the work, the bill was ordered returned.

Council held a special meeting last Friday evening, for discussion and sewerage business. Sewerage Commissioners reported three bids for four hundred feet of iron fencing, at disposal plant, as follows:

Cantrell Co., $1250.
Atlantic Constr. Co., $1150.
Jos. T. Ward, $875.

Mayor was instructed to execute contract with lowest bidder. Commission also reported bids for installing two thousand feet of water pipes to connect with disposal plant, as follows:

Cantrell Co., $1493.
W. J. Votner, $1200.
Atlantic Co., $1075.

Voted, that Mayor also sign contract with lowest bidder. Justice Bronse was authorized to have warrants printed, to be used by him in bicycle ordinance violations.

Workmen are busy making alterations to H. O. Packard's house, on First Road.
