About the Tariff.

Hon. Thomas H. Dudley, of Camden, gave a short address, Monday evening, at Union Hall, which should have been heard by every Republican in this vicinity, and certainly by every man who is wavering in his advocacy of the American system of a protective tariff. Because of too short notice, the meeting was not sufficiently advertised, and the audience was small. Mr. Dudley said, when it was proposed to adjourn to a later date; "I will just talk a few minutes to those who have come, and make a speech some other time." He then opened at once the question of tariff or free-trade, showing that not a civilized nation in the world has in modern times tried the experiment of free trade. England now collects about one-half as much revenue from tariff duties as does this government; she examines the trunks of every traveller, to see if there is not some dutiable article therein. The rich, numerous, and powerful Cobden club, of England, is advocating free-trade for the United States with no hope of trying the experiment at home. This club sends thousands of documents to this country to influence and instruct voters, and spends much of its wealth here; and one of its latest publications, circulated at home, states that the "principle of free-trade, through the efforts of the club committee, and the labor of earnest men, is so far advanced in the United States that it is involved in the Presidential election, and is on the winning side." He then gave us such arguments as all could understand—the simple addition and subtraction of dollars and cents—that showed the fallacy of free-trade claims, quoting from the President's message, where the statement is made that the amount of duties paid is just that amount added to the actual cost and legitimate profit on the goods, he said: "The present duty on cheapest cotton cloth is 2½ cents per yard; to-day I can buy, at the Gloucester Mills, that same quality of goods for 2½ cents per yard. Duty on bleached cotton, 3½ cents; I can buy the goods for that price; and the whole list of manufactured goods may be considered with the same result. Before the protective tariff law was enacted, steel railroad rails (made in England) cost $165 per ton; to-day the tariff is $17 per ton, and the home-made goods sold for $31.50 per ton. The Pennsylvania R. R. Co. has bought, in eleven years, $25,000,000 worth of steel rails. For every ton of these, workingmen have been paid $24 for labor and producing raw material. Suppose we remove the duty, or over one-third of it as the Mills bill proposes, could the manufacturer pay the same wages and continue his business? For out of his $7 per ton he has to pay superintendents, clerks, book-keepers, insurance, transportation, and interest on his invested capital.

Mr. Dudley, during his eleven years residence in England, has seen great piles of American cotton goods on sale there at lower prices than their own goods, and equal in quality. Why then object to free trade? Because Europe can produce cheaper than we on account of lower wages paid; and we believe it better for us to pay our home workmen rather than compel them to remain idle while we pay those of England. Again, he, in his official capacity, had invoiced thousands of bills of English goods for shipment to America. Why? Because English manufacturers were suffering the effects of over-production, and had combined to relieve their home market by shipping goods here at half their cost, willing to accept any price, expecting to recover their losses later. We propose to retain our tariff, rather than become the free dumping ground of the old world's over-production: only this protects our manufacturers from being unfairly undersold, which would, of course, at once affect the wages of the laborers employed.

We could not do full justice to Mr. D. without publishing the address in full; but we urge every reader (ladies included) to make it convenient to hear him when he visits us again, as he may in September. To clinch his remarks, he quoted official figures, showing the almost incredible increase of wealth in this country since the protective tariff law was first passed; the improved condition of working classes, and the vast sum which these same laborers have now accumulated in savings banks and kindred institutions.

To close, Mr. D. quoted a sentiment from President Cleveland's last message, that our people are burdened by the tariff, and the proposed reform would relieve them, but would not affect the wages of workmen. Turning to the President of the Club, he said: Mr. Cleveland proposes to reduce the tariff so that you may buy your coat at a less price. How? by importing it from England! But, if you pay an English workman for making the coat, what will our American do who should have made it? Who will pay him for what he did not do? Will it not affect his wages? Let us pay our own men good wages, thus enabling them to live like immortal beings, as they should live; and if foreigners desire to enter our markets, compel them to pay for the privilege by contributing of their gains to the payment of our governmental expenses.

Mr. Cleveland's strongest argument in favor of tariff reduction was the present surplus in the United States Treasury. But the surplus has no right there. There is a law of Congress which authorizes the President to go upon the market and buy Government bonds with all the surplus money. The national debt $1,200,000,000; why does not he obey the law, and use this much talked of surplus ($100,000,000) in reducing the debt, and thus also lessen the annual interest payments? There is no argument for free-trade in this; it only convicts the President of neglect of duty.

In a recent speech, Gen. Harrison said: "I believe that it is true to-day that we have many things in this country that are too cheap because whenever it is proved that the man or woman who produces any article can not get a decent living out of it, then it is too cheap."

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems, at first, only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit, he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all throat, lung, and chest affections. Trial bottles free at Coeran's drug store. Large bottles, one dollar.

The Republican.
[Entered as second-class matter.] JAMMONCTON, ATLANTIC CO., N. J.
SATURDAY, JUNE 30, 1885.

OUR TICKET.

For President,
Benjamin Harrison,
Of Indiana.

For Vice-President,
Levi P. Morton,
Of New York.

Republican Platform.

I. Honors the illustrious dead—Grant, Arthur, Logan, Conkling; the living heroes; prays for the recovery of Gen.
Sheridan.

II. Fraternal greetings to Brazil, for her recent abolition of slavery.

III. Re-affirms devotion to the Constitution and the Union; to personal rights and liberties of every citizen, and especially the right to cast one vote and have it properly counted; demands effective legislation to secure integrity and purity of elections; charges that the present administration and Democratic majority in Congress owe existence to suppression of the ballot by criminal nullification of the Constitution and laws of the United States.

IV. Uncompromisingly in favor of the American system of protection; denounces the Mills bill. Favors repeal of all internal taxes, rather than surrender any part of our protective system. Condemns importation of foreign contract labor. Opposes "trusts" and kindred combinations.

V. Public lands for homesteads for American citizens. Favors admission of certain territories, as states.

VI. Condemns Mormonism.

VII. Gold and silver as money; demands reduction of letter postage to one cent per ounce. The States and Nation should support free schools.

VIII. Favors rehabilitation of American merchant marine; early building of our navy; construction of coast fortifications; payment of just pensions to soldiers; necessary improvements to harbors, etc.

IX. Rehearses, and declares cowardly, many acts of present administration in conducting foreign affairs.

X. Favors true civil service reform.

XI. The first concern of good government is the virtue and sobriety of the people, and the purity of their homes.
The Republican party cordially sympathizes with all wise and well-directed efforts for the promotion of temperance and morality.

The ticket and the platform fit each other; both fit the Republican party; the party fits the country. There isn't a misfit in the outfit.

THE MEN.

Benjamin Harrison was born in North Bend, Ohio, August 20th, 1833. His great-grandfather and namesake signed the Declaration of Independence; his grandfather was ninth President of the United States; his father was twice elected to Congress. Entering the army in 1852, as Second Lieutenant, he won promotion until commissioned Brigadier General. Served with distinguished ability in the United States Senate for six years. As a lawyer, he stands at the head of his profession in Indiana. An Elder in the Presbyterian Church, his private life is above reproach.

Levi P. Morton was born at Shureham, Vermont, May 14th, 1824. Long at the head of one of the largest banking houses in the world, noted for his conscientious honesty. As a member of the National House of Representatives, he stood with the highest. While minister to France, under President Arthur, he rendered his country good service. But few men have been more highly honored in the Empire State, and few have been more deserving.

These are our candidates, and we can honestly commend them.

It is estimated that over two million grape bags will be used this season on the Vineyard tract.

TOWN COUNCIL.

There is much said about what the Council do, and don't do. There are some things that ought to be done—things that the old Council neglected entirely,—and while the new members were not pledged to these things, probably they will see the necessity for a reform, and if it is in their power, and no doubt there will be a change for the better. The particular reform we ask for, is of the weather. We have great faith in the Town Council and good weather, and so have provided a good supply of Spring goods, such as

SATURDAY, JUNE 30, 1885.

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

The political pot is boiling.

Council meeting this evening.

At the Park, next Wednesday.

Hurray! for the Fourth of July!

Mr. D. L. Potter, we are sorry to say, is very sick.

Board of Trade meeting, Monday evening, July 6th.

Gas reduced to 50 cents, by Dr.
Wass, dentist.

Next week is Loan Association week. The Workmen's on Monday evening, at Black's Hall; on Thursday evening, the Hammoncton, in the Council Room.

Monday, the 25th, was Harry Gilbert's twenty-first birthday, and that evening a party of his young friends made him a surprise visit, which he appeared to enjoy as well as they.

Eight entries have been made for the tub race, others can enter on the day. Bring your wash-tub with you.
No paddles allowed, as all paddling must be done with the open hands.

There were four visitors inspecting the Hammoncton breiler farms, this week,—Mr. Jones, of Lundy's Lane, Canada; Mr. Schall, of Newton, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg, of New York City.

Mr. H. P. Mitchell, artist, of Atlantic City, desires to form a class here for instruction in oil painting. A specimen of his work can be seen at Mr.
Rutherford's, where any desired information can be obtained.

The Hammoncton Glee Club are expected to sing, next Wednesday, at the Park; and vocal solos have been agreed upon. Probably the base-ball games on that day will be played on the Park grounds.

Why not elect the Misses Pressey members of the Hammoncton Board of Trade? There are not two more enterprising or accomplished young ladies in South Jersey.—W. J. Press. [Well, they are eligible, and the Board is quite willing. We already have one lady member.]

Mr. Z. U. Matthews picked and shipped four crates of blackberries (the Early Harvest variety) last Wednesday, and they were sold on Thursday morning, in New York, for eighteen cents per quart. He expects to market the larger part of his crop next week, before the Wilson's begin to ripen.

St. Mark's Church, Fifth Sunday after Trinity, July 1st, 1885. Litany and Holy Communion, 10:30 A. M.
Evening Prayer and Sermon, 4:00 P. M.
Sunday School, 3:00.

N. B. The Sunday School will be at 3:00 P. M., and Evening Prayer at 4:00 o'clock, for the summer.

For the next two Sundays there will be no service in the Baptist Church, while repairs are being made. The Sunday school and prayer meetings will be held at usual hours, in the sociable room, over Stockwell's store. The congregation have been invited to unite with the Presbyterians during this necessary vacation.

The Park will be open to all on the Fourth. Perfect arrangements have been made for keeping order, and every body can have enjoyment. Refreshments will be sold at the stands. Maj
C. M. Jordan is in charge of the celebration, and will be assisted by details from the Grand Army Post and Sons of Veterans.

The Philadelphia & Atlantic City Railroad trains will leave Hammoncton, for Philadelphia, after to-day, as follows: A. M., accommodation, 5:05 and 6:55; express, 9:02 and 11:53. P. M., accommodation at 5:14. Leave Philadelphia: A. M., accommodation, 7:30; express, 11:00. P. M., express, 2:30 and 4:30; accommodation, 5:30 and 6:30.

represented. Lowest rates to all, and no blackmailing.

WM. RUTHERFORD,
Hammoncton, N. J.

The dry spell was broken, last Saturday, by a violent thunder storm, and we hear that six or eight houses in town were struck; among others, the residence of Mrs. Lida Miller, near the Park, where the roof and chimney were badly damaged; also, the Methodist Parsonage, which was but slightly injured. Happily, so far as we know, no person was injured.

Trade? There are not two more enterprising or accomplished young ladies in South Jersey.—W. J. Press. [Well,
member.]

Mr. Z. U. Matthews picked and
Early Harvest variety) last Wednesday,
and they were sold on Thursday morning, in New York, for eighteen cents per
part of his crop next week, before the
Wilson's begin to ripen.

St. Mark's Church, Fifth Sunday
after Trinity, July 1st, 1885. Litany
and Holy Communion, 10:30 A. M.
Evening Prayer and Sermon, 4:00 P. M.
Sunday School, 3:00.

N. B. The Sunday School will be at
o'clock, for the summer.

For the next two Sundays there
will be no service in the Baptist Church, while repairs are being made. The
room, over Stockwell's store. The
congregation have been invited to unite
with the Presbyterians during this necessary vacation.

The Park will be open to all on the Fourth. Perfect arrangements have been made for keeping order, and every
body can have enjoyment. Refreshments will be sold at the stands. Maj
C. M. Jordan is in charge of the celebration, and will be assisted by details
from the Grand Army Post and Sons of Veterans.

Point, Camden.

INSURANCE.—There is no use in going out of town for your insurance.
One of our late Hammoncton men was insured (?) "out of town." His property was burned, and he received only one-third under threat of "crookedness." It was an honest loss. He is now in his grave. Insure at home. Insure with Rutherford. Only the best companies represented. Lowest rates to all, and no blackmailing.

WM. RUTHERFORD,
Hammoncton, N. J.

The dry spell was broken, last
Saturday, by a violent thunder storm,
badly damaged; also, the Methodist Parsonage, which was but slightly in-
person was injured.
