F. A. Funston Post, 186, American Legion, has received many inquiries about the use of the base ball diamond at the Park. There seems to be an impression that the Post has a lease or agreement with the Town for the diamond. This is not correct. Our Post has no control over the diamond, in any way. Our work at the Park has not been done for the selfish interest of anyone, no way, but for the public generally. Applications for the use of the diamond at the Park should be made to the Property Committee of Town Council.

Another house-car attracted quite a little attention on the street, this week. It was a Ford, with a large roomy body erected thereon, containing a full size bed, with kitchenette complete, gasoline and coal stoves, tables etc. The owners of the idea had driven their car—which they call the Pom-Beach House Car—thru fifteen states, covering 23,000 miles, as high as 368 miles in one day, and traveling at one cent per mile for gasoline. They claimed that it could be erected for one hundred dollars, and would weigh eighty pounds less than the average Ford sedan. They have opened an office at 25 Segal Building, Atlantic City, and are selling plans and blue prints of this novel idea.

Base Ball News.

The local base ball lovers will have for their attraction today the strong Bridgeton nine. This team gave the locals a splendid trouncing for the opener, at Bridgeton, a few weeks ago. Hammonton is after revenge, and exercises every effort to win.

After seeing the best played game of the season, last Saturday, when our locals trimmed the strong League Island nine, we believe our team is rapidly rounding into shape. There is a large crowd anticipated to witness this afternoon's fray. Bachelor will pitch for the locals. The line-up will be composed of the following players: Piez 1 b, Craig 2b, Turner 3b, Labley n. s. Rubba, Craig and Stuckwell will watch the out-field. This will, no doubt, be Catcher Myer's last game, as he expects to spend the summer at the Delaware Water Gap.

The ball club is still trying to make things comfortable for the spectators, and earnestly requests their undivided support. Just come; witness a game, and get acquainted. You will enjoy it.

KEPT IN CELLAR FOR TWO MONTHS

Five-Year-Old Boy, His Body Emaciated and Covered With Bruises, Rescued by Police.

TELLS OF BRUTALITY

Slept on Piece of Carpet in Crude Soap Box—When He Cried Other Children Were Sent Down to Punish Him.

Syracuse, N. Y.—The police rescued Kenneth Vermier, five years old, partly nude, from the cellar of the family home, where he is said to have been imprisoned for two months. The boy's father is Herbert Vermier, production superintendent at one of the city's largest industries.

The lad, emaciated, his body and head covered with wounds and bruises, his neck turned, probably permanently, from huddling on a piece of carpet in a crude soap box, was taken from the cellar by Mrs. Genevieve Searles, policewoman, and William Mesick, superintendent of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

The boy was wrapped in a blanket and taken before a justice of the peace at Eastwood, where a charge of improper guardianship was brought against him. The court adjourned the case, giving his custodians permission to take the little boy to the matron's department at police headquarters here.

Long Time in Cellar.

"How long were you down in the cellar?" a police officer asked him.

"I don't know just how long, mister," the boy answered, "but it was an awful long time down there."

"What did you have to eat?"

"Well, sometimes they would send down a bowl of toasties, with a little milk, then a little toast."

Some of the neighborhood children told Mr. Mesick and Mrs. Searles that when they were playing with the Vermier children, Kenneth would hear them and start to cry from the cellar. When that would happen, the investigators were told, one of the other children would be sent into the cellar to whip Kenneth for crying.

Dr. Mandell Shmberg, police surgeon, said the boy was suffering from malnutrition. The boy was taken to the Syracuse Memorial hospital.

Tells of His Bruises.

Kenneth was asked how he received the wounds on his head and body.

"Those," the child said, pointing to the wounds on his face and head, "came from sleeping in the box. I had the box next to the furnace. There was a carpet in the bottom.

Whipped Kenneth for Crying.

No pillow. That's how I hurt my head by laying on the carpet in the box."

Black and blue marks on his body, Kenneth said, were from being struck with the handle of a broom.

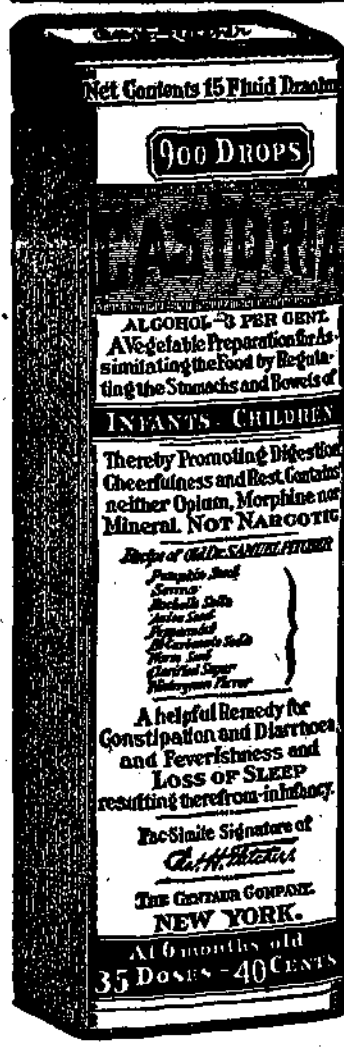

Mrs. Vermier told Mrs. Searles that 11 of her 12 children are at home. The oldest, Everett, seventeen, is living with a family by whom he was adopted in infancy.

DENIED MEAT FOR TEN YEARS

Wife Testifies in Court She Wasn't Let Express Her Pleasure on Saturdays.

Cedar Rapids, Ia. Mrs. Maud Durland, wife of Clyde Durland, head of the Helping Hand Mission in Cerro Gordo county, was granted a divorce on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. She alleged she had not been permitted to eat meat for ten years, was not permitted to drink coffee or tea, could not use vinegar or pepper and could "express no pleasure" on Saturdays.

Their seven children, she alleged, were not permitted to play on Saturdays and were compelled to pray one hour every morning and an hour and a half every evening. The older children, she claimed, were forced to walk four miles to work, and their only food during the day was a crust of bread. She was allowed the custody of the children and $50 a month alimony.

Children Cry For

Special Care of Baby.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

WHO SAID "WEAKER VESSEL"? OBJECTED TO SHOW PILLOWS? KNEW NO BOSS BY THAT NAME?

Little Incident Shows How Much Chance More Man Has With Real Mistress of Finance.

Mrs. Norman Whitehouse, the patrician ex-suffragist who has gone into the leather business, said at a tea in New York:

"Woman should succeed magnificently in business, she is such a past grand mistress of finance."

"I know a pretty girl who once took the part of palmist in a gypsy tent at a fair. A young man came in to have his fortune told, and the pretty girl, holding his hand in hers tenderly, said:

"You have an extraordinary character. Your most remarkable quality is generosity. You hate skinflints, you despise the money hoarder, and you look on avarice as a shameful vice. A large and almost reckless liberality marks your path through life."

"Thank you," said the young man, blushing and giggling. "You are flattering me, I'm afraid."

"Not at all," said the pretty girl, "and now I'm going to wrap you up these three dozen tickets for our turkey raffle. They're only a simoleon apiece. Three tens, a five, and a one. Thank you; that's just right."

Only Remaining Despot.

Usually Amiable Bachelor Had Reason for Returning From Week-End Visit With Grouch.

"Did you have a nice week-end?" inquired the sweet young thing brightly of the popular bachelor.

"O, I suppose you might say so," he grumbled, with unexpected ill humor. "But I'd like to know how anybody can have a nice week-end when he can't sleep."

"What was the matter?"

"O, the usual thing—the guest pillow. How many times have I had a good night in an otherwise pleasant and comfortable room ruined by an elephantine pillow. If you lay just your head on it you break your neck; if you try to ease the slant by moving it down under your shoulders you might as well be sitting up."

"For themselves people have decently low, soft, comfortable things which are tucked out of sight in the daytime. But in the guest room the show pillows are the only pillows provided."—New York Sun.

Doctors Declare Music Heals.

Music, as a powerful healing agency for physical as well as mental maladies, was one of the principal topics of discussion at the annual meeting of the Tri-State Medical association at Memphis recently. Approximately 250 physicians and surgeons from Missouri, Arkansas and Tennessee heard this subject discussed. The physicians were enthusiastic in boosting music as a healer and classed it, in certain circumstances, as almost as effective as drugs.

Up-to-Date.

First Little Girl—"What's your last name, Annie?" Second Little Girl—"Don't know yet. I ain't married."

But Young Man Finally Figured Out Just Whom His Acquaintance Might Have Meant.

Office politics are not unknown even in the government bureaus. Indeed—though perhaps this should be whispered—maybe they're better known there than anywhere else.

A bright young man holds down a very responsible job in one government unit and holds it down very capably. His nominal superior is generally recognized as merely a figurehead. Relations between the two are a bit strained.

The other day a Washingtonian, talking of the bright young man, remarked: "I nearly ran down your boss the other day in Scott circle." And he mentioned the boss by name.

The young man looked blank. "Have I a boss by that name?" he asked. "Oh, yes—I know whom you mean. We have a dead man up at the shop by that name."—Washington Post.

Not Custodians.

At the town meeting of a small place "up country" a citizen made a motion that was seconded in an astonishing way.

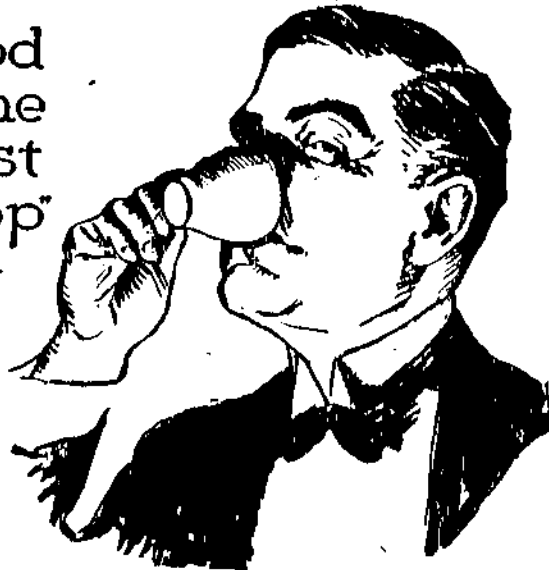

"Mr. Moderator," he said, "I move that the town set aside money for three custodians to be stationed at proper places."

At that an old fellow in the rear of the hall who was hard of hearing rose stilly to his feet. "I second the motion," he said, "and I move that Jack Davis be made one of 'em!"

We are continually asked, what's the difference in ready-mixed paints, as they all look about the same when you open the can and apparently look alike when applied?

To cheapen the cost of paints the manufacturers work in adulterations such as: barytes, silica, calcium, carbonate, linseed oil, water and benzine, cheap tinting colors.

These paints are under different labels than their own. The weight of paint does not necessarily measure its quality.

To pay more than we ask for our best paint you are being overcharged; if you pay less you are getting a paint of inferior quality.

SATURDAY, JULY 1, 1922

Sunday base-ball has stirred the people of Hammonton up to a talking point. It seems that a pick-up nine pulled off a game last Sunday, on the Park diamond; and there are rumors and petitions out for more.

Right along the Sunday base-ball discussion, the Hammonton Club and the Legion wish it understood that they have nothing at all to do with it.

Did you ever see so many special reduction sales among our merchants as are now being offered? It is the best time to lay in a supply of wearables.

The first peaches that found their way onto the Editor's table were fine ones from Frank Macri's farm.

Next Tuesday will be a legal holiday. Of course, all business houses will take the day off, with their employees.

Take your family to the Park, next Tuesday afternoon; and have a good time. There will be plenty of good eats and amusement.

FROM GIRLHOOD TO WOMANHOOD

Woman Relied Upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Emporia, Kansas.—"I began using Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound several years ago when I was a girl. For several years I had severe pains at menstrual periods, making me very weak and interfering with my regular duties. I tried several remedies without obtaining relief. I was induced to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound by friends. And it relieved me to normal health. I often had occasion to recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to my own. You may use these facts as a testimonial."

—Mrs. ALDRICH, 218 Union St., Emporia, Kansas.

There are many women who first used our Vegetable Compound during their girlhood days. They found it a valuable help during trying periods. In later years they use it whenever they feel those annoying symptoms which women often have.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a woman's medicine. It is prepared carefully from the best quality of medicinal plants, whose properties are especially adapted to correct the troubles women have.

The Spring Blossoms

By I. WRIGHT

Mary Webb had looked through the Sunday supplements carefully. As she stared out of the window toward the sunny south orchard where the spring blossoms were already beginning to show pink and white she shuddered.

"Always the same," she whispered to herself. "Every spring the blossoms, every autumn the haystacks. Ugh!"

She saw Avery Wilson in his orchard on the next place. He had the horse hitched up to a spraying machine and was whistling as he made his way around the trees in need of the solution in the machine. He looked toward the Webb place and Mary drew back from the window.

It was Wednesday, anyhow, she reflected, and she would see him soon enough. Every Wednesday evening, right after supper, he tided on her. He always arrived somewhere between 6:30 and 7, and Mary again shuddered as she thought of the early hour.

In the Sunday supplements she had been reading it spoke of the young man calling at 9 or 9:30. And for dances—those started, in the fashionable set, at 10 or after. Mary's lips curved up in a smile as she thought of Avery's face should she suggest starting out to a dance at 10 o'clock.

The whistle of the west-bound train aroused her and she put the bread in the oven. Her mind was on the train as she closed the oven door. The east-bound for the city would come through in forty minutes. The east-bound! The city! Her cousin Sadi lived in the city and was always coaxing her to come up for a visit. Well, why not?

Mary Webb stooped a little and regarded her shiny black hair in the crinkly little mirror above the kitchen sink. It was lying sleek and wavy with not a hair out of place. She could slip into her blue tricot and make the train in time. How surprised Sadi would be! Sadi had written that she always had callers on Wednesday evenings, and that usually different ones came.

In the part of the country where Mary Webb lived that would be considered not quite nice to have several young men call. Each girl had her caller and went everywhere with him until it came time for them to marry. Mary Webb hurried to her room and donned the blue frock. She took her hat from the bag and bent before the glass to adjust it.

The thought ran across her mind that maybe she'd never come back again to this house, to this room, to this glass. Perhaps she would never again see Avery Wilson or hear his whistle. A pang of desolation crossed her heart as too late thought came to her. Somehow things would not be the same if she didn't hear Avery's whistling. But her mouth again carried upward at the corners. There would be some one in the city who would whistle.

She ran to the poultry house where her mother was feeding the baby chicks with the skimmed milk and told her about the trip.

"I'll most likely be back in a few days, but Sadi has been wanting me to come, you know."

"But why select today, and hurry off like this?" exclaimed her mother.

But Mary Webb, with a frown, was gone, matching her smart little black fur from the hall rack as she ran. She watched the familiar town as the train rushed through on its two-hour trip to town. All about the way stretched orchards.

Orchards with their seemingly never ending blossoms! Pink blossoms and white blossoms! White blossoms and pink ones! The train rushed on, striking its white at each mile-rod, and more spring blue blossoms. The trees were growing small or now, though, and the blossoms seemed neither so pink nor so white. GAINS 8 POUNDS IN TWO WEEKS' TIME

Dyspepsia Entirely Overcome and She Eats, Sleeps and Feels Better Than in Years, Says Boston Resident.

"I have actually gained eight pounds in two weeks' time and am now eating better, sleeping better and feeling better than I have in three or four years," said Mrs. Celesta Fell, 32 Prince street, Boston, Mass., recently, in telling of the great benefits she has derived from the use of Tanlac.

"My stomach was in such a bad fix before I took Tanlac that I did not dare eat much of anything, for if I did I would have so much pain and distress from indigestion that I felt like I was going to die. I was so run down and weak from lack of nourishment that I could not do my housework."

"I was so nervous I couldn't keep still during the day nor sleep at night. I can see now if it had not been for Tanlac I would have had to give up entirely. I am now feeling strong and healthy and all the credit belongs to Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have it.

Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmor & Co., Birmingham, N. Y., for a sample bottle. Write, giving name and mention this paper. Advertisement.

MOTHER CUTS OFF HEAD OF CHILD

Drowns Another in Rain Barrel and Third Is Rescued, Almost Dead, by Father.

Russell Springs, Ky.—After severing the head of her twelve-year-old daughter with a butcher knife and hurling her six-year-old son and an infant into a barrel filled with rain water, Mrs. Arnold Holt, residing at the home of her father, George Harris, ran head-on against the sharp edge of a hatchet which she had wedged in a fence and injured herself probably fatally.

Mrs. Holt is believed to have become suddenly insane as a result of brooding over a divorce suit. She was separated from her husband several months ago.

Awakened by the screams of the daughter, George Harris rushed to the door in time to see Mrs. Holt sever the girl's head with one blow of a sharp butcher knife. The son and the infant, who were nearby, then were seized by the demented mother and

Rich Finds in Dust Heaps

Sifters of London Rubbish Make Good Money in Occupation That Would Appeal to Few.

Lovers of Dickens are not likely to forget Noddy Boffin, the golden dustman in "Our Mutual Friend," and the heaps of dust that were his fortune. Not so many years ago there was many a mountain of rubbish, cinders and various unavory objects to be found about, and sometimes in London itself.

There are many stories of the wonderful finds that have been made by dust sifters in those heaps, and one of the fraternity named Mary Collins, who lived in the neighborhood of Lisson Grove, gave some curious evidence before a police magistrate when she appeared to charge a woman with robbery. The prisoner had stolen a bag that contained one coral necklace, another with a pearl chain, several handsome brooches, five gold pens, some gold rings and shirt pins, broken bits of gold and silver and other articles of less value.

In reply to the magistrate the prosecutor stated that she had found the property among the dust, and that people who followed her trade found almost every small article that could be mentioned. She was employed by a dust contractor who allowed his employees 10 cents per load for sifting, in addition to all the spoons and other articles that they might find among the dust. One woman had followed her occupation for eight years and had done so well with her "finds" that she built herself a house at a cost of $1,500. In addition, she showed a cash box in which were thirty-nine sovereigns, two five-pound notes and several guineas and half-sovereigns.

Opportunity Overlooked

"It may be possible to communicate with spirits."

"You're not saying that?"

"Then why poke fun at the mediums?"

"They show such poor judgment. A visitor from the spirit world who came to make a speech could keep an audience of thousands spellbound by their death for hours, but about all an spirit ever says is, 'I'm very happy here.'"—Herald.

Cuts Off Wife's Hair to Keep Her at Home

Akron, O.—Nearly four feet of golden tresses was shorn from the head of Mrs. Clara Cox, twenty-seven, by her husband, Orrin Cox, a rubber worker, to prevent her from leaving her family to travel on a hair tonic demonstrator, it was learned here.

They quarreled over the proposed tour, and she stayed away from home until late the other night. Cox awaited her return. He watched her as she braided her hair for the night. Then as she arose from in front of her mirror he clipped the braids, which reached to her ankles.

"I would give a million dollars if I could restore your hair," Cox told her as they were reconciled at the hospital where the wife is suffering from a nervous collapse.

Severed the Girl's Head With One Blow

plunged into the barrel of water, the cover thrown on top of them to prevent their escape.

Tearing her hair and shrieking, Mrs. Holt then ran to a fence in which she previously had fastened a hatchet. Backing away 20 feet, she lowered her head and ran straight against the sharp blade, cleaving her skull.

The father watched the tragedy as though paralyzed until the woman fell, then ran to notify neighbors. The boy was found hanging head down over the edge of the rain barrel in an unconscious condition and hope is held for his recovery. The infant perished in the barrel.

Mrs. Holt was unconscious when picked up by neighbors and physicians who attended her said she would not recover. During a brief lapse of consciousness she whispered: "Why didn't God let me finish it?"

She is said to have been despondent since her separation from her husband and dreaded the ordeal of appearing in court in the divorce proceedings which she had instituted.

Arnold Holt, the husband, formerly was employed as a salesman at Louisville. His present whereabouts is not known.

Mrs. Arnold's brother, Elan Harris, is a well-known dentist of Danville, Ky.

THIS CAVEWOMAN TOO ROUGH

Woman Talks at Marriage After Kansas City Woman Mops Up Wagon With Him.

Kansas City, Mo.—Martha Connelly is a small woman and Elsie Rogers is a large homemaker. A policeman found Elsie mopping up the ice wagon with Martha. Next both were in the South side municipal court.

"She is all the time following me on my feet," said Connelly. "She wants me to marry her, but I don't love her. She threatened to kill me if I didn't get a marriage license."

Elsie admitted it and asked Martha to change his mind.

"You're too rough," he answered. Judge Fleming fined both $25.

Kiwanis Delegates Back. Kiwanians had a very interesting meeting on Tuesday. This time it was decided to hear from the delegates to the Toronto convention. Dr. Waas spoke for them, and it was some story. The Doctor knows how to tell one, and if there was any fun overlooked it was not his fault. He referred to the Canadians as a very hospitable lot of people, who left nothing undone to make the Association delegates welcome.
