Work.

It seems great angels speak to me to-night—
In a twinkle language of the unknown land,
Bidding me choose from treasure infinite,
From godly glories and glories in his hand
The thing I coveted, what should I take?
Fame's wreath of bays? The fickle world's esteem?

Nay, precious lays may weave on brows that
sola,
And world's applauding paeans as a dream!
Should I choose love to fill minority heart,
With rest, sweet sweetness, as in days of old?

Nay, for love's rapture hath an after smart,
And on love's rose the thorns are manifold.
Should I choose life with long succeeding years?

Nay, earth's long life is longer time for tears.

I would choose work, and never-fading power
To work without weak hindrance of the way,
Without recurrence of the weary hour
When dust, tyrant nature holds its sway
O'er the busy brain and tolling hand,
Or! in an angel came to me to-night,
Speaking in language of the unknown land,
So would I choose from the treasure infinite.
But wait! I know the blessed gift I crave—
The tireless strength for never-ending task!
Not this life, but beyond the gates of death
It is I shall find the thing I ask;
For I believe there is a greater land,
Where will, and work and strength go hand in hand. —All the Year Round.

A Precious Little Liar

[illegible][illegible][illegible][illegible]

Glean!—
 See the horse an,
 Never let the hoof go,
 Trotting over dirty stones;
 Wears away the hardest bones.
 Life has many a stone's trot
 Even to the toughest test;
 Men, the sturdy, find it so
 Ere through half of life they go.
 Streaks of blood are in the way,
 Trod by humans every day;
 Seen by weary, agonized eye,
 While the blinded world goes by.
 What a pain would sweep the skies
 Laden with man's misdeeds!
 Gently then, oh brother man!
 Do the utmost good you can;
 God approve! 'en the least Deed of truth to man be done.

 Coroner Ellinger, of New York, says about suicides in hot weather: "The large number of the suicides at this season among men are the results of excessive drinking. The women are more often driven to suicide by nervous systems are shattered and their bodies soaked with alcohol, the evil effects of which are increased when the weather becomes hot. When the increased temperature develops their internal fires, and then, in moments of desperate disgust with life, they take their own lives. Another cause of many suicides is that foreigners who have here never become so acclimated as the natives, and they are a great many who are in the midst of misadventure of them are at that consolation which they would have at home among their relatives, and which would strengthen them when they are alone. When they are alone, and they share them in Another thing which is a great cause of suicides is that many of them are in the midst of religious faith. Where people enter their entire hopes in their worldly successes, lack faith in a future life, and have no other consolation, and in con-

Black Silks

Such a stock as Black Silk affords the best test of the spirit of a merchant. It constitutes too large a part of his trade to be trifled with; and as he conducts that, so he considers it wise to conduct the rest of his business. You have here the clue to his policy. If he sells showy silks at a low price and calls them cheap because they are showy, or if he sells heavy silks at a low price and calls them cheap because they are heavy, he either does not know his business or deliberately cheats. To be showy is nothing; to be heavy is nothing. A showy "silk" may be nearly all cotton; a heavy silk may be nearly all dye!

We are frank enough to say that few salesmen or merchants can tell a good silk from one that is not good; and often, when a bad silk is sold, neither the merchant nor his salesman has a suspicion of the fact.

But the great industry of silk-manufacture, using millions upon millions of capital and thousands upon thousands of human lives, is not conducted in ignorance of its raw material or of its product. Few undertakings of man are based on more exact knowledge. Do you imagine, then, that there need be any considerable uncertainty about the quality of a silk which we place before you? There is necessarily just this ground of uncertainty, and no other: a good silk is sometimes spoiled in the last process of manufacture, and the fact can be found out only by wearing it.

The buyer's problem is how to get the certain good and avoid all that can be avoided of the uncertain bad. And this is the answer: buy of a merchant whose general plan of business is to deserve your confidence by never betraying it, either through ignorance or indifference; and whose dealings are large enough to give him the best in the market at the bottom of the market price.

This is all that can be profitably said about buying silks in general. It covers the whole ground and is the whole science of buying for persons without a special, technical, and very rare knowledge of goods.

But very likely you want to know what we mean by a good silk, and what good silk costs. By a good silk we mean one that will not disappoint reasonable expectations as to appearance, either when new or old.

A good silk may be got here for a dollar. The best silk can be got here for two dollars; after that, it is a matter of weight alone. The best and heaviest we have in plain black silk is six-and-a-half dollars.

We have no dealing in any silk that we have any distrust of; and if you want to know what we think of any particular piece of silk that we sell, you can learn by asking.

Insurance.

CUMBERLAND MUTUAL Fire Insurance Company, BRIDGETON, N. J.

Conducted on strictly mutual principles, offering a perfectly safe insurance for just what it may cost to pay losses and expenses. The proportion of loss to the amount insured being very small, and expenses much less than usually had, nothing can be offered more favorable to the insured. The cost being about ten cents on the hundred dollars per year to the insured on ordinary risks, and from fifteen to twenty-five cents per year on hazardous properties, which is less than one-third of the lowest rates charged by stock companies, on such risks—the other two-thirds taken by stock companies being a profit accruing to stockholders, or consumed in expenses of the companies.

The guarantee fund of premium notes being now Three Millions of Dollars.

If an assessment had to be made of five per cent. only, twice within the ten years for which the policy is issued, it would yet be cheaper to the members than any other insurance offered. And that large amount of money is saved to the members and kept at home. No assessment having ever been made, being now more than thirty years, that saving would amount to more than

One Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars

The Losses by Lightning.

Where the property is not set on fire, being less than one cent per year to each member, are paid without extra charge, and extended so as to cover all policies that are issued and outstanding.
