School Meeting Notes.

As mentioned in the Republican fudge" last Saturday, the voters adopted the Board's first proposition, to add four rooms to the rear of the High School, and rejected the new High School proposition.

The subject was thoroughly discussed on all sides, most of those opposed to the plan seeming to feel that it was an inopportune time to incur such a debt; also, that it should not be erected on other than a prominent street.

It was expected that the counting of the ballots would not be completed until the early morning For proposition one, 105; against, 24

The Board of Education certainly got on the job. They are advering for bids for the addition to the High School building.

Monday will be the first of August. How the summer is flying! A number of persons spoke against the location of the proposed new ligh School on a "side alley," as they termed it. The Board's recommencation, that of their land on School Lane, back of the M. E. Church, has both advantages and disadvantages. To say the least there would be less danger of accident to pupils on a back street.
