Two Lives Saved
Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption, and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her, and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St., San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result everything else, then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Free trial bottles at Croft's. Regular size 50 cents and $1.

In order to introduce Chamberlain's Cough Remedy here, we sold several dozen bottles on strict guarantee, and have found every bottle did good service. We have used it ourselves and think it superior to any other. W. J. MOYBEX, Jarvisville, W. Va. Sold by druggists.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

"How strangely Peter acts! He's a little off"...

"When a minister is installed there is a change to the people, and paying his salary is another one—Lowell Courier."

"I like this hat," said Isabel. "It makes my face look long and well; but when I wear it, the bill—"

"Time is money, they say"—Foot. It has been noticed that a good deal of money to have a good time—Truth.

"A man is much like a razor, because you can't tell how sharp he can be until he is completely strapped—Texas Siftings."

"So that man yonder?"—"Yes."—"Been in Congress ten years."—"What's his record?"—"Ten years"—Atlanta Constitution.

"I surely must be safe to say, without the least transgression, that who gives himself away."—Raymond's Monthly.

"Methods I meant the morning air, he drove down Main street at 3 a. m.—Buffalo Courier."

"Secret societies have charms that are especially attractive to the man who likes to make a gaudy display on his watch-chain.—Puck."

"He—'Did you say the furniture was Louis XV's?—'She—'Yes, Why?'—He—'The bills suggest the design of Terror.'—Beau Monde."

"What a big hill I am getting to be!" said the ambitious figure of dirt near the river. But it was only a bluff.—Chicago Tribune."

"The note he gave me was the same, but he was a chest protector and his gun shows, just as the star."—Washington Star."

"Blood may be thicker than water, but did any one know a girl who would assist her brother's cigars to give to some one else?—Detroit Tribune."

"George—'You would marry the biggest fool in the world if he asked you, wouldn't you?'—Ethel—'Oh, George, this is so sudden.'—Vogue."

"Tramp—'Madam, I was not always that. Madam—'No, it was your arm you had, and I'm glad this morning.'—Detroit Tribune."

"When you are buying a horse don't consult a pedestrian, and when you are courting a woman don't ask advice of a bachelor.—Hawkinsville Dispatch."

"There is this singularity about photographs, a pretty picture is invariably 'the perfect image of her' with a poor picture 'doesn't look a bit like her.'—Boston Transcript."

"The czar called today 'give us peace' and 'God to educate the masses.' These are our national mottoes.—Cleveland Plain Dealer."

"Miss Manhattan (maliciously)—'You must miss the dear old London fog very much.'—Lord Tuffnell (lolly)—'I am a Tartan, and I'm very much pleased by your charming New York wind.'—Vogue."

"What is the difference between the ancient Romans and the modern Americans?—'Give it up.'—'The Romans used to turn their heads, while the Americans have to turn their lives.'—Texas Siftings."

"The rain came down in torrents, with a splashy-splishy wash, and it soaked the foolish fellow. Who had soaked his man's coat?—Washington News."

"My friend," said the solemn old gentleman, "what has happened to you? You have been directed."—"To the head end," murmured the barber, and the blonde fairly purred. It didn't merely begin.—Indianapolis Journal."

"Best Schools for Coeds. There are probably 150 schools for coeds in Germany and Austria, the best of which are at Vienna, Berlin and Leipzig. A man who wishes to become a chef must begin at the very bottom of the ladder—on peeling potatoes—and work up, round by round, to the top. A course of schooling as given in this country may last for four years before the student can get a diploma. Every year competitive examinations are given, in which many as 200 chefs take part. The chef who was employed at the White House by Grover Cleveland during his first term has a gold medal which was presented to him by the Empress Frederick in recognition of his cooking, a silver medal given by King of Saxony, a diploma from the Empress of Austria, and numerous other marks of appreciation and honor won in competitive contests in cooking.—Chicago Herald."

The Beginning of Bookbinding

It was only when writing was made up of separate pieces, or sheets, of a certain size, and a certain material that a binding proper was invented to hold the pieces or sheets together and give strength to them and protection and beauty.

The invention of the folded sheet was a great step in the history of bookbinding. It was a simple thing, but it was a step in the right direction.

NEARLY SCARED TO DEATH

Engineer McCarty's Joke in Railroad Building Days in Oregon. One of the most popular and best-known locomotive engineers on the Southern Pacific Railroad on his branch from San Francisco to Portland, Ore., is Dan McCarty, who has a daylight run through the Rogue River Valley in the southern part of Oregon.

McCarty has been with the railroad ever since it was built, and in fact, helped to build it through all that country where the Modoc used to roam in full mastery. McCarty came from the East; but now nothing would induce him to return to his old home except for a brief visit. He owns some of the choicest fruit orchards in that country, probably the best valley in the world for fruit growing. He also owns a gold mine all to himself, which has just been opened in a cut in the railroad through the mountains.

McCarty has many interesting stories of his early experiences in railroad building. One of the most amusing is the one that amuses him the most occurred at a place called Phoenix, in the Rogue River Valley, not far from the prosperous town of Medford, where he lives. When the road had been built to Phoenix, about ten years ago, there gathered one Sunday from miles around not less than 1,500 persons. Many of them had never seen a locomotive. They came on horseback, on foot, on mules, on conveyances, and it seemed as if there could not be that many persons in all Southern Oregon. The curiosity and excitement about the new railroad were tremendous.

The locomotive that came up was a small one, and it was a very simple thing. It was a small one, and it was a very simple thing. It was a small one, and it was a very simple thing.

THE ROAD RUNNER OF ARIZONA

A Bird with Tireless Legs—Decidedly a "Red Bird" in his country. "There is a bird down in my country," said Major Hanson of Arizona, "which we call the road runner. It is an interesting fellow, this bird, and a fashion of plover, I take it, with long legs that never give out and which devour distance with an appetite that never seems appeased. Generally two road runners go together for company sake, no doubt. They seem to be great gossipers and do a vast amount of talking to one another. They will also ahead of your horse as you ride along the trail, and keep up the strife for miles and miles and hours and hours with a steady side-to-side motion much like the gait of a pacing horse. Why they run along ahead of one in this insane fashion can only be guessed at. It would seem to be for fun and exercise. They are gifted with a great deal of accurate malacology toward the rattlesnakes, with which they brood the runner has deadly feud. I suppose the rattlesnake pounces upon the road runner's eggs and makes omelets of the eggs, or gobbles up their young on a spring chiton and whatever else the cause of hate, however, the road runner is the deadly enemy of the rattlesnake. They wreak vengeance on it in this way: They spy a rattlesnake in the road, and then they come down to your road runner; he never says a word. He and his fellow road runner go about in discreet alliance and collect the dried, dead joints of the fat cactus, which abound in the southwestern deserts. They then crawl about the doing serpent with them. These pieces of cactus bristle with thorns as sharp and keen as needles. When they have their snake corralled, they strike it about the neck and the flapping of their wings, they revile it and scold it, and apply to all kinds of hard epithets to it. The snake gets frightened and it rattles buzz. But they don't care. They crawl on. Whatever the distance and rail at it. At last the snake tries to crawl away, but can't cross the cactus fence, which the road runners have built. The spines prick the snake and he dies. Meanwhile the road runner keeps up their rattles racket. With each prick of the cactus the rattlesnake's wrath increases. At last, in desperate, brainless fury it begins to bite itself. Its poison is as deadly as that of any other snake, and in a short time it dies. Good old road runner triumph of the road runners, which taunt it until its last gasp, and exit over the corpse like savages. After the snake is surely dead they walk off with airs of cocky satisfaction, and, as if were, arm-in-arm."

There is something of the air on the face of the road runner, as if he were telling of discoveries at Laurium, "rivaling those of Pompeii," but it will not do to discredit it too readily, says the St. Louis Republic. It is a good deal of being incredulous in such matter, and the surprising discoveries of the last fifteen years would not have been made at all except for such men as Schlegelmann, who was enthusiastic enough to brave ridicule. The entire learned world scoffed when Schlegelmann calmly announced that he proposed to dig up the bones of the fairies about the cave of Mycenae, the wide-way city, rich in gold, as Homer called it. But the learned world held its breath in eagerness, and when the independent, fatigued, and gray-headed Schlegelmann found the kingly dead of those old times lying in state, crowned with splendid diadems; with golden masks over their faces; with golden belts about their waists; with thin plates of gold covering their dress; with richly inlaid weapons and gold-studded sheaths; the learned world held its breath in eagerness, and when the independent, fatigued, and gray-headed Schlegelmann found the kingly dead of those old times lying in state, crowned with splendid diadems; with golden masks over their faces; with golden belts about their waists; with thin plates of gold covering their dress; with richly inlaid weapons and gold-studded sheaths; the learned world held its breath in eagerness, and when the independent, fatigued, and gray-headed Schlegelmann found the kingly dead of those old times lying in state, crowned with splendid diadems; SATURDAY, AUG. 8, 1895.

Several young ladies met Miss Campbell, Secretary Y. W. C. T. U. of New Jersey, Monday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. J. Cunningham, to organize a Young Women's Christian Temperance Association. They begin with twenty-five members. In the evening the young ladies gave a reception at the residence of Mrs. C. S. Newcomb, inviting the young men. A very interesting program was rendered, consisting of instrumental solos by Mrs. Tice, Misses Hendrickson, of Washington, and Lillian Jacobs; recitations by Misses Mabel Salisbury and Lida Crawford; vocal solo by Miss Blanche Thomas, and a very interesting address by Miss Campbell.

The new chemical engines came on Saturday last, and are beautiful. The factory representative of the manufacturers came, and in the evening gave the Fire Company practical lessons in the use of the engines. But many of the men were disappointed in the test given. A great pile of barrels, boxes, shavings, straw and litter was made on the Fay corner, saturated with kerosene oil, and fired. The agent extinguished the flames, but was compelled to demolish much of the structure in doing so; and this is what caused the dissatisfaction. All sorts of uncomplimentary remarks were made by spectators. The fact is, a chemical engine was never intended for extinguishing fires; and we seldom call on our firemen to save an oil soaked structure. These machines are intended to do quick, effective work inside, especially where a water supply is lacking; and they do that effectually elsewhere, and will do as well here, when our men learn how to use them.

Petitions were presented for graveling Maple Street; grading and graveling part of Oak Road, and part of Union Road; as to condition of sidewalks on Grape Street from Valley Avenue to Egg Harbor Road. All referred to Highway Committee.

Voted permission for firemen to have a parade next Saturday evening.
Voted that Union Road between Pine and Middle Road, be piket and gravelled where necessary.
Road Committee reported visiting the Vaughn property; found the lot lower than street grade hence no cause for action against the Town.
Voted to gravel Pleasant Street, between railroads.

Ordinance introduced to regulate various licenses, passed first reading.
Voted, to accept ten dollars license fee from proprietor of cherry-ground.
Adjourned.

Kenneth Bozmore had the good fortune to receive a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy when three members of his family were sick with dysentery. This one small bottle cured them all and he had some left which he gave to Geo. W. Baker, a prominent merchant of the place, Lewiston, N. C., and it cured him of the same complaint. When troubled with dysentery, diarrhoea, colic or cholera morbus give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result. The praise that naturally follows its introduction and use has made it very popular. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

Old People
Who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bites. This medicine does not stimulate, and contains no whiskey or other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bites is an excellent appetizer, and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50 cts. per bottle, at Croft's Pharmacy.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. 25 cents per box, at Croft's Pharmacy.

HAMMONTON vs. POWELL A. A.
Last Saturday, in the base ball game with the Powell A. A., of Philadelphia, Hamonton more than matched the game of the week before. The score stood 21 to 7 in our favor, after the Powell's eighth turn at the bat, when rain put an end to the game. Our boys played a very clean game, but three errors, in contrast with last week's nine. In the first inning Harkins, the visitors' catcher, in reaching for the ball had the second finger of his right hand broken near the second joint, by the ball. Hedrick stood again in the pitcher's box and answered our last week's query, by striking out nine of the Powells—one in each inning and an extra one in the seventh, giving only one base on balls, and allowing but seven hits. But he must have used himself up pitching for our once champion slugger did not make a safe hit for 1st. Bakely was dunch in evidence at the bat, and in the fourth sent a beaut out to the extreme right field, among the apple trees, and it stayed out there, probably picking apples, until Bakely reached the home plate. Gallige played 1st which perhaps was a mistake for us, and made a pretty catch of C. McDinley's foul in the third. Sinnott, Pierson and D. McDinley each made a two bagger in the first, second and fourth innings respectively, the first bringing in one run, the second two, but the third did no good. Geppert stopped Sinnott's liner in the third and Herron's fly in the sixth. Cunningham caught Fisher in both the fourth and eighth and Naylor squeezed Sinnott's hit in the fifth. The Powells were not permitted to reach 1st in the third, fourth, seventh or eighth innings.

In the first Harkins sent to short, but was shut out at 1st; Pierson singled near 3rd baseman, Sinnott hit to right field and bounded over Holland's head, Pierson scoring; Sinnott attempted to come in on a passed ball but was put out by a fine play at home. Naylor sent a grounder to left and, with two out, came in on the passed ball which broke Harkins's finger. Mullin was put in the latter's place. Geppert singled to 1st and scored on a wild pitch. In the next, with two out, Herron was struck by a pitched ball and took his base; Gess sent to centre, Mullen brought in Herron with a single to left field, while Pierson brought in Gess and Mullen with a two base drive to left. Holland tapped near short, and with two out came in on Naylor's fly to centre; Gallige brought in Naylor and came in himself on the muff of Hedrick's fly to left. In the third Wescoat singled and reached 2nd on an error, coming in on Bakely's single and another error. In the next Gallige got his 1st on a fly to centre, with two out and two on base; Cunningham whizzed past the 3rd baseman, Gallige and Geppert scoring, Wescoat sent a head smasher to the field, bringing in Cunningham, then Bakely smashed his home run bringing in Wescoat. In the next Mullen singled Pierson—ditto, the former scoring and the latter reaching 3rd on an error; Pierson came in on a passed ball. Gallige singled, soon working his way in and Geppert hit reaching 2nd on an error; Cunningham hit to the right fielder who made an overthrow to 2nd to cut off the B. P.; Geppert scored, Cunningham reached 2d on a wild throw and home safely on a muff there. In the sixth Gass took his base on balls, Mullen hit between 1st and 2nd, and Gass scored, touching the home plate; almost the same time Wescoat touched him with the ball. Bakely hit between 1st and 2nd, and came in on Naylor's hit to centre. In the following inning, which was the last, our boys played ball, Cunningham, Wescoat and Holland each made hits; the latter bringing in his two predecessors. Watt sent to centre bringing in Holland; Naylor came in on Gallige's hit, and Gallige on Hedrick's grounder. The score:

Unknown parties entered Will Maloney's livery stable one night this week, took out two horses, drove—no one knows where,—and returned the horse, both foundered. Suspicion is pointing in a certain direction, and there will be a pretty bill presented if proof is obtained.

Misses Edna Ballard and Marie Selley are visiting friends in the lower part of the county.
Wednesday was Epworth League Day at Pitman Grove; and an enthusiastic gathering was the result. Pastor Alfred Wagg was the speaker in the morning,—on "Efficiency in Spiritual Work." Delegates were present from Hamonton, Georgie Wilson representing the Junior League, and took the assembly by storm when he made his report.

Rev. J. A. Steelman, pastor of a Baptist Church in Chicago, visited his uncle Geo. Steelman. On Thursday evening he took charge of the Baptist prayer-meeting, and by request gave a very interesting talk on Mexico,—its geography, climate, people, and religions. As he had been for six years a missionary to that country, he knew whereof he spoke, and both entertained and benefited his audience.

My boy was taken sick with a disease resembling bloody flux. The first thing I thought of was Chamberlain's colic, cholera, and diarrhoea remedy. Two doses of it settled the matter and cured him sound and well. I heartily recommend this remedy to all persons suffering from a like complaint. I will answer any inquiries regarding it when stamp is enclosed. I refer to any county official as to my reliability. Wm. Roason, J. P. Palmroy, Campbell County, Tenn. For sale by druggists.

At the ball game last Saturday only twelve of the visitors reached 1st, 59 per cent. scoring; twenty-nine of our team reached 1st, 72 per cent. scoring.

The fire-bell sounded its alarm at half-past two o'clock Monday morning,—rang by watchman Garton, who saw the light and thought the fire worth in reach. In ten minutes or less the engine was on its way, but the officers soon saw that the fire was distant and could not be reached in time to render service, so returned the apparatus to its quarters. Later, it was learned that Mr. John F. Jenison's house, on Main Road, had been entirely destroyed with all its contents—the children having been rescued with great difficulty. The origin of the fire is unknown, but supposed to have been the upsetting or explosion of a lamp left in the children's room. Nothing was saved from the second story and but a few utensils from below. $300, which Mr. J. had drawn from the bank on Saturday to pay his berry pickers were destroyed. Of course help was given by all who could reach the scene, and barn and contents were saved. The house was insured for $700; contents for $300. It was heart-warming to see the readiness with which those who knew or heard the circumstances, came forward with donations of clothing, bedding, furniture, and other essentials. Wednesday evening, St. Mark's Parish Guild devoted the proceeds of their already advertised garden party to Mr. Jenison's family. Still, it was a heavy loss for Mr. J., and with his wife and six children—clothing all destroyed—there is yet opportunity for those who can aid them.

When moving into our present home I found a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm left by a former tenant. On the label I found a statement that it was good for cuts and burns. I can testify to the truth of this. Nothing in all my experience has been found its equal for treating blisters or burns. F. E. BARNETT, manager Benner, Lehigh, Minn. Pain Balm is also a sure cure for rheumatism.—For sale by druggists.

PROPOSALS. Sealed Proposals are invited for doing the work necessary and furnishing materials for the erection and completion of a County Lunatic Asylum building at Smith's Landing, in the County of Atlantic, in conformity with plans and specifications prepared and approved by William G. Hoopes, an architect duly appointed, upon application by the Circuit Court of the said County. The contract will be awarded to the lowest bidder. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. Each and every bidder will be required to enter into a bond in the sum of seven thousand dollars with two resident freehold sureties for the faithful performance of the contract; to be awarded, each of which sureties shall be seized of real property in said County over and above all their debts and above all liens and incumbrances on their property of the value of not less than sixty per centum of said sum of seven thousand dollars. Each bidder must accompany his bid by offers of surety, qualified as aforesaid, which surety shall make oath that they are so qualified and that they are ready and willing to enter into a bond for the faithful performance of the contract to be awarded. Plans and specifications for said building can be seen at the office of William G. Hoopes, Real Estate and Law Building, Atlantic City, New Jersey. The bids will be received and opened at his said office on Tuesday the 13th day of August, 1895, at the hour of 11 o'clock in the forenoon. By Resolution of the Board of Chosen Freeholders, adopted August 1st, 1895.

The Hammonton Base Ball Club accepted the challenge which we published last week; and will play a second game with the Goshen and Court House Club, of Cape May, this afternoon. Play will begin at one o'clock, sharp. It will doubtless be the best game of the season, as the visitors are determined to win, and the home team do not propose to allow them to do so.

The throng of Italian berry pickers is rapidly thinning out; but they could not all depart without one scrap. On Thursday morning, at M. Campagna's new Columbia farm, a woman's coffee-pot was moved from its place on the stove by a man. This led to a quarrel, during which the woman used a knife, cutting the man on his arm and shoulder, on the leg and about the knees—at least half a dozen wounds. Squire Atkinson sent him to Cooper Hospital that afternoon. The woman took to the woods, and had not been apprehended when we went to press.

The "Dutch Hill" base ball nine defeated the Hammonton Juniors for the third time. The features of the game last Saturday were the heavy hitting of the Dutch Hill team and the retiring of the Hammontons in one-two-three order in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings. The score by innings: Dutch Hill, 1 2 2 1 2 2 5 0 x—15 Ham. Juniors, 1 0 4 0 0 2 3 1—11 Batteries,—Dutch Hill, Jacobs and Buffinger; Hammonton, Treat-Farrer, Farrer-Johnson, Treat-Johnson. Struck out by Jacobs, 5; Treat, 7.

The pantaloons factory is closed, on account of a strike against a reduction of wages. The workers have issued a printed appeal for aid, in which they say: "Since the present contractor has been running the factory there has not been a week that he has not cut down our wages, and now he has cut them down so low that it is impossible for us to make a living. Girls have to work hard to make $1.50 or $2 per week. Several workmen from Philadelphia, who made $12 and $14 per week in the city can only make $5 and $6 here."

It was reported that some of the strikers stoned the contractor this week. There is usually a limit to human endurance; and wages like those quoted will not do in this part of America. If the business will not give the employees a decent living, it had better be discontinued. Better tenants are ready to lease the building.
