Friends from Philadelphia included the grandmother, father and sister of the groom; also Mr. and Mrs. William Henckle, (nee Moore) cousin of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. William Myers, (nee Werner), cousin of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. D. J. and Miss Katherine Alma Garton, of Hammonton, N. J. were united in marriage. Both are well known in Hammonton and most highly esteemed, and our very best wishes will follow them always.

The Parent-Teacher Association, through the Playground Committee issued an appeal for donations with which to buy equipment for school playgrounds. While the response has been most gratifying, there is still a considerable amount necessary to enable them to procure same. It is necessary for the amount to be raised by August 31st, so as to have equipment in readiness before school opens. Any donation large or small will be greatly appreciated and may be left at Monfort's Shoe Store, or with any of the committee.

Maurice Cameron Coskey, Jr., enroute to Boston, made a short stop in town the first of the week, and was warmly greeted by his relatives. They were much entertained by the description of his hiking trip across the continent from Santa Barbara, Cal., in company with a young English friend. They made the trip in just a month, many lifts were given them by autoists. Maurice, Jr. has had two years in the University of California, and will now finish his engineering course at the Massachusetts Tech. His brother, Kenneth, graduated from the High School in June with high honors and will enter the University in the fall.

Fire Fighters Meet.

Membership certificates were distributed on Tuesday evening at the semi-annual meeting of the Firemen's Death Benefit Association.

The treasurer's report showed the young organization to be in excellent condition.

It was decided to fix the sum of one hundred dollars as the amount of funeral benefit, for the coming year.

Other items of business were discussed and laid over for future action.

After its adjournment, a meeting of Hammonton Fire Department was called to order. Plans for better fire fighting were discussed and the following decided on:

That a protest be sent to Town Council and the Water Commission on the use of less than six inch water mains.

That there should be fire plugs in the vicinity of the ice plant, and a better distribution of plugs in other sections of town.

That, considering the risk to life and limb, there should be some form of accident insurance taken out for the protection of firemen's families, in case of injury.

Both companies are working in perfect harmony, and even more efficient service is anticipated as a result of these frequent get-together conferences.

Kiwanis Meeting.

Among the pleasant features of the Club's meetings is the music, not only by the members themselves, but by the musicians, Messrs Parra and Morinella, on the piano and violin.

The attendance prize was a handsome crate of peaches from "W. H. P." and went to Yate Stockwell.

County Supt. H. M. Cressman gave a most interesting and instructive talk on the school question. He dwelt on the importance of better attendance. An illustration, Hammonton's average was eighty per cent. When one realizes that $112,000 is spent in town for teachers, etc., the loss of twenty-two thousand dollars, representing one-fifth of the enrollment not attending, is alarming. Other phases of the school problem were touched on, and questions asked. Rev. Mr. Blackman a visitor, also spoke very well on the Kiwanis spirit.

How The Master Driver Became Master Tire Builder

IN 1903, driving the "909" racing car, Barney Oldfield started his career of victories that later earned him the title of "Master Driver of the World."

Today, Barney Oldfield is known as the "Master Tire Builder." Starting with the crude tires which carried the "909" one mile in sixty seconds, Oldfield gradually developed his famous Cord—tires which covered 600 miles at eighty-eight miles an hour without a change.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 5, 1922

As a result of petitions circulated throughout the county, the subject of county seat removal will probably come up for popular vote at the coming election.

A great many men still go on the theory that taking advantage of opportunity means taking advantage of the other fellow.

The protest as registered by the Fire Department against the laying of water mains with less than six inch pipe, is commendable, when one learns that no rebate will be allowed by insurance companies when four inch mains are laid.

People are growing optimistic over the results of the new matrimonial bureau. When one figures that there are over five hundred old maids, bachelors, widows and widowers in Hampton, willing to make a change, is it any wonder that they and their friends are getting interested?

Nobody likes this weather. Now that the second crop of raspberries are coming on, it means to get a soaking from the wet bushes; and in the home, everything is sticky and difficult to dry.

Still the dogs are barking o' nights. People just can't sleep for them. Whether they are thirsty, or don't like the looks of the moon, they don't say; but they are a nuisance to neighbors.

To publish a part of the truth and suppress a part is often as misleading as a deliberate untruth. An article in the daily papers, recently, stated that two tubercular cows had been found in Hampton, by the state dairy inspector, but did not state on whose place they were.

Tuesday's Cloudburst

Probably the heaviest rainfall in the history of Hammonton covered the town, Tuesday night about nine o'clock, taxing the gutters, streets and sewers to their utmost. On some streets, neither pavement, curbs, or sidewalks were visible, and people were compelled to wade or call jetties to get home. On upper Bellevue, at Fourth Street, the need for better drainage was never more evident. When the flood came up the street, cars approaching it described it as resembling the oncoming waves at the seashore. Striking the flood with force, sheets of water dashed over tops of cars, soaking the occupants, and all but stalling the motors. At Second and Pleasant, there was no use trying to get anywhere for there was water everywhere.

The only comparison that seems to express the onrush of water is the daily flood of letters to the matrimonial lottery.

Accumulating the rain was a grand display of nature's fireworks. One particularly boisterous peal of thunder indicated that something near had been hit. The fire bell soon sounded, and the men soon found that an oil tank house in the rear of a store at Twelfth Street and Chew Road had been set afire. There was no further damage.

On Wednesday and Thursday, heavy rains fell, increasing the dangerous washouts on sidewalks, streets, and along the railroads. The damage to the peach crop was heavy, causing much fruit to fall.

Fire Department Meeting.

At a meeting of the Hammonton Fire Department held Tuesday evening, August 1st, 1922, after some discussion on the placing of 4" water mains in the town, it was clearly shown to be not only unwise because insurance companies would not give any credit for such size mains, but that it is not economical, because the cost of laying 4" mains is the 6" with the exception of the difference in the cost of the mains also, that 6" mains is the smallest size that the Rating Bureau will give credit for in the reduction of insurance rates.

Therefore, be it resolved: That this meeting protest against the laying of 4" mains in the town of Hammonton. Carried unanimously. Henry M. Phillips, Chairman, Thomas Skinner, Secretary.
