TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.

From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels constive, Sick Headache, Fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA.

HE FEELS LIKE A NEW MAN.

"I have had Dyspepsia, with Constipation, two years, and have tried ten different kinds of pills, and TUTT'S are the first that have done me any good. They have cleaned me out nicely. My appetite is splendid, food digests readily, and I now have natural passages. I feel like a new man." W. D. EDWARDS, Palmyra, O. Sold every where, 25c. Office, 44 Murray St., N. Y.

TUTT'S HAIR DYE.

GRAY HAIR OR WHISKERS changed instantly to a GLOSSY BLACK by a single application of this DYE. Sold by Druggists, or sent by express on receipt of $1. Office, 44 Murray Street, New York. TUTT'S MANUAL OF USEFUL RECEIPTS FREE.

Chief Graves, of the National Bureau of Engraving and Printing, being asked what design should be placed upon the Government oleomargarine stamps, said he had thought "stuffed gont—a bogus butter," as it were—would be about the right thing." COAL. COAL

All wanting the best quality of Lehigh Coal can find it at Scullin's coal yard on Egg Harbor road, near Bernshouse's steam mill. Coal will all be dumped from the cars into the yard, and will be sold in five ton lots at the same rate as car load lots from other yards. Having a good plank floor to shovel from, instead of the inconvenience of shoveling from the cars, is really worth ten cents a ton to every purchaser. All coal will be sold strictly for cash on delivery. Office at Anderson's feed store. JOHN SCULLIN, Hammonton, N. J.

TEMPERANCE.
Too much of the temperance agitation of the day is based upon a false premise, in our opinion, and to this fact is chargeable, in part, the slow progress made by advocates of total abstinence.
Rev. Solomon Parsons, laboring under this same mistake, said: "The love of strong drink is an unnatural, acquired, cultivated taste." It may be increased by cultivation — indulgence — but we contend that it is not unnatural; it is inherent in man's fallen condition, like other passions which manifest themselves the moment temptation presents an opportunity. In proof of this we call attention to the history of the world, both sacred and profane. You will not find a generation when the people did not make and use some variety of intoxicant. Noah, for instance; almost his first recorded act was to plant a vineyard, and as soon as possible he made wine and drank thereof. Consider the American Indians; when and how did they "cultivate" a taste for intoxicating liquors? Yet, as soon as some miserable sinner offered it, the noble red man accepted it as fitting "a long-felt want," and thousands drank themselves into the grave in the shortest possible space of time. Take the natives of Africa — in the recently opened Congo region — in the same condition exists to-day. If there was no "external temptation" in existence, one should be provided for those who thus introduced this damning fluid among the nations where Christian missionaries first opened the door to the outside world.

Our reader may say: "Supposing you are right, what course do you propose, to remedy the evil?" Our reply is: Every course should be adopted that will show men the evil effects of indulgence; teach the children that the first taste leads to a second; an occasional drink results in habitual drinking, in drunkenness, a miserable life, and a hopeless death. Do all you can to decrease the demand for rum. At the same time, use every means to lessen the supply. Do not look so far into the future that you lose sight of the present.
Do not work so strongly for total prohibition ten years hence, that you become blind to the present increase of misery right around you. Assist in the rigid enforcement of laws already enacted; make the liquor business unprofitable in every possible way. If you can legally crush out a saloon, do it in God's name.
If you know of an illegal hell-gate (we have several in Hammonton) secure evidence enough to close it. Do what can be done to-day; enforce the laws you now have, and by precept and example help to increase a public sentiment that will compel total abstinence and legal prohibition.

What a vast difference would be made in the pension rolls if all the dead veterans could return to earth to identify their widows.

Between the Liquor League on one side and the Prohibitionists on the other, the would-be candidate is in two pecks of trouble.

Girls of a marriageable age do not like to tell how old they are, but you can find out by following the subjoined instructions, the young lady doing the figuring. Tell her to put down the number of the month in which she was born: then multiply it by 2; then add 5; then to multiply it by 50; then to add her age; then to subtract 365, then to add 115, and tell her to tell you the amount she has left. The two figures to the right will denote her age, and the remainder the month of her birth. For example, the amount is 822, she is 22 years old, and was born in the eighth month (August). Try it.

Union workingman: "Our union asks you to boycott this beer. You are a workingman and ought to stand by us." Sensible workingman: "I boycotted the whole beer business some time ago, thank you. I've been spending the money saved in that way for food for my family."

If we are obliged to go to war with Mexico, that country will have to pay the expense, either in money or territory, and the fighting of Northern and Southern troops under the stars and stripes will wipe out the last vestige of sectional bitterness.

The number of Union soldiers captured by the confederates during the rebellion was 212,608. The number of confederates captured by the Union troops was 476,100. The number of Union who died while prisoners was 29,725, or a little more than one in seven of all captured. The number of confederates who died while prisoners was 26,774, or very nearly one in eight.

The Hammonton post-office seems to annoy some of the county democratically. Gentlemen, keep cool, for undue excitement is dangerous during hot weather. You may not know it, but Hammonton people are so well satisfied with the present status of postal affairs, that not a half score can be found who would have a change if it could be had for the asking.

A young lady said to us, last Monday morning: "I never saw so many drunken men in one day before, as I did yesterday." We saw something of it, also, and noticed that they all seemed to come from one direction, — but then, some people consider it one of the minor offenses to sell wine, beer, or whiskey; and others consider it one of the gravest crimes to violate the law. There are men in Hammonton who will help to lynch a wife-beater; yet will patronize and encourage the man who sells the stuff that inflames the husband's brutal passions until his hand is raised against the one whom he has vowed to "love, honor and cherish."

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist Church had a pleasant dime social on Monday evening, at the residence of D. W. Jacobs.

the first story of their shoe factory on Monday and Tuesday, in order to put in about two thousand dollars' worth of new machinery.

Mr. T. B. Drown and wife, and Mr. T. J. Smith and wife started for Maine on Monday morning. The old Pine Tree State seems to be drawing many Jerseymen thither.

Members of the New Germany Union Chapel Society request to give public expression of their gratitude to the ladies and gentlemen who did so much to make their concert a success.

We had the unexpected pleasure, on Tuesday, of grasping the hand of Dr.
Geo. R. Shidle. He looks well, and reports his dental practice excellent, and business generally good in Pittsburg.

Vacation lasts but one month longer. Schools will open on Monday, Sept. 13th. The six school houses in Hammonton have recently been inspected by the Board of Trustees, and all necessary repairs ordered.

Mr. Mortimer, of Potsville, Pa., has been visiting P. H. Jacobs. He is an extensive breeder, importer, and dealer in fancy poultry. It is possible that Mr. Mortimer may remove to Hammonton. We hope so.

There is too much intoxicating liquor sold in Hammonton. We have a prohibitory law which covers the town, but "prohibition does not prohibit" in this case. Respectfully referred to the Prohibition Campaign Club.

The concert at New Germany Union Chapel, last Saturday evening, drew a large audience. It was a very enjoyable entertainment. On Sunday evening a "service of songs" was held, which drew a crowded house.

As the Universalist Church approaches completion, its form and style of architecture develop in beauty. It will eventually be an acknowledged ornament to the town. Messrs. Jones & Lawson are making a good and substantial structure.

Four young men were driving up Main Road, Sunday, when another team attempted to pass them; they whipped their horse into a run, and as they attempted to turn into Bellevue Ave., horse, wagon and horse went rolling over and over on the ground. A little blood was shed, but no serious damage done.

The Hammonton post-office seems
to annoy some of the county democratically. Gentlemen, keep cool,
for undue excitement is dangerous during hot weather. You may not know it, but Hammonton people are so well satisfied with the present status of
postal affairs, that not a half score can
be found who would have a change if it could be had for the asking.

William Baker is expected home to-day.

A "thank-you" to Mr. George Johnson for two quarts of handsome big blackberries.

Mr. E. B. Stockwell has sold his late residence, next to Presbyterian Church, to Capt. John Taylor.

Two Italian infants were baptized by Father VanRiel, Tuesday evening, at Mrs. Cogley's residence.

Mr. Charles Adams, late of May's Landing, is at work in Osgood & Co.'s factory, and has moved to Hammonton, with his family.

The Presbyterian Sunday School took a large number to Atlantic City on Wednesday. The weather was just right for an excursion.

Mr. Moses Stockwell started for Nunda, N. Y., on Wednesday, being summoned thither on account of the illness of his sister.

Mr. Crompton, a lady from Fernwood, Penna., is building a house on land bought of Judge Byrnes, on Twelfth St.
Barnhouse, builder.

We heard it stated the first of this week, that Mr. L. Monfort had shipped 250 barrels of pears, which he estimated to be one-half of his crop.

Next Friday—Lakeside Park—M.
E. Sunday School excursion. Tickets, adults, 50 cents; children, 25 cents. It is a delightful place to spend a day.

She had a pretty hat,
And she had a little cough;
And her little cough, it is no harm to mention, When in the church she sat, Shook the plumes upon her hat,
And to its many beauties called attention.

Last Saturday brought us almost the most severe rain-storm we ever saw.
Comencing before daylight, water fell in torrents for about twelve hours. All the railroads leading to Atlantic City suffered from wash-outs, delaying trains for hours.

Poultry raising is becoming almost a mania with some Hammonton people, and we hope they may realize all their expectations. We hope, however, that the demand for space for that purpose will not increase so rapidly as to crowd earlier residents into the streets.

Rev. Mr. Parsons, in his address, quoted the parable of the Pharisee and the Publican; and said that the Republican party was the Pharisee, the Democratic party the Publican; and some of his audience are consuming with curiosity to know where the Prohibition party comes in. Of course it is there, somewhere, else the parable had no place in that connection. How is it?

An idea has got abroad, that the messenger boys who delivered mail from the post-office for three months made a fabulous sum thereby. We have heard it stated that one of them cleared about one hundred dollars. It may be true; but we know one boy who began the first day and continued to the end, carrying nearly as much mail as any one, and he cannot make his receipts reach quite one-fourth of that sum.

"Only a lock of golden hair."
The lover writes, "Perchance to-night It brimmed on her pillow fair, A halo bright."
"Only a lock of golden hair."
The maiden, smiling, sweetly said, As she laid it over the back of a chair And went to bed.

When Mr. Bailey was here last week, he left certain questions to be settled by the Arbitration Board, citing them authority to "order out" the employee if no agreement was reached.
The questions were in regard to the six per cent. charged operators by Whiffen Dros. & Co., and ten per cent by Osgood & Co., for the use of steam-power; also, one item in relation to laboring; the first named firm have agreed to remit the per centage operators to furnish their own machine needles; and the Board yielded to them what will amount to about one-fourth of a cent per pair in lusting. The greenment seems mutually satisfactory.
Osgood & Co. will arrange a new price list which will do away with the objectionable percentage.

Union Hall was well filled, Tuesday evening, to hear Rev. Solomon Parsons' lecture on Prohibition. Considering the speaker's prominence in the party, we expected to hear an eloquent address of uncommon ability. In this we were disappointed; we have home talent that could have done as well. However, we were pleased to hear the gentleman, and know that in his opinion there may be honest temperance men not identified with the Prohibition party. He made some good points, especially when urging voluntary total abstinence as a matter of sound policy, and gave good reasons for the organization of a third party. A series of resolutions was adopted, as the articles of association of a campaign club which is being formed. A collection for campaign purposes was taken up.

Mr. K. D. Whitmore is dangerously ill.

Mr. N. S. Ellis has sold to Mr. M.
Stockwell fifty feet front adjoining Mr.
B.'s residence.

George Bates and Miss S. Parks, daughter of Jas. Parks, of Jackson, were married at Hammonton last Saturday evening.

The Hammonton boys are expecting a game of ball this afternoon, with the Ninth District policemen, of Philadelphia.

Mr. Daniel Baker takes great pride in his garden; and no wonder, for everything he plants seems to grow and do its very best.

Rev. Myron DePuy is dangerously ill. His disease took an unfavorable turn this week, and but little hope of his recovery is entertained.

The O. J. Fay estate is to be finally divided and settled. On Saturday, Oct.
23rd, the real estate will be sold by D. J.
Pancost, Master in Chancery.

Carl M. Cook has proved himself a master workman in the jewelry line.
He has been tested on many varieties of work, and has given entire satisfaction.

Miss Annie Elvins will return to Long Branch, to resume teaching next month. She has been promoted to a higher department, with an advanced salary.

Those who know by experience the value of Mrs. D. W. Jacobs' Chow-chow, as an appetizer, and would like to secure a supply for the coming winter, would do well to order it now.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

When we are alone we have our thoughts to watch; in our families, our temples, and in society, our tongues.

Zeal in looking toward the future becomes impressed with his own greatness, but looking upward feels his own littleness.

If you wish to know whether anybody is superior to the prejudices of the world ask him to carry your parcel for you.

The atheist, vainly seeking God, through nature, is like the shadow denying the existence of the sun because it never seizes it.

Things which many things that are thorns to our hopes until we have attained them and envenomed arrows to our hearts when we have.

God wishes to be served joyfully and the glory of a good master is to find his servants continually happy and contented in his service.

The plain and wholesome things of life are its greatest blessings. We are taught to pray for luxuries or dainties, but for daily bread.

That which is good to be done cannot be done too soon, and if it is neglected to be done early, it will frequently happen that it will not be done at all.

Man's value is in proportion to what he can do for his fellow men, and the value of the steel blade is in proportion to the tempering it has undergone.

No man is poor who does not think himself so. But if in a full fortune, he is content with his lot, he is rich.

Do not allow thyself to be carried away by anger. Angry words and scornful looks are snares. Reply to things in peace. Opposition to peace is sin.

What we employ in charitable uses during our lives is given away from ourselves; what we bequeath at our death is given from others only as our nearest relations.

Distinguish between fileness, ignorance, want of attention and malice; words do sometimes slip from the tongue and the heart did neither hatch nor harbor.

So necessary is fun to the mind, that a late philosopher says if you should build schools without play grounds, you would get beyond school divisions in a lifetime.

The modern sentimentalism about nature is a mark of disease—one more symptom of the general life complaint. It is a sign of a weak and a vacillating nature, not of a habit of life.

He that is found to be reasonable in one thing is concluded to be so in all; and to think or say otherwise is thoughtless, unless he can show a special cause, that nobody ventures to do.

Haste turns usually upon a matter of ten minutes too late, and may be avoided by a habit like that of Lord Nelson, who that he describes his success in being so late.

It is a most important lesson, and a little thought of, that we learn how to enjoy ordinary life, and to be able to relax our being without the transport and passion or the gratification of some appetite.

It is with nations as with individuals; those who know the least of others think the highest of themselves; for the whole family will help and encourage an inebriate and mutually beget each other.

No grandeur can there be in life, no noble prospect can stretch out before us, unless we go hand in hand together, and we keep the lofty places of our spiritual estate as peaks of vision for frequent visits.

Ambition is to the mind what the eagle is to the falcon; it blinds first, and then compels us to lower by our own blindness. But alas! when we are at the summit of vain ambition, we are also at the depth of misery.

For a virtuous man, let not the moralist be scandalized; pride is also a vice. Pride, like ambition, is sometimes virtuous and sometimes vicious, according to the character in which it is found, and the object toward which it is directed.

Meek young men grow up in libraries, believing in their duty to accept the views which Cicero, which Locke, which Bacon have given, forgetful that their own generation has a right to its own opinions. Therefore, it is not right to return an injury, or to do evil to any man, however, we may have suffered from him.

Let us not listen to those who think we ought to be angry with our reason, and who believe this to be great and many. Nothing is more preposterous, and nothing more clearly indicates a great and noble mind, than clemency and readiness to forgive.

He who is passionate and hasty is generally honest. It is your old dissembling hypocrite of whom you should beware. There is no deception in it. It is a bulldog. It is not right to return an injury, or to do evil to any man, however, we may have suffered from him.

The recognition of virtue is not less valuable from the lips of a man who takes it in the wrong train, and who is unwilling to take it into his inmost soul, he at last decks himself out in its trappings.

No enjoyment, however inconsiderable, is denied to the present moment. A man is the happier for life from having made once an agreeable tour, or lived for any length of time with pleasant people, enjoying a considerable interval of innocent pleasure.

Law Laid Down With a Revolver

In a flourishing mining camp known as Chip's Flat, Sierra county, thirty years ago, the location of the claims and the mining laws resulted thereunder were such that considerable war of litigation was the result.

It was in the year 1853 that a Justice of the Peace and a jury of twelve miners selected from those having claims on the Middle Yuba, California, and Minnesota, the banking and express agent of Langton's express and banking house at Downsville, had been elected Justice of the Peace for the township, including Minnesota and Chip's Flat, in 1853.

So it was agreed that he should preside, and the trial came off early in the year 1854 at Chip's Flat. In order that suits should be heard for the parties litigant and his friends the billiard and liquor saloon of Paul Coppars (now living at Snow Point, in Nevada county) should be used for the purpose.

The trial commenced promptly at nine o'clock in the morning and occupied the whole of the day. The parties litigant had plenty of money, and each seemed to vie with the other in liberality during the progress of the trial. Lawyers had been provided by each side to conduct the case, and it must be presumed that they felt no interest in putting a stop to the liberality of their respective clients. At all events, the necessity of the case was had during that day, of five minutes each, when refreshments would be served, mostly of a liquid character. Justice McMillan was not very strict in the enforcement of the rules of the court, but if there was one thing in which he exhibited great pride it was to be addressed as "Your Honor," while presiding in a case. Anything more familiar than that always roused his ire.

The numerous adjournments which the court took this day had more perceptible effect on the presiding justice than on any one else connected with the case, but if there was one thing in which he exhibited great pride it was to be addressed as "Your Honor," while presiding in a case. Anything more familiar than that always roused his ire.

SOUTH AMERICAN JUSTICE

How Bribery Has Been Reduced to a Science in Peru.

The different methods by which a man may be bribed are legion. I heard of a case that occurred in one of the South American States the story of which will, in this connection, best be told in the words of a native.

It was in the year 1853 that a Justice of the Peace and a jury of twelve miners selected from those having claims on the Middle Yuba, California, and Minnesota, the banking and express agent of Langton's express and banking house at Downsville, had been elected Justice of the Peace for the township, including Minnesota and Chip's Flat, in 1853.

HORSE NOTES

—Joe Cotton is in poor condition. —Michael says to have lost his speed.

—The pacer, Messina Boy, now has a record of 2:16. —Clugstone's 2-year-old full brother will be kept for stock purposes.

—Charles Friel, the pacer, was called Allie Walker when he was a trotter. It is said that he has been broken since the early spring.

—Six American-built sulkies have just been shipped to Sydney, New South Wales. —Kirkin is coming around all right, not being broken down, as reported.

—Budd Doble drove Bonnie McGregor to a record of 2:17, at Cleveland, recently. —Mr. Jones is rebuilding the great barn at Forest City, using the plan of the old barn.

—Williamsport, Pa., claims September 7, 8, 9 and 10 as the dates for a fall trotting meeting. —The Rochester free-for-all class did not fill, and a special race will probably be substituted.

—Wyndham Walden has sold Letitia, 3 years, by Tom Ochiltree, out of Letty, to Jockey Garrison. —J. G. K. Lawrence, the Secretary of the Coney Island Jockey Club, has received four additional nominations to the great Realization stakes of 1889, thus making in all 217 nominations.

The Utica Driving Association at its annual business meeting, held a few days since, elected the following officers: President, Hon. C. W. Hutchinson; Vice President, C. J. Everett; Treasurer, M. G. Thomson; Secretary, B. A. Clark. —Joshua Tuthill, for several years President of the East Saginaw Association, and a member of the Board of Appeals of the National Trotting Association, has been elected to the East Saginaw, Mich., on Wednesday, July 21, aged 58 years.

At New York a few days ago, John Murphy drove the bay mare Western Belle, a half mile, in harness, in 1:58, and repeated in 1:59. Then he sent her a full mile in 2:25, and then drove Majorca a mile in 2:20, getting to the half-mile pole in 1:29. —"Knapsack" McCarthy says his 5-year-old anniversary will beat 2:20 this season. She was already trotted in 2:25. It is rumored that she will be sold to Hurrah, out of a mare by Simpson's Blackbird. She trots without weights and in light shoes.

The Associated Press despatches report that Don Powell, as distanced in the fourth heat of the 2:23 class at Detroit. This was not the case. She hit her arm badly in the first heat, but trotted two more, all that were decided on the second day. The horse was to be drawn, as the leg was badly swelled.

—Jim Guest won the Great Western handicap, a mile and a half, in 2:34, at Chicago, on July 24th, which just equals the record made by Mike Blackbird at Monmouth Park in 1880. Luke was then 3, and carried 102 pounds, while Jim Guest is 4, and his mare weighs 82 pounds. Joe Cotton won the race last year as a 3-year-old, with 102 pounds up, and his time was 2:33, winning very easily by two lengths. Jim Guest was pushed to do his best by Punka. On the same day Charles Lucas ran three-quarters in 1:14, which equals the best time on a circular course, though the figures have been frequently beaten. On the straight stretch at Louisville. The same day the distance was run by Moonlight, in 1:14, and the mile dash adjoining that of the same day, which was won by the same horse in 1:43, carrying 117 pounds. For three-quarters of a mile the big son of Glenelg and Gong appears just now to be invincible.

—Bendigo, the winner of the English 800 yard race, was lately put at telegraphic communication on the west coast of Africa and by means of existing cables with Europe. The length of the cables which will require to be laid is 3000 miles, and the cost of the most part in water of moderate depth. The cost will be $2,600,000.

—Conc 1886, which was discovered by Mr. Brooks at Phelps, near Brooklyn, on the 22d of last month, was a faint object when detected by him, and has since been steadily fainter. Its orbit has been calculated by Dr. S. Oppenheimer, of Vienna, from European and American observations extending to the end of May, and it appears that it passed its perihelion on the 3d Inst. at the distance from the sun of 1.48 in terms of the earth's mean distance. The distance from the earth on the same scale is now 0.85, and this has been increasing ever since the time of discovery.

Late investigations indicate that the chlorophyll, or green coloring substance of the leaves, is most liable to pluck up metallic matter from the roots of plants. When vines have been manured with the sulphate of copper most of the metal is deposited in the leaves. Energy must have been in 1885 he ran only 117 pounds. DR. JOHN BULL'S Smith's Tonic Syrup FOR THE CURE OF FEVER and AGUE Or CHILLS and FEVER, AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

BULL'S SARSAPARILLA is the old and reliable remedy for Impurities of the blood and Scrofulous affections.

The Cutting case is one in which the services of an International Court would be peculiarly useful. There is no doubt in regard to the man's offense, and the question is purely a legal one as to the jurisdiction of Mexican courts in the matter. The time will come when the civilized nations will join in sustaining a permanent tribunal to pronounce upon such cases. The prevention of a single small war by it would pay for its maintenance for a century to come.—N. Y. World.
