DID YOU EVER

Stop to think what a fine piece of mechanism your watch is? and that you are injuring it by letting it run too long without having it cleaned and oiled?

A watch is injured more in one month, when running dirty, than in a year's time when properly cleaned and oiled.

Why neglect to have it cleaned, when you can get it done, and guaranteed, for One Dollar?

Our World's Fair Letter.

CHICAGO, AUG. 19, 1893.

The Fair will not be a financial failure. The average daily attendance for last week was over 100,000, while Saturday's paid admissions reached 149,000. Three things contributed to bring this about,—half fare rates on the railroads; the great influx of farmers, now that harvesting is over; the recently adopted plan of having special daily attractions to enliven the solemn business of sight-seeing. Last week there were,—an international swimming contest in one of the lagoons, in which the many nationalities represented in Midway Plaisance took part; illumination of Wooded Island, with thousands of vari-colored and queer shaped Chinese lanterns; exhibition drill of the life saving crew in capsizing and righting a life boat in Lake Michigan; in addition to the regular fireworks two nights in the week, and the daily band and orchestral concerts.

The Anthropological building is just beginning to receive the attention it deserves. It is entirely new in the history of World's Fairs, altho' all of its exhibits may not be. It contains the several exhibits of Ethnology, Archaeology, Anthropology, History and Natural History besides 40,000 square feet given to Hygiene, Sanitation, charities and corrections. Every one is particularly interested in some one of the above departments so the building is sure to be a popular resort.

As we enter from the North there is a row of houses representing a Skidegate Indian Village of British Columbia. They are exact models, about three feet square, built entirely without windows, but have a hole in the middle of the roof with a ventilator cover. A round hole, large enough for a man to squeeze through head-first, is the only entrance. The most curious thing about them is the "Totem Pole," which stands as silent guardian of each home. This is a large log set upright before each house, and carved down until it presents a series of the most hideous heads of men and animals. I think they are warranted to keep away evil spirits,—certainly the ugliest of spirits would feel himself outdone on viewing them, and slink away in despair.

To the right of this is the mammoth display of New South Wales. Here is a large variety of relics, instruments, and utensils, illustrating the manners and mode of life of the aborigines of that interesting isle. On the opposite side of the building is the geological display of different States, which is large, but devoted almost entirely to remains of the American Indians.

Near the center, the South American countries make a fine showing. Peru's exhibit is especially noteworthy for its specimens of mummies. Here you see the bodies in all stages of wrappings. In one corner sits a body entirely unwrapped, with skin and bones shriveled and brown, but preserved even to the hair of its head. Near by, a bundle of hemp-rope conceals a body whose face only protrudes, while a biscuit-like bundle of cloth enclosed in a rope net contains a mummy that has defied the elements for centuries, and may for ages yet to come. Perhaps the most singular thing is the difference in shape of the above oval mummies and the long straight Egyptian mummies. This oval shape is caused by wrapping the body in a sitting position with knees nearly touching the chin.

The most elaborate exhibit in the galleries is that of Ward's Natural Science Establishment of Rochester, N. Y. It shows, by fossil, skeleton, or skin, every form of animal life from the sponge to man. A notable feature is a representation of the huge Elephas Primigenius, which measures 18½ feet in height, and is covered with hair six inches in length. The Pennsylvania exhibit of fauna represents a mountain inhabited by every bird and mammal native to the State, each in its accustomed haunt. Frogs are gathered near running brooks; snakes crawl through long grass; trees are dotted with birds and their nests; coy deer pause in fright babbled big boulders; and the American eagle sits on the mountain peak, king of all he surveys. Over the hills and animals are placed about the mountains, and like the old artist, "let the picture speak, the longer you look the more it tells."

Outside the building are living representatives of several of the most famous tribes of American Indians, housed in their native wigwags. The famous "Black Columbian" is a full-blooded, well-painted sea shelle, from the Iroquois and triphate. One of these Indians is over 50 feet high. They are the king of the Navajo Indians from New Mexico; the Iroquois of New York and Pennsylvania of Maine; the man of the Iroquois are the champion runner of the world, and grandson of the famous George Washington. All these Indians are for themselves. Come and see them.

Munyon's Remedies Universally Endorsed

An Eastern Lady is Cured - Immediately Relieved of Rheumatic Pains - Several of her Friends Join in Praising Munyon's Remedies.

Easton, Pa., Aug. 7, 1893.
Munyon's Home Remedy Company: Gentlemen - I cannot say too much in favor of your remedies. For years I have suffered tortures from rheumatism, and never had relief from any medicine until I sent for a bottle of Munyon's Rheumatic Cure. I began taking the pills and found immediate relief, and now I am entirely free from rheumatic pains. I have recommended this remedy to many of my friends, and they report the same good results as I have experienced. They all join in praising Munyon's Rheumatic Cure.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. A. NENNIG,
117 North Fourth St.
Munyon's Rheumatic Cure never fails to relieve in three hours, and to cure in a few days.
Munyon's Homoeopathic Home Remedy Company put up specifics for nearly every disease, which are sold by all druggists, mostly for 25 cts. a bottle.

PAINT! PAINT!

THE HAMMONTON.

When you buy the Hammonton Paint, you do not buy seven-eighths of a gallon for a gallon, or three pints for a half gallon; nor do you get one of those packages that weigh 12 to 14 pounds, and containing so much alkali that it appears to be so thick that it is impossible to use it without thinning; but in buying the Hammonton you get a full standard gallon of paint, weighing 14 to 16 pounds to the gallon, made from the best materials known to the trade, and costs the consumer from $1 to $1.50 per gallon for honest paint.

If the purchaser doesn't want honest paint, and wants to be honest to himself, then be sure to buy the Hammonton Paint, and the manufacturer will give a receipt with every gallon sold telling you how to make two gallons of paint out of one of the Hammonton. It will cost 33 cents for the extra gallon.

One Dollar.

And then here comes Commercial Paint, in 30 shades, - the best wearing paint ever put on the market for so low a price as $1 per gallon, and guaranteed to be a first-class wearing paint. If any should not want to try so high a price for a good exterior paint, then work with our racket, and get two gallons of paint for the price of one.

Manufactured at Hammonton Paint Works.

SATURDAY, AUG. 26, 1893.

Mr. Editor: - "Justice" struck it right in your last issue, when he called public attention to that poor starved horse. The suffering animal is now out of misery - condemned by legal process. The owner will have a hearing next Monday.

There is a wrong idea held by many, that a Constable, Councilman, or Justice of the Peace has no right to arrest a drunken man unless he is "disorderly." Why, bless their unenlightened souls, isn't it disorderly to be drunk? These "drunks" should be laid away. The statute law of the State says it must be done. Yet our Justices sit in breathless suspense, waiting for some one to enter complaint! Who makes our Justices? the people! Then the people should see to it that these their servants do their duty without fear or favor.

One Constable in a town of four thousand people is a farce. Let us have three or more, as the law allows! Another point, - that infamous den near Rosedale, just over the County line, - can be wiped out by a few of our citizens, if they will send in a petition to the "Clerk" Court, stating facts. The proprietor of it belongs "over the Rhine," and we don't want such men among us. It is that element that is making us trouble by such cries as "the Chinese must go!"

In September, 1892, dysentery in a very severe form prevailed at Jamesburg, N. J. Walter Willard, a well-known merchant of the place, procured a supply of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says: "It is certainly one of the best things ever made, and has given the 'biggest satisfaction' in the most severe cases of dysentery." For sale by A. W. Cochran, druggist.

It is said that the distressed condition of the country is not due to the Democratic administration, for it has not yet changed a Republican law. It is true that no law has been changed, that the tariff stands where it stood last year and where it was put by the McKinley act of 1890; but it must be borne in mind that the election last November decreed that the tariff law must go, that it was the culminating atrocity of class legislation, and that it was unconstitutional. That was the verdict of the people as interpreted by leaders of the Democratic party and since emphasized by the President, and business men, quick to scent danger, have been and are getting ready for its execution. A man under sentence of death suffers all his tortures before execution, and if he is a thoughtful man he prepares for the death which is to come. The people decreed that protection must be abandoned. American industries are suffering as a consequence, and the business men and manufacturers are only getting ready for the execution of the people's decree.

New Jersey stands in the first rank of States in the average value of her crops per acre. Her manufacturers, protected, are conducive to greater prosperity.

Fortune, Burlington Co., N. J., July 17, 1893.

Our baby, now fourteen months old, was taken with every symptom of cholera infantum. I commenced using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after the first few doses he was relieved, and at this writing is as well as ever. I feel that I cannot speak too highly in its praise. Mrs. W. E. Reed. For sale by A. W. Cochran, druggist.

It is said that cats are the pests among lower animals, the only one controlled by the "meow." We saw a very prosaic dog, the other-day, shake the poetry, meow and all, from one of those vagrant minstrels, in "see-a-mint."

Mr. H. O. Lincoln, of the Philadelphia C. E. Union, will attend the Baptist Y. P. S. C. E. prayer meeting next Tuesday evening, and will speak on the Society's work. All members of young people's societies are invited to be present.

Andrew Ferry's horse started suddenly, Monday afternoon, while Mr. F. was unloading fruit at the C. & A. Depot, throwing the old gentleman to the ground. It was feared that he was seriously injured, but Doctor North decided otherwise.

This whole section was visited by a terrible wind and rain storm on Wednesday night. The wind blew a gale from the north-east, and rain fell in torrents. Much damage was done to fruit trees in some parts of town. The rain-fall was 3 1/2 inches.

At a regular meeting of the Hammonton Fire Company, held Aug. 21st, a vote of thanks was extended to the gentlemen and ladies who furnished and made the coffee for the firemen at the Fay fire; also, in conveying the fire apparatus to the A. S. Gay fire.

C. W. AUSTIN, Secy.

To the Commitmen and Road Overseer of Hammonton:

"I have always paid my tax with the currency of the country. I will pay no more tax until I am compelled to unless the road is made passable past my place. JOHN MILLER, Middle Road.

GEORGE BERNHOUSE'S house and are the same as good land part in grass ready to crop, at seven lines, good barn, and all conveniences. Fine location. Particulars at the REPUBLICAN OFFICE.

Mrs. Emily Gile, widow, died at the residence of her son-in-law, John E. Tilton, on Monday, aged 72 years, after long illness and severe suffering. Mrs. Gile was a resident of Hammonton for many years, and had a wide circle of friends. Funeral services on Thursday afternoon.

A woods fire started near Aton from a locomotive, and made a close call for the H. E. Andrews and Hammonton Cranberry bogs. A force of men were taken out on Monday, and by hard work and judicious back-firing kept the fire in check. A break showed that afternoon was gratefully received.

The Fruit Growers' Union Store, Hammonton, N. J., has a stock of D. M. Davie's alloy pens. They are made from metallic basis of Birmingham, and are hand-cut, which prevents them from corroding and wear twelve times as long as steel pens. Price, $1.50 per box; 15 c. per doz. n. They also have a stock of air tight automatic ink stands and non-rolling pen-holders, the best holders in use.

List of unclaimed letters remaining in the Post Office at Hammonton, N. J., Saturday, Aug. 26th, 1893:

Mrs. Fernold Thomas, Charles Heimann, Miss Howard, John Dunson, Sam. Hirsch, Carmel Bonmontre, Chas. S. Boyer.

Persons calling for any of the above letters will please state that it has been advertised.

GEORGE ELVINS, P. M.

Mr. Editor: - Don't you think our fire ladders should have a more central and commodious building? We all know they should; and now is the time to talk it up, and act! A good and well organized fire company is a necessity now-a-days. Our company is composed of our very best citizens, - men who are alive to the interests of the town. Our magnificent new school building reflects credit upon our people, who were glad to vote the necessary means. Let the "boys" have a new building, right in the heart of our business centre.

VIATOR.

The Hammonon Teachers' Institute

will open on Monday next, Aug. 28th, in the Central building, under the supervision of Principal E. E. Sallabury.

The first session will be called to order at two o'clock Monday afternoon, with sessions at 8:00 A.M. and 2:00 P.M. each day, including Friday. All Hammonton teachers are required to attend, and other teachers residing or visiting here will be welcomed. Jas. Green, Ph. D., Principal of our State Normal School, will take part on Thursday. Miss Edith A. Williams, of Trenton, Instructor in General History and Psychology, will also participate in the work.

Francis A. Mortimer, a brilliant young lawyer, and a poultry fancier of national reputation, died last Sunday morning, at his home in Pottsville, Pa. Arrangements were made for cremating his body on Thursday, at Germantown. Mr. Mortimer was well known and highly respected in Hammonton, being a valued friend of Mr. P. H. Jacobs, and a frequent visitor at his home. He met with a serious accident several months ago, which it is supposed injured his brain, and doubtless caused his death. - He was one of the noblest works of God - an honest, good man.

"The Book of the Fair, an historical and descriptive presentation of the World's Exposition, Art, and Industry, as viewed through the Columbian Exposition at Chicago in 1893." This is the title of a work published by the Bancroft Company, of Chicago and San Francisco, with Hubert Howe Bancroft as author. It is issued in twenty-five parts of forty pages each; when completed, it will make a magnificent book of one thousand pages, 12x16 inches, profusely illustrated, beautifully printed on fine heavy paper. We have Part I before us as we write, and it is indeed equal to all that the publishers have promised. It contains 68 engravings, several being full-page, many of them historical, others scenes in the present Fair. We presume that the work will be offered to subscribers; but full information can be obtained by addressing "The Bancroft Company, Auditorium Building, Chicago." We should highly value the complete work.

Messrs. Jeremiah Mathis and John H. Marshall and Dr. J. B. Mahn drove to New Gretna last week, guests of Mr. Daniel Sooy. They spent the evening very pleasantly, retiring in the "wee-wee" hours.

In the morning the victors, with Capt. Sooy, his two sons and brother Samuel L., boarded the newly-named "Columbia," and set sail for the fishing grounds. The latter was well supplied with fruits, vegetables, etc., and the seven fishermen added an abundance of weak-fish, fresh and suit systems, clams, crabs, and eels. After a delightful sail, anchor was cast a few miles from Atlantic City, and all were regaled with "the fat of the land" (and sea). The event was witnessed with fish stories by neighbors anchored near, and rendered charming by music on an Italian organ and accordion, rendered by Mr. Sooy's sons, and the effect was enhanced by the moon high in the heavens and the myriad lights flashing in the distance from Jersey's most popular summer resort. The three M's returned with the conviction that a life spent entirely on land is like that of the policeman in the "Pirates of Penzance" - not a happy one.
