Of New York.

Short Tariff Sermons.
NO XXXIV.

Despite all the talk about the hardships of the farmer, he is king compared to his father or grandfather. If he doubts, let him hunt up the old gentleman's day book of forty years ago and note the prices then.

A bushel of wheat would buy 2 of a barrel of salt: it will now buy two barrels.

A bushel of corn would buy 7 1/2 pounds of sugar: to-day it will buy 12 1/2 pounds.

Ten pounds of butter bought 3 3/4 yards of cotton cloth then: now it purchases 4 3/4 yards.

Ten pounds of cheese were worth 25 pounds of nails: the cheese now pays for 6 1/2 pounds of nails.

A pound of washed wool grown ten years before the war would buy 1-5 of a barrel of salt, 3-5-6 pounds of sugar, 3-2-3 yards of cotton cloth or 10 pounds of nails. To-day his own pound of wool will pay for 3 of a barrel of salt, 6 pounds of sugar, 6 1/2 yards of cotton cloth or 22 pounds of nails.

These figures are based on New York City prices. But as a matter of fact he never realized anything like those prices for his products in his local market.

Freights were high, and when the cost of bringing produce to the New York market was deducted from the New York prices for farm produce, and the cost of bringing merchandise from New York to the village store at which he traded was added to the price of what he bought, the average farmer was really not more than half as well off ten years before the war as our figures would indicate.

For instance, in 1857 it cost 25 1/2 cents to bring a bushel of wheat by the cheapest route from Chicago to New York: in 1891 it cost less than six cents.

Surrounded by these conditions, life on the farm was hard indeed. Calico and Kentucky jeans had to do for Sunday garments, and an ox cart in which to ride to church was the height of style.

Luxuries for the table were almost unknown: Johnny cake and salt pork was a privilege diet.

Those were days of hard times, when the farmer cradled his grain, and reaped and bound it by hand.

He toiled early and late, saved and scrupled, and received less return for a week of hardest toil than the farmer in 1892 receives for a single day's ride on a mowing machine or a self-binder.

Let us have no more of such "good old times."—American Economist.

During last week and half of this, a gigantic struggle occurred at Buffalo, N. Y., and points near by,—affecting railroad business even to Elmira and east and south of that point. It was a strike of the switchmen in the Buffalo, yards, the cause of which does not seem quite clear in the newspaper reports.

The companies did not see fit to grant what was demanded, and the strikers soon resorted to violence, throwing trains from the tracks, misplacing switches, burning cars, and assaulting non-union employees. The Sheriff found himself overpowered, and seven thousand of the State militia were called out, who soon restored order and enabled the companies to move trains. Firemen, engineers, and other employees were asked to assist the switchmen by a sympathy strike, but on Wednesday, after full consideration they decided not to do so, and the strike was then ordered off. As usual, much distress has and will follow the strike.

Do you believe Senator Carlile, who has always been considered the greatest Free-Trader of all, when he tells you that prices averaged lower and wages higher on September 1, 1891, than during June, July and August, 1889? If so, were you lying or yourself deceived in your irrepressible howling about Mc-Kinley prices and reduced wages since the new Tariff passed?

The democratic programme laid down at the Chicago convention may properly be called a panic programme. This is what it proposes to do:

Destroy the national banks and re-establish the wildcat issues of the State banks.

Destroy the stability of our currency and establish fraudulent free silver.

Destroy the Protective Tariff as unconstitutional and establish Free-Trade and pauper wages throughout the land.

Take from the foreigner the Tariff tax and levy on our own people an insignificant income tax.

How do the people like the panic programme of the democracy?

An exchange speaks as follows: Some modern philosopher has given in these lines the summary of life: Seven years in childhood's sport and play,— Seven years in school from day to day,— Seven years at trade or college life,— Seven years to find a place and wife,— Seven years to building upward given,— Seven years to business hardy driven,— Seven years for wares wild-goose chase,— Seven years for wealth and bootless race,— Seven years for loaning for your bet,— Seven years in weakness pain and care,— Then die and go—'t would you should where.

PAINT! PAINT!
HAMMONTON.

When you buy the Hammonton Paint, you do not buy seven-eighths of a gallon for a gallon, or three pints for a half gallon; nor do you get one of those packages that weigh 12 to 14 pounds, and containing so much alkali that it is impossible to use it without thinning; but in buying the Hammonton you get a full standard gallon of paint, weighing 14 to 16 pounds to the gallon, made from the best materials known to the trade, and costs the consumer from $1 to $1.50 per gallon for honest paint.

If the purchaser doesn't want honest paint, and wants to be honest to himself, then be sure to buy the Hammonton Paint, and the manufacturer will give a receipt with every gallon sold telling you how to make two gallons of paint out of one of the Hammonton. It will cost 33 cents for the extra gallon.

One Dollar.
And then here comes Commercial Paint, in 30 shades,—the best wearing paint ever put on the market for so low a price as $1 per gallon, and guaranteed to be a first-class wearing paint. If any one should not want to pay so high a price for a good exterior paint, then work the 33 cent racket, and get two gallons for $1.33. Manufactured at Hammonton Paint Works.

years a resident of Hamonton, a soldier, long totally disabled by rheumatism, died on Sunday last, in Jefferson

☞ Last Tuesday, Rev. Phillip Cline and family were very pleasantly surprised by a home-gathering of the children and grandchildren of the family.
Every one present took part in the including stations on the Camden & Atlantic Railroad (except Camden) will hereafter be known as the Atlantic City District.

☞ A COMMUNICATION.—The recent imposition of fines upon certain parties by one of our justices was a clear violation of law. Stealing is not finable. A Justice must discharge the accused, or bind him over to appear in Court. The only alternative is for the accused to request, in writing, a trial before two Justices. Then the whole proceedings, evidence and papers, must be sent to the Prosecutor of the Pleas. The parties returned to above can be re-arrested, as the whole process was illegal. How about this? D.

☞ It may not be known to everyone that Mrs. Benjamin Harrison is one of the best of American flower painters.
Since she has occupied her position of lady of the White House, however, her public duties have largely prevented the exercise of her artistic genius; but she has found leisure to paint one of the loveliest representations of flower-life that ever came from an artist's brush,— a magnificent group of orchids on a porcelain panel. This she has presented to the ladies of America; it has been reproduced by the publisher of Demore's Family Magazine, and a copy will be presented to each subscriber, with the October number.

☞ About twelve o'clock last Friday night, parties unknown burst open the safe in the office of J. T. French's paint factory. A hole was drilled in the door, near the combination, and a heavy charge of powder inserted, the force of the explosion shattering the inside of the door to fragments; but two bolts held slightly to their sockets and the door was only partially opened. Why the burglars did not secure a crow-bar and thrust their job is a mystery. One of them evidently had a mishap, as bloody finger marks were found on the knob. There was but little money in the safe, and nothing is missing. Only the slightest clue to the evil doers has been discovered. Will Luderitz heard two strangers, on Friday afternoon, ask a man (whom he does not know) where French's shop is located. The information was given them, but they did not visit the factory during business hours, and have not been seen in town since.

☞ A. J. King, Esq., sent a statement of the affair to the Chief of Police of Philadelphia, and by his request Mr. King and young Luderitz went up to see two men who had been arrested for a theft committed on Saturday night. Will identified one of them. Now it is requested that the man of whom the information was asked, on Friday, shall report to Mr. King. Possibly it might lead to a conviction of the burglars.

☞ Interest in the great Homestead strike has been overshadowed by other matters, lately; but the mills are in full operation; troops are still on guard, but expect to leave for home about Sept. 1st.
Many of the strikers have found work elsewhere, and moved away.

☞ I am for Cleveland for President because I am a free-trader.—Henry George.

☞ A large property owner at Keyport is only ten years in arrears in the payment of his taxes.

THE CHINESE JAACANA.

Few of us have the chance to study the habits and peculiarities of birds. We are in the habit of thinking that it is their natural element, but a reliable naturalist states that there are few birds that do not frequent the sea, which is their element, their home, and affords them all they require—food, security, and enjoyment.
