ANGELS ARE THERE!

BY MRS. A. V. MUNGEL.

In mansions of wealth, in homes of the good;
Or where poverty struggles her hardest for food;
Where ever a mortal is wrestling with care,
For good or for evil, Angels are there!

So in life's battles, in land or on sea,
Whether in peace or in discord we be;
Hovering over us, unseen in air,
Guiding our wanderings, Angels are there!

Visit the school-room or college where youth,
Are drinking from fountains of wisdom and truth;
Behold the bright smiles of the innocent fair,
O, what a legion of Angels are there!

Go into the chamber where sick men and pain,
Are triumphing over health's primitive reign;
Breathe a fond hope, your sympathies share,
Hasten thou, quickly, Death's Angel is there!

Go enter each home, where darkness you see,
Though alienated from pleasure and glee;
Tread softly and gently, lest with the light air,
You crush a freed spirit, for Angels are there!

Go visit you church, where pure anthems arise,
On ethereal incense unto the skies;
There bow in submission and offer a prayer,
God is around you, and Angels are there!

Armies of Angels are guarding us all,
Lest in the way of temptation we fall;
Then let us be thankful, and bow to the rod,
For the goodness, the love, and the mercy of God.

Hammonton, Sept. 18th, 1880.

Our Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 13, 1880.

The Democratic habit of lying about the situation in the different States is opening the way for a great deal of grief to come upon that party. The victory in Vermont was a set-back to them because they had promised their followers the Republican majority should be cut down to a very low figure, and failed to do it, as every Republican knew they would.

In Pennsylvania, Indiana, Connecticut, New York and New Jersey, the people are told that "great gains" are being made that soldiers are locking to "Hancock," and that Republicans are utterless hopeless. Such tales, untrue as every one knows they are, make each defeat costly to the Democrats, more so, by far, than had they paid some attention to the facts and not encouraged their followers by false hopes. Early in the canvass they reported hopeless discords among the Republicans. The leaders knew they were lying, but the Democratic voters believed them. Grant, Conkling, Cameron and Logan were going off to Canada, or Europe, and let Hancock walk into the White House without opposition, and it is a fact no Democrat outside, the "ring" expected the Republicans would make much of a fight against the irresistible Hancock. But facts are ugly things to deal with when men have fed their fellows upon lies. General Grant's hearty support of Garfield, Conkling's well known intention of entering into the canvass, the positive utterance of Logan and Cameron would have made no stir, would have been taken as only natural had the Democratic leaders told their followers the truth. But they have cheated each other with false hopes. Every Republican victory is now doubly disastrous to the Democrat. As matters now stand, Vermont made them feel miserable, Maine will make them feel worse, and Republican victory in Indiana, however small, will take all the heart out of them. More work and less bragging would certainly have been better. It is needless to say that Republican leaders have encouraged no false hopes, in any State, they have impressed upon their followers the necessity for work, to win not only victory, but victory and some to spare.

Soldiers are referred to the letter of Congressman Beltzhoover, now going the rounds of the papers, for proof that the Democratic party is hostile in their interests despite their profession of friendship. Remember this letter is by a Democratic Congressman, and one who knows whereof he speaks. He says, "with the present Democratic House, pension bills do not have much favor," and "Rebel General (Withers) who is at the head of the pension Committee in the Senate is still more averse to allowing any such bills to pass." Of course the above is no news to the Republicans. But coming, as it does from a Democrat, it will confirm the belief of all who doubted the hostility of the Democrats to the men who conquered them.

Senator Conkling makes his first speech of the campaign in New York City on the 17th. He will then proceed Westward and engage in the campaign. General Grant will meet the Senator in Ohio and will preside over a meeting where Senator will speak. General Grant will then come East and place himself at the disposal of the Republican National Committee.

MAXWELL.

Mr. Editor :-

Will Senator Gardner show wherein the temperance bill of last winter was defective? A majority of the Senate thought worthy of their votes, including Gen. Sewell, and the New Jersey Conference, then in session, sent a Committee to urge its passage in the House of Assembly.

ANXIOUS VOTER.

Gen. Garfield on the Stump.

As we wish our readers to become better acquainted with Gen. Garfield, we copy the following speech of his, delivered at Cleveland in 1879, before he had a thought of being President of the United States:

"Now, fellow-citizens, a word before I leave you, on the eve of the holy day of God—a fit moment to consecrate ourselves finally to the great work of next Tuesday morning. I see in this great audience to night a great many young men—young men who are about to cast their first vote. I want to give you a word of suggestion and advice. I heard a bright thing said by a boy the other day up in one of our Northwestern counties. He said to me: 'General, I have a great mind to vote the Democratic ticket.' That was not a bright thing. I said to him, 'Why?' 'Why,' said he, 'my father is a Republican, and my brothers are Republicans, and I am a Republican all over, but I want to be an independent man, and I don't want anybody to say, 'That fellow votes the Republican ticket just because his dad does,' and I have half a mind to vote the Democratic ticket just to prove my independence.' I did not like the thing the boy suggested, but I did admire the spirit of the boy that wanted to have some independence of his own.

"Now, I tell you, young man don't vote the Republican ticket just because your father votes it; don't vote the Democratic ticket, even if he does vote it. But let me give you this one word of advice, as you are about to pitch your tent in one of the great political camps. Your life is full and buoyant with hope now, and I beg you, when you pitch your tent, pitch it among the living and not among the dead. If you are at all inclined to pitch it among the Democratic people and with that party, let me go with you for a moment while we survey the ground where I hope you will not shortly lie. It is a bad place, young man, for you to put your young life into. It is to me far more like a graveyard than a camp for the living. Look at it! It is billowed all over with the graves of dead issues, of buried opinions, of exploded theories, of disgraced doctrines. You cannot live in comfort in such a place. Why, look here! Here is a little double mound. I look down upon it and read, 'Sacred to the memory of Squatter Sovereignty and the Dread Scott Decision.' A million and a half of Democrat voted for that, but it has been dead fifteen years—died by the hand of Abraham Lincoln, and here it lies. Young man, that is not the place for you.

"But look a little further. Here is another monument—a black tomb—and beside it, as our distinguished friend said, there towers to the sky a monument of four million pairs of human fetters taken from the arms of slaves, and I read on its little head stone this: 'Sacred to the memory of Human Slavery.' For forty years of its infamous life the Democratic party taught that it was divine—God's institution. They defended it, they stood around it, they followed it to its grave as a mourner. But here it lies, dead by the hand of Abraham Lincoln. Dead by the power and might of the Republican party. Dead by the justice of Almighty God. Don't camp there, young man.

"But there is another—a little brimstone tomb—and I read across its yellow face in lurid, bloody lines, these words: 'Sacred to the memory of State Sovereignty and Secession.' Twelve millions of Democrats mustered around it in arms to keep it alive; but here it lies, shot to death by the million guns of the Republic. Here it lies, its shrine burnt to ashes under the blazing rafters of the burning Confederacy. It is dead. I would not have you stay in there a minute, even in this balmy night air, to look at such a place.

"But just before I leave it I discovered a new-made grave, a little mound—short. The grass has hardly sprouted over it, and all around it I see torn pieces of paper with the word 'flat' on them, and I look down in curiosity, wondering what the little grave is, and I read on it: 'Sacred to the memory of the Rag Baby, nursed in the brain of all the fanatics of the world, rocked by Thomas Ewing, George H. Pendleton, Samuel Carey and a few others throughout the land.' But it died on the 1st of January, 1879, and the one hundred and forty millions of gold that God made, and not flat power, lie upon its little carcass to keep it down forever.

"O, young man, come out of that! That is no place in which to put your young life. Come out, and come over into the camp of liberty, of order, of law, of justice, of freedom, of all that is glorious under these night stars.

"Is there any death here in our camp? Yes! yes! Three hundred and fifty thousand soldiers, the noblest band that ever trod the earth, died to make this camp a camp of glory and of liberty forever.

"But there are no dead issues here. Hang out our banner from under the blue sky this night until it shall sweep the green turf under your feet. It hangs over our camp. Read away up under the stars the inscription we have written on it, to these twenty-five years.

"Twenty-five years ago the Republican party was married to liberty, and this is our silver wedding, fellow citizens. A worthily married pair love each other better the day of their silver wedding than on the day of their first espousals, and we are truer to Liberty to-day, and dearer to God, than we were when we spoke our first word of liberty. Read away up under the sky our starry banner that first word we uttered twenty-five years ago! What is it? 'Slavery shall never extend over another foot of the Territories of the Great West.' Is that dead or alive? Alive, thank God, forevermore! And truer to night than the hour it was written! Then it was a hope, a promise, a purpose. To night it is equal with the stars—immortal history and immortal truth.

Come down the glorious steps of our banner. Every great record we have vindicated with our blood and our truth. It sweeps the ground and it touches the stars. Come there, young man, and put in your young life where all is living, and where nothing is dead but the heroes who defended it. I think these young men will do that.

"Gentlemen, we are closing this memorable campaign. We have got our enemies on the run everywhere. And all you need do in this noble old city, this capital of the Western Reserve, is to follow them up and finish it by snuffing the rebellion under once more. We stand on an isthmus. This year and next is the narrow isthmus between us and perpetual victory. If you can win now, and win in 1880, then the very stars in their courses will fight for us. The census will do the work, and will give us thirty more freemen of the North in our Congress that will make up for the rebellion of the South. We are posted here as the Greeks were posted at Thermopylae, to meet this one great barbarian, Xerxes, of the isthmus. Stand in your places, men of Ohio! Fight this battle, and then one more puts you in safety forever!"

The melancholy days, for the man without an overcoat, will soon be here.

President Hayes, speaking of the late war, which has cost over six billions of money, showed how the debt had been reduced from $78.25 for each inhabitant, to less than one-half that amount. Such is the favorable state of our debt, and the resources of the country have shown equally remarkable improvement, the average balance of trade in our favor for five years being $185,000,000 per annum. The gold and silver products, the tonnage of American vessels and the products of agriculture have shown wonderful increase, and have caused the business prosperity which we enjoy, and have drawn the recent enormous immigration.

A very respectable-looking list of signers for a meeting of ex-Union soldiers to organize a Hancock Club was prepared and published in Binghamton by some one who generously made up the list without consulting the alleged signers. "I propose to vote for Garfield and Arthur," says one thus falsely claimed. "My name was not placed there by me nor with my consent. I shall vote as I fought, and that will be for General Garfield and Republican principles," says another. "I never signed that roll. I did sign the roll of the Boys in Blue," says a third. "I am a Republican and intend to vote as I shout, for Garfield and Arthur," says a fourth. "I shall vote for Garfield in November, as I have seen enough of rebels and their rule before this," says a fifth. And so they continue to "fall in" on the other side.

What the South Intends.

In a letter received from a South Carolina Republican, at the National Committee Rooms, the writer expresses deep anxiety:

His long residence in the South, he says, has taught him what Northern men fail to understand, namely, that the war is not ended. Every effort of the South since the war has been to obtain control of the country. The Southerners believe Northern magnanimity toward them was dictated by fear, and they are now thoroughly organized and determined to upset the Northern rule. The North placed a dangerous weapon in their hands when it gave to the negroes freedom without protection. The Democrats have always controlled the colored vote, except when it has been cast under the Federal protection. All these Southern States are a unit: they fully believe in State rights and that they are the natural rulers of this country. They had already gained control of congress, and they are now preparing for one grand effort to put the control of this Government into the hands of the Solid South. In South Carolina there will certainly be three Republican members of Congress elected by large majorities, but they will be counted out. "I firmly believe," continues the writer, "that unless the result in November is so overwhelmingly in favor of the Republicans that a question cannot come up, the result will be determined by bloodshed. The Southerners generally were bitterly disappointed by the peaceful settlement in 1877. They wanted a fight then; they want it more now, and are better prepared for it. This is the problem you have got to face, my dear General, and if you or any of your friends of the North do not believe it now, you will later. When acts of hostility occur they will be as much of a surprise to the North as was the firing on Sumter in 1861; but I hope they will not find the North as unprepared. I am firmly convinced: (1) That the Solid South will stop at nothing to gain the control of the Government; (2) that the North, which fought the rebellion in 1861, will not submit to turn over the Government to those who sought to destroy it; (3) that a fight is in consequence inevitable; (4) that the South is in a better condition than ever before."

Many a man finds, after marriage, that he has been hugging a delusion.

A home without children is no doubt very peaceful and quiet, but so is a graveyard.

A Japanese student at Harvard has captured a young, rich widow, a leader of fashion in Boston. Is the Caucasian played out?

Tamman, having married its anti, the question now is which shall be the head of the family, and it is a question which is still unsettled.

In olden times the people looked at the weather vanes to see which way the wind blew: now they look at the weather reports to see which way it is going to blow.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
 FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.
 It is a most agreeable dressing, which is at once harmless and effectual, for preserving the hair. It restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray, light, and red hair, to a rich brown, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use thin hair is thickened, and baldness often though not always cured. It checks falling of the hair immediately, and causes a new growth in all cases where the glands are not decayed; while to brashy, weak, or otherwise diseased hair, it imparts vitality and strength, and renders it pliable.

The VIGOR cleanses the scalp, cures and prevents the formation of dandruff; and,
 by its cooling, stimulating, and soothing properties, it treats most if not all of the humors and diseases peculiar to the scalp, keeping it cool, clean, and soft, under which conditions diseases of the scalp and hair are impossible.

As a Dressing for Ladies' Hair
 The VIGOR is incomparable. It is colorless, contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil white cambric. It imparts an agreeable and lasting perfume, and as an article for the toilet it is economical and unsurpassed in its excellence.

MUST!
 Above product, our "specialty," is the pure fermented juice of the grape as it leaves the press, and equivalent to the delicious fruit in liquid form. Possessing no alcoholic properties, it is invaluable to Invalids, Temperance people and Churches for Sacramental purposes.
 "Our" MUST must not be mistaken for other so-called fermented wines, as it is not boiled and chemically sealed to keep it from spoiling.
 The only "Process" resort to by us is to permanently stop fermentation, which naturally must result in the juice remaining as it grew.
 The undersigned are now disposing of their new stock prepared from their last grape crop, and warrant that it will keep without special care.

 amendments to the Constitution of the State, providing for biennial sessions of the Legislature, having been agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two Houses, be entered in the respective journals of the Houses with the yeas and nays taken thereon, and the same be referred to the Legislature next to be chosen in this State, and that publication for three months previous to making such choice shall be made in at least one newspaper in each county; and be it further Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate and the Clerk of the House cause said entries to be made in the journals of the respective Houses and cause publication to be made aforesaid according to law and the requirements of the Constitution in that regard, under Article IX, "Amendments."
 ATTEST: GEORGE WURTS,
 Sec'y of the Senate.
 CUMMINS O. COOPER,
 Clerk of the House of Assembly.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION PROPOSING AMEN-
DMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE.
 Resolved, by the Senate the General Assembly concurring. That the following amendments to the constitution of this state be agreed to:

ARTICLE IV., SECTION I., PARAGRAPH 3. Strike out the words "yearly and every year;"
 after the word "November," insert the words
 "in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, and every second year thereafter;"
 ARTICLE IV., SECTION II., PARAGRAPH 1. Strike out the word "three" and insert in lieu thereof
 the word "four."

ARTICLE IV., SECTION II., PARAGRAPH 2. Strike
 out the whole paragraph, which is in the following words:
 "As soon as the senate shall meet after the first election to be held in pursuance of this constitution, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes; the seats of the senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the first year; of the second class at the expiration of the second year, and of the third class at the expiration of the third year, so that one class may be elected every year and if vacancies happen, by resignation or otherwise, the persons elected to supply such vacancies shall be elected for the unexpired terms only," and insert in lieu thereof the following:
 "The senate meeting in January, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three, shall be divided as equally as may be into two classes;
 the seats of the senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year, and of the second class at the expiration of the fourth year, so that one class may be elected every second year; if vacancies happen, by resignation or otherwise, the persons elected to supply such vacancies shall be elected for unexpired terms only."

ARTICLE IV., SECTION III., PARAGRAPH 1. Strike out the word "annually," and insert in lieu
 thereof the word "biennially;"
 ARTICLE IV., SECTION IV., PARAGRAPH 7. Strike
 out the word "annually," and insert in lieu
 thereof the word "biennially."

Fire Insurance Company,
BRIDGETON, N. J.
 Conducted on strictly mutual principles, offering a perfectly safe insurance for just what it may cost to pay losses and expenses. The proportion of loss to the amount insured being very small, and expenses much less than usually had, nothing can be offered more favorable to the insured. The cost being about ten cents on the hundred dollars per year to the insurers on ordinary risks, and from fifteen to twenty-five cents per year on hazardous properties, which is less than one-third of the lowest rates charged by stock companies, on such risks—the other two-thirds taken by stock companies being a profit accruing to stockholders, or consumed in expenses of the companies.
 The guarantee fund of premium notes being now Three Millions of Dollars.
 If an assessment had to be made of five per cent. only, twice within the ten years for which the policy is issued, it would yet be cheaper to the members than any other insurance offered.
 And that large amount of money is saved to the members and kept at home. No assessment having ever been made, being now more than thirty years, that saving would amount to more than
One Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars.

The Losses by Lightning.
 Where the property is not set on fire, being less than one cent per year to each member,
 are paid without extra charge, and extended so as to cover all policies that are issued and outstanding.
