

NO A LOST LOVE.

I followed, and was about to enter the door of the office when Wilkins stopped me further progress.

HIS LAST CALL.

From a Story in Chapter. The old man, a faded countenance, with his sallow and false nose, was the poor girl's heart.

THE CHINESE CANNOT UNDERSTAND.

From some extracts of a letter published in the Presbyterian Messenger, we learn that the first major surgical operation performed in Chungking by the Presbyterian missionary.

LAS VEGAS BULL FIGHTS.

Las Vegas was once a great place for bull-fights, but most of them occurred on Saturday, said an old drummer to a Kansas City Journal man.

TRAVELLING MEN'S DIVERSIONS.

Novel Methods of Advertising the Fights by Indian Fantomims. "Las Vegas was once a great place for bull-fights, but most of them occurred on Saturday," said an old drummer to a Kansas City Journal man.

MR. AND MRS. BOWSER.

When Mr. Bowser unlocked the front door one night this winter he did it so softly, and made so little noise in the hall, that I suspected something wrong.

THE BROOKLYN DIVINE'S SUNDAY SERMON.

THE BROOKLYN DIVINE'S SUNDAY SERMON. "It is an imitation of a calamity in Japan—buildings shaken down by an earthquake—flames devouring the ruins—husbands sobbing—wives praying—children sobbing—dogs howling—good us! And he walked out as independently as he had come in."

GRAVELY TRIFLES THAT MAKE UP THE SUM OF EVERYDAY ECONOMY.

What trifles are too small for consideration? How far can economy be made grateful? Is luxury compatible with the possibilities of a slender purse?

INGERSOLL ON CRIME.

Before the ninth annual convention of the State Bar association Col. Robert G. Ingersoll delivered an address on the subject of crime.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

No wonder time flies; time is money. Don't laugh at anyone's misfortune. Beauty is the melody of the features. Don't laugh and giggle in public places.

HOW A DARKEY CAN SLEEP.

I saw a queer illustration of the sleeping qualities of a negro the other day. Every negro who wears the usual black face can sleep on a bed without covering for his eyes on the hottest July day—and he sleeps as peacefully as a white man on the softest cot in the darkest room.

IN CASE YOU BREAK YOUR LEG.

Immediately place something beneath the fractured part of a broken leg to support and keep it straight. In the absence of better appliances, the broken bone may be strapped or bandaged to the corner to keep it straight.

THE QUEEN IS Tired.

The Queen is tired of sitting for portraits that she has refused to have her picture taken at the Victoria Art gallery in Melbourne; but she is willing to allow a replica of her jubilee portrait by Angeli to be made for the colony that bears her name.

TRUMPEN SHOULD BE CURBED, NOT BROKEN.

It is not always the woman who rises at 9 o'clock in the morning who is the sweetest singer.

The Republican.

(Entered as second-class matter.)

SATURDAY, OCT. 25, 1890.

The Republican Ticket.

For Congressman,
Hon. James Buchanan.

For Assemblyman,
SMITH E. JOHNSON.

For County Clerk,
LEWIS EVANS.

For Sheriff,
CHARLES R. LACEY.

For Coroner,
JOSEPH C. FARR.

The Democratic party is always true to itself, and to its record, which, from the time of its inception to the present has been anything but savory. Up to 1861, it had as the Scotchman would say, but "two principles," slavery and the party. For these two did it "live, move and have a being." Since 1861 it has had no principles, and has labored only for its own survival; but at intervals clutching at some principle, worked out for the interests of the public by the Republican party, and claiming it as its own.

But this sham is so thin, the public sees its falsity and hypocrisy, and does not deign to stand point, but it is also a very interesting history of a country and people who occupy a prominent place in the thoughts and feelings of all Christians and nations. The large number of excellent pictures of places and scenery in the Holy Land, with which the volume is illustrated, gives it a special interest and value. We should all go to Palestine, but this elegant book, through the aid of its pictures and Dr. Talmage's wonderful descriptions accompanying them, brings Palestine to our very doors, and is indeed a positive necessity to a proper understanding of the Bible accounts of places and events. We can understand and appreciate Bible history all the better when we see the actual representations of the places where this history was made. "From Manger to Throne" marks a new era in the literature of Bible Lands, and we are not surprised to learn that the demand for the book is phenomenal. It is sold on the exclusive territory basis, and persons desiring to secure agencies will find the publishers' announcement in another column.

Notice.—My wife, Rachel H. Lockwood, having left my bed and board without due cause or provocation, I do hereby warn all persons not to harbor or trust her on any account, as I will not pay any bills or contracts entered into by her. ZEPHANIAH LO. KWOOD, Elwood, N. J., Sept. 22, 1890.

Dissolution.
Notice is hereby given that the partnership lately subsisting between Albert H. Simons and Anna K. Buga, under the firm name of A. H. Simons & Co., was dissolved on the 1st day of September, 1890, by mutual consent. All debts owing to the said partnership or to be received by the said Albert H. Simons, and all claims against the firm are to be presented to him for payment. ALBERT H. SIMONS, ANNA K. BUGA, Sept. 1st, 1890.

That handsome residence on the Lake, known as the Frank Records property, is for sale at a very low price, and on the easiest terms one can ask. For particulars, inquire at the REPUBLICAN'S office.

Building lots for sale, some of the best lots in town, at the least amount of money. WM. COLWELL.

Bucklin's Arnica Salve, the best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price, 25 cents per box. For sale by George Elvins.

For Sale.—A sixty-acre farm, 14 miles from Elwood station. About thirty acres have been cleared and farmed. Inquire of WM. BERNHOUSE, Hamonton, N. J.

Daniel Stone,
Insurance Agent,
Commissioner of Deeds,
Dealer in Real Estate,
Office at Judge Byrne's, Hamonton.

Money to loan on first mortgage.

The National Baptist PHILADELPHIA.
Two Dollars per Year.

Do You Read It?
Send postal for free sample copy.
Three months trial for 25 cts.

GEO. W. PRESSEY,
Hamonton, N. J.,
Justice of the Peace,
Office, Second and Cherry Sts.

WORLD PUBLISHING CO.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

500 PULLETS WANTED immediately.—Five or six cents per pair. Good price. B. A. FOX, Broadway, Hamonton.

The People's Bank,
Hamonton, N. J.,
Sept. 25, 1890.
The Directors have this day declared a dividend of three per cent, payable on and after Tuesday, Oct. 7th, and have added $1000 to the surplus fund.
W. R. TILTON, Cashier.

A REMARKABLE BOOK

BY DR. TALMAGE.

This is said to be a year of remarkable books, but doubtless the most remarkable that will appear for some time to come is Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage's new work on the "Life of Christ" and "Palestine and Its People." Some idea of what the book contains may be obtained by reading the following extract from the Doctor's preface:

"In my American home, on the Atlantic, on Mediterranean, on camel's back, on mule's back, on horseback, under chandelier, by dim candle in tent, on Lake Galilee, in convent, at Bethel where Jacob's pillow was stuffed with aromatic spices, on the ladder landed: at the brook Elish, from which little David picked up the ammunition of five smooth stones, four more than were needed for crushing like an egg-shell the skull of Goliath; in the Valley of Ajalon, over which, at Joshua's command, astronomy halted; on the plain of Esdras, the battle-field of ages, the long red flowers suggestive of the blood dashed to the bits of the horse's bridles; amid the shattered masonry of Jericho; in Jerusalem, the city of David, and other cities in reminiscence; at Cana, where plain water became festal beverage; on Calvary, whose ascent and ruptured rocks still show the effects of the earthquake at the great hemorrhage of the wounds that purchased the world's rescue; and with my hands mitted from the storm, or wet from the Jordan, or bared to the sun, or glowing over the smooth table, this book has been written."

This book will certainly be worth reading and preserving. It is not only a new stand-point, but it is also a very interesting history of a country and people who occupy a prominent place in the thoughts and feelings of all Christians and nations. The large number of excellent pictures of places and scenery in the Holy Land, with which the volume is illustrated, gives it a special interest and value. We should all go to Palestine, but this elegant book, through the aid of its pictures and Dr. Talmage's wonderful descriptions accompanying them, brings Palestine to our very doors, and is indeed a positive necessity to a proper understanding of the Bible accounts of places and events. We can understand and appreciate Bible history all the better when we see the actual representations of the places where this history was made. "From Manger to Throne" marks a new era in the literature of Bible Lands, and we are not surprised to learn that the demand for the book is phenomenal. It is sold on the exclusive territory basis, and persons desiring to secure agencies will find the publishers' announcement in another column.

Notice.—My wife, Rachel H. Lockwood, having left my bed and board without due cause or provocation, I do hereby warn all persons not to harbor or trust her on any account, as I will not pay any bills or contracts entered into by her. ZEPHANIAH LO. KWOOD, Elwood, N. J., Sept. 22, 1890.

Dissolution.
Notice is hereby given that the partnership lately subsisting between Albert H. Simons and Anna K. Buga, under the firm name of A. H. Simons & Co., was dissolved on the 1st day of September, 1890, by mutual consent. All debts owing to the said partnership or to be received by the said Albert H. Simons, and all claims against the firm are to be presented to him for payment. ALBERT H. SIMONS, ANNA K. BUGA, Sept. 1st, 1890.

That handsome residence on the Lake, known as the Frank Records property, is for sale at a very low price, and on the easiest terms one can ask. For particulars, inquire at the REPUBLICAN'S office.

Building lots for sale, some of the best lots in town, at the least amount of money. WM. COLWELL.

Bucklin's Arnica Salve, the best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price, 25 cents per box. For sale by George Elvins.

For Sale.—A sixty-acre farm, 14 miles from Elwood station. About thirty acres have been cleared and farmed. Inquire of WM. BERNHOUSE, Hamonton, N. J.

Daniel Stone,
Insurance Agent,
Commissioner of Deeds,
Dealer in Real Estate,
Office at Judge Byrne's, Hamonton.

Money to loan on first mortgage.

The National Baptist PHILADELPHIA.
Two Dollars per Year.

Do You Read It?
Send postal for free sample copy.
Three months trial for 25 cts.

GEO. W. PRESSEY,
Hamonton, N. J.,
Justice of the Peace,
Office, Second and Cherry Sts.

WORLD PUBLISHING CO.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

500 PULLETS WANTED immediately.—Five or six cents per pair. Good price. B. A. FOX, Broadway, Hamonton.

The People's Bank,
Hamonton, N. J.,
Sept. 25, 1890.
The Directors have this day declared a dividend of three per cent, payable on and after Tuesday, Oct. 7th, and have added $1000 to the surplus fund.
W. R. TILTON, Cashier.

The People's Bank

Of Hamonton, N. J.

Authorized Capital, $50,000
Paid in, $30,000.
Surplus, $4500.

R. J. BYRNES, President.
M. L. JACKSON, Vice-Pres't.
W. R. TILTON, Cashier.

DIRECTORS:
R. J. Byrnes, M. L. Jackson,
George Elvins, Elam Stockwell,
G. F. Saxton, C. F. Osgood,
Z. U. Matthews, P. S. Tilton,
A. J. Smith, J. C. Anderson.

Certificates of Deposit issued, bearing interest at the rate of 2 per cent. per annum if held six months, and 3 per cent if held one year.

Discount days—Tuesday and Friday of each week.

A. J. KING,
Resident Lawyer,
Master in Chancery, Notary Public, Real Estate and Insurance Agent,
Insurance in No. 1 companies, and at the lowest rates. Personal attention given to all business.

You take No Chance
By using the
Hamonton Paint,
For every gallon is
GUARANTEED!

Any one wishing to experiment with Paint is asked to do so at my expense. Paint one-half or any surface with Hamonton Paint, and the other half with any known Paint. If the Hamonton does not cover as much surface, and wear as long, under the same conditions, I will pay for all the paint used.

JOHN T. FRENCH,
Hamonton Paint Works,
Hamonton, N. J.

Send for sample card or Colors.

A. J. SMITH,
NOTARY PUBLIC
AND Conveyancer.

Deeds, Mortgages, Agreements, Bills of Sale, and other papers executed in a neat, careful and correct manner.
HAMONTON, N. J.

"Old Reliable"
Please don't forget that a general assortment of

Bread, Cakes, Pies,
AND
Fruits
AND
Confectionery

May still be found in great variety and abundant in quantity at

Packer's Bakery.

Drs. Starkey & Palen's
Treatment by Inhalation.

NOT A DRUG
1529 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa.
For Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Hay Fever, Whooping Cough, Biliousness, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and all Chronic and Nervous Disorders.

The original and only genuine Compound Oxygen Treatment. The Starkey and Palen have been using for twenty years, in a scientific adjustment of the elements of Oxygen and Nitrogen, and the compound is guaranteed and made portable that it is sent all over the world.

Press the Button, It Opens and Lights.

Drs. STARKEY & PALEN,
1529 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa.
Please mention this paper when you order.

The Republican.

SATURDAY, OCT. 25, 1890.

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

Jubilee
Concert, next Monday evening.
Council meeting to-night.
There is still a super-abundance of rain.

Mrs. Edw. Darling visited friends in Atlantic City.
A white frost Wednesday morning, in spots, the first this season.

Our thanks are due to Miss Anna Cogley for a bouquet of beautiful flowers.
Mr. Nelson Hall, of Tenant's Harbor, Maine, is visiting Hamonton friends.

Born, on Sunday, October 19th, 1890, to Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Osgood, a daughter.

Mr. H. E. Andrews is asking a green-house to his already attractive residence.

Hiram Pressey has bought Mont. Packard's house, corner of Second and Peach Streets.

Dr. G. M. Crowell and family will reside on the corner of Third and Grape Streets.

Smith E. Johnson is meeting with much encouragement in his canvass for assemblyman.

A. E. Millard and family have moved into Wm. Colwell's house, on Pleasant Street.

Will Hood will have charge of the new signal tower at Winslow Junction, in the day-time.

Mr. A. J. King is expected home next week, from Colorado. Winter has reached the mountains.

Mr. J. E. Stanley, of the Stanley-Bradley Publishing Co., New York, visited at C. E. Hall's.

Mr. Aiken is building a large addition to his lively stable, accommodations for many horses.

The Central Primary School has been divided, and Miss Nettie Mosfort is teacher of the second division.

H. G. Thayer, teacher of the violin, desires a few pupils—classes or private lessons. Terms moderate.

Tickets for the Jubilee Concert sold very rapidly. You had better call at Cook's to-day, if you wish reserved seats.

The kindergarten system is giving satisfaction. Pupils are delighted with the exercises, as conducted by Miss Clinch.

The Episcopal society held an entertaining dinner, Wednesday evening, at the residence of Mr. L. H. Parkhurst.

New raisins (California and Valencia), new currants, new California apricots, new California peaches, at P. S. Tilton & Son's.

Miss Selma Borg, the famous traveler and writer, of Finland (Russia), is a guest of Dr. Nilsson, at the Hamonton Sanitarium.

At the County Sunday School Convention, held in Atlantic City last week, Postmaster-General Wannamaker made a short address.

The Acme Dramatic Club have removed all their property from Union Hall, and new scenery and drop curtains have been put in.

The Republican.

SATURDAY, OCT. 25, 1890.

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

Are you registered?
Register next Tuesday or you cannot vote.

You should try Scalo Flakes or rolled rice, Puritan, Bye Graham, Rex Wheat, Schunmaber's Avena and Glensola Buckwheat, from P. S. Tilton & Son's.

The move for closing all places of business at eight o'clock every evening is a good one, and finds general favor. We understood that it was to take effect last Monday.

Father C. Ramot has returned to Hamonton, accompanied by the Rev. V. Jouet, Superior-Gen. of the order at Rome. Services at St. Joseph's Church to-morrow, at 10:00 A.M.

Mr. Miller's horse was taken sick, a few nights ago, before he had all the street-lamps lighted, and he had to get back home. That's why part of the town was left in darkness.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Ford and daughter, Miss Nettie, have returned to their home, in New York State. They made very warm friend during their two months' visit here.

J. S. Wright has sold his place, on Twelfth Street, through Wm. Rathenford's agency, to Wm. A. Headman, of Camden. Mr. Headman and family will occupy their new home next week.

The Postmaster-General has decided that postmasters who fail to notify publishers when subscribers move away or fail to take papers from the office, shall be responsible for the subscription.

We hear that a goody sun can readily be obtained toward putting a first-class town clock in one of our church towers. Which one shall it be? and who will be the first one to get to work at it?

Charles H. Luders and family left on Tuesday last for Saranac Lake, N. Y., in the Adirondacks, to spend the winter. Rather a severe test for weak lungs, we should think, but physicians recommend it.

The Fruit Growers' Union have the foundation completed and the lumber ready for their new store building. We hear that work will begin next Monday. Their blacksmith and wagon shops are nearly ready for occupancy.

St. Mark's Church, Twenty-first Sunday after Trinity, Oct. 26th. Morning Prayer, Litany and Sermon, 10:30. Sunday School, 2:30 P. M. Children's Choral Service and Bible Class at 3:30. Please note change in hour for Sunday School.

Methodist-Episcopal service, to-morrow. "Good Tidings Day." Autumnal service 10:30 A.M. Programme, responsive reading, singing, and recitations by the Sunday School. 7:30 P. M., sermon by Pastor Clinch to the Epworth League.

Don't count your turtles before they are hatched. We reported Henry Monfort's turtle as "in the soup," some months ago; but we were too previous. It escaped, and this week it was found, with twenty-five baby turtles. Turtle farming is a new industry here.

The new $600,000 hotel to be built at Atlantic City will occupy a plot of ground at the beach front, and extend from Rhode Island Ave. to Connecticut Ave. A syndicate of New York, Philadelphia and Atlantic City capitalists will supply the funds. The Reading R. R. Co. is largely interested in the enterprise.

Next Tuesday will be the last day for voters to have their names registered. Search the official list, a copy of which hangs in the post-office, and if your name is not there, have it attended to next Tuesday, the 28th. The Board of Registration will meet on that day, in the Council Room, and be in session from 7:00 A.M. to 9:00 P.M. They have 628 voters on the list now, and we have heard of but few omissions.

Mr. D. G. Barnard, formerly of Winslow, died at his residence, in Hadonfield, on Monday, from the effects of injuries inflicted by a run-away horse. He was initiated in Winslow Lodge of Odd Fellows in 1857, was a Past Grand and was for many years Treasurer. A special meeting of the Lodge was held on Wednesday evening, to take appropriate action. A delegation attended Thursday services at his home, on the remains, on Friday, in the Old Fellow's Cemetery, Philadelphia. Mr. Barnard was well known in Hamonton, and highly esteemed.

Insurance.—fire, tornado, life, and accident; also real estate. Wm. RUTTENFORD, Hamonton.

Insure with A. H. Phillips, 182 Atlantic Ave., Atlantic City.

Press the Button, It Opens and Lights.

The Magic Lamp. It is a new and wonderful discovery. It is a small lamp, and it is so simple that any one can use it. It is a great discovery, and it is a great help to the poor. It is a great discovery, and it is a great help to the poor. It is a great discovery, and it is a great help to the poor.

Insure with A. H. Phillips, 182 Atlantic Ave., Atlantic City.

The Republican.

SATURDAY, OCT. 25, 1890.

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

Are you registered?
Register next Tuesday or you cannot vote.

You should try Scalo Flakes or rolled rice, Puritan, Bye Graham, Rex Wheat, Schunmaber's Avena and Glensola Buckwheat, from P. S. Tilton & Son's.

The move for closing all places of business at eight o'clock every evening is a good one, and finds general favor. We understood that it was to take effect last Monday.

Father C. Ramot has returned to Hamonton, accompanied by the Rev. V. Jouet, Superior-Gen. of the order at Rome. Services at St. Joseph's Church to-morrow, at 10:00 A.M.

Mr. Miller's horse was taken sick, a few nights ago, before he had all the street-lamps lighted, and he had to get back home. That's why part of the town was left in darkness.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Ford and daughter, Miss Nettie, have returned to their home, in New York State. They made very warm friend during their two months' visit here.

J. S. Wright has sold his place, on Twelfth Street, through Wm. Rathenford's agency, to Wm. A. Headman, of Camden. Mr. Headman and family will occupy their new home next week.

The Postmaster-General has decided that postmasters who fail to notify publishers when subscribers move away or fail to take papers from the office, shall be responsible for the subscription.

We hear that a goody sun can readily be obtained toward putting a first-class town clock in one of our church towers. Which one shall it be? and who will be the first one to get to work at it?

Charles H. Luders and family left on Tuesday last for Saranac Lake, N. Y., in the Adirondacks, to spend the winter. Rather a severe test for weak lungs, we should think, but physicians recommend it.

The Fruit Growers' Union have the foundation completed and the lumber ready for their new store building. We hear that work will begin next Monday. Their blacksmith and wagon shops are nearly ready for occupancy.

St. Mark's Church, Twenty-first Sunday after Trinity, Oct. 26th. Morning Prayer, Litany and Sermon, 10:30. Sunday School, 2:30 P. M. Children's Choral Service and Bible Class at 3:30. Please note change in hour for Sunday School.

Methodist-Episcopal service, to-morrow. "Good Tidings Day." Autumnal service 10:30 A.M. Programme, responsive reading, singing, and recitations by the Sunday School. 7:30 P. M., sermon by Pastor Clinch to the Epworth League.

Don't count your turtles before they are hatched. We reported Henry Monfort's turtle as "in the soup," some months ago; but we were too previous. It escaped, and this week it was found, with twenty-five baby turtles. Turtle farming is a new industry here.

The new $600,000 hotel to be built at Atlantic City will occupy a plot of ground at the beach front, and extend from Rhode Island Ave. to Connecticut Ave. A syndicate of New York, Philadelphia and Atlantic City capitalists will supply the funds. The Reading R. R. Co. is largely interested in the enterprise.

Next Tuesday will be the last day for voters to have their names registered. Search the official list, a copy of which hangs in the post-office, and if your name is not there, have it attended to next Tuesday, the 28th. The Board of Registration will meet on that day, in the Council Room, and be in session from 7:00 A.M. to 9:00 P.M. They have 628 voters on the list now, and we have heard of but few omissions.

Mr. D. G. Barnard, formerly of Winslow, died at his residence, in Hadonfield, on Monday, from the effects of injuries inflicted by a run-away horse. He was initiated in Winslow Lodge of Odd Fellows in 1857, was a Past Grand and was for many years Treasurer. A special meeting of the Lodge was held on Wednesday evening, to take appropriate action. A delegation attended Thursday services at his home, on the remains, on Friday, in the Old Fellow's Cemetery, Philadelphia. Mr. Barnard was well known in Hamonton, and highly esteemed.

Insurance.—fire, tornado, life, and accident; also real estate. Wm. RUTTENFORD, Hamonton.

Insure with A. H. Phillips, 182 Atlantic Ave., Atlantic City.

Press the Button, It Opens and Lights.

The Magic Lamp. It is a new and wonderful discovery. It is a small lamp, and it is so simple that any one can use it. It is a great discovery, and it is a great help to the poor. It is a great discovery, and it is a great help to the poor. It is a great discovery, and it is a great help to the poor.

Insure with A. H. Phillips, 182 Atlantic Ave., Atlantic City.

The Republican.

SATURDAY, OCT. 25, 1890.

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

Are you registered?
Register next Tuesday or you cannot vote.

You should try Scalo Flakes or rolled rice, Puritan, Bye Graham, Rex Wheat, Schunmaber's Avena and Glensola Buckwheat, from P. S. Tilton & Son's.

The move for closing all places of business at eight o'clock every evening is a good one, and finds general favor. We understood that it was to take effect last Monday.

Father C. Ramot has returned to Hamonton, accompanied by the Rev. V. Jouet, Superior-Gen. of the order at Rome. Services at St. Joseph's Church to-morrow, at 10:00 A.M.

Mr. Miller's horse was taken sick, a few nights ago, before he had all the street-lamps lighted, and he had to get back home. That's why part of the town was left in darkness.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Ford and daughter, Miss Nettie, have returned to their home, in New York State. They made very warm friend during their two months' visit here.

J. S. Wright has sold his place, on Twelfth Street, through Wm. Rathenford's agency, to Wm. A. Headman, of Camden. Mr. Headman and family will occupy their new home next week.

The Postmaster-General has decided that postmasters who fail to notify publishers when subscribers move away or fail to take papers from the office, shall be responsible for the subscription.

We hear that a goody sun can readily be obtained toward putting a first-class town clock in one of our church towers. Which one shall it be? and who will be the first one to get to work at it?

Charles H. Luders and family left on Tuesday last for Saranac Lake, N. Y., in the Adirondacks, to spend the winter. Rather a severe test for weak lungs, we should think, but physicians recommend it.

The Fruit Growers' Union have the foundation completed and the lumber ready for their new store building. We hear that work will begin next Monday. Their blacksmith and wagon shops are nearly ready for occupancy.

St. Mark's Church, Twenty-first Sunday after Trinity, Oct. 26th. Morning Prayer, Litany and Sermon, 10:30. Sunday School, 2:30 P. M. Children's Choral Service and Bible Class at 3:30. Please note change in hour for Sunday School.

Methodist-Episcopal service, to-morrow. "Good Tidings Day." Autumnal service 10:30 A.M. Programme, responsive reading, singing, and recitations by the Sunday School. 7:30 P. M., sermon by Pastor Clinch to the Epworth League.

Don't count your turtles before they are hatched. We reported Henry Monfort's turtle as "in the soup," some months ago; but we were too previous. It escaped, and this week it was found, with twenty-five baby turtles. Turtle farming is a new industry here.

The new $600,000 hotel to be built at Atlantic City will occupy a plot of ground at the beach front, and extend from Rhode Island Ave. to Connecticut Ave. A syndicate of New York, Philadelphia and Atlantic City capitalists will supply the funds. The Reading R. R. Co. is largely interested in the enterprise.

Next Tuesday will be the last day for voters to have their names registered. Search the official list, a copy of which hangs in the post-office, and if your name is not there, have it attended to next Tuesday, the 28th. The Board of Registration will meet on that day, in the Council Room, and be in session from 7:00 A.M. to 9:00 P.M. They have 628 voters on the list now, and we have heard of but few omissions.

Mr. D. G. Barnard, formerly of Winslow, died at his residence, in Hadonfield, on Monday, from the effects of injuries inflicted by a run-away horse. He was initiated in Winslow Lodge of Odd Fellows in 1857, was a Past Grand and was for many years Treasurer. A special meeting of the Lodge was held on Wednesday evening, to take appropriate action. A delegation attended Thursday services at his home, on the remains, on Friday, in the Old Fellow's Cemetery, Philadelphia. Mr. Barnard was well known in Hamonton, and highly esteemed.

Insurance.—fire, tornado, life, and accident; also real estate. Wm

THE COLLEGE GRADUATE.

He can give the laws of Solon, He can draw the flag of Coler, He can write a Babylonian I O U, He can read a Latin Oration, He can draw a coat of arms, He can make a speech in Danish, He can write his thoughts in Spanish, He can make a speech in Danish, And recite such Sanscrit as would turn your brain; The Mualakat Arabic, He can read in feet syllable; But he couldn't tell old Shakespeare from Mark Twain. He can fasten all the mystery Of old Egyptology, He can name one thousand Norse kings—more or less; And describe the Roman boundaries, And describe the Aztec footprints; But has never seen the "Statutes of U. S."

WIT AND HUMOR.

Miss Delle (warningly)—Sally, they used to tell me when I was a little girl that if I didn't tell coffee alone it would make me foolish. Sally (who over her one)—Well, why didn't you?—Life. A Dartmouth graduate has written a work on "The Probable Cause of Glaciation." We didn't suppose that was a matter of dispute. If it wasn't cold weather, what could it be?—Lowell Courier.

Charges of plagiarism still continue. It is now hinted that the successful and hitherto unsuspected farmers crib the stores of their corn magazines from nature's cereals.—Baltimore American.

Charming widow—"And what are you doing nowadays?" He—"Oh, amusing myself; looking out for number one. And you?" Charming widow—"Looking out for number two."—Life.

Miss Minor (after the concert)—"Francis Sprawler plays with a great deal of expression, but what do you think of her technique?" Miss Greening—"I didn't notice that she wore one."—America.

New nurse, rocking the crib, sings: "Sleep, little one sleep." Voice from the crib: "Now, Papa, you might as well understand at first that I don't want to hear any of those old things."—Fleegende Blätter.

A Philadelphia ball player has been given a gold watch for stealing bases, and another Philadelphia has been given two years for stealing seven dollars. Is justice a failure?—Norristown Herald.

A Michigan fruit grower has a peach that measures eleven inches in circumference, but as he doesn't show any disposition to pass it around, it isn't likely to do the Somerville people any good.—Somerville Journal.

Temperance Woman—"My friend, if you don't want whisky to get the best of you, you must get the best of whisky." Promising subject—"I do, when I can; but when I can't, I'm only a nickel."—Puck.

THE CITY OF THE SAINTS.

A TRAVELLER'S IMPRESSIONS OF SALT LAKE CITY. A Visit to the Great Tabernacle and the Unfinished Temple. In the City of Latter Day Saints of course the only political issue—the Mormons and their institutions. In fact the Mormon influence is felt immediately. The fight between the Gentiles and the Mormons has been a bitter one; it formed the only political issue—the liberals versus the people. The Zion Co-operative Mercantile Association owns and controls the largest business institutions in the Mormon population. The Mormons patronize the Mormons, and the Gentiles the Gentiles. Naturally this state of affairs has a depressing influence upon trade and enterprise. The city has two theaters—one for each party. The Gentiles seem to have a natural aversion to anything Mormon, and therefore do not patronize the Mormon theatre, and the Mormons studiously avoid attending the Gentile theatre.

The vigorous measures adopted by the United States Government have entirely destroyed the practice of Polygamy, and that, in connection with the great confiscation of property, has undoubtedly weakened the church. The risk to the Temple and Tabernacle is always of great interest to the stranger. On your approaching Salt Lake City, for many miles your attention has been attracted to a great granite structure situated in the center of the city. This is the Mormon Temple, built of large blocks of granite and commenced, as the inscription on the front of the building tells you, in the year A. D. 1833. It is not completed.

Charges of plagiarism still continue. It is now hinted that the successful and hitherto unsuspected farmers crib the stores of their corn magazines from nature's cereals.—Baltimore American.

Charming widow—"And what are you doing nowadays?" He—"Oh, amusing myself; looking out for number one. And you?" Charming widow—"Looking out for number two."—Life.

Miss Minor (after the concert)—"Francis Sprawler plays with a great deal of expression, but what do you think of her technique?" Miss Greening—"I didn't notice that she wore one."—America.

New nurse, rocking the crib, sings: "Sleep, little one sleep." Voice from the crib: "Now, Papa, you might as well understand at first that I don't want to hear any of those old things."—Fleegende Blätter.

A Philadelphia ball player has been given a gold watch for stealing bases, and another Philadelphia has been given two years for stealing seven dollars. Is justice a failure?—Norristown Herald.

A Michigan fruit grower has a peach that measures eleven inches in circumference, but as he doesn't show any disposition to pass it around, it isn't likely to do the Somerville people any good.—Somerville Journal.

Temperance Woman—"My friend, if you don't want whisky to get the best of you, you must get the best of whisky." Promising subject—"I do, when I can; but when I can't, I'm only a nickel."—Puck.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1900. Jesus in Gethsemane. LESSON TEXT. (Luke 22: 39-46. Memory verses: 40-42.) LESSON PLAN. TOPIC OF THE QUARTER: Jesus the Saviour of Men. GOLDEN TEXT FOR THE QUARTER: Though he were a Son, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered.—Heb. 5: 8.

400,000 Christmas Trees. Christmas trees are cheap this year because a trust is organized to control the evergreen market. In the town of Orland, at the mouth of the Penobscot, in Maine, a Rockland firm have a large crew of men employed in cutting trees, and expect to ship 400,000 to the metropolis between now and the middle of December. The firm pay about half a cent a tree for the privilege of cutting the trees, and at the present time are cutting them in small lots, ranging from five to thirty feet in height, but the greatest demand is for those measuring between five and eight feet. The bushes and most symmetrical trees bring the best prices, and these are found in abundance along the edges of the woods. There are enough young fir trees along the Penobscot River to supply the world with Christmas evergreens for centuries to come.

Three Old Documents. Cornelius Hume of Kingston, N. Y., has in his possession three ancient deeds. They bear the dates 1686, 1694 and 1715, and are signed by the representatives of his majesty's government.

Reid's Old Jacket. Many years ago Whitehead Reid once went out for a stroll in a short, tight-fitting velvet jacket. As luck would have it, the jacket was not only invited him to step in and have his photograph taken. Mr. Reid consented. He never wore the jacket again. But the photograph fell into the hands of a certain caricaturist, and from that day the jacket was made to wear the old, long discarded jacket.

A Fraudulent Courtier. Frederick the Great of Prussia, who had a violent temper, was in the habit of playing at dice with one of his adjutants, using a cup and two dice of solid silver.

Game Slaughtered for Royalty. I observe that the Berlin correspondent of the Standard reports that on Saturday week the Emperor William, when shooting in Silesia with Prince Hatzfeldt, killed five hundred and sixty head of game. As a matter of fact, this was the bag of the whole party, with the addition of nine deer. The Emperor was shooting for less than five hours, and considering the difficulties which he has to surmount, and the peculiar weapons which he uses, it is a very remarkable bag for him to have secured.

No Bertha M. Clay. Readers of Bertha M. Clay's novels will be surprised to learn that there is no Bertha M. Clay. A Chicago newspaper says: An English writer named Mrs. Charlotte M. Braeme wrote stories for an English family newspaper. As fast as they appeared they were stolen by a story purveyor in New York, who attributed them to "Bertha M. Clay," a fictitious name which he invented, and without the knowledge of the author. Mrs. Braeme died in 1881, and her name has since been used by the "Bertha M. Clay" become that of the proprietors of the paper which she wrote, and which she had kept before her readers ever since.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES AND HINTS FOR THE HOUSEHOLD.

How to Make Farm Work Easier and Home Brighter. Our farmers, as a rule, do not make the most of the turnip crop. To get a good crop of rutabagas requires good land and careful culture, and the rutabagas and the fast strap-leaf kind, which are often sown broadcast among corn or in stubble, are several intermediate sorts, of which Yellow Stone and Aberdeen are examples, are very good table turnips, and nutritious for stock. They may be sown any time this month. They should be sown in drills, and if the soil is not rich, apply a dressing of superphosphate, say 30¢ pounds to the acre.

Why Dandel Escaped. Grandpa had taught our "two-year-old" to answer a great many Bible questions, and was fond of "showing him off." On one of these occasions she asked him:—"Who was put in the lion's den?" "Daniel," was the prompt answer. "Did the lions eat Daniel?" "No." "Why?" The answer should have been:—"Because God shut their mouths," but the little fellow reflected a minute and then said:—"I see Daniel wasn't too eat."

Roosters. The run of good pasture will bring the pigs into excellent condition for fattening. Root crops will be infested with weevils this month, and the cultivator must be kept in mind as long as the leaves will allow. Budding may be done as soon as the bark on the stock will "crack" freely, and buds in the proper condition of maturity can be had.

Heavy soils are so much improved by winter exposure that as much as possible of such soil should be plowed up this fall, and left rough for the winter. The elm leaf-beetle.—In some localities where this pest was exceedingly abundant and destructive last year, very few or none at all are seen this summer. Now is a good time to kill off (and accumulate) and start anew with pure stock of whichever variety may be preferred.

Some of the best varieties of apples are very showy, and in picking, sorting and packing will pay with them, and bring ready sale, even in years of abundance. Strawberries.—Plants from early runners, struck in pots, may be established and will usually have a very fair crop the next year. When the lambs, giving them rich grass or a clover pasture. Prepare for early lambs; a Southdown makes the best cross for quality. Whatever breed is used, be sure that the ram is pure blood.

As soon as the potato tops are dead, dig the crop. Expose the potatoes to the sun as little as possible. A slight exposure even to diffused light will cause some varieties to become green and unfit for food. As soon as blackberries and raspberries are gathered, cut away the old canes. Select new canes need for fruiting next year, stopping their upward growth at the desired height. Treat all others as weeds.

A sun-struck cow is ruined as a milker for this season, if not forever. Avoid such a calamity, if there are no rains in the pasture, by putting up a frame and roasting it with leafy brush, or an artificial shade. Later pluck rose. Early pees ripen up very quickly, and no soft fruit should go into the sack. A fruit grower should know the peculiarities, in this respect of each variety. The Bartlett, the most popular, is much improved by gathering early and ripening in the house.

Lawn sprinklers.—There are numerous varieties, but if much benefit is to result from watering it must be kept up. If grass is revivified by a moderate watering, and then left to continued drought, its case will be worse than if it been left without this watering.

It is very difficult for some men to place the large fruit in the bottom of the basket. While "topping" with the fruit is poor policy, it is not dishonest to make the peach grower aware of the fact by turning the top layer so that the sunny or colored cheeks will be uppermost. Women's fingers are expert for this. Wet and low places may often be converted into fertile meadows. Draining and cutting and burning the natural growth must, in most cases, precede the breaking-up. Such places will sometimes be found to be unsuited for stores-houses of muck, which may be drawn out and allowed to dry, and finally go to the stable, barn-yard, etc. Horses enjoy greatly a bath after work. Where there is a stream with a safe bottom easily accessible, give them and the horse a treat. But always let them cool off before bathing. Horses hard at work through the day get hardly satisfied upon grass only. Give a feed of grain before turning out to pasture, and another early in the morning.

FACTS FOR FARMERS.

Apply sulphur to the grapevines, at the first appearance of mildew, and follow it up. We are surprised to find that some well-known pomologists, if they do not advise, speak favorably of rigging the vines. This is done by removing a ring of bark a quarter of an inch wide, or by twisting a wire firmly around the shoot, just below the bud. This causes early ripening and fine-looking fruit but is destructive to flavor. Most grape-growers, with a conscience about them, look upon rigging grapes that are to be marketed in the light of a fraud. Horticultural and viticultural societies should speak on this matter.

The many peach orchards planted, often in the most unpromising localities, a few years ago, should this year, if ever, be coming into fruit. The trouble where peaches have heretofore been almost unknown, will be a want of pickers. The returns from peaches marketed depend largely upon proper picking. The fruit, should be had all soft, not yet too green, but in just that condition that it will be "in eating" by the time that it reaches the consumer. If the fruit will yield to slight pressure it is too ripe for the basket or crate. Over-ripe fruit should be gathered for home use or the pigs. A skilled picker must not only use his fingers but his judgment, and assort as he goes.

Roosters. The run of good pasture will bring the pigs into excellent condition for fattening. Root crops will be infested with weevils this month, and the cultivator must be kept in mind as long as the leaves will allow. Budding may be done as soon as the bark on the stock will "crack" freely, and buds in the proper condition of maturity can be had.

Heavy soils are so much improved by winter exposure that as much as possible of such soil should be plowed up this fall, and left rough for the winter. The elm leaf-beetle.—In some localities where this pest was exceedingly abundant and destructive last year, very few or none at all are seen this summer. Now is a good time to kill off (and accumulate) and start anew with pure stock of whichever variety may be preferred.

Some of the best varieties of apples are very showy, and in picking, sorting and packing will pay with them, and bring ready sale, even in years of abundance. Strawberries.—Plants from early runners, struck in pots, may be established and will usually have a very fair crop the next year. When the lambs, giving them rich grass or a clover pasture. Prepare for early lambs; a Southdown makes the best cross for quality. Whatever breed is used, be sure that the ram is pure blood.

As soon as the potato tops are dead, dig the crop. Expose the potatoes to the sun as little as possible. A slight exposure even to diffused light will cause some varieties to become green and unfit for food. As soon as blackberries and raspberries are gathered, cut away the old canes. Select new canes need for fruiting next year, stopping their upward growth at the desired height. Treat all others as weeds.

A sun-struck cow is ruined as a milker for this season, if not forever. Avoid such a calamity, if there are no rains in the pasture, by putting up a frame and roasting it with leafy brush, or an artificial shade. Later pluck rose. Early pees ripen up very quickly, and no soft fruit should go into the sack. A fruit grower should know the peculiarities, in this respect of each variety. The Bartlett, the most popular, is much improved by gathering early and ripening in the house.

Lawn sprinklers.—There are numerous varieties, but if much benefit is to result from watering it must be kept up. If grass is revivified by a moderate watering, and then left to continued drought, its case will be worse than if it been left without this watering.

THE STORY OF A SONG.

One of the songs used by the minstrel companies just now was evolved interestingly. The story is told by the "Utica Observer." At an annual dinner in memory of Gen. Grant the company included Gen. Sherman, Sheridan, and Carr. Anecdotes of curious incidents were given, and one of the narratives was by Gen. Carr. It related a soldier in the Second New York Volunteers, at which Carr was Colonel at the outset. In a battle a piece of an exploded shell struck the man on the head and gave to him what would ordinarily have proved a fatal wound. He lay insensible among the dead for hours, nobody supposing that he was alive.

Those who went to him found in one hand a small portion of a letter from his wife. In this she spoke of a furlough which had been granted to him and which he was going to use for a visit to his home, his health being poor. She wrote affectionately of the week, reminding him of a willow tree under which they had done some of their courtship, and told him on the day for his arrival she would meet him there. In the hurry and confusion he was left lying with this woman still in his mind, among the dead for hours, nobody supposing that he was alive.

Those who went to him found in one hand a small portion of a letter from his wife. In this she spoke of a furlough which had been granted to him and which he was going to use for a visit to his home, his health being poor. She wrote affectionately of the week, reminding him of a willow tree under which they had done some of their courtship, and told him on the day for his arrival she would meet him there. In the hurry and confusion he was left lying with this woman still in his mind, among the dead for hours, nobody supposing that he was alive.

Those who went to him found in one hand a small portion of a letter from his wife. In this she spoke of a furlough which had been granted to him and which he was going to use for a visit to his home, his health being poor. She wrote affectionately of the week, reminding him of a willow tree under which they had done some of their courtship, and told him on the day for his arrival she would meet him there. In the hurry and confusion he was left lying with this woman still in his mind, among the dead for hours, nobody supposing that he was alive.

Those who went to him found in one hand a small portion of a letter from his wife. In this she spoke of a furlough which had been granted to him and which he was going to use for a visit to his home, his health being poor. She wrote affectionately of the week, reminding him of a willow tree under which they had done some of their courtship, and told him on the day for his arrival she would meet him there. In the hurry and confusion he was left lying with this woman still in his mind, among the dead for hours, nobody supposing that he was alive.

Those who went to him found in one hand a small portion of a letter from his wife. In this she spoke of a furlough which had been granted to him and which he was going to use for a visit to his home, his health being poor. She wrote affectionately of the week, reminding him of a willow tree under which they had done some of their courtship, and told him on the day for his arrival she would meet him there. In the hurry and confusion he was left lying with this woman still in his mind, among the dead for hours, nobody supposing that he was alive.

Those who went to him found in one hand a small portion of a letter from his wife. In this she spoke of a furlough which had been granted to him and which he was going to use for a visit to his home, his health being poor. She wrote affectionately of the week, reminding him of a willow tree under which they had done some of their courtship, and told him on the day for his arrival she would meet him there. In the hurry and confusion he was left lying with this woman still in his mind, among the dead for hours, nobody supposing that he was alive.

Those who went to him found in one hand a small portion of a letter from his wife. In this she spoke of a furlough which had been granted to him and which he was going to use for a visit to his home, his health being poor. She wrote affectionately of the week, reminding him of a willow tree under which they had done some of their courtship, and told him on the day for his arrival she would meet him there. In the hurry and confusion he was left lying with this woman still in his mind, among the dead for hours, nobody supposing that he was alive.

Those who went to him found in one hand a small portion of a letter from his wife. In this she spoke of a furlough which had been granted to him and which he was going to use for a visit to his home, his health being poor. She wrote affectionately of the week, reminding him of a willow tree under which they had done some of their courtship, and told him on the day for his arrival she would meet him there. In the hurry and confusion he was left lying with this woman still in his mind, among the dead for hours, nobody supposing that he was alive.

PHILLIPS BROOKS AND HIS PORTRAIT.

"It is well known," says a writer in the Boston Advertiser, that the Rev. Phillips Brooks has a great aversion to having his portrait placed on exhibition, or published in the newspapers, and invariably checks all overtures looking toward that end. When he was in attendance, however, upon the recent session of the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, held in New York, he was taken unawares, and a well-planned sketch of his features was made by an enterprising newspaper sketch artist, a very fair likeness of the doctor it was. It was published in a New York paper—the World, I think, and thence it was copied into one or two other papers, and then the boiler-plate people got hold of it, and it went into all the syndicate papers throughout the land, from Dan to Berseba, and from John O'Sullivan's house to the end of the world. The picture, as I have said, is really a very fair likeness, and represents Dr. Brooks wearing his familiar eye-glasses and looking slightly downward, as is his habit when seated in a convention.

Scalloped Oysters. Put a layer of oysters in a baking dish, cover with a thick layer of bread crumbs (stale), spread over with bits of butter, season with pepper and salt, and bake in a hot oven. Continue till the dish is full. Put bread crumbs on top. Pour over half a teacup each of oyster liquid and rich milk. Bake in quick oven for fifteen minutes, until brown. Serve immediately.

Fried Oysters. Select fine large oysters. Drain and fry them. Do not pierce with a fork. Season with salt and pepper. Dip first in grated bread crumbs, then in beaten egg; let stand fifteen minutes, and roll in grated bread crumbs again, covering every part carefully. Fry in boiling grease. When brown, pour over carefully, and drain on brown paper. Serve immediately. Garnish with chopped cucumber pickles.

Oyster Salad. Take half a gallon of fresh oysters, the yolks of six hard-boiled eggs, and raw egg, two spoonfuls of salad oil, two tablespoonfuls of mayonnaise, and four bunches of celery. Drain the liquor from the oysters, and put them in hot vinegar and let simmer five minutes. Let cool, mash the yolks of the eggs, mix the other ingredients, and pour over the chopped celery and oysters. Set on ice until very cold.

The legend as to the origin of woman is different with various nations. Not more than four continents are named, that she was made from a man's rib. The Japanese believe that she grew on a tree, the Laplanders that she was once a rabbit, the Persians that she was a snake, and the Australians that she was first a toadstool.

PAPA'S JOKE.—Youngest Son—Papa, did you know that you were a papa when you were a boy? Father—No, I threw a stone into a peach tree once, and what do you think? Son—You broke a window! Father—No, I knocked off a peach and on opening it found the stone.

THE FORTUNED OPERATOR.—"Well of all the forbidding creatures in this world," he remarked wisely, "give me an autoluerus."

Whisky was first made in Ireland by an English monk.

THE STORY OF A SONG.

One of the songs used by the minstrel companies just now was evolved interestingly. The story is told by the "Utica Observer." At an annual dinner in memory of Gen. Grant the company included Gen. Sherman, Sheridan, and Carr. Anecdotes of curious incidents were given, and one of the narratives was by Gen. Carr. It related a soldier in the Second New York Volunteers, at which Carr was Colonel at the outset. In a battle a piece of an exploded shell struck the man on the head and gave to him what would ordinarily have proved a fatal wound. He lay insensible among the dead for hours, nobody supposing that he was alive.

Those who went to him found in one hand a small portion of a letter from his wife. In this she spoke of a furlough which had been granted to him and which he was going to use for a visit to his home, his health being poor. She wrote affectionately of the week, reminding him of a willow tree under which they had done some of their courtship, and told him on the day for his arrival she would meet him there. In the hurry and confusion he was left lying with this woman still in his mind, among the dead for hours, nobody supposing that he was alive.

Those who went to him found in one hand a small portion of a letter from his wife. In this she spoke of a furlough which had been granted to him and which he was going to use for a visit to his home, his health being poor. She wrote affectionately of the week, reminding him of a willow tree under which they had done some of their courtship, and told him on the day for his arrival she would meet him there. In the hurry and confusion he was left lying with this woman still in his mind, among the dead for hours, nobody supposing that he was alive.

Those who went to him found in one hand a small portion of a letter from his wife. In this she spoke of a furlough which had been granted to him and which he was going to use for a visit to his home, his health being poor. She wrote affectionately of the week, reminding him of a willow tree under which they had done some of their courtship, and told him on the day for his arrival she would meet him there. In the hurry and confusion he was left lying with this woman still in his mind, among the dead for hours, nobody supposing that he was alive.

Those who went to him found in one hand a small portion of a letter from his wife. In this she spoke of a furlough which had been granted to him and which he was going to use for a visit to his home, his health being poor. She wrote affectionately of the week, reminding him of a willow tree under which they had done some of their courtship, and told him on the day for his arrival she would meet him there. In the hurry and confusion he was left lying with this woman still in his mind, among the dead for hours, nobody supposing that he was alive.

Those who went to him found in one hand a small portion of a letter from his wife. In this she spoke of a furlough which had been granted to him and which he was going to use for a visit to his home, his health being poor. She wrote affectionately of the week, reminding him of a willow tree under which they had done some of their courtship, and told him on the day for his arrival she would meet him there. In the hurry and confusion he was left lying with this woman still in his mind, among the dead for hours, nobody supposing that he was alive.

Those who went to him found in one hand a small portion of a letter from his wife. In this she spoke of a furlough which had been granted to him and which he was going to use for a visit to his home, his health being poor. She wrote affectionately of the week, reminding him of a willow tree under which they had done some of their courtship, and told him on the day for his arrival she would meet him there. In the hurry and confusion he was left lying with this woman still in his mind, among the dead for hours, nobody supposing that he was alive.

Those who went to him found in one hand a small portion of a letter from his wife. In this she spoke of a furlough which had been granted to him and which he was going to use for a visit to his home, his health being poor. She wrote affectionately of the week, reminding him of a willow tree under which they had done some of their courtship, and told him on the day for his arrival she would meet him there. In the hurry and confusion he was left lying with this woman still in his mind, among the dead for hours, nobody supposing that he was alive.

Those who went to him found in one hand a small portion of a letter from his wife. In this she spoke of a furlough which had been granted to him and which he was going to use for a visit to his home, his health being poor. She wrote affectionately of the week, reminding him of a willow tree under which they had done some of their courtship, and told him on the day for his arrival she would meet him there. In the hurry and confusion he was left lying with this woman still in his mind, among the dead for hours, nobody supposing that he was alive.

AGES OF EUROPEAN SOVEREIGNS.

The new issue of the Almanach de Gotha gives an interesting table, showing the ages of the reigning sovereigns of Europe and the duration of their reigns:—"Omitting the small German States, the oldest; you ought to make record of that." Leo XIII., who is 79-8 years old, and has reigned nearly 12 years; next comes William III., king of the Netherlands, 72-3-4 years old, having reigned 40 years; next Christian IX., king of Denmark, 71-1-2 years old, with 28 years of reign; then Queen Victoria, 70-1-2 years old, with 52 years of reign; Karl I. of Wurtemberg, 66-2-3 years old, with 25 years of reign; Frederick, Grand Duke of Baden, 59 years old, with 38 years of reign; Albert, king of Saxony, 61-2 years old, with 16 years of reign; Oscar II., king of Sweden, 60-3-4 years old, with 17 years of reign; Francis Joseph of Austria, 60 years old, having reigned 41 years; Leopold II., king of the Belgians, 54-2-3 years old, having reigned 24 years; Louis, Grand Duke of Hesse, 52 years old, with 12 years of reign; Charles, king of Roumania, 50-2 years old, with a reign of 23-2 years; and other of nearly 12 years; Alexander III., Russia, 44-1-2 years old, with a reign of 8-3-4 years; George, king of Greece, 44 years old, with a reign of 12-1-2 years; Oscar, king of Norway, 41-1-2 years of reign; Carlos I., Portugal, 26 years old, two months of reign; Alexander, of Serbia, 19-3 years old, with nine months of reign; Alfonso XIII., of Spain, 13 years old, with 3-1-2 years of reign.

Sunset Cox Said "Maritmony." The following little anecdote shows the ready wit of the late S. C. Cox. It was during his visit at Huron, S. D., that a young lady accompanied by her best young man, was introduced to the honored guest. Extending her hand to him, she said, very gushingly:—"Oh, Mr. Cox, I am so glad to know you and hear you speak. Just say one word, one single little word, that I can say I have heard your voice."

The rough statement was eagerly tendered the soft white hand that was laid in his glance at the face of the young couple standing before him, and his sweet, low voice said:—"What matrimony?" "It is necessary to state that the day was soon named."

PAPA'S JOKE.—Youngest Son—Papa, did you know that you were a papa when you were a boy? Father—No, I threw a stone into a peach tree once, and what do you think? Son—You broke a window! Father—No, I knocked off a peach and on opening it found the stone.

THE FORTUNED OPERATOR.—"Well of all the forbidding creatures in this world," he remarked wisely, "give me an autoluerus."

Whisky was first made in Ireland by an English monk.

PHILLIPS BROOKS AND HIS PORTRAIT. "It is well known," says a writer in the Boston Advertiser, that the Rev. Phillips Brooks has a great aversion to having his portrait placed on exhibition, or published in the newspapers, and invariably checks all overtures looking toward that end. When he was in attendance, however, upon the recent session of the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, held in New York, he was taken unawares, and a well-planned sketch of his features was made by an enterprising newspaper sketch artist, a very fair likeness of the doctor it was. It was published in a New York paper—the World, I think, and thence it was copied into one or two other papers, and then the boiler-plate people got hold of it, and it went into all the syndicate papers throughout the land, from Dan to Berseba, and from John O'Sullivan's house to the end of the world. The picture, as I have said, is really a very fair likeness, and represents Dr. Brooks wearing his familiar eye-glasses and looking slightly downward, as is his habit when seated in a convention.

Scalloped Oysters. Put a layer of oysters in a baking dish, cover with a thick layer of bread crumbs (stale), spread over with bits of butter, season with pepper and salt, and bake in a hot oven. Continue till the dish is full. Put bread crumbs on top. Pour over half a teacup each of oyster liquid and rich milk. Bake in quick oven for fifteen minutes, until brown. Serve immediately.

Fried Oysters. Select fine large oysters. Drain and fry them. Do not pierce with a fork. Season with salt and pepper. Dip first in grated bread crumbs, then in beaten egg; let stand fifteen minutes, and roll in grated bread crumbs again, covering every part carefully. Fry in boiling grease. When brown, pour over carefully, and drain on brown paper. Serve immediately. Garnish with chopped cucumber pickles.

PHILLIPS BROOKS AND HIS PORTRAIT.

"It is well known," says a writer in the Boston Advertiser, that the Rev. Phillips Brooks has a great aversion to having his portrait placed on exhibition, or published in the newspapers, and invariably checks all overtures looking toward that end. When he was in attendance, however, upon the recent session of the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, held in New York, he was taken unawares, and a well-planned sketch of his features was made by an enterprising newspaper sketch artist, a very fair likeness of the doctor it was. It was published in a New York paper—the World, I think, and thence it was copied into one or two other papers, and then the boiler-plate people got hold of it, and it went into all the syndicate papers throughout the land, from Dan to Berseba, and from John O'Sullivan's house to the end of the world. The picture, as I have said, is really a very fair likeness, and represents Dr. Brooks wearing his familiar eye-glasses and looking slightly downward, as is his habit when seated in a convention.

Scalloped Oysters. Put a layer of oysters in a baking dish, cover with a thick layer of bread crumbs (stale), spread over with bits of butter, season with pepper and salt, and bake in a hot oven. Continue till the dish is full. Put bread crumbs on top. Pour over half a teacup each of oyster liquid and rich milk. Bake in quick oven for fifteen minutes, until brown. Serve immediately.

Fried Oysters. Select fine large oysters. Drain and fry them. Do not pierce with a fork. Season with salt and pepper. Dip first in grated bread crumbs, then in beaten egg; let stand fifteen minutes, and roll in grated bread crumbs again, covering every part carefully. Fry in boiling grease. When brown, pour over carefully, and drain on brown paper. Serve immediately. Garnish with chopped cucumber pickles.

Oyster Salad. Take half a gallon of fresh oysters, the yolks of six hard-boiled eggs, and raw egg, two spoonfuls of salad oil, two tablespoonfuls of mayonnaise, and four bunches of celery. Drain the liquor from the oysters, and put them in hot vinegar and let simmer five minutes. Let cool, mash the yolks of the eggs, mix the other ingredients, and pour over the chopped celery and oysters. Set on ice until very cold.

The legend as to the origin of woman is different with various nations. Not more than four continents are named, that she was made from a man's rib. The Japanese believe that she grew on a tree, the Laplanders that she was once a rabbit, the Persians that she was a snake, and the Australians that she was first a toadstool.

PAPA'S JOKE.—Youngest Son—Papa, did you know that you were a papa when you were a boy? Father—No, I threw a stone into a peach tree once, and what do you think? Son—You broke a window! Father—No, I knocked off a peach and on opening it found the stone.

THE FORTUNED OPERATOR.—"Well of all the forbidding creatures in this world," he remarked wisely, "give me an autoluerus."

Whisky was first made in Ireland by an English monk.

PHILLIPS BROOKS AND HIS PORTRAIT. "It is well known," says a writer in the Boston Advertiser, that the Rev. Phillips Brooks has a great aversion to having his portrait placed on exhibition, or published in the newspapers, and invariably checks all overtures looking toward that end. When he was in attendance, however, upon the recent session of the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, held in New York, he was taken unawares, and a well-planned sketch of his features was made by an enterprising newspaper sketch artist, a very fair likeness of the doctor it was. It was published in a New York paper—the World, I think, and thence it was copied into one or two other papers, and then the boiler-plate people got hold of it, and it went into all the syndicate papers throughout the land, from Dan to Berseba, and from John O'Sullivan's house to the end of the world. The picture, as I have said, is really a very fair likeness, and represents Dr. Brooks wearing his familiar eye-glasses and looking slightly downward, as is his habit when seated in a convention.

