DR. JOHN BULL'S Smith's Tonic Syrup FOR THE CURE OF FEVER and ACUE Or CHILLS and FEVER, AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the cure of the SICK, UNCLE, SLEAZY and FEVER, MALARIAL, and all other diseases, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear his testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

BULL'S SARSAPARILLA is the old and reliable remedy for impurities of the blood and Scrofulous affections—the King of Blood Purifiers.
DR. JOHN BULL'S VEGETABLE WORM DESTROYER is prepared in the form of a candy drops, attractive to the sight and pleasant to the taste.

THE THREE-CENT STAMP.

Good by, old stamp; it's real hard luck
That ends our friendship so,
When others failed you gamely stuck,
But now you've got to go.
So here's a flood of honest tears,
And here's an honest sigh—
Good-by, old friend of many years—
Good by, old stamp, good by!

Your life has been a varied one,
With curious phases fraught—
Sometimes a check, sometimes a dun,
Your daily coming brought;
Smiles to a waiting lover's face,
Tears to a mother's eye,
Or joy or pain to every place—
Good by, old stamp, good by!

You bravely toiled, and better men
Will vouch for what I say;
Although you have been licked, 'twas when
Your face turned to the other way.
'Twas often in a box you got
(As you will not deny)—
For going through the mails I wot—
Good by, old stamp, good by!

Ah! in your last expiring breath
The tale of years is heard—
The sound of voices hushed in death,
A mother's dying word,
A maiden's answer, soft and sweet,
A wife's regretful sigh,
The patter of a baby's feet—
Good by, old stamp, good by!

What wonder, then, that at this time,
When you and I must part,
I should aspire to speak in rhyme
The promptings of my heart?
Go, bid with all those memories dear
That live when others die—
You've nobly served your purpose here—
Good by, old stamp, good by!

—Eugene Field.

From the Capital.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 10, 1883.
Government receipts to day: Internal revenue, $317,967; customs, $579,520.

Representative Carlisle will reach here to-day or Sunday. Mr. Randall will be in Washington by the middle of next week, and Hon. S. S. Cox will return within the next four days, so that the Speakership canvass will open in earnest next week.

All of the Cabinet officers except Secretaries Folger and Chandler were present at the regular Cabinet meeting this afternoon. The selection of a surgeon general of the army was not made, and the Cabinet adjourned shortly after two o'clock without transacting any important business.

In his annual report, Gen. Wright, Chief of Engineers, calls attention to the fact that there is now nothing in the way of defensive shore works to stop a single hostile ship from approaching within easy range of Washington. He asks $50,000 for the improvement of Fort Foote; $50,000 for Fort Washington; $75,000 for strengthening the defenses of Fortress Monroe, and $10,000 for an artesian well within the fortification. He also asks $150,000 for improvements to Fort Wool, so as to fit it for the heaviest modern guns protected by impenetrable armor. This work will require several years.

Chairman Joseph D. Warren, of the New York State Republican committee who is now in Washington, frankly avows himself an Arthur man, and will use his influence to have him nominated for the Presidency in 1884. He thinks New York may depend on for the Republicans; he takes a roseate view of the general situation. Besides Chairman Warren, there are several other prominent Republicans of the Empire State in Washington. There was a conference to-day in this city of Republican leaders of New York, and while the subject discussed was kept secret, the general surmise is that it had something to do with the question of nominating President Arthur. Mr. Warren said, when asked about it, that President Arthur had never told him he was a candidate. The gentlemen present at the conference were, however, all known to be outspoken advocates of Arthur's nomination.

Unquestionably the central figure in politics to-day is Mr. Tilden; and in spite of, perhaps on account of, his apparent wish to be considered on the retired list. If Mr. Tilden wants the Democratic nomination in 1884 he can have it; but no mortal knows, apparently, whether he wants it or not. Possibly he does not know himself. One of the most responsible explanations of his vacillating course is the presumption that on his well days ambition wakes again and he resolves to enter the arena, and that when feebleness returns he wishes nothing but rest and peace.

A second Tilden campaign would be marked by extreme personal bitterness. The "fraud" issue would be resurrected on the one side and the "cypher dispatches" on the other. The candidate's physical weakness would be pitilessly used against him, and the arts of intrigue would be exhausted on both sides. Of all candidates, Tilden would be most feared by Republicans, from his intimate knowledge of New York politics, and his influence in that State.

HOWARD.

Guiteau's ghost haunts the Washington jail.

Eggs are $1.50 per dozen in some parts of Montana and ten cents a dozen in Georgia.

Two Nevada cattle kings are worth $1,000,000 each, and one of them signs his name "X."

Thomas Nast, who has been dangerously ill of pneumonia at his home in Morristown, is recovering.

A Burlington county "Jersey Red" hog stands forty-four inches in height and measures seven feet in length.

The term of State Treasurer Wright does not expire until March 4, 1885, and the next Legislature will not elect his successor.

The Retail Grocers' Protective Association of Trenton is an organization to protect all members from loss by persons who will not pay their bills. If a person owes a member of the association a bill and refuses to pay it, the member reports the name to the association, and that person is barred from getting credit from any member of the association until the bill is settled. The name is then taken from the list and its credit restored. It is now less than a year since the association was started, and the black list already comprehends more than a thousand names.

The Macon Telegraph makes the frank, and disgraceful, confession, that there are counties in the Black belt of Georgia, "where the majority does not rule, and in which it isn't going to rule." And yet when the Republicans of the North have made a mild protest against this violation of justice, they are told by Democratic politicians, who are their neighbors, that they must not revive "dead issues."

The patronage at the disposal of Governor Abbott will be a Private Secretary, a Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, in place of Mercer Beasley, the present incumbent; Judges of the Court of Errors and Appeals, vice Judge Caleb S. Green, M. Cole and Wm. H. Kirk, of Newark; a Clerk in Chancery, in place of G. S. Duryce, also of Newark, whose term will expire in May, 1886; Prosecutor of the Pleas in Passaic, Camden, Mercer, Gloucester, Cumberland, Burlington, Salem, Bergen, Union and Warren counties; Railroad Commissioner to succeed A. M. Reynolds; Labor Inspector to succeed Lawrence Fall of Orange, and a Judge to succeed Judge McCarter, of Newark.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla works directly and promptly, to purify and enrich the blood, improve the appetite, strengthen the nerves, and brace up the system. It is in the truest sense an alternative medicine. Every invalid should give it a trial.

John Quincy Adams received a salary from the United States Government for sixty-nine years, and the sum total must have amounted to half a million. At the close of his presidential term, he had had fifty-two years of office holding, and his salary had aggregated $425,000; still, he had seventeen years of Congress after this, and died at the capital at a Congressional session. At the age of fourteen he went to Russia as the private secretary of the American legation, and he was in after years minister to England, Portugal, Russia, and the Netherlands.

STRENGTH

to vigorously push a business, strength to study a profession, strength to regulate a household, strength to do a day's labor without physical pain. All this represents what is wanted, in the often heard expression, "Oh! I wish I had the strength!" If you are broken down, have not energy, or feel as if life was hardly worth living, you can be relieved and restored to robust health and strength by taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, which is a true tonic—a medicine universally recommended for all wasting diseases.

509 N. Fremont St., Baltimore

During the war I was injured in the stomach by a piece of a shell, and have suffered from it ever since. About four years ago it brought on paralysis, which kept me in bed six months, and the best doctors in the city said I could not live. I suffered fearfully from indigestion, and for over two years could not eat solid food and for a large portion of the time was unable to retain even liquid nourishment. I tried Brown's Iron Bitters and now after taking two bottles I am able to get up and go around and am rapidly improving.

[Entered as second class matter.]

HAMMONTON, ATLANTIC CO., N. J.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1888.

We wish to call the attention of Temperance men to an article in this week's Times, in which the Democratic party is credited with all that was done in opposition to the Republican candidates.

As we write on Thursday, Dr. Will Davis lies very low, may not be living when this reaches our readers.

Mr. J. McElwain will sell at public auction, on Saturday, December 1st, at one o'clock, p. m., a spring farm wagon, carriage, harness, farm tools, household furniture, and blacksmith tools.

Mr. Wilde, traveler for P. S. Titton & Son, has bought the Frost place, and will occupy it at once.

Mr. Green, who has occupied the Frost place lately, has bought Mr. J. McElwain's property, on Valley Avenue.

The next meeting of the Atlantic County Board of Examiners, for the examination of candidates for teachers' certificates, will be held at Egg Harbor City, on Saturday, Nov. 24, 1888.

One day last week, Mrs. Walter Scull, in order to reach the ceiling of a room which she was whitewashing, placed a chair upon a table, and stood thereon. She turned partially around to speak to a lady friend when she either lost her balance, or the chair slipped, and she fell.

We notice that neither cold weather nor storm prevents Dr. Saenger from attendance at his Hammononton office every day.

The Roman Catholics of Hammononton have accepted a lot on Third Street, which they are clearing, and intend building them a church without delay.

ASSOCIATION STOCK.—At the Thirtieth Annual Meeting of the Hammononton Loan and Building Association to be held on Thursday, the sixth day of November next, a new charter will be issued, and an opportunity afforded of purchasing stock at par. Members, and all who desire to take stock, are requested to be present to hear annual report and assist in election of officers for the ensuing year. A. J. SMITH, Secy.

On Wednesday evening, Mrs. Wm. Studevant endeavored (so we are told) to carry two chairs past the stairway of her residence, when one chair caught and she was precipitated headlong down stairs. Medical aid was summoned, yet the extent of the lady's injuries could not well be ascertained, as she was suffering too intensely to permit a thorough examination.

$50 to $100 per month paid to young men trained at the Trenton Business College. In its original methods of instruction, its cheerful rooms, its competent and gentlemanly corps of instructors, stands at the head.

The Trenton Business College is now in its eighteenth year, and is doing better and more successful work than ever before in preparing young men for successful business careers. SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1888.

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

Some of the boys enjoyed their first skating, yesterday morning.

Several weeks ago, referring to the fact that Harry Harold had left the Atlantic City office, we remarked that he had a good time of "working for nothing and boarding himself." We did not mean to be understood that Mr. Harold made that statement in so many words—it was our own inference from various facts that came to our knowledge.

After this date, for the accommodation of tax-payers, I can be found at the REPUBLICAN office from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m., on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of each week, until further notice.

On Monday I will be at the store of Hon. Geo. Elvins, Tuesdays and Wednesdays mostly at home.

Just the kind of training to make its mark on the salary and success of the student. Your chance for success in life will be increased fourfold, by a few months at the Trenton Business College. It is a good time to enter. Apply for Catalogue and full information to: A. J. RUPPEL, Principal, 20 and 22 East State St.

There is, or soon will be, an opportunity to revive the Library Association, and give it a better start than ever before. A gentleman, now a resident, and soon to be a more active citizen, has indicated to us his willingness to contribute weekly and monthly periodicals which would—if paid for—cost the Association fifty dollars per month. In addition, he and others (if requested) will contribute a small sum weekly or monthly to buy the rent of a suitable room, which shall be used as a public reading room, and be a popular place of resort for young men and others during the long winter evenings. Something of the kind is really needed in Hammononton; and as the population increases, the need will be felt more and more. We are convinced that no difficulty will be experienced in carrying out some such plan as the above, if the officers will move soon.

Saturday or Sunday last was the four hundredth anniversary of the birth of Martin Luther. It is fitting that all Protestant denominations should recognize the labors of such a man. Last Sunday, Rev. E. E. Rogers, Pastor of the Hammononton Presbyterian Church, preached an appropriate sermon, from which we extract the following synopsis:

Text, 1 Cor. v. 7.—"Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may become a new lump." In the little town of Eisenberg, near Wittenberg, in Saxony, there lived John Luther, and his wife, a peasant girl, who was born in 1483, a son was born to them. With a desire to devote the child to God, upon the next day the father took his son to St. Peter's Church, for baptism. He was named Martin, from St. Martin's day, the day of his birth. His father removed, six months later, to Mansfeld, and here young Luther was put in school when he reached his proper age. He was later sent to a Franciscan school at Magdeburg, where he studied his Greek by the side of the streets. He was a short time at Eisleben, and completed his education at the university of Erfurt. From this time Luther entered the world, in a manner which was called to take no permanent part. First, the pope, at the words of the pope, was supreme. He made and unmade kings, emperors and parliament were his tools. He taught and corrupted, the church was a tool of his, and he was a man of the world.

He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world. He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world. He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world.

He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world. He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world. He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world.

He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world. He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world. He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world.

He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world. He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world. He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world.

He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world. He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world. He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world.

He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world. He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world. He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world.

He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world. He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world. He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world.

He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world. He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world. He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world.

He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world. He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world. He was a man of the world, and he was a man of the world.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs; none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured. "In 1867 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me. HORACE FAIRBROTHER, Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute. "While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die with strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours, MRS. EMMA GEDNEY, 150 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effectual remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried. A. J. CRANE, Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. JOSEPH WALDEN, Byhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, being as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles. E. BRADGON, Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine. PREPARED BY Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists.

THE PARIS GREEN APPLE.

I rec'd full of glee because he's in an apple tree. His eye is keen has quickly seen the fruit which is a triple green. In great delight he takes a bite and then eats with all his might until the tree is stripped and he is just as full as he can be. His fun is crowned. When all around he's spread about upon the ground. They had to press 'em 'till they were dead 'till his coffin lay.

A Maryland farmer makes watermelon vinegar.

The total income of the charities of London last year was $21,552,000.

Florence, Ga., Dr. W. B. Prather, says: "Brown's Iron Bitters have given satisfaction in every instance I have known it used."

A paper weight—Watching for the mail to come in.

The New York State Board of Charities has recommended that all orphan asylums in the State shall teach its girl charges how to cook.

Rev. W. B. Smith, Grafton, Mass., says: "I have derived benefit from using Brown's Iron Bitters for a low state of blood."

Sam'l J. Tilden of New York City has a new $40,000 dining-room and an old 10 cent appetite. P. S.—This brief note was sent in by a reporter on a daily paper, who has a 10 cent dining-room and a $40,000 appetite.

A Chicago young man in a rash moment, a St. Louis paper says, told his girl that if she would hang up her stocking on Hallow Even he would fill it to the brim with something nice. When he saw her stocking he was undecided whether to get into himself or buy her a sewing machine.

If people troubled with colds would take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral before going to church or places of entertainment, they would avoid coughing, greatly to the comfort of other speakers and hearers. Public speakers and singers find that the Pectoral wonderfully increases the power and flexibility of the voice.

A couple of pickpockets followed a gentleman for some blocks, with a view of availing themselves of the first opportunity to relieve him of his purse. He suddenly turned into a lawyer's office. "What shall we do now?" asked one. "Wait for the lawyer," said the other. A correspondent of the London Standard says that the voyage from Liverpool to New York could be reduced to four and a half days by the construction of a deep-water canal from Dublin to Galway or the Shannon. An ordinary canal, which might be utilized for the purpose, already exists between the latter and the Irish capital. The cost of deepening and widening it would be comparatively small, but no engineering difficulties are presented by the character of the country. The journey round the South coast of Ireland would, he says, thus be avoided, and a great saving of expenses and time effected.

Washington is now getting the asphalt for its streets from an asphalt lake in the Isle of Trinidad on the South American coast. This asphalt make a street as hard as stone, and it does not soften or crack under the rays of the sun. For two years it has been used, and is found far superior to the old mixture of tar, sand and asphalt, which the city used some time ago. The lake fills the flat top of a mountain and is black, smooth and hard enough to walk on. When a strip is dug out, the bottom gradually rises and soon the surface is level again. Thousands of tons have been taken away, and the supply seems inexhaustible.

An invaluable strengthener for the nerves, muscles and digestive organs, producing strength and appetite, is Brown's Iron Bitter.

"William is a good man," continued the ady, waving her glasses in an argumentative way, "but William will invent. He goes inventing around from morning till night, and I have no peace or comfort. I didn't object when he invented a fire-escape, but I did remonstrate when he wanted me to crawl out of a window one night last Winter to see how it worked. Then he originated a lock for the door that wouldn't open from midnight until morning, so as to keep burglars out. The first time he tried it he caught his coat-tail in it and I had to walk around him with a pan of hot coals all night to keep him from freezing." "Why didn't he take his coat off?" "I wanted him to, but he stood around till the thing opened itself, trying to invent some way to unfasten it. That's William's trouble. He will invent. A little while ago he got up a cabinet bedstead that would shut and open without handling. It went by cockwork. William got into it and up it went. Bless your heart, he tumbled in there from Saturday afternoon until Sunday night, when it flew open and disheveled William with the plans and specifications of a patent wash bowl, that would tip over just when it got so full. The result was that I lost all my rings and a bracelet in the wastebowl. Then he got up a crutch for a man that could be used as an opera glass. Whenever the man leaned on it up it went, and when he put it to his eye to find William it flew out into a crutch and almost broke the top of his head off. The other day I saw him going up the street with the model of a grain elevator sticking out of his hip pocket, and he is fixing up an improved shot-tower in our bedroom."
