Capt. Wm. E. Myers, of this town, formerly of the Engineers, is shown in last Sunday's Illustrated Ledger, in company with Marshal Foch, Ambassador Biraud of France.

New water-proof coats were received by the fire companies, on Monday. They are black, lined with a sort of flannel for warmth, but somewhat too short for ample protection.

Nesco is to have a Fair this evening, at the Fire house, given by the Ladies' Aid. All kinds of fancy and useful articles, candy, cake and ice cream, will be on sale. Everyone is asked to come and help.

There will be special music in the Presbyterian Church, Sunday night. Also the singing of the old fashioned hymns, "Mother used to sing," if you go nowhere to church, come and sing these good old hymns.

Don't forget the Charity Concert to be given on the evening of December 9th. A number of new names will appear on the program, one of them a budding grand opera star. Watch for the program.

There were two fire alarms this past week. About 10.15 a. m., Sunday, a slight fire called the firemen to W. R. Bishop's on Third Street, and again on Wednesday evening, to an auto fire near the Feunoy station.

On Wednesday evening of next week, Winslow Lodge will hold a package party, to which all Odd Fellows are urged to attend, bringing a package containing an article valued from ten cents up. A light feed will very likely follow.

As will be seen by posters about town, a special school meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, December 6th, for the purpose of authorizing the Board to purchase the Waas and the King properties, and to borrow on bonds the sum of $23,000 with which to pay for same.

While visiting friends in Vineland on Sunday evening, Jon W. Tomassello's automobile was stolen in front of their house. Word was quickly sent out by Vineland police and the machine was found near Winslow, headed for Camden, stripped and burned. It was partially covered by insurance. As yet the culprits have not been caught.

Boy Scout News.

The Scouts attended the Lyceum Course number on Tuesday eve. Troop 11 has been formed at last consisting of a number of Catholic youths.

POSTER CONTEST

A contest of interest to every pupil in the schools of South Jersey has been launched by the Atlantic City Poster Advertising Co. of Atlantic City. It is an endeavor to obtain a prize design for a poster to be used on the large poster boards throughout South Jersey, in the interest of the M. E. Blatt Co., known as "The department store of Atlantic City."

The primary idea in this contest is to interest the pupils in all the schools with poster art, which is conceded to be a big factor in the business world. The Poster Co. are in hopes of receiving many designs; and to instill interest, they are offering a prize of twenty-five dollars to be awarded to the pupil who submits the poster selected by the judges, appointed by the Blatt Co.

Sketches must be nine inches high and twenty inches long. They may be in as many colors as the artist desires to use. It must be borne in mind that the Blatt Co. want a poster that will forcefully bring before the public their First Anniversary.

This contest closes Dec. 23rd, so that the winner will have the prize money as a Christmas present.

Further information can be secured from Lewis St. John, care Atlantic City Poster Adv. Co.

Lyceum Course.

The third number of the Lyceum Course will be given in Victor Hall on Thursday evening, December 23rd, when the Harold Proctor Company will appear.

Harold Proctor is an eminent American tenor and has sung in concert and oratorio under Hans Richter and Gaul and other composers, with the leading singers of England, also in the United States with Kitty Gordon, Fripzie Scheff and others. He speaks his words distinctly and renders his songs with vibrant power and refinement.

The violinist, Miss May Rees, comes from a noted musical Welsh family, having studied also with the masters of music in Europe and America.

Miss Fieta Lawrence, the accompanist, has the unusual aptitude of furnishing the background so necessary to bring out the ability of any great singer or violinist.

Another musical treat following close on the high class number given last Tuesday evening is in store for all who attend this number.

Admission 50 cents.

The union thanksgiving service on Thursday was fairly well attended, and the sermon by Rev. Kook was most excellent. The singing was also uplifting.

Regular meeting of the Women's Republican Club will be held on Thursday, December 23rd, in Civic Club Hall. Miss Ella Case, of the Hammonton High School, will give "The history of the political party," at 4 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend.

The first meeting in the effort for a better Hammonton, found thirty-five men in the Civic Club Hall last Monday night. Good progress was made in a general discussion of present conditions, and ways of improvement, and it was the unanimous vote of those present to carry into effect as soon as possible, the views expressed by those present, and an organization will soon be made.

CO-OPERATION NO. 1

From the Parents' Viewpoint.
It is more the co-operation of parents as a class, in fact the co-operation of the town that we ought to consider. Although every Mother and Father is interested in the progress of his child, and trying to have him do what he should, but the individual effort will not produce the results we desire unless certain fundamental difficulties are removed.

In our Primary Grades the trouble lies in the crowded condition. Regularly fixed thoroughness and the just exercise to a good foundation. With the regular method of sending our children to school in the lower grades, those two things can not be obtained. During the last four years we have had to contend with the irregularity caused by fuel shortage in the winter, influenza and scarlet fever, which means that the younger children have never had a fair chance. These interruptions were unavoidable, but the shortage of room is avoidable, if the parents will co-operate in the right way—forget their personal desires and share, time, equipment, location and work together earnestly and unceasingly for a building that will give our children a fair chance. It is as though a child were drowning and two men stood on the bank discussing which was the best point to jump in, and which would afford best to pull the child out. If they couldn't agree, the child would drown and that is what is happening to some of our children mentally.

In our Intermediate Grades another difficulty appears—a curriculum containing so many different subjects that only the child of unusual ability could really master all of them. Even with the most able and conscientious teachers, the child of average ability can only obtain a superficial knowledge when his time is divided between reading, writing, arithmetic, physiology, grammar, spelling, geography, history, music, manual training, civics and physical education.

Our High School students need a higher standard of scholarship. Poor habits of study and a low ideal of scholarship are fostered by the conditions in the Grade Schools just mentioned—particularly the crowded curriculum which makes the thorough mastery of subjects almost impossible. The elective system in the High School makes it possible for each student, with the help of teachers and interested parents to choose a group of subjects he could master, but the majority of them have reached the stage where they are satisfied to "get by" with the minimum. The system of conditional examinations encourages this attitude for they not only think but say, "I should worry, if I don't make it I'll get another chance." If they knew that if they failed to make the minimum grade, they would be required to take that subject over and lose their place in their class, it might be different. Teachers would not have such a fight to get the work done properly—and our boys and girls would not have so much time for festivities on school evenings.

You will see that most of the improvements will have to come from the town people for they alone can make it possible to remedy the building problem. The curriculum can only be changed by the State Board and the only way to reach them is through a united movement on the part of organized bodies such as the Parent-Teacher Association throughout the State.

The stricter requirements in the High School must come, of course from within the school, but if the faults lower down are not corrected the school authorities are in no position to require of our older boys and girls something which we have not prepared them to give, therefore the only solution of this problem, lies, comes back to us as parents and townsmen working in co-operation with our School Board and Teachers.

Providing America's Dinner

Because of our annual Thanksgiving feast, come one has said that the turkey, rather than the eagle, should be the emblem of America.

While turkeys for November's celebration are fattening in thousands of farms, New Jersey is harvesting more than 160,000 barrels of cranberries which will give the final touch to that epicurean event.

Native thrift and industry have capitalized what was once considered waste marsh land and made it yield substantial revenue.

Tying the farms and the cities of the State together are thousands of miles of telephone lines, where once communication was dependent on the railboat or the stage coach. The grower and the shipper can keep in touch with each other and with the big market centers, eliminating time and distance.

The men and women who maintain and operate the Bell Telephone Lines in New Jersey are ambitious to keep pace with the growth of its industry, and to give their fellow citizens in this State the best telephone service possible.

Fraud of your home town, aren't you? Proud of the fact that it's moving along at a lively pace, with a reputation for doing more building than even cities can show? Proud of its stores, all carrying on while visitors from outside report dull times and slow? ... The Hammonton merchants are men of your town. You know them, and you know their hearts. It is in their property that stakes this town a real town. It is your money that, spent here, keeps them busy, pays their taxes and aids in general improvement. ... The money you give to outside firms, money that goes to making another town prosperous, and what is gained after all by the unwise supporter of such a policy?

Finally Relieved by taking Lydia E. Finckham's Vegetable Compound

Raymond W. Va. "For seven long years I suffered from a female trouble which made it impossible for me to do my household work. I consulted several doctors but none seemed to give me relief. I read in a newspaper of Lydia E. Finckham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and before the first bottle was used I felt a great relief. I continued using it until I was able to do my household work. I can gladly recommend Lydia E. Finckham's Vegetable Compound to all suffering women."

First "Weather Man." An Englishman, Francis Galton, was the first real weather man. Galton was a cousin of Charles Darwin. He was born in England in 1824. Whether he was really able to forecast rain and sunshine with more accuracy than his successors is an open question; but it is certain that he was the first to attempt the forecasting of a large scale, of the progress of the elements of weather. The methods devised by him, in modified form, are used to this day.

Waverly, Colo.—J. J. Smith, a Waverly man, fought a battle with a wild cat with nothing but his bare hands.

He was thrown to the ground by the shock. Then, in the end, with the moonlight shining through the trees upon them, the man and the wild cat fought such a battle as has never been waged between a human being and the wild beast in days before the stone age.

At first, with the terror of the situation upon him, Smith screamed for help. Then, desperate with the struggle, biting, clawing, brute snarlings to reach the vital spot of his neck, Smith fought the wild cat at his own game.

He dragged the cat from his back, and wrenched his hands about his throat, but the beast's equipped loins, and fixing its teeth in his neck tore his clothing to ribbons with razzle and claws.

For Many Minutes They Fought. As the bleeding man tightened his grip and his claws worked spasmodically. Cat Gives Up. With one last frantic effort to tear itself from his hands, backed away with glaring eyes, and then ran away into the darkness.

"Peter!" said Cherry, hastily above a breath.

"Will you go away with me?" Peter went on, feverishly. "That's the only way, now. That's the only way—go away."

"Go away?" Cherry's face was ashen as she moved her tragic and beautiful eyes to his. "Go away where?"

"Anywhere!" Peter answered, confusedly. "Anywhere!" He did not know where he was going, but he knew that he had to go. He had to get away from the garden, from the light, from the presence of the girl who had taken her heart, from the presence of the girl who had taken her heart.

Cherry's heart beat madly with terror. She had never known such a moment before. She had never known such a moment before. She had never known such a moment before.

Cherry turned and went slowly toward the door. She could not even think of the things that were happening. She could not even think of the things that were happening. She could not even think of the things that were happening.

KEEPS BLOOD PURE

Weak and Worn?

When the young body is growing, children frequently experience weakness. Girls and boys sometimes play too hard and overeat, these symptoms become pale, weak, and staid. They lose their appetites, become languid, and are not able to make progress in school work. Growing too fast is often true. It is most important to keep the blood of growing girls and boys in a healthy state. Pepto-Mangan keeps the blood pure.

"Little Girl."

THURSDAY:—Gladys Walton, — "High Heels."
Second Episode "Hurricane Hutch."

FRIDAY Special:—Charles Ray, — "19 and Phyllis."

We hear that you have fallen terribly in love. Whoa? Not so fast. Better watch your step. You know the high cost of loving is something fierce. A ring sets you back about 500 green flags. Then there's candy, flowers, and what not. Say! Ain't love a tough proposition? I'll say it is, and I know. When a man is making only $18.00 per, and Cupid gets careless with his arrows, and hits him a wicked jab—then your real troubles begin. It's a woeful tale and there's something worth knowing in it for you—Charlie Ray will tell you all about it in "19 and Phyllis," but don't bring your lady friend, she might get embarrassed.

Snub Pollard Comedy, — "Fifteen Minutes."

Fox News. Admission 20ct.

SATURDAY:—Tom. Mix, — "The Night Horseman."

More fine entertainment is promised at the Palace Theatre to-night when Tom. Mix will appear in his latest William Fox picture, "The Night Horseman," based on Max Brand's story, "Wild Geese." This tale is a sequel to the "Unfamed" which was shown here a few weeks ago, and Mix again assumes the role of "Whistling Dan." May Hopkins plays opposite Tom. Mix.

Clever Sunshine Comedy.

Doors open 5:30, admission 20ct.

Eagle Theatre To-Night.

David Powell, — "The Mystery Road."

Chestnut Comedy, "Man v Woman."

NEXT SATURDAY:—SPECIAL CAST, — "Family Closet."

"In every life there is at least one drama," so said Shakespeare. Often the drama centers around a skeleton locked in the family cupboard. If you would look into the heart of hearts of family life, if you care to see an intimate searching drama, absorbing in its unfoldment, enthralling in its sweep and power, see this picture. It is clean, it is human, it is forceful.

Chester Comedy, "Sunless Sunday."

Doors open 7 o'clock, admission 20ct.

WHY HE DIDN'T DO IT.

See, his car worked! But the brake lining that was used in quality. The trouble was brake pressure found that a safety and that's why he didn't stop squarely.

Power usually applied is often power dangerously applied.

MULTIBESTOS Brake Lining being in wear, evenly throughout. It wears evenly. When properly applied to your car the brake will not lock the car to one side. It will not strain it. It will cause no injury.

There are two ways in which such an accident happens. Brake Lining of uneven wear which will not WEAR evenly or MULTIBESTOS Brake Lining improperly applied. This could not happen on any car which we re-lined with MULTIBESTOS. A little fast cost for re-out labor may mean a big ultimate saving in amateur labor.

We also carry in Stock Lee Tires, Full Line of Auto Supplies, Auto Repairing.
