The Weather:
Special Forecast for New Jersey.
Lower temperature, heavy frosts, and high thin winds, are predicted for South Jersey, especially in the vicinity of Hammonton. Vessel owners, landlords, farmers, business and professional people would do well to make immediate provision for cold wave, purchasing stoves, ranges, and heaters from S. E. Brown & Co., whose goods are known to be the best of their class. All stations in territory described will continue to display cold wave signal till further orders.

If the result of the late election shall drive the theorist out of politics it will be a blessing for the country. All of the recent troubles of the people had their origin in the free trade doctrine preached by enthusiastic theorists.

The fact that the Democrats so dread to see him in the Speaker's chair again is of itself sufficient to cause the Republicans to make Mr. Reed Speaker of the next House.

Very naturally, Democratic Congressmen regard the coming short session as a solemn affair. Funerals usually are.

It is not at all strange that Senator Hill finds it difficult to shake off "that tired feeling." So do all the rest of the Democrats.

Perhaps Mr. Cleveland and Secretary Gresham will now swear off on foreign politics. It is time they did.

THE HELP THAT COMES TOO LATE.

It is a wearisome world, this world of ours, with its tangles small and great...

A PAIR EXCHANGE.

Mr. and Mrs. Harem were farmers in a Rockport. Mrs. Harem sat in a little rocker, hemming the last dish towel...

Mr. Harem objected to change. Mrs. Harem was determined to have it. She said she wanted to see something of the world...

Mr. Harem, though old in years, was still industrious, healthy and both he and his wife were busy being busy.

Mr. Harem, though old in years, was still industrious, healthy and both he and his wife were busy being busy.

Mr. Harem, though old in years, was still industrious, healthy and both he and his wife were busy being busy.

Clival Ashby was tall, dark muscular, with piercing dark eyes and a man of marked individuality...

Early one morning Macy strolled to the lower end of the orchard and climbed into an old apple tree...

"Dear Max—I know you will be vexed with me because I have only written you short notes. To tell the truth, I am so busy...

"This is really a comfortable place and really comfortable. There are very much like other folks, with one exception...

"On an invalid is almost near the end of his life. I think the second, though not nearly so ill, is so cross I should think all his folks would be glad when he is gone over now...

"Mrs. L., a school teacher, we do not often see. She seems tired and looks a great deal older than she really is...

"The excruciating I spoke of in Clival Ashby is a very peculiar one. It is a man, twenty-eight years old, perhaps...

"Wall, Sallie, you kin hev it all your own way. I'm jest going to wash my hands of the bill business. I'll agree to take orders from you and an agent...

"Let me alone for that, Josiah," she replied, significantly. "I'm going to hev a good price, an' no losses thrown in either!"

He pocketed, intending to add the envelope at the house. He hastened, seeing it was short-cut across the yard...

As he passed one of the trees he saw Macy's letter lying on the grass. There was no address, and only the signature 'Macy'...

"There is but one M. among us, and that's my Macy. I don't know what wonder I must be ferociously cross some days. I have to be stern in order to keep myself well in hand...

"He took it and recognized it. 'Yes, it is mine; but yours?' He suddenly put his hand in his pocket and drew out hers. Where did she find it?"

"I found it and meant to bring it to you. I didn't decide to carry it back, and I suppose I must have put mine down by mistake."

"Well, you kin hev it all your own way. I'm jest going to wash my hands of the bill business. I'll agree to take orders from you and an agent...

to his fruit. To see any fruit, dip first in the beaten white of an egg, then in pulverized sugar...

Do you know how to wash dishes? Not merely so that you get them of the kitchen table into the china closet...

Next wash your cups and saucers one at a time. Use a mop with a handle, and don't, in this day and generation, be without one of those wire kitchen conveniences known as sponges...

Copper vessels should be scoured with brick dust and ketchup. The dish cloths and mops should be washed, scalded and dried after each using...

Tomatoes are healthy and tomatoes are growing cheap. Therefore, the New York Recorder concludes, rules for tomato cookery are in order:

Tomatoes and Shrimps—Choose a dozen smooth-skinned, medium-sized tomatoes; cut a piece off the top of each and scoop out a portion of the interior...

Tomato Fritters—Wash, peel and pound a cup of tomatoes. Beat up with this the yolks of four and the whites of two eggs...

Hubby—"You're worth a million to me." Wife—"Can I get an advance on $25 on that million for a new hat?" Philadelphia Record.

Teacher—"How many trips did Columbus make to the New World?" Boy—"Three, mum." Teacher—"And after which one of those did he die?"—Truth.

Little Boy—"I give my papa must be born grown up." Uncle John—"Why not?" Little Boy—"He's always wanting me to do something sensible."—Good News.

Home Corner—"What has become of the Hon. Mr. Silverton, the great American patriot?" "He's gone to a castle in Europe."—New York Weekly.

Mr. Sappy—"There's nothing like saying the right thing at the right time." "Yes; there's keeping your mouth shut when you have nothing to say."—Truth.

Man of the House—"What are you doing there?" Tramp at the Back Door—"I ain't doin' nothin', but I know it's unparliamentary for us to do anything 'til."—Detroit Free Press.

Neighbor—"Does your father rep that house you live in?" "Yes, he does; it's his own house, every bit of it. It's been bought and paid for, and insured and mortgaged, and everything."—Good News.

"Fevites really thinks he will sometimes become famous as a painter." "No, he isn't; he's an artist." "Why, then, does he think he's an artist?" "Oh, he can get along on one me a day."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

"Henry," she whispered, as though fearful of the world, "do you love me less than a fortnight ago, when you brought me some flowers or sweet every night?" "No, Evolina, no," he answered, "but payday is yet a week off, and I generally get broke about the middle of the month."—Boston Globe.

John—"No. He said it was pasta."—Life.

OWN in the milking yard of the station twenty miles distant, would be back. They were bright, capable girls with little timidity about them...

"What do you mean, Rose Bostwick? A ghost downstairs?" "No—no—a tramp!" "Answer!" and Cassie gave a low wailing cry. "And I s'pose you're scared?"

"Oh, Cassie, I feel as if I were choking! Do hurry down! I may be killing poor little Florence and the baby with this cold!"

"Don't count on me. I can't help you. I couldn't if I chose to try!" "You can't see, I s'pose?" "Oh, yes, I can see that."

"Well, you do the screaming and I'll do the chasing. Rush down stairs and scream and scream—and bang the door to, and just shriek: 'She's out!' And you will see what a perfectly beautiful lunatic I will be—it's a good thing I have this old dress on—and only one shoe. Now make a rush—and scream."

"The kitchen looked so bright and cheery as they entered it, that Rose seemed to leave her four outside with the dishes and by the time she had drained the milk and put it away she had forgotten that tramps existed."

(Entered as second class matter.)

SATURDAY, DEC. 9, 1894.

Judge Leon Abbett, who died last Tuesday, was for thirty years one of the most active and prominent Democrats in New Jersey. He was twice elected Governor, but never achieved the goal which he steadily sought—that of the United States Senate. He received the nomination of his party for this office in 1887, but several Democrats bolted and in combination with the Republicans elected Rufus Blodgett instead. On no other occasion did Mr. Abbett come anywhere near success, though he made a very thorough and energetic canvass at several different times. Apparently he was able to gratify every other political ambition, and few of the present generation can remember when he did not appear at the head of his state delegation in the National Conventions of his party. He was a man of very decided ability, but his employment of the methods of practical politics, which were sometimes on a pretty low level in New Jersey kept him from rising to the plane of statesmanship. For nearly two years he has been a member of the Supreme Court bench, where his conduct appears to have been altogether worthy of commendation.

If this Congress fails to take some definite action on the matter it will be safe to predict another bond issue before the next Congress meets.

The man who supposes that this country will ever adopt the single gold standard is quite as badly mistaken as he who thinks we shall adopt the single silver standard. It is the conservatives, not the extremists, who usually control legislation in this country, and the conservatives will not agree to a single standard.

"Pension frauds" do not occupy so conspicuous a place in Mr. Cleveland's message this year as they did last. It is easy to guess why.

Mr. Cleveland says questions relating to our banks and currency have some unsatisfactory features. Have they any other kind?

Perhaps Mr. Cleveland favors free sugar, but if so he neglected to say so in his message to Congress.

There are certain kinds of economy that don't pay. Trying to straighten a crooked pin is one of them.

We not only expect our faults to be forgiven, but we are a little disappointed if we do not receive a little extra coddling because of them.

Donation parties that eat up all there is in the paragonage, and as an equivalent leave a bag of flour and a corn starch pudding, are yet in vogue in rural districts.

If there is anywhere a stray gleam of sunshine or of love, a little child will find it.

He that has no shame has no conscience.

He that always complies is never pitied.

Idleness is first lieutenant to temptation.

Men could use most of the advice they give away.

He that lies down with dogs must expect to rise with fleas.

Every kindness done to others is a step nearer to the life of Christ.

When people are hired to be good, they will stop as soon as the pay stops.

It seems that five cent cotton is no more popular in the South than fifty cent wheat in the West. The idea is gradually dawning upon some minds that all the industries of this country are in the same boat,—that you cannot expect to sell your own products at a high price and purchase those of others at a low price.

Any one who has children will rejoice with E. F. Mulford, of Plainfield, N. J. His little boy, five years of age, was sick with croup. For two days and nights he tried various remedies recommended by friends and neighbors. He says: "I had thought sure I would lose him. I had seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised and thought I would try it, as a last hope, and I am happy to say that after two doses he slept until morning. I gave it to him next day, and a cure was effected. I keep this remedy in the house now, and as soon as any of my children show signs of croup I give it to them, and that is the last of it." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

Your Christmas

Will be merrier if you give freely among your friends.

We have Presents For them All!

The choicest assortment of appropriate gifts ever displayed in Hammonton. It would take more than the entire paper to tell the story, there is such a vast variety of all bright, new goods at very low prices; no use in wasting time and money in a trip to the city, when the choicest wares of the city are at your very door.

The stock includes the latest Novelties in Toys for the babies and older children; outcroppings, instructive, and attractive books for those who can read or are learning—in the handsomest bindings, from 25 cents to $1.50.—a special holiday assortment; novel trinkets in silver, for the maidens and the men; toilet articles; the latest designs in jewelry and silver ware; pocket-books, albums, cutlery, maps,—a thousand and one things to delight and add charm to the joyous Christmas tide.

And the prices this season so low that only a few dollars will see you through,—allowing a remembrance for all your closest friends.

An early inspection will afford you the best selection.

James Gillingham was in town over Sunday, and until yesterday.

This week has been more like Spring, than the first week in Winter.

OF INTEREST to those contemplating building houses, The Hammonton Loan and Building Association will hold an adjourned meeting on Monday evening next at 7:30 o'clock, in Council Room, and take up the matter of building houses.

Chas. F. Crowell has returned home from his Christmas tree trip to Maine.

Rev. J. C. Killian will preach in the Trinity Baptist Church, Camden, to-morrow.

The masons have completed the foundation for Lou. Spyer's house on Maple Street.

Walter Andrews is completing large additional buildings at the low brick works.

Mr. Charles Gavatt and wife, of New Egypt, N. J., are visiting his sister, Mrs. H. L. Irons.

WOULDN'T A SEWING MACHINE make the Christmas present the best you could give? You would want the best. Write for a list of the best. W. H. ELLIS.

Adjourned meeting of the Hammonton Loan and Building Association next Monday evening.

More dwellings are being erected this Fall and Winter than for the past few years, at this season.

Mr. D. W. Ayres, of Main Road, entertained his nephew this week, Alexander Sutton, of Illinois.

Robt. H. Goff spent a few days with a friend in Moorestown, wheeling his way there, via Philadelphia.

Mr. Thomas Rogers is very ill so that comrades of the Post were not allowed to see him on Wednesday.

Farmers who want Crude Fish should at once notify C. S. Newcomb, at the Union Store, as the season is late.

A selection of COLLARETTES how to make them, is now on hand at the Union Store.

And now there are agricultural men looking around with the idea of starting an implement manufactory in town.

To-morrow, Rev. Mr. Needham will preach in the M. E. Church at 10:30 a. m. and 7:00 p. m. Union services.

Rev. Wm. Needham will give the children a "chalk talk" at three o'clock this (Saturday) afternoon in the Methodist Church.

St. Mark's Parish Guild will give Charade Sociable at the residence of Mr. Wayland DePuy, on Wednesday evening, Dec. 12th. Admission 15 cents.

Mrs. Thomas Chejmers and her daughter, Miss Ethel, of Folsom, have purchased a dry goods business in Philadelphia, and are now conducting it.

FOR SALE CHEAP, and cash required. Twenty-seven shares of Fruit Growers' Union stock. For terms, send postal card to Mr. Harrison, for a long time journeyman jeweler at Steel's, has started for his old home, in England,—expects to take next Wednesday's steamer.

Prof. Salisbury says that the scholars are improving in attendance and punctuality in all our schools,—as witness the "Honor Roll," on first page. It grows.

The business people of Egg Harbor City are mourning the departure of merchant named David Molnasky. He suddenly deceased recently, leaving many unpaid bills.

MILBURN. Call at Anderson's Bread Store to-day, and see a loaf of bread made from the Millbourne flour.

Mr. Bernhouse is pushing the new factory building, on Washington Street. Work was delayed one day, because of long timbers needed, which had to be sawed to order.

Capt. John Carlew was brought home, on Monday evening, from New York, very ill with congestion of the brain. On Sunday he was feeling unusually well, before daylight on Monday he was delirious with fever. On Wednesday his symptoms were better, giving hope of speedy recovery; this improvement continuing at last report.

Insure with A. H. Phillips & Co., 1233 Atlantic Ave., Atlantic City.

Wilbert Beverage passed a few days very pleasantly in Bridgeton.

That orange hedge opposite the school house needs trimming. Its thorny branches extend half way across the sidewalk, and are destructive to clothing and good temper.

Rev. Dr. George C. Needham closed his services here on Sunday evening, and on Monday started for Lexington, Kentucky, where he will labor in company with Dr. Wharton for a time.

FOR RENT. A very convenient six room house, on Bellevue Avenue and Main Road. Inquire of GEO. ELVINS.

Mr. W. W. Bentley and mother left for Vineland on Wednesday. Mrs. B.'s health did not seem to improve during the late cold and wet weather, and they decided to try another change.

Sunday was a threatening day,—but little rain, clouds in plenty. Monday was a fine day, but cold. Tuesday, partially cloudy. Wednesday, a model of Jersey December. Thursday quite its equal.

Hammonton and Glassboro will measure lengths (on the ground) to-day, at 2 o'clock, p. m., on the foot ball grounds, near Central School. Our boys say they have a stronger team than before, and intend to win.

Wm. Rutherford, Commissioner of Deeds, Notary Public, Real Estate and Insurance, Hammonton, N. J.

Rev. William Needham, pastor at Camden, is assisting at the Dutch revival services, beginning on Monday evening. He is a distinguished crayon artist, an eloquent and earnest preacher with wonderful powers of persuasion and a sincere love for his work. Tuesday evening his real success was manifested. A large number flocked into the "Inquiry room," and sympathizing friends endeavored to lead them to the "Lamb of God." It was a delightful meeting. Wednesday evening the attendance was very large, the interest deep. On Thursday evening, the interest was intense. Mr. Needham's topic was "One who sticketh closer than a brother." Several new converts took part in the altar meeting, to the joy of happy friends.

At the home of Rev. H. J. Zelle, Moorestown, N. J., a family reunion was held on Thanksgiving Day. Rev. H. J. Zelle, with Miss Clara and Master Eddie and Miss Hannah (his sister who is keeping house for him); Mr. William B. Zelle and family, of Stockton, Camden Co., Mr. N. R. Zelle and family, of Hammonton; Mr. Chas. H. Cramer and family, of Mount Holly; were present,—making a company of eight adults and twelve children. The day was all that one could ask and thought of their recent loss was all that marred the great pleasure of the occasion. It was a desire of the late Mrs. Ida Zelle that this reunion should take place, but long before the day came she had been called to join in the glad reunion of loved ones beyond the skies.

Mr. J. D. Fairchild started on the noon train, Wednesday, for a city destination not stated. This fact, with the addition of various unconfirmed rumors caused considerable talk for a day or two. Jesse said: "I am going away on important business, and shall not return until it is finished."

William Jones is very sick, and was yesterday taken to a Philadelphia hospital.

A tax of $1 per barrel on beer, yielding $33,000,000, which the consumer would not feel, would have avoided all the difficulties in regard to revenue under which the Treasury now labors; but to the Democratic financier beer is sacred.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating, and the proof of the tariff is in the revenue receipts. The Gorman tariff has been in force three months, and the result is a deficiency of thirty million dollars.

It is announced that U. S. Senator McPherson will abandon New Jersey and make his permanent residence in Washington.

It is a pleasure to sell Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Stickney & Dentler druggists, Republic, Ohio. "Because a customer after having once used it is almost certain to call for it when again in need of such a medicine. We sell more of it than of any other cough medicine we handle, and it always gives satisfaction." For coughs, colds, and croup, it is without an equal. Druggists sell it.

We will still furnish the REPUBLICAN and the Weekly Press one year for One Dollar and Twenty-five cents. Such of our readers as desire to take advantage of this offer must pay up all arrearages to date, plus the $1.25.

AT BLACK'S.

Our talk this week is about FISH.

Gromarty Bloaters — are caught off the coast of England. They are larger and more juicy than our herring.

Norway Mackerel — weighing between 1 1/2 and 2 pounds. The meat is white, and taste par excellence.

Deep Sea Cod — is cut from the middle of the Fish — the meat being over three inches thick. It is worth looking at, even if you don't want to buy.

Smoked Halibut — Only the choicest hunks of the fish are packed. It sells well, must therefore be good.

Pickled Alaska Salmon. Think of buying Salmon in this part of the country at 10 cents per pound. With proper treatment, this can be served so that you can almost imagine that you are eating the fresh article direct from the Penobscot.

Boneless Herring—packed in tin cans—make a most delicious relish. All bones and refuse carefully removed.

Fresh Pork,

Fresh Sausage,

New Lard,

Jackson's Market.
